

Contents

|  | page |
|--|-------------|
| Acknowledgements  | vii         |
| Preface: Aims and Intentions  | ix          |
| 1 Practical Criticism and 'Method'   | 1           |
| 2 Rhythm, Tone and the Dangers of Eye-reading  | 9           |
| 3 Imagery, Metaphor and Visualisation  | 18          |
| 4 Early and Late Shakespearean Verse   | 26          |
| 5 Two Epitaphs by Ben Jonson   | 41          |
| 6 An Early Draft of Blake's 'London'   | 45          |
| 7 Relevance and Irrelevance in Response: anotherBlake Poem                         | 52          |
| 8 Lyrical Grace and Warmth: two Seventeenth-Century Lyrics                         | 62          |
| 9 Emotion and Emotionality: Herbert's 'Life' andE. B. Browning's 'Irreparableness' | 67          |
| 10 Meaning Stated and Meaning Created: two moreHerbert Poems                       | 73          |
| 11 Translations of a Latin Poem  | 78          |
| 12 Shakespeare's Verse: Additional Exercises   | 83          |
| 13 A Case of Idiosyncrasy: two Poems by Hardy  | 88          |
| 14 More Creation versus Statement: Frost andEdward Thomas                          | 97          |
| 15 Contrasting Poems: Jonson's 'To Heaven' andDonne's 'Thou Hast Made Me'          | 104         |
| 16 Prose   | 114         |
| 17 Extracts from Novels: a Passage from GeorgeEliot's 'Daniel Deronda'             | 116         |
| 18 Extracts from Novels: a Comparison ofPassages from Thackeray and Lawrence       | 121         |

Contents

|    |   |                 |
|----|---|-----------------|
| 19 | Two Passages about Belief: Foerster and Forster     | page 128 |
| 20 | Aphorisms by Franklin and Lawrence                  | 134             |
| 21 | Two Modern Passages on Literary Criticism           | 141             |
| 22 | Two Pieces of Eighteenth-Century Literary Criticism | 145             |
|    | Notes on Exercises not Discussed in the Text | 151             |
|    | Exercises                                    |                 |
|    | Poetry  | 157             |
|    | Prose   | 197             |
|    | Index of Authors, Titles and Sources         | 225             |