

INDEX

- abolition: arguments against slave trade, 132–3; of Brazilian slave trade (1850), 196, 201; campaign in Cuba and Puerto Rico, 196–7; campaign in England, 189–2
- Accra, 125
- Affonso, Kongo king, 67
- Africa: Afro-Portuguese settlements in East and West, 70–1; central region as important source of slaves, 66; demand for imported goods, 87–9, 108, 116–17; development of society and economy in North, 49; effective settlements of Portuguese, 78; exports of slaves (1700–1820), 127–9; internal slave trade, 9–10, 107, 131; introduction of American food crops to, 64; origins of slaves 166–168; pre-1400 political, economic, and social structures in sub-Saharan, 49–50; slave trading practices of independent local states, 105–7; Sudan tied to culture of North, 50; warfare to produce slaves for trade, 59–62
- African Company, Sweden, 79
- Afro-American culture: incorporation of slaves into, 179; influence of Christianity on, 180; influences on Latin American, 181–7
- Aliada Kingdom, 113, 119
- Ambriz, 68, 200
- Angola: Portuguese settlement in, 103; slaves taken along coast of, 66, 201
- antislavery movement (see also abolition): in British colonies in America, 188; in England (1790s), 189–90
- Antwerp, 28
- Arguin Island, 10
- Awdaghust, 51
- Axem, 54
- Azores, 28, 53
- Barbados, 30–1
- Benguela, 67, 92
- Benin: Bight of, 108, 109, 114, 119, 129, 165; Kingdom of, 60, 64–5; as source of slaves, 194–5
- Biafra: Bight of, 60–6, 72–3, 77; as source of slaves, 199
- Bissau, 82
- Bonny, 65, 118, 122, 200
- Brandenburg state, Germany, 79
- Brazil: abolition of slave trade (1850), 196; black and mulatto freedmen in, 39–40; Dutch in, 31–2; imports of slaves during the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, 22–23; imports of slaves during nineteenth century, 47; merchants in the slave trade, 101–102; as nineteenth-century

- Brazil (cont.)
 slave destination, 200; Portuguese settlement of, 10–12, 81–2, 103; slave labor, 30–5, 36–8; slave population
- Brazil: (1800), 33, 39–41;
 slave-produced commodities in, 200; sugar industry in, 31–2
- Bristol, 90
- Britain: headquarters of Royal Africa Company, 63; law related to slaves-per-ton ratio (1788), 150, 152, 191; monopoly trading companies, 79–81; regulation of slave trade (1788, 1799), 151–52; settlement of Caribbean islands, 35–40; slaves sent to Caribbean colonies of, 34, 85
- British colonies, Caribbean islands:
 British West Indian, 81; suppliers of African slaves to, 34
- British colonies, North America (see also United States): introduction of slavery, 44; slave arrivals (1760s–1770s), 46; slave imports to, 34–5; tobacco, rice, and cotton production using slave labor, 43–4
- British Guiana, 43–4
- Buenos Aires, 39
- Bunce Island, 62
- Buxton, Thomas Fowell, 132
- Cabinda, 200
- cabotage trade: African, 107–8; slave mortality in, 156
- Cabo Verde, 60
- Cabo Verde Islands, 60
- cacao plantations: islands in Gulf of Guinea, 66–7; Venezuela, 40–2
- Cacheu, 62, 82
- Cacheu, Upper Guinea or Sierra Leone Coast, 62
- Calabar, New and Old, 65, 118, 121, 123, 200
- Callao, Peru, 24
- Canary Islands: slave labor in sugar industry on, 13–14; Spanish conquest of, 13
- candomblé, 181
- Cape Bojador, 60
- Cape Coast Castle, 124–5
- Cape Verde Islands, 10, 53
- cargo ships (see also slave ships):
 carrying American products to European markets, 146; composition and size of crew, 86; distinct from slave ships, 178; Dutch ships transporting sugar to Europe, 28–9
- Caribbean islands: demand for and use of slave labor, 27; English, French, and Dutch settlements on, 30; sixteenth-century Spanish conquest of, 10
- Cartagena, 24, 39
- Cayenne, 43, 182
- Chesapeake Bay area, 44
