

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-11616-9 - Structure and Mobility: The Men and Women of Marseille, 1820-1870

William H. Sewell

Index

More information

Index

- acte de mariage* 7–8
see also marriage registers
- age
 crime and, 214–6
 occupation and, males, 235–6
 by sex, 323
- agriculture, 51, 58–59
 in the commune of Marseille, 125
 women in, 54, 71–72
- Agulhon, Maurice, 169
- Aix-en-Provence, 213
- anthropology, 10
- apprenticeship, 48, 50
- army, size of Marseille's garrison, 323–4
- artisan industry, see handicrafts
- artisan masters, see small manufacturers
- artisans, 48–50, 62–64
 in factories, 50, 62–63
 social mobility of daughters of, 276–80
 social mobility of sons of, 247–8, 261
- assault, 214
 age and, 215
 reporting of, 219
- banking, 40–42
- begging, 214
 age and, 215
 poverty and, 218
- birth rates, 148–50
 formula for, 355n
 Marseille, compared to France, 149
- births, 146–50
- bourgeoisie
 as percentage of population, 57
 residential patterns of, 115, 121
 social mobility of daughters of, 275–6
 social mobility of sons of, 242–7, 259–60
- building trades, 63
- bureaucracy, 42, 62
- businessmen, 46, 61
- businessmen and professionals
 social mobility of sons of, 242, 259
 as witnesses at weddings, 76
- businesswomen, 52–53, 71
- businesswomen and professionals, social mobility of, 303
- Canal de Marseille, 34–35
- capital
 from outside Marseille, 40–43
 social overhead, 33–38
- capitalism, 30–31
- Carrière, Charles, 16
- census
 comparison with marriage registers as source on residential patterns, 126–8
 as historical source, 6–7
 as source for neighborhood structure, 109
 as source for occupational structure, 319–26
 as source on men's occupations, 44, 56–57 as source on women's occupations, 52, 66, 68–70 sources of inaccuracy in, 320–6 underreporting of unmarried males in, 321–6
- chamber of commerce, 313
- chemical industry, 18, 26–27, 125
- Chevalier, Louis, 9–10, 159, 211–2, 231, 267, 355n
- cholera, 20, 146–7
- clerical workers, see sales and clerical employees
- clerks, 47–48, 61–62
- coastal trade, 22
- commercial district, 120–1
- commercial revolution, 38–43 effects on occupational structure, 59–62
- commerce, see maritime commerce
- commis*, see clerks
- Continental System, 18
- cour d'assises*, 213
- court records, 213
- craft workers, women, social mobility of, 303–10
- crime
 age and, 214–6
 distance of migration and, 221–3

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-11616-9 - Structure and Mobility: The Men and Women of Marseille, 1820-1870

