

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10174-5 - The Mexican Revolution, 1910-1914: The Diplomacy of the Anglo-American Conflict

Peter Calvert

Index

More information

INDEX

- Abdul Hamid II, Sultan of Turkey, 45–6
 Acland, Francis Dyke, 122, 164
 Adams, Fred, 72–3, 212–13, 217, 227, 228, 229, 245, 276, 277–9
 Adams, S. H., 26 n.
 Adee, Alvey Augustus, 53, 168
 agrarian revolt, 21, 87, 88–9, 104, 107, 291
 Agua Prieta, capture and recapture of, 64, 66, 67, 290
 Aguila Co., 50, 181 n., 275, 277–8; activities of, 25–6; structure of, 26; Lord Cowdray's interest in, 75; alleged corruption in, 97; connection with National Railways, 97; concessions granted to, 98, 99, 100; sale of, 284
 Aguilar, Cándido, 278
 Aguilera, R., 101 n.
 Allen, H. C., 5 n., 267 n.
 Allen, W. H., 20 n.
 Almond, G. A. and J. S. Coleman, 302 n.
 Alperovich, M. S. and B. T. Rudenko, 78 n.
 American Smelting and Refining Co., 48
 Ancona, Mr., 74
 Ángeles, Felipe, 141, 142, 147
 Anglo-American Oil Co., 24
 Anglo-French Naval Conversations (1911), 2
 Anglo-Japanese Alliance (1902), 3, 27
 Anglo-Mexican Petroleum Products Co. Ltd, 173
 Anti-re-election Party, 31, 32
 Araujo, Manuel Enrique, 139 n.
 Arbitration Treaty, lapse of, 196
 Archbold, John Dustin, 79, 80–1, 82
 Argentina, 7, 8 n., 185, 286 arms: supply to revolutionaries, 42, 44, 66, 71, 78, 80; ban on exports from U.S., 109, 113, 125 n., 177–8, 209; supply to counter-revolutionaries, 116; imported by Mexico, 177–8, 191, 199, 209, 211; supply to northern rebels, 239 army (Maderista), disbanded in interinato, 88 army (Mexican): cumbersome strategy of, 105; role in state, 105–6; effect on election results, 247; role under Díaz, 290 army (U.S.), see mobilization
 Arnold, C. and F. J. T. Frost, 21 n.
 Asquith, Herbert Henry, 1, 70, 224; speech on policy in Mexico, 265–7, 269
 Associated Press, 135, 159, 240, 277 n.
 Atrato region, plans for canal in, 174–5
 Azcona, Juan Sánchez, 93 n.
 Bachimba, battle at, 104, 105–6
 Bacon, Augustus O., 171 n., 178
 Bailey, T. A., 27 n.
 Baja California, 47, 48, 60, 289
 Baker, R. S., 136 n., 167 n., 177 n., 252 n., 283 n., 285 n.
 Balfour, Arthur J., 1, 3
 Ballinger, Richard A., 3, 38, 47, 48, 53
Bancaria, unpopularity of, 96
 Barrett, John, 132
 Bassó, Adolpho, 154
 Bates, J. L., 26 n.
 Beals, C., 15 n., 17 n., 18 n., 21 n.
 Beaverbrook, First Baron, 163 n.
 Bell, Edward I., 17 n., 39 n., 62, 64 n., 78–9, 83, 87 n., 94 n., 96 n., 106 n., 108, 110, 112 n., 113 n., 116 n., 117, 147 n., 155 n., 156 n.
 Beltrán, Joaquín, 104, 106
 Bemis, S. F., 274 n.
 Bennett, J. J., 80
 Benton, William, 296 n.
 Bernhardt, Gaston de, 218 n.
 Bernstorff, Johann Heinrich, Graf von, 40, 50 n., 57 n.
 'Big Stick' policy of U.S., 9 n.
 Billinghurst, Guillermo, 300
 Bishop, J. B., 54 n.
 Bismarck, Otto, Prinz von, 94
 Bitzenfeld, Herwarth von, 50 n.
 Blaisdell, L. L., 40 n., 47 n.
 Blanquet, Aureliano, 147, 247
 Blum, J. M., 167 n., 274 n., 299 n., 303 n.
 Body, John B., 72, 96–7, 141, 184, 276; denies allegations against Cowdray, 97; present at Cowdray's interview with Madero, 98–9; asks Adams to warn Huerta, 212–13; on Cowdray's subscription to loan, 231
 Bonar Law, A., 2
 Bonilla, Manuel, 96
 Bonilla, P., 251 n.
 Borchard, E. M., 8 n.

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10174-5 - The Mexican Revolution, 1910-1914: The Diplomacy of the Anglo-American Conflict

Peter Calvert

Index

More informationIndex

- Bowring, C. W., 181 n.
Bravo, Mexican gunboat, 282
 Brenchley, Mr, 137
 British Guiana, 6, 7
 British Honduras, 6, 239
 Brown, E. N., 72
 Bryan, William Jennings, 171, 172, 175, 179, 185 n., 187, 201, 209, 214, 242, 243, 262, 265, 282, 283, 289, 295, 296 n., 297, 301; on U.S. recognition of Huerta, 165-6; advocates 'spoils system' for appointments, 168; instructs H. L. Wilson to mediate, 178; Lind's mission and, 203, 204, 205-7; criticized by Carden, 226; receives Lind's opinion on Mexico, 229; sees Wilson about Huerta's coup, 233; requests withdrawal of recognition, 235; accuses Britain of encouraging Huerta, 245-6; links Mobile speech with Monroe doctrine, 250-1; denies ultimatum to Huerta, 257; considers Grey dominated by oil interests, 271
 Bryce, James, Viscount, 40, 93, 109, 124, 148, 290; views on mobilization, 49, 50, 51-2; defends U.S. attitude to arms trade, 66; aware of Cowdray's complaints against Wilson, 69; discusses Mexican situation with Taft, 69-70; asked about joint intervention, 122; refutes rumours of intervention, 125, 126; notifies Britain's decision to recognize, 165; replaced as British ambassador, 169; informed that U.S. not influenced by British decision to recognize, 173
 Bulnes, F., 102 n.
 Burns, E. M., 179 n.
 Burnside, W. A., 93
 Butt, Archibald W., 55, 57
 Calero, Manuel, 96, 102, 110, 117, 122, 146, 288; Un Decenio de Política Mexicana, 87 n., 107 n., 118 n., 147 n.; joins de la Barra in legation, 141
 Californian Land Act crisis, 290 n.
 Callcott, W. H., 79
 Calvert, P. A. R., 118 n., 175 n.
 Calvo clause, 8
 Campa, Emilio, 112
 Campbell, A. E., 5 n., 7 n., 300 n.
 Campbell, Sir Francis Alexander, 70
 Campbell, Ronald Hugh, 70, 125, 190
 Canada, trade links with U.S., 4, 5
 Canada, W. W., 106 n.
 Canfield, Edward, 77
 capital, foreign: in Central America, 8-10, see also Guatemala; Venezuela; in Mexico, 17, 18, 19-21, 95-6, 100
 Carbajal, Francisco S., 67
 Carden, Sir Lionel Edward Gresley, 164, 190, 191, 238, 239 n., 248, 261, 263, 274, 298, 304, 305; appointed ambassador to Mexico, 216; connections with Cowdray, 218, 237; financial interests of, 218; early career of, 218-19; anti-Americanism of, 219; left London without seeing Grey, 220; opinion of Mexican situation, 220-4; considers Britain must put her interests first, 222-3; arrives at Vera Cruz, 225-6; criticizes President Wilson and Bryan, 226; meets Lind, 226, 227-8; Lind's opinion of, 227-8, 234, 238; presents credentials on day after coup, 233-4, 241, 243, 246; gives press interview, 237, 240-3; likened by press to H. L. Wilson, 242; replacement of, 233, 269, 282-4; criticized by von Hintze, 259; welcomes possibility of Huerta declaring war, 260; meets Huerta, 265; offers to mediate, 268-9, 271; attends opening of Congress, 272 n.; requests help of British navy, 274; attacked for not supporting Cowdray, 277; accused of intrigue, 279-81; instructed not to support Huerta, 280; recalled to London, 283
 Cardenas, Francisco, 154 n.
 Carranza, Venustiano, 101, 177, 192, 274, 302
 Carreño, A. M., 227 n.
 Carson, Sir Edward, 2
 Carvajal, Francisco S., see Carbajal, Francisco S.
 Castro, Cipriano, 270
 Central America: U.S. interests in, 7-10, 28, 33-4, 269; foreign investment in, 8-10, 252, 295-6, 301; see also Guatemala; Venezuela
 Cepeda, Enrique, 146, 180
 Chamber of Deputies: dissolution of, 231-3; calls for deposition of Huerta, 232
 Charbonneau, M., 83
 Chihuahua, 44, 59, 62; Orozco extracts financial support from, 108
 Chile, 7, 38, 75 n., 185, 286
 China, recognition of, 194
 Chinese, massacre of at Torreón, 71
 Chinese Loan question, 9, 168, 172, 295, 297