- children: low prices for, 170; shipped as slaves from East Africa, 200–2
- Christianity, 52
- Clarkson, Thomas, 133
- coffee plantations: Brazil, 41–2; islands in Gulf of Guinea, 66–7; slave labor in Cuban (1830s), 41
- commodities: as cargo on outgoing slave ships, 87–8; demand in Africa for imported, 87–9, 108, 116–18; exports in nineteenth century of African, 200; prices of goods used in buying slaves, 109–10, 133–3; types of imports to Africa, 126–7; used to purchase slaves, 53–4, 88–9, 101, 104, 133–4
- commodities, slave-produced:
 European demand for, 59, 198, 204; shift in nineteenth century to new, 198; transport of American products for European markets, 146
- Compagnie des Indes Occidentales (1664), France, 79
- Compagnie du Sénégal (1673), France, 79–80
- Congo region: as source of slaves, 68, 200
- Congo River, 67–8
- Congress of Vienna (1815), 192

- contract labor: Chinese in Cuba, 203;
 Sao Tomé, 66–7
- costs: to Africans of slave trade, 125–31; to African traders to move slaves to coast, 91; to “bulk” slaves for onetime sale, 125–6; of cargo used to buy slaves, 101–102, 133–4;
 of entry to slave trade, 83, 100, 123;
 to European slave traders, 105–6; to feed and maintain slaves before shipment, 91; myth about low cost of slaves, 103, 133; of transporting slaves, 163
- cowry shells: gathering and packaging of, 114–15; as jewelry, 116; as medium of exchange, 88, 113–16; regions of Africa accepting, 114
- credit system: advancing goods on credit, 124; African-European, 106–7; in financing slave trade, 98, 100
- Cross River, 65–6, 111, 121
- Cuba: abolitionist sentiment (1830s), 196; under British rule (1760s), 40; coffee production, 42; imports of Chinese coolie contract laborers, 204; imports of slaves in nineteenth century, 47; as nineteenth-century slave destination, 39–40, 201–2; slaves working in urban centers, 203; sugar industry by mid-nineteenth century, 40–41
- Curtin, Philip, xviii
- Dahomey, Kingdom of, 60, 64–5, 123
- data sources: on coasting to buy slaves, 92–4; for European peasant migrations, 137; mortality among slaves sold to Europeans, 158; mortality of white crew of slave vessels, 154; related to size of slave ships, 145; related to slave trade, xvi; on shipboard mortality rates, 133–4
- death (see also mortality rates): causes among slaves aboard ship, 191–2;
 related to shipboard rebellion, suicide, and natural disaster, 160
- Daubin, Guillaume, 100; also see profitability
- Denmark, 78
- Dolben’s Act (1788), Britain, 151, 163, 191
- Dominica, 35
- Donnan, Elizabeth, xvii
- Dutch West India Company. See West India Company, Dutch
- East India Company, Dutch, 30
- Elmina. See São Jorge da Mina (Elmina)
- emancipation: of Brazilian slaves, 189
- enslavement: as accepted practice, 121–22; conditions for, 3–4; of Mesoamerican Indians, 27–8; methods to achieve, 124; practices in tenth- to thirteenth-century Europe, 5
- Escalera conspiracy (1844), Cuba, 196
- female slaves: demand for and value in African society, 15, 57; demand in Middle Eastern and Mediterranean slave markets, 109–10;
 representation in plantation slave populations, 164, 166; reproductive rates among, 44, 172–4
- forts: as commercial stations in Africa, 90; establishment by Europeans, 59;
 of European states along Gold Coast, 78; function of, 101–2; as gold-trading centers, 63; of Portuguese at Sena and Tete, 70
- France: monopoly trading companies, 79–80; permanent trading establishments in Africa, 90–92; settlement of Caribbean islands, 35;
 slaves sent to colonies in Caribbean,
 80; trading posts on African coast,
 84
- free colored people: in Brazil, 35–8, 46; in Cuba, 42; as landowners and slaveholders in American society,