William H. Sewell

Index

More information

372 Index

- Italian immigrants and, 221–2, 226–7 maritime workers and, 227–8
 migration and, 213, 221–8, 230–3 by migration and occupation, 224–8 neighborhoods and, 228–30 occupation and, men, 215–9 occupation and, women, 219–21
 poverty and, 218, 226, 230–3 rates among rural vs. urban immigrants, 223–4
 reporting of, 219
 sex and, 214
 status and, 215
 transients and, 230–3 women and, 222–4, 231–2
 uprooting and, 233
- criminal subculture, 232
 crowding, in old city, 130 customs duties, as measure of maritime commerce, 19–20
- dangerous classes, 231–3, 267 day laborers, 51, 64
 death rates, 148–50
 Marseille, compared to France, 149
- demographic structure
 men's social mobility and, 238–9
 women's social mobility and, 272–4
- depression
 during Revolution and Empire, 17–18
 during Second Republic, 20–21
- dialects, 315
- domestic servants, 53, 70–2, 132–4 and crime, 219
 illegitimacy rates of, 357n migration of, 70
 reasons for high upward mobility of, 310
 residential patterns of, 121
 social mobility of, 303–10
 migration and, 210–1
- peasant daughters as, 95, 208–10 downward mobility, see social mobility, downward
- economic fluctuations, effect of banks on, 41 economic growth, importance of Parisian capital in, 313–4 education, social mobility and, 253
- elite, 46, 61
 residential patterns of, 121
 social mobility of daughters of, 274
 social mobility of sons of, 242
- Empire, First, maritime commerce and, 17–18
 endogamy, occupational, 274–5
- epidemic diseases, 146–7
- fabricants*, see small manufacturers
- factory industry, 24–25, 50–51, 62–64
 scale of firms in, 24–5
- factory workers, 352n
 skilled, 50, 62–63
 unskilled, 64
- family structure, 7
- fishermen, 51, 65–66
 residential patterns of, 113
- floating population, crime and, 230–3
- flour milling, 29
- French Revolution, maritime commerce and, 17–18
- Gelu, Victor, 47–48, 144–5, 351n
- guilds, 49
- handicrafts, 30–33, 48–50, 62–64
 building trades, 63, 122–3 intensified competition in, 32–33 made-to-order production in, 32–33 national market and, 32
 as proportion of industrial production, 33 proportion of workforce employed in, 31 radical movements and, 33 relationship to factory industry, 31
 shoemaking, 33
 scale of firms in, 31–32, 54, 338–9
 tailoring, 33
 women in, 33, 53, 71
- Handlin, Oscar, 211
- hat manufacture, 18
- Henry, Louis, 7
- historical demography, 160
- household, social status of, 52
- household structure, 7
- housing, 102–4, 107, 130
- illegitimacy, 177, 357n
- illiterates, women, social mobility of, 282, 287–90, 296–9, 310, 312
- immigrant communities, 204–8
- immigrants from artisan backgrounds, female 190 from artisan backgrounds, male, 189 assimilation of, 210–1 from bourgeois backgrounds, female, 190 from bourgeois backgrounds, male, 189 from elite backgrounds, female, 190 from elite backgrounds, male, 189 female, foundlings and illegitimates, 191 geographical origins of, 161–4, 178–92
 from Italy, 207

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-11616-9 - Structure and Mobility: The Men and Women of Marseille, 1820-1870

William H. Sewell

Index

More information

Index

373

- intermarriage of, 204–8
- literacy rates of, 169–70, 173, 194–7
- number of, per year, 177–8
- occupational backgrounds of, 166–71, 187–95
 - from peasant backgrounds, female, 190
 - from peasant backgrounds, male, 188–9
 - as proportion of population, 152–6
 - psychology of, 315–6
 - residential patterns of, 139–43
 - responses to social and political changes by, 314–6
 - social mobility of, 11
 - from unskilled backgrounds, female, 190
 - from unskilled backgrounds, male, 189
- index of dissimilarity, 238, 272
 - definition of, 358n
- industrial products, as exports, 23–24
- industrial raw materials, as imports, 23
- industrial revolution, 19, 23–24, 30
- industry
 - chemical, 26–27
 - concentration of, 23–30
 - dependence on maritime commerce, 30
 - during French Revolution and First Empire, 18
 - flour milling, 29
 - handicraft, see handicrafts
 - importance of domestic markets for, 18–19
 - location of, 102, 107
 - machine construction, 28
 - oil-pressing, 27
 - scale of plant, 30
 - soap, 26
 - sugar refining, 27
 - tanning, 28–29
 - textile, 26
 - tobacco, 29
 - use of imported raw materials, 18
- international commerce, Marseille's trading partners in, 16, 22
- Italians
 - crime and, 221–2, 226–7
 - discrimination against, 257–9, 262–5
 - in chemical industry, 125
 - political behavior of, 359n
 - social mobility of, men, 257–9, 262–5, 267–8
 - social mobility of, women, 285, 291–3, 307–9, 312
- itinerancy, 54–6
 - by occupation, 56
- joint-stock companies, 40–42
- journaliers*, see day laborers
- Julliany, Jules, 24, 40
- July Revolution, 314
- labor market, 10, 238–9, 247
- labor organizations, 50
- laundresses, 53, 71
- Levant, trade with, 16, 18, 22–23
- listes nominatives*, see census
- literacy
 - ability to sign name as measure of, 353n
 - by father's occupation, 253–4
 - as measure of occupational status, 75, 78–82
 - migration and, men, 169–70, 173, 194–7, 203–4
 - migration and, women, 287
 - by occupation, men, 253–4
 - by occupation, women, 300
 - by occupational background, women, 282–3
 - of peasants' sons, 250–1
 - as qualification for bourgeoisie, for men and for women, 281
 - as qualification for clerical employment, 47
 - social mobility and, men, 250–1, 253–7, 261–5
 - social mobility and, women, 281–3, 287–90, 311–2
 - of women, 282
- literacy rates, 196–7
- longshoremen, 38–40, 42, 50, 63
- marchand*, see shopkeeper
- marital status, by sex, Marseille compared with other French cities, 321
- maritime commerce
 - cargoes in, 23
 - coastal trade, 22
 - effect of warfare on, 17–18
 - during First Empire, 17–18
 - fluctuations of (1710–1814), 16–17
 - French Revolution and, 17–18
 - growth of (1815–70), 19–21
 - with Italy, 22–23
 - with the Levant, 16, 18, 22–23
 - in Mediterranean, 15–16
 - role of entrepot in, 15–16, 18
 - role of longshoremen in, 38–40
 - role of Marseille's industries in, 16
 - structure of (before 1789), 15
 - traditional organization of, 38
 - with West Indies, 16, 18, 22–23
- maritime workers, 51, 65–66