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10174-5 - The Mexican Revolution, 1910-1914: The Diplomacy of the Anglo-American Conflict

Peter Calvert

Index

More informationIndex

- Churchill, Winston Leonard Spencer, 2, 173; announces Navy Plan, 173-4
científicos, 77, 96 n., 286; doctrines of, 16-18, 27; achievements of, 17-18, 285; role in downfall of Reyes, 29; accused of anti-Americanism, 41; influence of, 43; support Félix Díaz, 107
- Ciudad Juárez, 47, 122, 290; captured by Madero's forces, 67-8, 71, 82; threatened for second time, 112, 116; captured by Villa, 274
- Ciudad Juárez, Treaty of, 71, 88, 90
- Ciudadela, Mexico City, see Decena Trágica; Mexico City, rising of Feb. 1913
- Clark, Joshua Reuben Jnr., 44, 112
- Cline, H. F., 195 n., 292 n.
- Colina, F. de la, 29 n.
- Cologan y Cologan, Bernardo Jacinto, 136, 140, 142, 145, 148; sent to request Madero's resignation, 142-3; received by Madero, 143
- Colombia, 254, 295; relations with U.S., 4; oil concessions sought by Lord Murray, 174-5, 255; Standard Oil, 243
- Commager, H. S., 250 n.
- Committee on Foreign Relations (U.S. Senate), see Smith Committee
- Comonfort, Ignacio, 11
- Compañía Mexicana de Petróleo 'El Águila', S.A., see Aguila Co.
- Comte, Auguste, 16
- Conejos, battle at, 104
- Constitution of 1857, 11, 16, 29; no re-election amendments annulled, 15
- Constitutionalists, 177, 178, 193, 207, 208, 239, 280, 283, 296, 301; capture Durango, 187; infiltration into Congress, 225, 226; Lind contacted by agents of, 227; recapture Torreón, 231, 279; recognition of belligerency of, 238, 239, 243, 270; State Department negotiates with, 274; military activities of, 274-5; agree to respect oilfields, 278; besiege Tampico, 282, 289-9; railways damaged by, 292
- Converse, Lawrence F., alleges Madero helped by Standard Oil, 74
- Corral, Ramón, 15-16, 31, 43, 63; accuses U.S. of fomenting revolution, 70, 81
- corruption: allegations against científicos, 18, 286; allegations against Cowdray, 25, 26, 27, 73, 97, 176, 277, see also Cowdray, First Viscount; charges against Pierce and Doheny, 26
- Cosío Villegas, D., 16, 294 n.
- Costa Rica, 174 n., 254, 295
- Council of Foreign Bondholders, 9-10, 190, 219 n.
- counter-revolutionary movements, finance of, 106-8
- Covadonga massacre, 127
- Cowdray, First Viscount (W. D. Pearson), 22, 162, 180, 212, 253, 254, 270, 284, 290, 292, 296; civil engineering achievements of, 23-4, 33; friendship with Díaz, 24, 72, 73, 286; railway interests of, 24, 108, 230; oil concessions, 24-6, 76, 98, 99, 100, 255, 267, 270, 277; allegations of corruption by, 25, 26, 27, 73, 97, 176, 277; complains about behaviour of H. L. Wilson, 68-9; interest in Aguila Co., 75; contract with Standard Oil, 77; annulment of his concessions requested, 96; interview with Madero about concessions, 98-9; charged with assisting Orozco, 108, 237; arms trade and, 109; favoured Gerard as ambassador, 169; connection with British navy oil contracts, 173-4, 175-6; accused of involvement with F. Díaz, 179; accused of pressing for Huerta's recognition, 179, 182, 183; attempts to secure British loan for Huerta, 182-5; blamed for British recognition of Huerta, 193; reports on conditions for U.S. recognition, 214-15; asked to request delay of Stronge's departure, 216-17; connections with Carden, 218, 237; considered by Lind to control Huerta government, 229, 231, 234; subscribes to loan, 230-1, 276; accused of assisting Madero's overthrow, 237, 277; accused of forcing Carden's appointment, 237, 277; disturbed by Huerta's coup, 275; oil interests threatened by Constitutionalists, 275, 277; accused of financial support of Huerta, 275-6, 278; denies all accusations, 276-7; declares Waters Pierce to be behind accusations, 279
- Cradock, Sir Christopher, 280-2
- Creel, Enrique Clay, 48, 52, 108-9
- Creel, G., 48 n.
- Creelman, J., 15 n., 27 n.
- creolism, científicos influenced by, 18
- Cromer, Eldon Gorst, First Viscount, 5
- Cross, C., 1 n.
- Cuba, 8, 9, 34, 218-19, 221, 240, 248, 251, 259

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10174-5 - The Mexican Revolution, 1910-1914: The Diplomacy of the Anglo-American Conflict

Peter Calvert

Index

More informationIndex

- Cumberland, C. C., 17 n., 18 n., 29 n., 79, 83 n., 103, 106 n., 132 n.
- Cunningham, E. B., 79
- Cunningham, T. B., 79
- Daily Mail*, 243 n.
- Dangerfield, G., 1 n., 174 n.
- Daniels, Josephus, 183, 284, 285 n.
- Dearing, Fred Morris, 52, 59, 91-2, 93, 96, 111, 113, 115, 145, 284; posted to Brussels, 168
- debts, recovery of, 8-10, 11-12, see also Guatemala; Venezuela
- Decena Trágica*, 131-48, 177, 179, 180, 187; final assessment of, 293; see also Mexico City, rising of Feb. 1913
- de la Barra, Francisco Léon, 48, 56, 138, 147, 179, 181, 288, 290, 293, 294; recalled to Mexico, 61; discusses Mexican problem with Taft, 61-2; informed H. L. Wilson of negotiations with revolutionaries, 63, 71; accuses U.S. of aiding revolutionaries, 64-5; named as interim President, 71; aware of Díaz's departure, 72; interinato of, 85-93; wishes to resign, 89-90; new policy of, 90-1; nominated for Vice-President under Madero, 95; Huerta employed by, 105; falsely reported as again being provisional President, 135; offers to mediate, 141; seeks refuge in legation, 141, 142; reports on meeting of senators with E. Madero, 143; resignation of, 148; reputation suffers as result of Madero's death, 156; had assured safety of Madero, 156-7; letter to George V a precedent for Huerta's, 159, 160; position in Huerta's régime, 161; final assessment of, 290
- de la Torre, Ignacio, 154 n.
- Del Valle, Reginald, 171, 190
- Democratic Clubs, 31
- Deputies, Chamber of, see Chamber of Deputies
- Dewey, George, 120
- Díaz, Adolfo, 37
- Díaz, Félix, 74, 104, 106-7, 126, 148, 149, 179, 244, 284, 296 n.; financial support for, 107; and rising of Feb. 1913, 131-2, 134-5, 139, 140, 141; claims he held Mexico City, 140; negotiates for settlement, 147-8; candidate for Presidency, 148, 195 n.; motive for murder of Madero, 155; return to Mexico, 284
- Díaz, Porfirio, 43, 62, 105, 154, 177, 291, 302; exchanges state visits with Taft, 4; Presidency of, 15-48; friendship with Cowdray, 24, 72, 73, 286; U.S. feeling against, 27; approves of democratic opposition, 31; fall of, 49-84; rumoured illness of, 50; on presence of Japanese navy, 51; resignation imminent, 64, 66; resignation requested by Cabinet, 68, 71; resignation accepted, 72; leaves Mexico, 72-3, 105, 290; later opinion of his régime, 91; posthumous view of, 285
- Dickinson, Jacob McGavock, 53, 54 n., 69
- Didapp, Juan Pedro: evidence to Smith Committee, 74-6; Los Estados Unidos y nuestros conflictos internos, 28 n., 76
- Diedrichs, Otto von, 120
- Dobson, M., 174 n.
- Doheny, Edward Lawrence, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 77, 96, 182, 284
- dollar diplomacy, 9, 36-7, 40, 169, 172, 219, 295, 301
- Dombrowski, E., 121 n.
- Domínguez, Belisario, 231
- Dominican Republic, 9, 221-2
- Donaldson, F., 174 n.
- Dormer, Cecil Francis Joseph, 85
- Downing, T., 21 n.
- Doyle, W. T. S., 168
- Drago doctrine, 8 n.
- Dromundo, B., 89 n.
- Dufferin and Ava, First Marquess of, 304
- Dumba, C., 171 n.
- Dunn, H. H., 89 n.
- Durango, capture of, 187
- economic development, foreign investment and, 285-6, see also investment, foreign
- Ecuador, 295, 301 n.
- Edward VII, King of Great Britain, 1, 5, 33
- Edwards, T. J., 112
- ejidos*, 21
- elections: (1910): re-election policy introduced, 12, 15; Anti-re-electionists request invalidation of, 32; (1911): 92; increasing freedom of, 94-5; (1913): date fixed for, 185; U.S. attitude to, 186, 228, 233, 236, 238, 242, 243, 244, 246, 258; lack of democracy in, 228; Constitutionalists anxious to postpone, 230; British attitude to, 239, 243, 244-5, 246; Huerta's supposed plan for, 244; conduct

