EDITOR'S PREFACE

These papers were originally presented to a conference held at the University of Sussex in June 1968, and they owe a great deal to the contributions which were made there. The authors would like to express their appreciation to all the participants and in particular to the chairmen and commentators who led the discussions: Prof. D. E. Apter, Dr E. A. Brett, Dr R. J. Chambers, Dr R. A. Chapman, Prof. J. S. Coleman, Prof. R. P. Dore, Prof. S. E. Finer, Prof. B. D. Graham, Prof. A. H. Hanson, Mr G. Ionescu, Dr A. R. Jolly, Mr J. M. Lee, Prof. W. J. M. Mackenzie, Dr D. Mitrany, Prof. P. H. Partridge, Dr R. R. Rathbone, Prof. K. J. Ratnam, Prof. C. G. Rosberg.

Warm thanks are also due to Miss Patricia Howard, our Conference Secretary; to Miss Andrea Hopkinson for valuable assistance with references; and to the secretarial staff of the Institute of Development Studies, without whose willing support the deadlines would never have been met.

On 25 October 1968, Peter Nettl was killed in a plane crash in the U.S.A. To those who had the good fortune to work with him the loss of this brilliant and warm-hearted colleague, at the height of his powers, was a heavy personal blow. We would like this book, to which he contributed much more than his own paper, to be in some measure a tribute to him.
