

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10503-3 - Kinship at the Core: An Anthropology of Elmdon a Village in North-west Essex in the Nineteen-Sixties

Marilyn Strathern

Table of Contents

More information

Contents

List of illustrations	page viii
List of tables	x
Foreword by Audrey Richards	xi
Preface	xxix
1. The idea of a village	1
‘Real Elmdon’	3
Referring to one’s village	7
A model of the village	12
A matter of value	14
2. Elmdon families and the core	18
A matter of context	18
A matter of status	20
‘Real Elmdon’: a summary of contexts	23
Different Elmdon families	24
3. Elmdon as a community	35
The village as a place where things happen	35
Organisations and clubs	38
Leadership	42
Two models of the village	46
Village government	49
The old order	53
Whose community?	57

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10503-3 - Kinship at the Core: An Anthropology of Elmdon a Village in North-west Essex in the Nineteen-Sixties

Marilyn Strathern

Table of Contents

More informationContents

4. Employment	page 59
The Squire and his workers	60
High farming and the ethic of 'localism'	65
Rights and rivals	69
Occupational hierarchy	73
An occupational network?	75
Kin connections and work connections	79
5. Where and how one lives	85
Interests in the open	87
The case of the new houses	88
Forms of house tenure	91
Money and management	94
Women and economic status	96
Property: inheritance	102
Property: rights	104
Houses as symbols of change	106
6. Help and dependency: kinship in practice	110
Patterns of residence	110
Residence on marriage	118
Those who stay and those who leave	121
Households and housekeeping	123
Patterns of care	126
The place of the unmarried	131
Friends, neighbours and non-kin	134
Family occasions	136
Kinship and attachment to Elmdon	141
7. Ideas about relatedness	147
Relatives in number	149
Severing the network	156
The significance of surnames	161
The surname as an estate	167

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-10503-3 - Kinship at the Core: An Anthropology of Elmdon a Village in North-west Essex in the Nineteen-Sixties

Marilyn Strathern

Table of Contents

More informationContents

8. Marriage and the significance of outsiders	page 170
Some meanings of marriage	171
Stealing women	176
Like marrying like: change over time	182
Marriage and status: getting out	187
Marriage within the village	190
9. The real village	198
Epilogue: Elmdon in 1977 by Frances Oxford	209
Characteristics of the population	210
Why live in Elmdon?	219
The cosy community	221
Integration, status and identity	226
Appendixes	229
1. Clusters of kin	229
2. Kin connections across village boundaries	233
3. Marriages between Elmdon and Chrishall villagers	235
4. Age of marriage and rates of illegitimacy	239
5. Genealogies of six Elmdon families	242
Notes	270
Bibliography	296
Index	298