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10174-5 - The Mexican Revolution, 1910-1914: The Diplomacy of the Anglo-American Conflict

Peter Calvert

Index

More informationIndex

- elections (cont.)
of, 247; results of, 247; nullification of, 272
- Elguero, Luis, 97 n.
- El Paso, 81, 112
- El Salvador, 139, 139 n.
- Escalón, Salas defeated at, 104, 114
- Fabela, Isidro, 137, 144, 145 n., 150
- Fall, Albert B., 171, 196 n.
- Feis, H. G., 8 n., 20
- Fell, Arthur, 57–8
- Figueroa, Ambrosio, 140
- finance: of revolution, 73–84, 95, 98; of counter-revolution, 106–8; sought by Huerta from foreign sources, 182–6, 186–7, 191–2, 194, 210, 213, 230–1, see also investment, foreign
- Fleming, P., 136 n.
- Fletcher, Frank Friday, 204, 226, 278, 281–2
- Flores D., Jorge, 197 n.
- Flores Magón brothers (Jesús, Ricardo), 47
- Flynn, J. T., 22 n., 23 n.
- Foreign Office: concern over Nicaragua, 33–4; pre-1910 attitude towards Mexico, 37–8; denial of involvement in U.S. mobilization, 49–50; decides against sending ship to Mexico, 63; against joint intervention, 122; ignores proposal to notify areas of disturbance, 123; considers withdrawal of legation staff, 125; receives account of Decena Trágica from Stronge, 139–50 passim; warns Stronge not to incur risks, 142; informed of Madero's death by Stronge, 156; concerned with legality of Huerta's election, 157–63; notifies Britain's intention to recognize Huerta, 165; believes U.S. withholding recognition until claims settled, 166; threatens force over Guatemalan debt, 190–1; sees non-recognition by U.S. as economic policy, 199; alleged statement following H. L. Wilson's congratulatory speech, 206, 206 n.; doubts stability of Constitutionalists, 208; wishes Fletcher to be solely responsible at Tampico, 282; efficiency of, 304; see also Great Britain
- Foreign Relations Committee (U.S. Senate), 73–7, 109, 169 n., 178
- France: naval agreement with Great Britain, 2; British diplomatic relations with, 3; investments in Mexico, 20; recognition of Huerta by, 162–3, 164, 192; mediation conditions, 268
- Furber, Percy N., 180, 181 n., 309
- Gadsden strip, 289
- Gage, Morton F., 280
- Galbraith, James N., 57 n., 227, 245, 278
- Galveston–Vera Cruz Cable Co., 140
- Gamboa, Federico, 28 n., 42, 204–5, 210, 226; rejects Woodrow Wilson's proposals, 206; states that Huerta debarred from being candidate, 214; becomes candidate for Presidency, 225
- Gantenbein, J. W., 274 n.
- Garza Aldape, Manuel, 202 n., 205 n., 232, 245, 262
- Gelber, L. M., 5 n.
- George V, King of Great Britain: receives telegram from Huerta, 151; receives letter from de la Barra, 159, 160; receives autograph letter from Huerta, 165; replies to Huerta's letter, 180, 182, 183
- Gerard, James Watson, 169, 212
- Germany: investments in Mexico, 20, 283; alleged support of Orozco by, 108; recognition of Huerta by, 162–3, 164, 165; sends naval ship to Mexico, 238; mediation conditions, 268
- Glick, E. B., 25 n.
- gold standard, adopted in Mexico, 17, 21
- Goldenberg, B., 286 n.
- Goldman, E. F., 3 n.
- Goltz, Horst von der, 50 n., 108 n.
- Gómez, Juan Vincente, 270 n.
- González, Abraham, 74, 179–80
- González, Manuel, Presidency of, 15, 30
- González Salas, José, 91, 103, 104
- Goschen, Sir Edward, 165, 238
- Granados, Alberto García, 91, 92
- Granados, Ricardo García, 101–2
- Great Britain: imperialism of, 1, 5–6; naval operations, 2, 9, 9 n., 64, 223–4, 274–5, 280–2; investments in Mexico, 19–20, 222, 235, 237, 285–6; overseas investments of, 19–20; absence from Mexican centenary celebrations, 33; parliamentary question on U.S. mobilization, 57–8; recognition of Huerta régime by, 150–2, 156–66, 179, 180, 182–3, 187, 188–9, 190, 191, 193, 195, 200, 203–4, 209, 223, 225, 239, 247, 249, 263, 266, 294; recognition of provisional Presidents by, 152, 157–65,

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10174-5 - The Mexican Revolution, 1910-1914: The Diplomacy of the Anglo-American Conflict

Peter Calvert

Index

More informationIndex

- Great Britain (cont.)
 187, 294; parliament discusses recognition of Huerta, 192–3; unable to support U.S. against Mexico, 209; commercial interests and Monroe doctrine, 221; recognition of Huerta's dictatorship, 233–7; Cabinet discusses Mexico, 235; attitude towards elections, 239, 243, 244–5, 246; see also Foreign Office; navy
- Greenwood, Hamar, 163–4, 183
- Grey, Sir Edward (First Viscount Grey of Fallodon), 5, 34–5, 43, 57, 85, 122, 150, 151, 176, 191, 193, 220, 237; qualities of, 2; views on recognition of Huerta, 163, 187; informs Spring-Rice on British policy, 170; misled by Page on recognition question, 188, 200; misled by E. M. House on recognition question, 195; informed of Lind's appointment, 201–2; instructs Stronge re Lind's mission, 204; intervenes at request of U.S., 204; considers Britain unable to request Huerta's resignation, 209; refuses to let Stronge see Lind crisis through, 217; chooses Carden for Mexican appointment, 219; states Britain cannot take sides, 224–5, 247, 264, 265, 267; on British attitude to elections, 238–9; on dangers of recognizing belligerency of northern rebels, 239; opinions misinterpreted by Page, 239–40; presumes Carden did not give interview, 243; denies that Britain encouraging lawlessness of Huerta, 246; thinks U.S. considering armed intervention, 247; discussions with Page after elections, 247–9; not dominated by oil interests, 271; does not give Carden authority to negotiate, 272; role in Carden's transfer, 282–4
- Gruening, E., 19 n., 39 n., 87 n.
- Guatemala, 10, 190–1, 219, 221–2, 301 n.
- Guggenheim family, interests of, 38–9, 40, 48, 56
- Gulf Refining Co., 99
- Gwynn, S. (ed.), 169 n., 269 n.
- haciendas*, 21, 87, 108
- Hackett, C. W., 21 n.
- Haff, Delbert J., 182, 186
- Hagedorn, H., 52 n.
- Haldane, First Viscount, 254
- Hale, William Bayard, 136–7, 171, 182, 187, 204, 234 n., 274, 284
- Hannay, D., 15 n.
- Harding, Warren Gamaliel, 284
- Harrison, Benjamin, 38
- Harrison, J. P., 137 n.
- Hay–Pauncefote Treaty, 255
- Hayes, C. W., 214
- Heindel, R. H., 267 n.
- Hendrick, B. J. (ed.), 169 n., 219 n., 242 n., 269 n., 271 n., 279 n., 285 n., 304 n., 313 n.
- Henry, Prince of Prussia, 33
- H.M.S. Hermione, 217
- Hernandez, Braulio, 74, 76
- Hernandez, Luis, 79, 80
- Hernandez, Rafael, 96
- Hidalgo del Castillo, Manuel, 10
- Hidy, R. W. and M. E., 22 n., 23 n.
- Hintze, Paul von, 115, 124, 127, 136, 138, 142, 145, 146, 148, 258–60, 300; early career of, 120–1; reports on Carden, 240, 279, 280; discussions with Carden, 258–60
- Hitchcock, Gilbert Monell, 77
- Hohler, (Sir) Thomas Beaumont, 65, 67, 71, 91, 270, 272, 296 n.; Diplomatic Petrel, 25 n., 27 n., 45 n., 119 n., 139 n., 153 n., 216 n., 217 n., 283 n., 284 n.; early career of, 45–6; early dispatches on rebel activities, 46; suggested that mobilization concerned Japan, 50; considers H. L. Wilson an alarmist, 58, 60, 65; Wilson's opinion of, 61; offered legation guard by Japanese minister, 71; aware of Díaz's departure, 72; reports on finance of revolution, 83; opinion of interinato, 85–6, 91; protests about Zapata's 'pay-off', 89; interview with de la Barra, 89–90; considers Emilio Vázquez responsible for government's weakness, 91; reports Madero's denunciation of Huerta, 92–3; describes Madero, 93; views on Mexican elections, 94; opinion concerning Stronge, 119; opinion concerning von Hintze, 121 n.; absent during Decena Trágica, 139; account of Pacto de la Embajada, 148 n.; account of Wilson's party, 153–4; views on effect of Madero's murder, 157, 162; opinion concerning Huerta, 165 n.; memo. on Mexican situation, 193–4; reports Stronge's appointment to Chile, 216; becomes chargé d'affaires again, 217, 283; meets Carden, 225–6; subsequent career of, 284

