

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10068-7 - Avenues to Adulthood: The Origins of the High School and Social
Mobility in an American Suburb

Reed Ueda

Frontmatter

More information

Interdisciplinary perspectives on modern history

Editors

Robert Fogel and Stephan Thernstrom

Avenues to adulthood

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10068-7 - Avenues to Adulthood: The Origins of the High School and Social Mobility in an American Suburb

Reed Ueda

Frontmatter

More information

Other books in this series

Eric H. Monkkenon: Police in urban America, 1860–1920

Mary P. Ryan: Cradle of the middle class: the family in Oneida County, New York, 1790–1865

Ann Kussmaul: Servants in husbandry in early modern England

Tamara K. Hareven: Family time and industrial time: the relationship between the family and work in a New England industrial community

David Rosner: A once charitable enterprise: hospitals and health care in Brooklyn and New York, 1885–1915

Arnold R. Hirsch: Making the second ghetto: race and housing in Chicago, 1940–1960

Roy Rosenzweig: Eight hours for what we will: workers and leisure in an industrial city, 1870–1920

Hal S. Barron: Those who stayed behind: rural society in nineteenth-century New England

Jon Gjerde: From peasants to farmers: the migration from Balestrand, Norway, to the Upper Middle West

Ewa Morawska: For bread with butter: the life-worlds of East Central Europeans in Johnstown, Pennsylvania, 1890–1940

Alexander Keyssar: Out of work: the first century of unemployment in Massachusetts

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10068-7 - Avenues to Adulthood: The Origins of the High School and Social Mobility in an American Suburb

Reed Ueda

Frontmatter

More information

Avenues to adulthood

The origins of the high school and social mobility in an American suburb

REED UEDA

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

Cambridge

London New York New Rochelle

Melbourne Sydney

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10068-7 - Avenues to Adulthood: The Origins of the High School and Social
Mobility in an American Suburb

Reed Ueda

Frontmatter

More information

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

Cambridge, New York, Melbourne, Madrid, Cape Town, Singapore, São Paulo, Delhi

Cambridge University Press

The Edinburgh Building, Cambridge CB2 8RU, UK

Published in the United States of America by Cambridge University Press, New York

www.cambridge.org

Information on this title: www.cambridge.org/9780521327701

© Cambridge University Press 1987

This publication is in copyright. Subject to statutory exception and to the provisions of relevant collective licensing agreements, no reproduction of any part may take place without the written permission of Cambridge University Press.

First published 1987

This digitally printed version 2008

A catalogue record for this publication is available from the British Library

Library of Congress Cataloguing in Publication data

Ueda, Reed.

Avenues to adulthood.

Includes bibliographies and index.

1. High schools – United States – History.
 2. Social mobility – United States. I. Title.
- LA222.U34 1987 373.73 86–28371

ISBN 978-0-521-32770-1 hardback

ISBN 978-0-521-10068-7 paperback

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10068-7 - Avenues to Adulthood: The Origins of the High School and Social
Mobility in an American Suburb

Reed Ueda

Frontmatter

More information

To my mother and father

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10068-7 - Avenues to Adulthood: The Origins of the High School and Social
Mobility in an American Suburb

Reed Ueda

Frontmatter

More information

Contents

Acknowledgments	page ix
Introduction	1
1 Farm village to commuter suburb	4
2 The evolution of educational leadership	23
3 The free high school	40
4 The rise of Yankee city and the prolongation of schooling	59
5 Popularizing high school: “the college of the people”	89
6 The origins of high school youth culture	119
7 Educational opportunity and social mobility	153
8 The birth of progressive reform and the junior high school	186
Conclusion: The high school in the light of history	220
Appendix I: Courses of study	225
Appendix II: Sources and methods	230
Appendix III: Students and households	232
Appendix IV: Supplementary household data	247
Notes	255
Index	289

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10068-7 - Avenues to Adulthood: The Origins of the High School and Social Mobility in an American Suburb

Reed Ueda

Frontmatter

More information

Acknowledgments

In the process of writing this book I have accumulated debts that I cannot possibly repay in full. As a partial accounting, I wish to thank several institutions for their support and a number of individuals for their assistance. An award from the Joseph A. Grossman Fund at Harvard University enabled me to launch this study as a doctoral thesis. A Mellon fellowship from Tufts University and an American Council of Learned Societies fellowship provided the time to prepare the thesis for publication. Dean Mary Ella Feinleib of Tufts also provided help at a key juncture. My research was expedited by the knowledgeable staffs of the Massachusetts State Archives, the State Library, the Boston Public Library, the Somerville Public Library, the Harvard College Library, the Federal Record Deposit Archives in Waltham, the New England Historic Genealogical Society, the Somerville Historical Society, and the administration of the Somerville High School. My research assistants at Tufts, especially David LeBlanc, Lisa Spezzaferro, Jean O'Connell, and Le Jen Chen, made an invaluable contribution. My editors at Cambridge University Press, Frank Smith, Rhona Johnson, and Louise Calabro Gruendel, skillfully guided the manuscript into print. I am obligated to Carl F. Kaestle, Oscar Handlin, Bernard Bailyn, Robert W. Fogel, Patrick J. Blessing, Joel Perlmann, Jane Hunter, Nathan Glazer, and Sheldon White for their insights and interest in my work. This book could not have been written without the direction of Stephan Thernstrom, whose scholarship and clear judgment have taught me what I know of historiography. All these individuals deserve credit for the merits my book might possess and do not share in the responsibility for its lapses. Finally, I would like to thank Peggy, Mildred, Goro, Nancy, and Edie for their forbearance and devotion.