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-11616-9 - Structure and Mobility: The Men and Women of Marseille, 1820-1870

William H. Sewell

Index

More information

374 Index

- crime and, 227–8
- social mobility of daughters of, 276–80, 285
- social mobility of sons of, 248, 260–1
- marriage
 - between men and women of various geographical origins, 290–1
 - mean age at, 317–8
 - migration and, 154, 318
 - witnesses of, as measure of occupational status, 76, 84–88
- marriage choice, influence of parents on, 281
- marriage market, women's social mobility and, 271–81
- marriage rates, variation over time, 128
- marriage registers
 - comparison with census as source on residential patterns, 126–8
 - as historical source, 7–11
 - as source for migration, 9, 154–5
 - as source for neighborhood structure, 109
 - as source for occupational structure, 317–9
 - as source for men's occupations, 44, 56–57
 - as source for women's occupations, 52, 68–70
 - use in construction of occupational status scales, 75–77
- masters, see small manufacturers
- mechanical industry, 28, 50
- mechanical workers, residential patterns of, 123
- Mediterranean region, trade in, 15–16
- merchant marine, 40
- merchants, 38–39, 42, 46, 61
- migration
 - age of, 154
 - comparison of men's and women's patterns, 176–7
 - in contemporary societies, 160
 - crime and, 213, 221–8, 230–3
 - demoralization and, 159–60, 211–2
 - domestic service and, 175, 208–10
 - family ties and, 164–6, 184–5, 193
 - family ties and, among Italians, 165–6, 184–5
 - of foreigners, 162–3, 207–8
 - by geographical origin, 171–5, 178–83
 - by geographical origin and by occupational backgrounds, 171–4, 197–203
 - international, 160
 - from Italy, 171–2, 174–5
 - literacy and, 265–6
 - literacy and, long- vs. short-range immigrants, 203–4
 - long- vs. short-range, 171–5, 197–210
 - male and female compared, 191, 196–204
 - marriage and, 154
 - marriage registers as source for, 9, 154–5
 - by native Marseillais, 156
 - net, 150–2
 - in North American and European cities, 150–2
 - occupational backgrounds of rural- and urban-born, 168–9
 - to Paris, 159
 - political radicalism and, 314–5
 - in premodern societies, 160
 - from Provence, 161–2, 171, 173, 179
 - from rural and urban areas, 164, 186–7
 - seasonal, 318–9
 - selectivity of, 161, 170, 194, 357n
 - selectivity of, and social mobility, 265–6
 - social mobility and, men, 234, 238, 249–51, 257–68
 - social mobility and, women, 285–99, 307–10
 - social pathology and, 10
 - sociological views of, 159–60
 - uprooting and, 174–5, 183–4
 - volume of, 210
 - of women, 165, 175–7
 - see also* immigrants
- Mires (banker), 37
- mobility, 9
- municipal government, 34, 50
- natural increase, 147–50
 - rates of, 148–50
- needle trades, 53, 71
 - crime and, 219
- neighborhoods
 - boundaries of, 109–12
 - central commercial district, 120–1
 - crime and, 228–30
 - historical development of, 101–9
 - old city, 101–2, 113–20
 - social characteristics of, 109–26, 131–9
- nominal record linkage, 7
 - women's social mobility and, 270
- nonmanual occupations, male, as percentage of population, 57
- norms, criminal behavior and, 213
- occupation
 - age and, 57, 235–6
 - of groom's father, reporting of, 166–7, 187, 235
- occupational choice, influence of parents on, 281
- occupational distribution