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10174-5 - The Mexican Revolution, 1910-1914: The Diplomacy of the Anglo-American Conflict

Peter Calvert

Index

More informationIndex

- Holland, Philip E., reports Cowdray as assisting Orozco, 108
- Holms, P. G., 58
- Holstein, Friedrich von, 279
- Honduras, 6, 36, 221, 222
- Hopkins, Sherburne Gillette, 83, 98, 278; revolutionary activities of, 74-7; evidence to Smith Committee, 76-7
- House, Edward Mandell, 195, 269, 271
- Houston, D. F., 185 n., 202 n.
- Huerta, Victoriano, 107, 116, 134, 140, 180, 227, 270, 279, 290, 298, 302; escorted Díaz in flight, 72, 105; denounced by Madero, 92, 105; appointed successor to González Salas, 103-4; emerges as Mexico's ruler, 104; physical appearance of, 104 n.; early career of, 104-5; distrusted by Díaz, 105; as military leader, 105-6; appointed successor to Villar, 131; attempts to recapture Ciudadela, 131-2; expected by Wilson to overthrow Madero, 133; detained in Palace, 139, 146, 147; distrusted by Madero, 139, 146, 147; sends troops to protect foreign colonies, 141; negotiates for settlement, 147-8; appointed Secretary of Gobernación, 148, 152; becomes provisional President, 148, 152; recognition by Great Britain, 150-2, 156-66 passim, 179, 180, 182-3, 187, 188-9, 190, 191, 193, 195, 200, 209, 223, 225, 239, 247, 249, 263, 267, 294; sends telegram to George V and Kaiser, 151; non-recognition by U.S., 152, 156-66 passim, 167, 171-3, 178-9, 182, 185-9, 191, 192, 194, 196, 198-200, 202, 203-4, 205, 207, 215, 225, 233; behaviour at Wilson's party, 153-4; Madero's death reflects badly on, 155-6; reported to have assured safety of Madero, 156-7; decreed by Congress to be President, 158; recognition by France, 162-3, 164, 192; recognition by Germany, 162-3, 164, 165; stability of régime reported by Stronge, 164, 190, 193, 211; sends autograph letter to George V, 165; character of, 165 n.; receives letter from George V, 180, 182, 183; financial problems of, 181-6, 191-2, 194, 203, 210, 213, 230-1; recognition by Norway, 185; meets Lind, 210-11; considered only person capable of keeping order, 211, 220, 223, 227, 235, 240; gives no guarantee will not stand for election, 215, 220; asks that Stronge remain until Lind crisis over, 217; strained relations with Cabinet and Congress, 225; dissolves Chamber of Deputies, 231-3, 275; dictatorship of, 232, 275; allegations that dictatorship recognized by Great Britain, 233-5; press reaction to coup, 236-7; supposed plan for rigging election, 244; explains reasons for coup, 246; retirement of, 253, 256-7, 258, 260-1, 263-4, 274 n.; threatened with intervention, 256; disappearances of, 258, 262; dictatorship not recognized by U.S., 262; agrees to accept British mediation, 265; plans for new elections, 272-3; visited by Cradock, 280-1; death of, 284
- Hurst, Cecil James Barrington, 123
- Ichman, W. F., 168 n., 313
- imperialism, differing aims of, 5-8
- interinato*, 76, 85-93; settled claims for Gustavo Madero, 83; inefficiency of claims commission, 89; new policy of, 90-1; see also de la Barra
- International Workers of the World, 47
- intervention, 8, 33, 36, 55, 64-6, 112-14, 122, 240, 246, 263, 272, 301; U.S. policy on, 113, 117-18, 121-2, 125, 147, 188, 191, 192, 194, 195, 202, 212, 215, 221, 241-2, 247, 261, 270; British policy, 125, 126, 264, 265, 268; H. L. Wilson's sympathy with, 199; urged by British financial interests, 235; as alternative to Huerta's resignation, 256, 261
- Intervention, War of, 218
- investment, foreign: in Central America, 8-10, 252, 295-6, 301, see also Guatemala; Venezuela; in Mexico, 17, 18, 19-21, 95-6, 100, 222, 249, 285-6, 291
- Ireland, independence of, 1-2
- Ise, J., 26 n.
- Iturbide, Agustín de, 11, 106 n.
- Japan: British diplomatic relations with, 3; U.S. Immigration Treaty with, 5; navy, 9 n., 51; U.S. fear of, 27, 29, 50 n., 51, 60, 115-16, 290 n.; minister offers Hohler a legation guard, 71
- Jessup, P. C., 109 n.
- Jordan, David Starr, 179
- Juárez, Benito, 11, 12, 15, 67

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10174-5 - The Mexican Revolution, 1910-1914: The Diplomacy of the Anglo-American Conflict

