

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-18344-4 - The Middle Ground: Indians, Empires, and Republics in the Great Lakes Region, 1650-1815

Richard White

Table of Contents

More information

Contents

|   |                |
|---|----------------|
| List of abbreviations                        | Page IX |
| Preface to the twentieth anniversary edition | XI             |
| Introduction                                 | XXV            |
| 1 Refugees: a world made of fragments               | I              |
| 2 The middle ground                                 | 50             |
| 3 The fur trade                                     | 94             |
| 4 The alliance                                      | 142            |
| 5 Republicans and rebels                            | 186            |
| 6 The clash of empires                              | 223            |
| 7 Pontiac and the restoration of the middle ground  | 269            |
| 8 The British alliance                              | 315            |
| 9 The contest of villagers                          | 366            |
| 10 Confederacies                                    | 413            |
| 11 The politics of benevolence                      | 469            |
| Epilogue: Assimilation and otherness                | 518            |
| Index  | 525            |