 162, 186; in Spanish and Portuguese
 America, 24–5

- free-trade era: commitment of capital during, 82–4; diversification of risk, 83; importance of Nantes as port, 89–90; individual investors in slave cargo, 83; partnerships in slave trade, 82–4; in slave trade, 81
- French colonies: in Caribbean, 80; in Indian Ocean, 91; North America, 33–4; suppliers of African slaves to Caribbean islands, 35
- French Guiana: slave population, 43; slave-produced sugar on, 101, 203
- Gambia Island, 62
- Gambia River, 10, 51, 60, 61, 143
- Gaston-Martin, xvii
- Georgia: rice and indigo production, 45
- Ghana: Empire of, 51; Portuguese fort at Axem, 54
- Goa, 51
- gold: as currency to buy slaves, 111; Portuguese interest in, 9–10; slave labor in Peruvian mines, 25
- Gold Coast, Africa: adaptation of American crops to, 64; British slave trade along, 95; European access to goldfields, 62; European forts along, 102; lack of participation in nineteenth-century trade, 191; Portuguese settlements and trade along, 103; Portuguese slave trade along, 11, 53; Portuguese trade in commodities, 110; slave exports (1680s), 59–60
- goods. See commodities
- Gorée, 90
- government regulation: of British slave trade (1788, 1799), 151; of slave trade, 144; of transatlantic traffic in slaves, 133
- government role: British blockades against slave ships, 204; impact on nineteenth-century slave trade, 192; subsidies for development of slave trade, 76–7
- Grain Coast, Africa, 62
- Grenada, 35
- Guadeloupe: Dutch sugar planters in (1640s), 30; French development of, 77; sugar industry on, 35, 203; white settlers in (1640), 32
- Guinea Coast: Lower or Slave Coast, 64; Upper or Sierra Leone Coast, 165
- Gulf of Guinea: islands in, 66–7
- Haiti: established as independent government (1804), 41; postindependence economy, 41
- Haitian rebellion (1791), 41, 42, 45
- Holland (see also West India Company, Dutch): Brazilian settlements, 29; challenges Portuguese monopoly trade, 114; conquests in Brazil, 77–9; development of slave trade, 0, 35, 40; settlement of Caribbean islands, 35–40
- Hormuz, 70
- hygiene: laws related to slave-ship, 95, 144, 150, 164, 188; practiced on slave ships, 92, 145, 154
- Indian Ocean: colonies of France on islands in, 91; Portuguese opening of trade, 55; slave trade to European colonies in, 71
- Indians, American: enslavement by Spanish and Portuguese, 18–20, 29–30
- Inhambane, 71, 72
- Ivory Coast, Africa, 62–3
- Jamaica, 34, 42
- James Island, Gambia River, 60
- Kasanje state, 67
- kidnapping, 121–22
- Kongo Kingdom: Christian missionaries in (1491), 56; dynastic conflicts, 120; invasions by hostile Africans into, 11; Portuguese contact and slave trade relations, 11–12, 53, 66; slave trade of, 60, 112

- labor force: in Christian sugar industry, 14; development of Mesoamerican, 18–20, 27–8
- labor force, indentured: in Cuba, 42; East Indian, 43
- labor market: African slaves in Peruvian, 24–5; conditions in American, 18; in Europe of fifteenth and sixteenth centuries, 15, 22; free colored in Spanish and Portuguese America, 25–6; Mexican, 26–7; within Portugal, 21; within Spain, 21
- Lagos, 64
- La Rochelle, 89
- legislation: in Britain related to slave trade abolition, 188; Portuguese law on provisioning and cleaning slave ships, 93–4; to reduce slave mortality rates, 160; to regulate British slave trade, 151–52, 160, 163; related to standards for slave ships, 144–5
- Le Havre, 89
- life expectancy (see also mortality rates): male slaves in Brazil compared to U.S., 177; of nonslaves in Brazil and North America, 177; of slaves in Cuba, 178
- Lima, Peru, 23–4
- Lisbon: as center of African slave trade, 12; slaves in (1963), 13
- Liverpool, 89–90
