CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-18142-6 - Discourse, Interpretation, Organization
Loizos Heracleous
Index
More information

Index

action research approach, 142 advantages of, 142
Advanced Services Division (ASD) of Systech, 144 agency, Foucault's concepts on, 97–9 approaches to discourse in social and organization theory, 123
"analogically mediated inquiry", concept of, 66 archaeological period, Foucault's conceptions of discourse in, 81–3 discourses as groups of statements belonging to a discursive formation, 83–4 discourses as practices constituting objects, 86–7 discourses as practices specified in archives, 85
  discourses as rule-bound practices, 84
  discourses as totalities determining subject positions, 85–6 see also Foucault's archaeological conceptions of discourse, critique of archives, discursive practices specified in, 85 ASD see Advanced Service Division ASD
  leadership team of, of Systech, 146 meeting of top executives of, 145
"ASD Business Model." 148, Austin's speech act theory, 135–6, 148 ASD meeting
  purpose of, 146
  "speeches" at, 147

Barthian structuralist analysis, 7–9 bodily dimension of meta, 67 business operating model, 145 business process re-engineering, 56 change agents, 63

change management approaches, aspects of organization, 55–8 clients
  central themes of, 172–7, 181–2
  discursive central themes of, 171 cognitive mapping, 65
cognitive schema, 119
"cognitive sculpting", 66 cognitive structures, 119, 120 and discourse, 37–8
communicative actions, 117
  analysis of, 125
communicative level discourse at, 115
  stategic thinking at, 179 concept of discourse in Gidden's work, 111–12 conceptualization of discourse, 157 conceptualization of organizational discourse, 133–4 speech act theory, 135–6 business model, 133
conceptualizing discourse as situated symbolic action, 135–9 constructionist approaches, 138 constructive potential of discourse, 192–3 CRE, see customer relationship executives critical approach, to discourse, 79, 121, 123 critical discourse analysis, 2, 14–15, 100 critical linguistic analysis, 100 criticism of organizational discourse, 154, 159 Customer Relationship Executives (CRE), 145

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-18142-6 - Discourse, Interpretation, Organization
Loizos Heracleous
Index
More information

deep structures, concept of, 117
discourse, 2, 55
  and cognitive structures, 37–8 as action, 150–1
  as situated action, 136–8, 151–2
  as situated symbolic action, 152–4 as symbolic action, 138–9 at various levels, operation of, 36 conceptions in Archaeology of Knowledge, 80 dominant, 171
  role in organization, 58–60 discourse analysis, 1 approach, 166, 168–70
  approaches to study, see organizational discourse, approaches to study implications for discourse and organization scholars in, 99–104
  as situated symbolic action, 148–60 see also organizational discourse discursive antagonism, 192 discursive central themes, 171 discursive change, 91–3 discursive consciousness, 111 discursive construction of social reality cognition role in, 37–8 discourse as situated symbolic action, 36 social constructionism and fluidity of social reality, 31–5 discursive construction, 139 discursive formation, of objects concept of, 83–4
  rules and laws of, 93–5 discursive practices, 84 discursive social interaction, 38 discursive structures, 117 discursive symbolic interaction, 44–5 dominant and counter-discourses, antagonistic relationship between, 190 duality of structure, 110 Duke's "Principal-Led" business model, 145 embodied metaphors, in organizational change and development, 67–74 empirical research, to study the nature and constructive role of organizational discourse(s), 166 enthymeme(s), 169–70

  core, 171
  in People Associates (PA), 170 structures, communicative level, 172 ethnographic research approach, 57 ethnographies of communication, 137 extradiscursive dependencies, 84

Foucault's archaeological conceptions of discourse, critique of, 87 discourse as deterministic of the subject, 88–91 discursive change, strategic choice and the role of the subject, 91–3 rules and laws of discursive formations, 93–5 Foucault's archaeological writings, 87
Foucault's concept of discourse, power and subject in Genealogical Period, 95 discourses as manifestations of the will to power, 95–7 tacit acceptance of the importance of agency, 97–9 Foucault's conceptions of discourse in Archaeological period, 81–3 discourses as groups of statements belonging to a discursive formation, 83–4 discourses as practices constituting objects, 86–7
  discourses as practices specified in archives, 85
  discourses as rule-bound practices, 84
  discourses as totalities determining subject positions, 85–6
  see also Foucault's archaeological conceptions of discourse, critique of Foucault's enunciative analysis, 88 Foucault's Genealogical writings, 103 functional approach to discourse analysis, 2, 12–33 functionally-oriented approaches to organizational approach, 55

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-18142-6 - Discourse, Interpretation, Organization
Loizos Heracleous
Index
More information