Peter Calvert

Index

More informationIndex

- Justice, Department of, 79; unable to prevent Madero entering Mexico, 44; orders arrest of Madero, 44–5
- Katz, F., 102 n.
- Kennedy, John Fitzgerald, 301 n.
- King, Rosa E. (Mrs Norman King), 89, 141, 181 n.
- Kipling, Rudyard, 7 n.
- Knatchbull-Hugessen, (Sir) Hughe Montgomery, 149, 159, 197
- Knox, Philander Chase, 35, 36–7, 40, 47, 48, 55, 126, 138, 172, 208, 293, 295; threatened resignation of, 55; letter to Taft on Mexican situation, 56–7; correspondence with Archbold, 80–1, 82; suggests Wilson trying to force hand of State Department, 111; advises Wilson to leave Embassy if necessary, 133
- Kueck, German consul, 108 n.
- Kuhn Loeb, Messrs, 184
- land, ownership of, 20, 21
- Landa y Escandón, Guillermo de, 97 n., 213 n.
- Lane, Franklin K., 283 n., 285 n.
- Langer, W. L., 5 n.
- Langley, Sir Walter Louis Frederick Goltz, 191, 233, 263
- Lascuráin Paredes, Pedro, 117, 127, 140, 142, 144, 145, 154, 158, 288, 293; threatened by Wilson, 133; features in exchange of notes between Stronge and Wilson, 137, 138–9; recommended for interim Presidency, 138, 143; agrees Madero should resign, 142–3; breaks down during meeting with Madero, 143; becomes President and resigns, 148, 152, 159
- Laughlin, Irwin Boyle, 157–8
- Laurier, Wilfrid, 5
- Law, A. Bonar, 2
- Lawrence, D., 177 n., 300 n.
- League of Nations, 103
- legal code, remodelled by científicos, 18
- Leslie, Edward Henry John, 43, 122, 185, 203, 252
- Leslie's Weekly*, 196 n.
- Lespinasse, M., 87 n.
- Letcher, Marion, 19, 115, 116 n., 179
- ley fuga*, 21, 134, 153
- Libby, William H., 82
- Lieuwen, E., 301 n.
- Limantour, José Yves, 30, 50 n., 54, 59, 60;
- exponent of científico doctrine, 17; early career of, 17; encourages European investments in Mexico, 18; absent from Mexican centenary celebrations, 33; returns from Paris, 48; negotiates with Maderistas, 48, 61; views on mobilization, 56; needed to secure cabinet changes, 60; criticizes government policy, 61; forms new cabinet, 62; assumed role of Díaz, 62–3; receives Corral's resignation, 64; concern over U.S. attitude to arms trade, 65–6; unaware of Díaz's departure, 72; advises on raising of loan, 184
- Lind, John, 244, 272, 277, 279; charges Cowdray with corruption, 26; early career of, 201; lack of qualifications of, 201–2; mission to Mexico, 202–15, 277; in Vera Cruz, 202, 204, 213, 214, 226–7, 230, 256, 257; meets Gamboa, 204–5; meets Huerta, 210–11; meets Carden, 226, 227–8; dealings with Constitutionalists, 227; opinion of Carden, 227–8, 234; La Gente de México, 229 n.; considers Cowdray controls Huerta government, 229, 231; declines to move to Mexico City, 230; reports Britain's recognition of Huerta dictatorship, 233–5; Anglophobia of, 234; identifies Great Britain with Cowdray, 234; ignorant of meaning of diplomatic recognition, 235; meets Félix Díaz, 244; considered Huerta anxious to exploit Mexico's minerals, 245; meets Fred Adams, 245; votes in Mexican elections, 247; receives text of ultimatum to Huerta, 257; involved in negotiations with Huerta, 257–62; threatens severance of diplomatic relations, 261–2; attacks Carden for not supporting Cowdray, 277; leaves Mexico, 283; assessment of, 297
- Link, A. S., 3 n., 167 n., 299 n.
- Lloyd George, David, 176
- Lloyd George, Richard, 176
- loan, see Huerta, financial problems of
- Lockhart, Sir Robert Bruce, 34 n., 310
- Lodge, Henry Cabot, 60, 115, 274 n., 289
- London Oil Trust, 22
- Long, Boaz W., 168
- Lonsdale, James Rolston, 57
- Los Angeles Times*, 46
- Lower California, rebel activities, 47, 48, 60, see also Baja California

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10174-5 - The Mexican Revolution, 1910-1914: The Diplomacy of the Anglo-American Conflict

Peter Calvert

Index

More informationIndex

- McAdoo, William Gibbs, 181
 McCaleb, W. F., 21 n.
 McCumber, Porter James, 77
 MacDonald, Sir Claude, 70
 McKinley, William, 167
 Macleay, James William Ronald, 19, 29 n., 41 n.
 McNamara dynamite plot, 47 n.
 Madero, Alfonso, 80
 Madero, Ernesto, 30, 96, 108, 109, 143, 276, 279
 Madero, Evaristo, 30
 Madero, Francisco Indalecio, 79, 177, 237, 277, 281 n., 284, 290, 302; La sucesión Presidencial en 1910, 21 n., 29 n., 31; contender for Vice-Presidency, 29; physical appearance of, 29–30, 93–4, 94 n.; character of, 30–1; founded Anti-revolutionary party, 31; founded Democratic Clubs, 31; nominated for President, 31; arrested, 31–2, 67, 147; imprisoned, 32; fled to U.S., 32; revolutionary preparations by, 42–3; convinced that revolution a failure, 44; advances on Chihuahua, 62; attacks Ciudad Juárez, 67–8; terms accepted by government, 71; financed by Standard Oil, 74; triumphal entry into capital, 85–6; gives commission to Zapata, 88–9; submits to de la Barra's authority, 90; denounces Huerta, 92, 105; denounces Vázquez Gómez, 92; negotiates with Zapata, 92–3, 95–6; becomes President, 94; favours foreign investment, 95, 99, 100, 292; denies financial connections with Standard Oil, 98; discusses Aguila Co. with Lord Cowdray, 98–9; posthumous opinions of, 101–3; demands death penalty for Félix Díaz, 106; assisted by Pearson firm, 108–9; attitudes of Wilson, Schuyler and Stronge towards, 109–11, 114, 121, 125, 126, 127, 134; arrives in Mexico City, 131; appoints Huerta as military commander, 131; considered responsible for continued disturbances, 132; complains of Wilson's behaviour, 133; overthrow intended by Wilson, 133–4, 137–8, 144 n.; resignation of, 135, 137–8, 140, 142, 143, 144 n., 148, 149–50, 151, 158, 159; distrusted Huerta, 139, 146, 147; sends head of police to Ciudadela, 140; receives Cologan, 143; sends telegram to Taft pleading non-intervention, 143, 144, 146, 148, 149; murder of, 153–6, 163, 194, 294; murder not a factor in British recognition of Huerta, 158–63; final assessment of, 287, 288, 290; see also revolution; revolutionaries
- Madero, Gustavo, 30, 76, 78, 81; embezzlement by, 83; bravery in rising of Feb. 1913, 131; arrested, 147; death of, 134, 154
 Madriz, José, 28, 33
 Magdalena Bay, 60, 62, 115, 289
 Malkin, Herbert William, 151
 Mallet, Sir Louis du Pan, 34, 44, 122, 150, 152, 193, 209; views on recognition of Huerta, 157–8; considers Madero's death should not influence recognition, 162; explains recognition position to H. Greenwood, 163–4; asks Cowdray's opinion about recognition, 164; considers U.S. recognition would be too late, 196; considers change in Stronge's attitude to Huerta, 211–12
 Marconi disclosures, 174, 176
 Márquez Sterling y Loret de Mola, Manuel, 135, 145 n., 154
 Martin, P. F., 35 n., 38 n.
 Massiglia, Count, 71
 Maximilian, 12, 15, 106 n., 147
 Maxse, L. J., 174 n.
 Maycock, Willoughby Robert Dottin, 164, 165; advises against recognizing provisional President, 152, 159–60, 161; fails to prevent official recognition, 161–2 mediation, 132, 133, 178, 239, 268–9, 271, 272
 Méndez, Luis, 96
 Menelik IV, Emperor of Ethiopia, 45
 Mexicali, disturbances in, 47
 Mexican Central Railway, 23
Mexican Herald, The, 97, 125, 126, 135, 146 n., 211, 233 n., 242, 257
 Mexican Petroleum Company, 23
 Mexico City: riots and unrest in, 33, 41–2, 62, 71–2; military coup in, 104; rising of Feb. 1913, 131–48
 Meyer, George von Lengerke, 53, 54
 Middlemas, R. K., 23 n., 278 n.
 Miller, Clarence, 84 n.
 mineral rights, ownership of, 21–2, 23; see also oil industry mines, closure reported by Wilson, 65, 68
 Mining Law (1884), 21, 22, 23, 25, 286

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10174-5 - The Mexican Revolution, 1910-1914: The Diplomacy of the Anglo-American Conflict