- Loanga: as port, 67; slaving along coast of, 67–8
- Loango: Kingdom of, 66, 111, 200–1
- London, 90
- Long, Edward, 159
- Lorenço Marques, 71
- Luanda: capture by Dutch (1640s), 30; development of port of, 11; as entrepôt for slave trade, 23, 92; establishment of, 66–7; settlement by Portuguese, 67; slaves shipped to Brazil from, 82
- Madagascar Island, 58
- Madeira Island: Canary islanders as slaves on, 3; Portuguese foothold on, 52; sugar industry on, 13–14, 27; use of slaves in sugar production, 58
- Madrid, 19, 195
- male slaves: adaptation to labor, 179; representation in plantation slave populations, 162–6
- Mali Empire, 51, 120
- Martinique: Dutch sugar planters in (1640s), 30; French development of, 80, 82; slave population, 42; sugar industry on, 31, 203; white settlers in (1640), 30–2
- Massangano, 67
- Mauritania, 10
- men. See male slaves
- merchant class: Afro-French and Afro-English, 56–7; Afro-Portuguese, 56, 60–1, 67; interior settlements of Afro-Portuguese, 70
- Mexico, 26
- Minas Gérais, Brazil: emancipated slaves in, 36–7; nineteenth-century slave population, 38–9; use of slaves in production for internal market, 38–9
- Mombasa, 69, 70
- morbidity: of slaves aboard slave ships, 159
- mortality: costs of slave deaths, 134; myth related to short lives of slaves, 177–8; slave trader reforms to decrease slave deaths, 144
- mortality rates: in African population, 127–8; among convicts shipped to Australia, 136–7; among eighteenth- and nineteenth-century immigrants to United States, 136–7; among slaves after being sold to Europeans, 159; among slaves held before shipping, 92–4; among slaves held by African slave traders, 156–7; among slaves on slave ships, 70, 135–6, 138–44; among slaves related to

- mortality rates (cont.)
 African port of departure (1590–1867), 139, 141t, 142; among slaves related to length of voyage, 144; of captains and crew of slave ships, 84, 133, 154–5; financial losses related to slave, 134; incidence among slaves aboard ship, 154–5;
 myths about slave, xvii; slaves after arrival in America, 159; of slaves by African region of departure (1590–1867), 139, 141–4; of slaves in Middle Passage (1550–1867), 139–41
- Mozambique: Afro-Portuguese trader settlements in, 70; French trading in, 92–4; as independent colony (1752), 70; Portuguese fort at Sofala, 53, 69;
 resistance of Muslim traders in, 58; sieges against, 70; as supplier of slaves, 71–2, 196–7
- Muscat, 70
- Nantes, 83, 85, 89–90, 203
- Ndongo Kingdom, 67
- Nevis, 31–2
- New Grenada: slave population (1780s), 40
- Niger River, 24, 51, 54, 65–6
- North America. See British colonies
 North America; Chesapeake Bay area;
 French colonies; United States
- nutrition: provisions carried by slave ships, 94–6, 152; rations for slaves during voyage, 94–6; standards and laws related to slaves aboard ship, 94, 144, 150
- Ottoman Turk dynasty, 52
- Ouidah (see also Whydah): 64, 199
- Oyo Empire, 64–5
- palm oil: African trade in, 101; slaves used in production of, 196–8
- Peru: African slave labor in, 22–4; Potosí silver mines, 19; slave trade to, 23–4
- plantation system: in Brazil, 35, 38; in Caribbean, 34; development on Caribbean islands, 34–6; in nineteenth-century Puerto Rico sugar industry, 40–2; sugar industry as model for American, 16
- planters: mixing of slaves from different cultures, 176; profits from slave-produced products, 188, 193
- Portobello, 24
- Porto Novo, 64
- Portugal: African slaves in, 12–13;
 development of Mesoamerican labor force, 27; end of Indian Ocean monopoly, 70; era of monopoly in slave trade, 76; expansion into and exploration in Africa, 51–2;
