ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This book could not have been completed without the constant encouragement and invaluable help of Philippa Windsor Liscombe. William Powell Wilkins, a direct descendant of the architect, generously made available the results of his own researches as well as the drawings, paintings and documents remaining with the family. I had the benefit of discussing Wilkins's architecture with Sir John Summerson, Professor P. Murray, Dr J. M. Crook, Dr D. J. Watkin and Mr J. Harris. The Earls of Falmouth and Rosebery, Sir John Summerson and Professor H. M. Colvin kindly allowed me to examine material in their possession. I am indebted to Mr B. Caven for most kindly translating from the Latin the letters written by Wilkins in fulfilment of the statute of the Worts Travelling Bachelorship.

I also wish to thank the Librarians and assistants in the Cambridge City Library, Cambridge University Library and the libraries of Corpus Christi, Downing, Gonville and Caius, King's and Trinity Colleges, Cambridge; the Manuscripts Department of the British Library, the India Office Library, the National Gallery, London, Reading University Library, the Royal Academy of Arts, the Royal Society, the Society of Antiquaries of London and University College, London; and the Archivists of Cambridge University, the Church Commissioners, the Corporation of London, the Counties of Dorset, Huntingdon and Norfolk and Yarmouth Borough. My researches were further facilitated at the Department of Greek and Roman Antiquities and the Director's Office of the British Museum, the National Monuments Record, the Public Record Office, the