Peter Calvert

Index

More informationIndex

- Miramón, Miguel, 106 n.
- Mobile, Woodrow Wilson's speech at, 249–51, 252
- mobilization on Texas border, 49–61, 63; purpose of, 54, 55, 58, 289; second occurrence of, 111–12
- Moheno, Querido, 134 n., 225, 232, 238, 245, 256, 288
- Molina Enríquez, A., 72 n.
- Mondragon, Manuel, 107
- Monroe doctrine, 6, 15, 36, 44 n., 56, 57 n., 64, 169, 176, 221, 240, 246, 278; Lodge corollary, 60, 115–16; 'Wilson corollary', 249 n., 251; criticized by Carden, 259, 260; Roosevelt corollary, 287, 289
- Moore, John Bassett, 168, 180, 182, 210, 229, 230, 299; advice on U.S. policy ignored, 235; views on need for foreign capital, 251–2, 296 n.
- Morelos, agrarian revolt in, 87, 88, 92
- Morgan, J. P. and Co., 184
- Morley, John, First Viscount, 70
- Morning Post, The*, 49, 207 n.
- Morro Castle* incident, 244
- Mowry, G. E., 3 n.
- Munro, D. G., 28 n., 174 n.
- Murray, Alexander William Charles Oliphant, First Baron: connection with Marconi disclosures, 174, 176; seeks concessions in Colombia, 174–5, 255, 279
- Murray, Arthur, 176, 185
- Napoléon III, Emperor of the French, 11
- National Bank of Mexico, 213
- Navarro, M. G., 21 n.
- navy (G.B.), 2, 9, 9 n., 64, 223–4, 274–5, 280–2; contract for oil fuel for, 173–4, 176–7, 245, 255, 279
- navy (Japan), 9 n., 51
- navy (Mexico), 282
- navy (U.S.), 9, 28, 33, 50, 51, 52–3, 54, 171, 180, 202, 223, 275, 281–2
- Needler, M. C., 294 n.
- Nevins, A., 22 n.
- New Spain, 10
- New York Herald, The*, 196 n., 241 n., 249
- New York Sun*, 206 n.
- New York Times, The*, 135 n., 147 n., 233 n., 236–7, 241–2
- Nicaragua, 28, 33–4, 37, 40, 43, 74, 199, 208, 221, 295
- Nicolson, Sir Arthur, 34, 49, 122, 162, 163, 165, 197, 238, 263, 273, 305
- Nicolson, H., 34 n., 121 n., 304 n.
- Noetzelin, Messrs, 184
- Norway, recognizes Huerta, 185
- Notter, H., 167 n., 219 n.
- Nueva Era, La*, 100, 101 n.
- Obregón, Toribio Esquivel, 26 n., 184 n., 292, 302
- oil fields, threatened by Constitutionalists, 274–5, 277–8
- Oil Fields of Mexico Co., 180
- oil industry: history of, 22–7, 292; agreement to split market, 278; see also Cowdray, First Viscount, oil concessions
- oil industry (Colombia), Lord Murray seeks concessions, 174–5
- oil requirements, British navy, 173–4, 176–7, 245, 255, 279
- Olney, Richard, 6, 169
- Orozco, Pascual, 44, 67, 74, 78, 106, 111, 114, 121, 203, 237, 293; defeated González Salas, 103; defeated by Huerta, 104, 105; finance of his counter-revolution, 107–8; U.S. supplies arms to, 116
- Ortiz Rubio, Pascual, 44 n.
- O'Shaughnessy, Edith Louise Coues, 17 n., 61, 62 n., 86 n., 87 n., 95, 104 n., 117 n., 147 n., 155 n., 169 n., 256, 257, 258, 261, 262 n., 298
- O'Shaughnessy, Nelson Jarvis Waterbury, 168–9, 189, 202–3, 216, 227, 232, 233, 234, 235, 239 n., 244, 272, 272 n., 284; considers Carden hostile to U.S., 240; involved in ultimatum to Huerta, 256–8, 261, 262; involved in Carden's mediation plans, 268–9; reports rumours about Cowdray's concessions, 277; considers Carden and Cradock engaged in intrigue, 281
- Otis, Harrison Grey, 46–7
- Pacto de la Ciudadela*, see Pacto de la Embajada
- Pacto de la Embajada*, 145, 148, 209
- Page, Walter Hines, 196, 197, 206 n., 209, 229, 235, 237, 244–5, 253, 262, 271, 273, 276, 279, 282, 304; appointed U.S. ambassador to Court of St James, 169; thought Colombian concessions contract 'killed' in Britain, 175; opinion on recognition of Huerta, 187–8, 200; reports President Wilson's attitude to coup, 238; discussions with Grey, 239–40, 247–9; reports to Wilson on discussions

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10174-5 - The Mexican Revolution, 1910-1914: The Diplomacy of the Anglo-American Conflict

Peter Calvert

Index

More informationIndex

- Page, Walter Hines (cont.)
 with Grey, 254; reports that Britain will not aid Huerta against U.S., 263-4; views on mediation conditions, 268; requests Carden's transfer, 269, 282-3; protection for Cowdray's oil interests requested of, 275, 277; assessment of, 297
- Paget, Sir Ralph Spencer, 220, 226, 243, 246
- Palavicini, F. F., 225 n.
- Pall Mall Gazette*, reports Huerta's 'proclamation' as President, 151
- pan o palo*, 16
- Panama, 4, 221
- Panama Canal, 5, 8, 233, 252, 269; possible rival to, 174; tolls dispute, 254-5, 271
- Pan-American Union, 132
- Papen, F. von, 50 n.
- Parker, W. B., 136 n.
- Parkes, H. B., 10 n.
- Payne-Aldrich bill, 3
- Pearson, Fred Stark, 20, 183
- Pearson, S. and Son Ltd, 23, 50, 51, 60, 72, 84 n., 100, 108, 141, 174, 183, 230, 245, 276, see also Cowdray, First Viscount
- Pearson, W. H. M., 58 n.
- Pearson, Weetman Dickinson, see Cowdray, First Viscount
- Peking, siege in, 125, 136
- Pendle, G., 7 n.
- peones*, discontent among, 21, 32, 193
- Pereyra, Carlos, 52-3, 197 n., 202 n.
- Perkins, D., 6 n.
- Peru, 300
- Pierce, Arthur Clay, 97 n.
- Pierce, Henry Clay, 22-3, 24, 25, 26, 97 n., 99, 227, 278, 284, 292
- Pino Suárez, José María, 92, 95, 153-6, 159, 160, 163, 194
- 'Pirra-Purra' (pseudonym of Pedro Lamicq), 101 n.
- Plan de Ayala*, 104
- Poinsett, Joel, 15
- police, role under Díaz, 16
- Porfirato*, 15-48
- Porfiristas*, replaced in interinato, 88, 90, 91
- positivism, see científicos
- Prida, R., 39 n., 67 n., 95 n., 107 n., 132 n., 145 n.
- Priest, Henry S., 97 n.
- Progressive Constitutional Party, 92
- provisional Presidents, recognition by Great Britain, 152, 157-65
- Puerto Rico, annexed by U.S., 8
- Quirk, R. E., 169 n.
- Rábago, Jesús M., 257
- railways, 20, 24, 71, 83, 97, 218, 245 n.s 292; national ownership of, 17, 23; a, market for oil industry, 23, 97; Cowdray's interest in, 24, 108, 230; possible Japanese seizure of, 50-1; Board membership, 97
- Rausch, G. J., 284 n.
- 'Reciprocity', 4, 5, 40
- Rellano, battle at, 104
- Remnant, James Farquharson, 58
- revolution: early signs of, 42-5, 48; finance of, 73-84, 95, 98; finance of counter-revolution, 106-8
- revolutionaries: advance on Chihuahua, 62; negotiations opened with, 63, 66; capture Agua Prieta, 64; posts in interinato held by, 88, 90, 91
- Revolutionary Army of the South, 88, see also Zapata
- Reyes, Bernardo, 29, 62, 86, 87 n., 92-3, 106, 118; loses Presidency to Madero, 94; gaoled after abortive revolt, 103; leads coup in Mexico City, 104; source of financial support unknown, 107; involved in rising of Feb. 1913, 131
- Rhodes, Cecil, 22
- Riba y Cervantes, Luis, 97 n., 183, 216-17
- Richthofen, Baron von, 42 n.
- Riesenbergs, Mr, 83
- Rippy, J. F., 175 n.
- Riquelme, Hevia, 153, 154
- Robinson, Albert Alonzo, 23 n.
- Robles Pezuela, Manuel, 106 n.
- Römer, H. G., 78
- Rojas, L. M., 134 n.
- Roosevelt, Theodore, 3-4, 5, 9, 53, 56, 115, 168, 169, 219, 274, 284, 287, 289, 298
- Root, Elihu, 19, 109, 114
- Ross, S. R., 29 n., 103, 132 n.
- rurales*: role of, 16; at Ciudadela, 131
- Russian Revolution, 103, 120
- Ryder, T. J., 96, 109, 231, 278
- St John, Sir Spencer, 218
- St Louis Post-Dispatch*, 100
- Salisbury, Third Marquess, 94
- Sandys, Thomas Myles, 57
- Santa Anna, Antonio López de, 11
- Sargent, Orme Garton, 34, 35
- Scherer, Hugo, 184
- Schmucker, George B., 39 n.