 exploration of West African coast (1430–90), 52; government subsidies to slave trade, 76; interest in conversion to Catholicism, 56; interests of early African trade, 9–10; law related to food and water and slaves-per-ton ratio, 150; legislation on provisioning, cleaning, and size of slave ships, 94, 144; legislation to reduce slave mortality rates, 160; monopoly trade in gold, ivory, and slaves, 76–7; monopoly trading companies, 81–2; opening of Indian Ocean trade, 55; role in Central Africa, 66–7; settlement and industry of São Tomé and Príncipe, 65, 76–7; settlement of Brazil, 28;
 slave trade in Africa, 53–4; sugar production in islands owned by, 65
- Potosí silver mines, Peru, 23
- prices for slaves: in African market, 109–11; in cowries, 111, 114; effect on African market, 59; European cost of goods as “prime” and “trade,” 109, 112; incentives to African traders to sell, 92; myths about, xvii, 101; in nineteenth century, 198;
 pre-eighteenth century, 59; price differential between men and women, 163; rising (1790s–1800s),

- 112; variation in, 124; for women in African slave market, 10, 58
- Príncipe Island: Portuguese settlement of, 10, 76–7; use of slaves in sugar production, 65
- profitability: related to slave morbidity and mortality, 134; of slave trade, 99–102
- provisions: carried by slave ships, 94–6, 152
- Puerto Rico: abolitionist sentiment (1830s), 192; imports of slaves in nineteenth century, 47; slave population, 40, 42; sugar industry, 42–3
- Quelimane, 70, 72
- religion: campaign to convert Africans to Christianity, 52–4; Islam in Africa, 54–6
- religious beliefs: candomblé, voodoo, and santería, 180–2; influence of Catholicism on, 181; influences on slaves in Cuba, Haiti, and Brazil, 181–2; retained by slaves in America, 175–77
- rice plantations, Georgia-South Carolina, 44
- Rinchon, Dieudonné, xvii
- Rio de Janeiro, 37, 38, 41, 72
- Roman Empire: law related to slavery, 4; slavery in, 3–4; slavery with collapse of, 4–5
- Royal African Company, Britain, 80, 145
- St. Christopher (St. Kitts): sugar industry on (1670), 32; white settlers on (1640), 31
- St. Vincent: ceded to Britain (1760s), 35
- Saint Domingue (Santo Domingo): products exported by, 33; slave population (1740–1780s), 33–4, 42; sugar industry on (1680s), 32; sugar industry (1780s), 35, 42
- sanitation: causes of breakdown in, 154–5; cleaning of slave quarters aboard ship, 95; isolation of sick
- Slaves . . . imported by Spanish America, 20, 22–23
- slaves, 95; related to slave ships, 94–7; rules for water on voyages, 95; ships with ventilation ports, 146
- San Luis Island, 61
- santería, 181
- São Jorge da Mina (Elmina): Dutch capture of (1638), 30, 77; Portuguese establishment and fort, 67
- São Paulo, 37
- São Tomé: indentured contract laborers on, 66–7; Portuguese settlement of, 103; slave labor in sugar industry on, 14, 31; use of slaves in sugar production, 42
- Sena, 70
- Senegal River, 51, 61, 90
- Senegambia: English and French traders in, 59; limited slave trading along coast of, 111; Portuguese slave trade in, 10–1; as Portuguese zone of interest, 61; slave exports (1720s–1740s), 59, 64; slaves in nineteenth century from, 197
- Senegambia River, 61
- serfs: as displacement for slave labor, 5
- Seville, 12, 19
- ships: carrying products for European markets, 146
- Sierra Leone, 62–3
- Slave Coast, Africa: Bight of Benin known as, 60; defined, 64; Little Popo settlement, 107, 120–22; suppliers to European slave ships, 108; warfare to produce captives for slave trade, 119
- slave communities: Africans in western Mediterranean, 12; of Roman empire, 4
- slave labor: in Brazilian coffee plantations, 42–3; Chesapeake tobacco fields, 45; of classical Greek economy, 2–3; displaced in Middle

- slave labor (cont.)