Genealogical period, Foucault's concept of discourse, power and subject in, 95
  discourses as manifestations of the will to power, 95–7
  tacit acceptance of the importance of agency, 97–9
Gidden's constructive view of language, 112–13
Gidden's structurational view of discourse, 113–14 Giddens's structuration theory, 18, 108–11, 143 hermeneutical discourse analysis, 38–40 hermeneutics analysis, 168 human agency, 103

"I know my banker" concept, 68–71
"imagination imagery", 73 implications of a structurational view for organizational discourse analysis, 124–6
"Integrated Strategy Team", 147 integrated strategy team model, development, 147 interdiscursive dependencies, 84
interpretive approach to discourse analysis, 2, 11–12, 121, 123 interpretive approaches to organizational discourse, 38 hermeneutics, 38–40
  metaphor, 42–4
  rhetoric, 40–1
  storytelling, 45–6
  symbolic interactionism, 44–5 interpretive schemes, concept of, 119–20 interpretive structuralist analyses, 100 interpretivism and linguistic turn, 28–31 moderatum generalizations in, 29 statistical generalizations in, 29 textual interpretations in, 29 total generalizations in, 29 interrelated analytical levels, 158 intradiscursive dependencies, 84

labels, role in sensemaking process, 143 linguistic labels, 154 linguistic turn and interpretivism, 28–31 marginalized counter-discourse, 184–7 metaphorical discourse analysis, 42–4 metaphors

  embodied, 66–74
  incompatible, 65
  inductive, 64
  pervasive role of, in organization theory, 60–2 role in organizational change and development, 62–5, 67–74 spatial, 67
  semantic, 74
modes of discourse, 165–6, 194
  counter-discourse, 165
  dominant discourse, 165–72 nature of, 188
  strategic change discourse, 165
  and inter-discursive relationships, 187–9 Morgan's approach to metaphor, 61–2 negotiated order through discourse, development of, 143

OD, see organizational development organizational development (OD) organization scholars, implications in discourse analyses, 99–104 organizational change, embodied metaphors role in, 67–74 organizational contexts, 3–6 organizational culture, 58
  organizational development (OD) embodied metaphors role in, 67–74 intervention, 141
  practitioner, role of, 72, 141 process, 142
  process facilitator, 72 requested form of, 141
organizational discourse, 58
  analysis of, 10–11
  approaches for integrating context in, 4

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-18142-6 - Discourse, Interpretation, Organization
Loizos Heracleous
Index
More information

organizational discourse, approaches to study, 1, 2–3 critical approach, 2, 14–15 functional approach, 2, 12–13 interpretive approach, 2, 11–12 structurational approach, 2, 15–20
organizational learning, implementation of, 57
organizational scholars, 1 organizational texts, 3–6 features of, 6–9

PA, see People Associates
People associates (PA)
central values and beliefs at, 170–1 discourses, analysis of, 172, 189
dominant discourse, 189 dominant and strategic change discourses in PA, relationship, 189
rhetorical strategy in PA, 188
strategic change discourse, 178–84
three modes of discourse at, 170–87 poststructuralism, 5, 41
"Principal-Led", 144

rhetoric analysis, 168–9 rhetoric approach, 133
rhetorical discourse analysis, 40–1, 59, 137
rhetorical enthymemes, 183
rhetorical strategies, 169
"rules" for "proper" argumentation in rhetorical strategy, 188 satirical images in counter-discourse, 186

schema, in social reality construction, 37 scripts, 120
secondary enthymeme structure, 188 semiotics, 136
sensemaking devices, 62
sensemaking process, 69
"serious play" process, 66
situated symbolic action perspective, 159
social cognition, field of, 119 social construction of reality, 92 social constructionism, 133 social linguistic analysis, 100 spatial metaphors, 67
speech act theory, 36
spoken discourse, 5–6 storytelling approach, for
organizational discourse
analysis, 45–6
strategic change discourse
analysis, 188
structural level of, 179
strategic choices, 92
structural discursive features of
discourse, 192–3
structural features of discourse, 192 structuralism, 5
structurational approach to discourse, communicative action in, 18
discursive deep structures in, 19 Giddens's concept in, 18 interpretive schemes, 18, 19 structurational conceptualization, 108 structurational view of discourse, implications of, 121–3
success
central themes of, 172–5
discursive central themes of, 171
symbolic interactionism, 44–5 symbolic level, 153
symbolism of words, 153 Systech episode of negotiated order, 143 examination of, 148, see also discourse analysis as situated symbolic action
Systech new business model meeting, 141–8
Actors Involved, 145–6
conducting action research and facilitating the meeting, 141–2 Context, 144–5
Integrated Strategy Team
model, 147
objective of, 141
Outline of the Situation, 146 process of negotiated order through discourse, 143–4 Showdown and Implicit Negotiation, 146–7

temporal organization, concept of, 124 thematic unity, 183

words, role in sensemaking process, 143

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org