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10174-5 - The Mexican Revolution, 1910-1914: The Diplomacy of the Anglo-American Conflict

Peter Calvert

Index

More informationIndex

- Schuyler, Montgomery, 117 n., 118, 124 n.; change in attitude to Madero, 110-11; proposal that U.S. cut supply of funds to Mexico, 127
scientificism, see científicos
 Scott, Ernest Stowell, 243-4, 245, 262
 Serbia, 300 n.
 Seymour, C., (ed.), 195 n., 269 n.
 Shanklin, William Arnold, 116 n.
Shearwater incident, 64, 290
 Sherman, W. L. and R. E. Greenleaf, 104 n., 105 n., 155 n.
 Simonds, L. C., 104 n.
 Singer, J., 251 n.
 slavery, existence of in Mexico, 27, 32 n.
 Smith, J. V., 79, 80
 Smith, William Alden, 73, see also Smith Committee
 Smith Committee, hearings on finance of revolution, 73-7, 108
 Society of the American Colony in Mexico, 70
 South Africa, Dominion status granted to, I
South American Journal, 19
 Southern Commercial Congress, Woodrow Wilson's speech at, 249-51, 252
Spectator, The, 174 n.
 Spender, J. A., 23 n., 26-7, 75 n., 255 n., 278 n.
 Sperling, Rowland Arthur Charles, 34, 165 n., 214, 217
 Speyer, James, 180-2, 184, 185
 Spicer, Gerald Sydney, 43-4, 49, 70, 71, 118, 122, 123, 209, 263; considers Madero's resignation an internal matter, 149; views on Britain's recognition of Huerta, 151, 159, 161-2; his opinion of Madero's death, 160; considers U.S. has no support for its non-recognition policy, 199; considers Stronge should not intervene, 203; considers coup merely internal politics, 246; comments on Mobile speech, 252-3
 Spring-Rice, Sir Cecil Arthur, 158 n., 189, 190, 196, 197-8, 201, 271, 279, 283, 284; appointed Ambassador to Washington, 169; poor health of, 169-70, 238, 269; character of, 170; friendship with Grey, 170; difficulty in communicating with President, 170; reports on anxiety in U.S. over Mexico, 190; informs State Department on recognition situation, 191-2; considers Wilson's policy identical with Taft's, 199; reports on Page's misunderstanding of 'provisional' recognition, 200; reports on Lind's appointment, 201-2; discusses Lind's mission with Bryan, 206-7; concerned over President Wilson's attitude to recognition, 207-8
 Stamfordham, First Baron, 151
 Standard Oil Company, 22-3, 24, 106, 278; complicity in revolution alleged, 74-84, 97-9; Madero denies connection with, 98; Cowdray receives aid from, 99; enters Colombia, 175
 State Department, 124; a political body, 37; changes to merit system for appointments, 37, 167-8; attitude towards Mexico, 37-8, 177; unable to prevent Madero entering Mexico, 44; embarrassed by Corral, 70; suspicious of Embassy reports, 111; authority misused by H. L. Wilson, 113-14; diplomatic exchange about frontier situation, 116-17; attempts to keep Wilson on tight rein, 133; publishes Wilson's telegram denouncing mediation proposals, 133; informed of Wilson's threat to land marines, 144; mistakenly assumed to be withholding recognition until claims settled, 166; reorganization of, 167-8; opinion on recognition misleadingly reported by press, 171; persuades Colombian government to withdraw concessions bill, 174-5, 255; supports U.S. firms against rivals, 175; attitude to elections, 186, 228, 233, 236, 238, 242, 243, 244; urged to recognize Huerta, 187; disapproves of Carden's appointment, 210; recognition of belligerency of northern rebels, 238, 239, 243, 270; negotiates with Constitutionalists, 274; general policy of, 289-90; inefficiency of, 299
 Stephenson, G. M., 202 n., 211 n., 213 n., 234 n., 247 n., 279 n.
 Stewart, Walter Annesley, 162
 Stimson, G. H., 47 n.
 Stone, William Joel, 64
'Stormy Petrel', see Hohler, Sir Thomas Beaumont
 Strong and Cadwalader Inc., 68, 97
 Stronge, Francis William, 113 n., 123, 136, 187, 190, 193, 195, 198, 293, 298, 304; early career of, 118; arrives in Mexico,

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10174-5 - The Mexican Revolution, 1910-1914: The Diplomacy of the Anglo-American Conflict

Peter Calvert

Index

More informationIndex

- Stronge, Francis William (cont.) 118–19; physical appearance of, 119, 137, 153; addiction to parrots, 119, 137, 153; opinions of Hohler and Wilson concerning, 119; his opinion of H. L. Wilson, 120; concerned over anti-Americanism in Mexico, 121; opinion of Madero's government, 121, 125–6, 127; British support of Mexico against U.S. requested of, 122, 205; quarrels with Wilson, 123–4; intercedes for F. Díaz, 126; exchange of notes with Wilson, 137–9; account of Decena Trágica, 139–50 passim; unwilling to attend Diplomatic Corps meeting, 141; told Ángeles of whereabouts of de la Barra, 142; unlikely to have seen Madero's telegram to Taft, 144, 146; exceeds duties as representative, 144–6, 150; not implicated in overthrow of Madero, 147; reports on negotiations with Madero, 148–9; warned not to meddle in internal politics, 149–50; did not finally encourage Wilson, 150; reports on Huerta becoming provisional President, 152; reports on Wilson's recognition of Huerta, 152; reports Madero's death, 156, 160; explains legality of Huerta's position, 159; considers Madero's death may prevent recognition, 162; considers Huerta régime stable, 164, 190, 193, 211, 220; fears consequences of U.S. attitude to Huerta, 191; concerned over friction between Mexico and U.S., 197, 203–4; reports Wilson's recall to Washington, 199; role in Lind's mission, 202–15 passim; health fails, 216; tributes to work of, 216–17; transferred to Chile, 216, 217 n.; leaves Mexico, 217
- Stronge, Sir James Calvert, Fourth Baronet, 118
- Taft, Henry Waters, 97, 109
- Taft, William Howard, 80, 97, 171, 172, 177, 255, 282, 289, 293, 302–3; general policies of, 3–4; policy towards Latin America, 4, 172; public opinion against, 4; visits to Mexico, 4, 41; advocate of dollar diplomacy, 9, 36, 219; ‘trust busting’ by, 27; attitude to foreign policy, 35–6; appoints H. L. Wilson, 38; orders mobilization, 49, 51, 53–4; left Washington for Georgia, 51, 54; orders navy to proceed north, 53; on need to protect American lives and property, 55, 112; discussions with de la Barra, 61–2; requests Americans to withdraw from Douglas, 64; receives complaints about H. L. Wilson, 68–70; unconcerned at capture of Ciudad Juárez, 71; favours ban on arms trade, 109; Proclamation on non-intervention, 113; threatens invasion of Mexico, 113–14; interview with Calero, 117–18; opinion on intervention, 117–18, 121–2, 125, 147; defeated at polls, 126; orders concentration of forces during 1913 uprising, 132; receives telegram from E. Madero, 143, 144, 146; final decisions on U.S. policy towards Mexico, 167; tolerated change to merit system for appointments, 168; prepared to negotiate for alternative to Panama Canal, 175 n.; final assessment of, 287–8
- Tampico, besieged by Constitutionalists, 282, 298–9
- Tehuantepec National Railway, 24, 50–1, 58 n., 108, 218, 230, 292 n.
- Terrazas family, Orozco financed by, 107 territorial extension, as motive for mobilization, 289
- Texas Co., 99
- Thompson, David E., 57 n., 70
- Times, The*, 156, 207 n., 218 n., 265 n., 284 n.
- Times South American Supplement*, 20
- Tischendorf, A., 20 n.
- Tomenta, la*, 292
- Toro, Carlos, 107
- Torreón: capture of, 71; recaptured by Constitutionalists, 231, 279
- Tower, Reginald Thomas, 38 n.; reports on outbreak of riots, 42–3, 44; on implication of Japanese–American war, 50–1
- Treaty of Ciudad Juárez, 71, 88, 90
- Troxel, C. R., 79, 80, 81–2
- Tuchman, B. W., 1 n., 50 n., 283 n., 284 n., 299 n.
- Turner, J. K., 21 n., 27 n.
- Tuxpan, threatened by Constitutionalists, 274–5, 277–8
- ‘Twenty Inch Gun’ note, 6–7, 169
- Tyrrell, Sir William George, 171, 220–1, 272, 273; interview with President Wilson, 269–71

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10174-5 - The Mexican Revolution, 1910-1914: The Diplomacy of the Anglo-American Conflict