 Ages by serfs, 5; experiments in Caribbean Islands, 11; Georgia-South Carolina rice plantations, 45; of Mexico, 28; of Peru, 24; in post-eighteenth-century Mediterranean region, 5–6; of Roman economy, 3–4
- slave markets: African practices in, 103–29, 133; Islamic, 5; of sixteenth century Europe, 21
- slave population: age distribution in Jamaica (1817), 174; age distribution in United States (1817, 1850), 175–6; in Brazil (1800), 38; on Caribbean islands, 35–6; Cuba (1840s–1860s), 42; growth of Brazilian, 30; growth rates in America, 172; growth rates in nineteenth century, 199; in nineteenth-century Puerto Rico, 42; in Peru and Mexico, 27
- slave revolt: Haiti (1791), 40, 42–43, 46; Saint Domingue (1791), 40
- slavery: abolition in Haiti (1804), 40; in African continent, 7–9; condemned by eighteenth-century thinkers, 189–94; among Germanic peoples, 5; in non-Christian Mediterranean world, 5; origins in Western society, 1–2
- slaves (see also children; female slaves; male slaves): in Africa, 130; within Africa at end of eighteenth century, 170; African-born in Jamaica, 172–3; in Barbados tobacco and sugar industries, 32; commercial uses in African continent, 8; commodities used to purchase, 88; creóle (native-born) in Jamaica, 172–3; daily life aboard slave ships, 95–6; decline in nineteenth-century demand, 198–200; determining origins of, 124–5; development of talents and abilities, 179–80; distinct from other workers, 2; estimating supply and origins of, 115–16; from Grain and Ivory Coasts, 61–2; Guanches (native Canarians) imported to Madeira, 13; imported by Spanish to America, 20; increasing value in seventeenth century, 63; in Mexico during Spanish regime, 26; myth related to warehousing or bulking, 90–1; origins of, 59; in Peruvian labor market, 24; in Portuguese Brazil, 30; practices during voyage to maintain health, 93–5; pre-eighteenth-century demand in America, 59; price in cowries of, 116; purchased from African owners, 105; purchases from African sellers, 91–4; rations aboard slave ships, 95; sales at destination of, 96–7; seasonally as factor in movement of, 166–7; selection in Africa for Atlantic slave trade, 162–4; shifts in Africa in sources, 199; shipments to North and South America, 70–1; in Spanish and Portuguese American gold mining, 23; in sugar industry, 5–6; taken in Senegambia region, 23, 78; war captives as, 118–19
- slaves, emancipated: in French and British colonies, 36; in Minas Gerais, Brazil, 36–7; in nineteenth-century Puerto Rico, 40–1
- slaves, Indian: in Brazilian sugar industry, 28; susceptibility to disease, 28–9
- slave ships (see also cargo ships): African suppliers to, 107–8; arrangements before start of expedition, 84; average number of slaves per trip, 150–52; British ships seizing, 200–4; cargo and ballast on return voyage to home port, 98, 146; cargo other than slaves, 87–8; changes in size of, 144–5; composition and size of crew, 84–6; design unique to, 146–50; investments and income of captain and crew, 83–4; lost at sea, 160;

- myths about “tight packing,” xvii;
 officers and crew of, 84–6;
 provisioning and watering, 94–5; size and tonnage, 84; slaves as crew members, 86–7; space allotment for each slave, 134–5; time spent in buying slaves, 93–4, 124–5; tonnage of African-British North American trade, 152
- slave societies, American: belief systems, 182–7; work and legal status in, 183–81
- slave trade (see also free-trade era;
 trading companies, joint-stock monopoly): abolished in English colonies (1808), 188; Brazil (1800), 40; children in internal African market, 170; development of Dutch, 77; of Dutch West India Company, 80–1; estimates of exports from African regions (1662–1867), 58–9, 214–15; financing of, 82–4, 100;
 impact within Africa, 105–9;
 internal African, 7–10, 72–3, 108–9, 118–22, 130; international (A.D.
