

Contents

---

Preface	page ix
Acknowledgments	xi
Abbreviations	xii
 Introduction	 1
 Part I The real joints of nature	 7
1 Goethe's romantic science	9
In defense of nature's unity	12
Granite, the archetypal rock	14
The intermaxillary bone, a connecting link	21
2 Goethe's classical science	26
The leaf, an organ in transition	26
Colors, the borders of black and white	31
The experiment, a mediator of continuity	36
3 Goethe's re-presentation of nature	42
Language, the limits of science	42
Concepts, the richness–ambiguity tension	47
Polemics, bridging science and history	50
 Part II The shifting map of history	 57
4 Goethe's narrative strategies	59
Focusing the questions of history	60
Creating realistic illusions of the past	63
5 Goethe's reconstruction of amorphous states	66
Drawing lines between law and chance	66
Setting the parameters of research	68
Legitimizing a canon of history	70
Filling gaps in the historical terrain	72
	vii

Contents

6	Goethe's transition from history to historiography	75
	A dialogue on a priori histories	75
	A discourse on paradigm shifts	85
Part III The logocentrism of scientific movements		91
7	Goethe's theory of biography	93
	The individual, prototypes of an era	94
	Newton, Newtonians, and anti-Newtonians	97
	Achromatism, an epoch in crisis	102
8	Goethe's concept of authority	105
	Symbols of continuity	105
	The dualists	107
	The trinitarians	109
	The solitarians	112
9	Goethe's taxonomy of scientific discourse	115
	Modes of conception	115
	Mathematical expressions	116
	Mechanical expressions	119
	Corpuscular expressions	120
	Metaphysical expressions	121
	Social expressions	122
Part IV The rhetoric of the guild		127
10	Goethe's teleology of science	129
	The new professionals	131
	The ethos of the academy	132
	The litany of physics	134
	Confessing alliances	136
	Shaping posterity	138
11	The topoi of Goethe scholarship	143
	From positivism to historicism	143
	A catalog of antinomies	146
	The concept of polarity	148
	The Weimar edition revisited	151
	Notes	154
	Histories of science from the Goethe period	212
	References	215
	Index	231