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-11616-9 - Structure and Mobility: The Men and Women of Marseille, 1820-1870

William H. Sewell

Index

More information

Index

375

- men, 58–60
- men and women combined, 72–73
- women, 68–72
- occupational endogamy, 274–5
- occupational hierarchy, social mobility and, 249
- occupational inheritance, 240–1
- occupational mobility, see social mobility
- occupational status
 - in history, 74–75
 - by neighborhood, 113
 - by occupational category, 90, 94–99
 - in sociology, 74
 - stability of, 90
 - summary scale of, 89–93
- occupational status scales, construction of, 75–79
- occupational stratification, 45, 74–100, 249
- occupational structure
 - sources of information about, 42–43
 - men's and women's combined, 72–73
 - men's, openness of, 247
 - place of men in, 72–73
 - place of women in, 72–73
- occupations
 - categorization of, men's, 45–51
 - categorization of, women's, 52–54
 - schemes for categorizing, 45
- occupations, women's, see women's occupations
- oil-pressing industry, 27
- old city, 113–20

- Park, Robert E., 159, 316
- patriarchy, 281
- peasants, 51, 58–9
 - migration of, 10
 - proprietors, 250–1
 - social mobility of daughters of, 280–1, 285, 290
 - social mobility of sons of, 249–53, 260
 - sons of, responses to changes in labor market, 252–3
- Pereire, Emile, 37–8
- persistence rate, 7
- petite bourgeoisie*
 - social mobility of daughters of, 274–5
 - social mobility of sons of, 242–6
- political radicalism
 - migration and, 314–5
 - social mobility and, 268–9
- population, of Marseille, 1–4, 17–19
- population figures, reliability of, 148
- population growth
 - of European cities, 2–3
 - of French cities, 2–4
 - of Marseille, 1–4, 146–7
- port of Marseille, 35–38
 - activity of, 19–21
 - improvements in, 35–38
 - modernization of, 37
 - rank in world, 19
- poverty, crime and, 218, 226, 230–3
- professions, 46, 61
 - women in, 52–3, 71
 - see also* businessmen and professionals
- proprietors, 46–7
 - see also* rentiers
- prostitutes, 54, 70
 - residential patterns of, 115
- prostitution, 176
- Provençal, 47, 75, 315
- Provence, immigration from, 161–2, 179
- public works, 33–38

- quarters, see neighborhoods

- railways, 35, 203
- ramparts, 101–4
- rentiers, 46–47, 61
 - changes in status of, 94
 - social mobility of daughters of, 274
 - social mobility of sons of, 242, 259
 - as witnesses at weddings, 76
- rentières*, 52, 70–72
- residential segregation, 139
- Restoration, 314
- Revolution of 1848, 9, 36, 314
 - economic depression and, 20–1
- romantic love, 281
- rooming houses, population living in, 54–56, 324–6
- rue Imperiale, 37–38

- ales and clerical employees, 42, 47–48, 61–62
 - changes in status of, 94
 - social mobility of sons of, 246, 259–60
 - wealth and lifestyle of, 351n
- sailors, see seamen
- Second Empire, 314
 - economic changes during, 21, 37–8, 39–43, 59–60
- seamen, 51, 65
 - residential patterns of, 113
- service workers, 51, 65
 - social mobility of daughters of, 276–80
 - social mobility of sons of, 247, 260–1
- sex
 - by age, 323
 - crime and, 214

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-11616-9 - Structure and Mobility: The Men and Women of Marseille, 1820-1870