 800–1600), 7, 9; Middle Eastern and Mediterranean markets, 109; profitability of, 100–11; tenth to thirteenth centuries in Europe, 5; trans-Saharan, 58–9; women in internal African market, 170
- slave trade, African: British and French dominance, 35; intra- and intercontinental, 9; role of Islamic merchants in, 7
- slave trade, Atlantic: Africans in Mexico and Peru in early, 23;
 beginnings of Portuguese, 53–4, 58–9; campaign to abolish, 188–92; effect of government intervention on nineteenth-century, 197; evolution of, 72–3; factors influencing maintenance of, 172; impact on African population, 126–31;
 influence on local societies, 73–4, 76;
 myths, xvii, 91–2, 97–8, 101, 133, 146, 177–8; participation of West African empires in, 51–2; periods of, 197; selection in Africa of slaves for,
 162–4; transport of African slaves to Peru, 23–4; unintended result of, 187; volume in eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, 198; West Central Africa in, 10
- slave trade, Portuguese: beginning (1444), 9; sixteenth-century growth of, 17
- slave traders: British, 35, 39, 67–8, 77;
 bulking slaves for sale, 125; delivery practices and sales of African, 91–4; dependence of European on African traders, 105; entrance to African slave trading, 123–24; French, 35, 68–9, 77; reforms related to mortality rates, 142–3; selection of slaves for sale by African, 163–4
- slaving ports, France and England, 89–90
- Sofala, 53, 69
- Songhai Empire, 8, 51, 61, 58
- South America. See Brazil; British Guiana; Cayenne; French Guiana;
 Peru; Surinam; Venezuela Spain:
 African slaves in, 12–13;
 anti-slave-trade legislation (1866), 197; conquests of Canary Islands, 13;
 development of Mesoamerican labor force, 18–20; expansion into North Africa, 52; government control of slave trade, 75; importation of slaves to American colonies, 22–23, 39–40
- Spanish colonies: West Indian, 81
- Sudan, the (see also Ghana; Mali Empire; Songhai Empire): regions participating in slave trade, 51–52; tied to culture and economy of North Africa, 50–1
- sugar industry: Brazil, 28–9; in Canary Islands, 13; development in Western Hemisphere, 10; development on Caribbean islands, 31–32;
 employment of slaves in Peruvian, 25; on Lesser Antilles islands, 31; of sugar industry; post-eighteenth-century

- sugar industry (cont.)
 Mediterranean region, 5–6; in post-eighteenth century Mediterranean world, 5–6; production in Spanish West Indian islands, 81; of Saint Domingue, 34
 Surinam, 44, 182
 Sweden, 78
- taxes: paid by traders to local jurisdictions, 105
- Tete, 70
- Timbuktu, 51, 58
- Tio Kingdom, 67
- tobacco industry: Chesapeake Bay area,
 44; grown in Lesser Antilles, 31, 80–1
- Tobago, 35
- trade: development of Portuguese West African, 53; forts as gold trading centers, 63; pre-European African, 49–50
- trading companies, joint-stock monopoly: displaced by free-trade practices, 82–4; slave trade of, 77–82
- trading companies, partnerships, 79–1
- triangle trade myth, 97, 104
- United States (see also British colonies, North America): distribution of slave ownership, 46; free white population, 41–2; plantation system in, 38–9; slave arrivals during nineteenth century, 45–6; slave population in, 44–6
- Venezuela, 40
- Volta River, 62–3
- voodoo, 181
- water: carried by slave ships, 152; causes of poor quality, 155
- West India Company, Danish, 79
- West India Company, Dutch: days spent buying slaves, 93; headquarters at Elmina, 63, 76; as joint-stock monopoly company, 79; slave trade of, 76–7; slave trading of, 30, 76–7
- West Indies. See Caribbean islands
- Whydah Kingdom, 106
- Wilberforce, William, 191, 219
- Williams, Eric, 99–101, 190
- Windward Coast, Africa, 53, 199
- witchcraft, 183
- women. See female slaves
- Zambezi River, 56, 69, 70