Peter Calvert

Index

More informationIndex

- Underwood Tariff bill, 196
- United States of America: trade with Mexico, 4, 40; Republican rule ended, 4, 35; Democratic party gains control, 4; Arbitration Treaties with G.B. and France, 5; imperialism of, 7–10; naval operations, 9, 28, 33, 50, 51, 52–3, 54, 171, 180, 202, 223, 275, 281–2; investments in Mexico, 18, 19–20, 24, 70, 95–6; charged with aiding revolutionaries, 64–5, 70; non-recognition of Huerta, 152, 156–66 passim, 167, 171–3, 178–9, 182, 185–9, 191, 192, 194, 196, 198–200, 202, 203–4, 205, 207, 215, 225, 233; business interests favour recognition, 196; growing power of, 223; non-recognition policy of, 300–1; see also arms; Justice, Department of; mobilization on Texas border; State Department
- Urrutia, Aureliano, 226 n.
- Uruguay, 286
- Vagts, Alfred, 22, 23 n., 79
- Vasconcelos, José, 83 n., 278
- Vázquez (Gómez), Emilio, 88, 90, 91, 92, 94; resignation of, 91; abortive revolt of, 94 n., 104
- Vázquez Gómez, Francisco, 48, 74, 79, 80, 88, 92, 102; stands for Vice-President, 31, 32; Memorias Políticas, 54 n., 67 n.
- Vazquista, see Vázquez Gómez, Francisco
- Venezuela: boundary dispute, 7, 223; naval blockade of, 9, 270 n., 289
- Vera Cruz (City), 24, 33, 131, 142, 187, 281, 282; Porfirio Díaz stays in, 72–3; disturbances in, 104, 106, 107, 110; Maderista sympathies of, 154; Lind's arrivals at, 202, 204, 213, 214; Carden's arrival at, 225–6; Félix Díaz stays in, 244; landings at, 284
- Veracruz (State), 24, 87
- Vice-Presidency, creation of, 15
- Victoria, Guadalupe, 11
- Viereck, G. S., 177 n.
- Villa, Francisco ('Pancho'), 274, 289
- Villar, Laureano, 131
- Volturno* disaster 233
- Wainwright, Richard, 53
- Washington Post, The*, 36, 236
- Waters Pierce Oil Company, 22–3, 75, 76, 77, 96, 97, 99, 292; financial involvement
- in revolution, 78–9, 82, 84 n.; behind attacks on Cowdray, 98, 179, 279
- Wedgwood, Josiah Clement, 192–3
- Westminster Gazette, The*, 156, 169 n.
- Wickersham, George W., 68, 69, 80, 81, 82, 97, 109
- Wilfley, Lebbeus Redman, 39, 70
- Wilhelm II, German Emperor, 121, 151 n.
- Wilkins, James H., 179
- Wilson, Francis Mairs Huntington, 36, 40, 56, 111, 113; advocate of dollar diplomacy, 40, 172; concern over Americans involved in revolution, 59; suggests evacuation of El Paso, 112; remains Assistant Secretary of State, 168; resignation of, 168
- Wilson, Henry Lane, 50 n., 81, 82, 126, 151, 156, 177, 180, 191, 205, 210, 261, 289, 290, 293; Diplomatic Episodes in Mexico, Belgium and Chile, 38 n., 78, 86 n., 110 n., 134 n., 148 n., 153 n., 189 n.; early career of, 38–9; character of, 39, 69, 288; admitted exceeding his powers, 41, 114; asks for suppression of Mexican newspaper, 45; concern over revolutionary outbreaks, 48, 53, 54, 56, 57; on leave in U.S., 48, 52, 53, 57, 91, 110; discussion with Díaz over Japanese navy, 51; accused by Hohler of being alarmist, 58, 65; considered instrumental in securing mobilization, 60; opinion concerning Hohler, 61; informed of negotiations with revolutionaries, 63, 71; considers possibility of Díaz resigning, 66–7; at centre of Anglo-U.S. conflict, 68–70; 'common defence' policy not adopted, 70–1; unaware of Díaz's departure, 72–3; accuses U.S. of financing revolution, 78; informed of financial negotiations with revolutionaries, 80; exaggerated reports of disturbances, 85, 86–7; opinion of interinato, 85, 86–7; did not predict downfall of Madero, 86; reports arrival of Madero in capital, 86; comments on new policy of interinato, 90; sympathetic to Madero, 93–4, 125; hopes de la Barra would be Vice-President, 95; threatens disclosure of Standard Oil's connections with revolution, 97–8; challenged Constitutional view of Madero, 102–3; favours methods of Díaz, 109–10; opinion of Madero government, 109–10, 114, 125, 126, 127, 134; party defeated at

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10174-5 - The Mexican Revolution, 1910-1914: The Diplomacy of the Anglo-American Conflict

Peter Calvert

Index

More information*IndexWilson, Henry Lane (cont.)

polls, 111; misuses authority of State Department, 111, 113–14; and El Paso situation, 112–13; emends diplomatic note, 114–15; opinion about Stronge, 119; opinion of Stronge about, 120; quarrels with Stronge, 123–4; denounces Barrett's mediation proposals, 133; increasingly involved with Huerta, 133; threatens Lascuráin with U.S. power, 133; unwilling to withdraw from Embassy, 133; intends overthrow of Madero, 133–4, 137–8, 144 n.; dismissal of, 135, 171, 189, 201; claims he is acting on behalf of Diplomatic Corps, 135–6; opinion of Hale about, 136; exchange of notes with Stronge, 137–9; seeks protection for foreign colonies, 139–40, 142; asked to persuade Madero to resign, 140; offers to mediate, 141; accused of using Diplomatic Corps as cover, 144; threatens landing of U.S. marines, 144, 145; reports overthrow of Madero before it happened, 146–7; presides over meeting between Huerta and Díaz, 147–8; supports provisional President, 152; gives party attended by Huerta, 153–4; receives conditions for recognition, 156; accepts official explanation of Madero's death, 157; reports Britain's attitude to provisional President, 159; remains at Embassy in Mexico, 168; denounced for part in February coup, 171; recalled to Washington, 171, 187–8, 197, 199, 290; helps Mexican government to restore order, 178; reports on Decena Trágica, 179; urges U.S. to restrain G.B. over recognition, 180; summoned by Huerta over non-recognition, 181; asks for President's view on recognition conditions, 185–6, 198; return to Mexico unlikely, 199; apologies made for supposed insult to G.B., 206; understood agrarian revolt, 291; assessment of, 293–4

Wilson, John Lockwood, 38, 68, 111

Wilson, Thomas Woodrow, 102, 171, 175, 191, 261, 267 n., 273 n., 279, 282, 283, 289; little interest in foreign relations, 167; policy towards Latin America, 169 n., 171–2; fails to attend public functions, 170; policy on recognition, 172–3, 186, 194, 198, 207–8; and Colombian concessions to Lord Murray, 174–5; indecision over arms trade, 177, 191; sends Hale to Mexico, 182; suggests recall of H. L. Wilson, 187, 188; policy on intervention, 194, 195, 202, 212, 270; takes charge of policy towards Mexico, 199, 200; sends Lind to Mexico as special envoy, 201; Message to Congress on Lind mission, 212, 213–14; dissatisfied with Carden's appointment, 219; against Huerta remaining President by subterfuge, 220; criticized by Carden, 226; asks Lind to remain in Mexico, 229; shocked by Huerta's lawless methods, 233; decides not to recognize elections, 236, 238; speech at Mobile, 249–51, 252; 'Wilson doctrine', 249 n., 251; action on Panama tolls, 255; requests Huerta's retirement, 263–4; interview with Tyrrell reported, 269–71; informed of Carden's instructions, 272; 'watchful waiting' policy of, 274; final assessment of, 291, 294, 296–7, 298–9, 300–3

Winterton, Sixth Earl, 58

Winthrop, John, 53

Wood, Leonard, 52 n., 53, 55, 56, 57 n., 175

Wood, Thomas McKinnon, 32 n., 57, 58, 122 n.

Woodcock, Mr, 140, 142

World, The, 20 n., 49, 50 n., 56 n., 57 n., 70 n., 73 n., 77, 97, 106 n., 107 n., 112 n., 114 n., 116 n., 134 n., 135 n., 171, 172, 173 n., 174 n., 188 n., 189 n., 202 n., 207 n., 212 n., 236, 237, 241 n., 242 n., 267, 281, 282 n., 283 n.

World War (1914–18), 103, 299–300

Young, D., 23 n.

Young, William, 19–20, 193

Yucatán, unrest in, 21, 32

Zamacona, Manuel, 69 n.

Zapata, Emiliano, 88–9, 92–3, 96, 104, 105, 107, 141 n., 291

Zelaya, José Santos, 28, 75 n., 208

Zimmermann telegram, 284