William H. Sewell

Index

More information

376 Index

- sex ratio, 118, 354n
- ship captains, 61
- ships, average size of, 21
- shoemaking, 33
- shopkeepers, 48, 62
- skilled workers, see artisans
- small businessmen, 48, 62
 - residential patterns of, 120
 - social mobility of sons of, 246, 259–60
 - wealth and lifestyle of, 351n
- small businesswomen, 53, 71
 - social mobility of, 303–10
- smallpox, 146–7
- small manufacturers, 48, 62
 - difficulty of distinguishing from workers, 49, 54
 - methods for estimating number of, 338–9
 - underreporting of, and social mobility, 240–2, 339–45
 - underreporting of, in census and marriage registers, 338–9
- soap industry, 18, 26
- social mobility
 - American research on, 10, 268–9
 - class formation and, 10–11
 - comparison of men's and women's patterns of, 281, 311–2
 - education and, 253
 - European research on, 10
 - historical studies of, 7, 10, 234, 270–1
 - of immigrants, 11
 - intergenerational, 234–5
 - intragenerational, 234–5
 - methodology, 7
 - stability of political system and, 10, 268–9
 - vertical, 249
- social mobility, of men
 - downward, 242–9, 257, 259–60
 - economic growth and, 238–9
 - effect of changes in social structure on, 268
 - effect of underreporting of artisan masters on, 340–5
 - horizontal, 249
 - among Italians, 257–9, 262–5, 257–8
 - literacy and, 250–1, 253–7, 261–5
 - migration and, 234, 238, 249–53, 257–68
 - population growth and, 238–9
 - uprooting and, 253, 266
 - upward, 238, 246–53, 255–7, 260–8
- social mobility, of women
 - conceptual problems of, 270–1
 - downward, 274–5, 280, 285, 287
 - economic growth and, 311
 - effect of husbands' geographical origins on, 290–6
 - among Italians, 291–3, 307–9, 312
 - literacy and, 281–3, 287–90, 311–12
 - through marriage, 11, 271–81
 - migration and, 285–99
 - neglect by historians, 270–1
 - population growth and, 311
 - technical problems of, 270
 - upward, 276–81, 283–99, 303–12
 - upward, among illiterates, 282, 287–90, 296–9, 310
- social stability, 274–5
- sociology, 10, 99–100
- standardization, 78
- steamships, 36
 - size of, 21–22
- steam shipping, 40
 - growth of, 21
- structural change, 10, 13
- suburbs
 - in eighteenth century, 103–4
 - prevalence of working class in, 121–3
 - rural, social mobility in, 235–8
- sugar refining, 18, 27
- tailoring, 33
- tanning, 18, 28
- Talabot, Paulin, 35, 37, 40
- tax records, as historical source, 6
- textile industry, 26
- theft, 214
 - age and, 215
 - poverty and, 218
- Thernstrom, Stephen, 7
- Thompson, E. P., 33
- tobacco industry, 29
- transients
 - crime and, 230–3
 - residential patterns of, 115, 118, 120
 - underreporting of, in census, 324–6
- transportation workers, 63
- tribunal correctionnel*, 213
- typhoid, 146
- unskilled workers, 51, 64–65
 - changes in status of, 94
 - female, 54, 71–72
 - social mobility of daughters of, 276–80
 - social mobility of sons of, 248, 261
 - as witnesses at weddings, 76
- uprooting, 215–6
 - crime and, 233
 - social mobility and, 253, 266
- upward mobility, see social mobility, upward
- urban history, 5–7
- urbanization, 1

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-11616-9 - Structure and Mobility: The Men and Women of Marseille, 1820-1870

William H. Sewell

Index

More information

Index

377

- vagrancy, 214, 223
 - age and, 215
 - poverty and, 218
- Van de Walle, Etienne, 320
- villages, in Mediterranean France, 169
- vital records, as historical source, 7

- wages, women's, compared to men's, 52
- West Indies, trade with, 16, 18, 22–3
- widows, 66–8
- witnesses at marriages, as measures of occupational status, 76, 84–88
- women, nonemployed, 70
 - by marital status and age, 66–68
 - as measure of occupational status, 76–77, 79, 83–84
 - social mobility of, 303
- women's history, 270
- feminist movement, 270
- women's occupations
 - as avenue of social mobility, 302–3
 - information about, 52, 66
 - information about, in marriage registers, 299
 - literacy rates of, 300
 - by marital status, 68–71
 - reporting of, in census, 109
 - social mobility and, 299–311
 - social recruitment of, 300–2
 - social status of, 300–3
- women's work
 - attitudes toward, 52, 68, 76–77
 - occupations traditionally defined as, 271
 - social significance of, 52
- working class
 - as percentage of male population, 57
 - politics of, 11
 - radicalism of, and social mobility, 268–9
 - social mobility of daughters of, 276–80, 287–90
 - social mobility of sons of, 274, 260–2, 266, 268–9