CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
0521228735 - Ritual and Religion in the Making of Humanity
Roy A. Rappaport
Table of Contents
More information

Contents

Foreword Keith Hart page xiv
Preface xxi

1 Introduction 1
The evolution of humanity 3
Adaptation 5
The symbol 7
The great inversion 9
The lie 11
Alternative 17

2 The ritual form 23
Ritual defined 24
The logical entailments of the ritual form 26
Ritual and formal cause 27
Form and substance in ritual 29
The first feature of ritual: encoding by other than performers 32
The second feature: formality 33
The third feature: invariance (more or less) 36
The fourth feature: performance (ritual and other performance forms) 37
The fifth feature: formality (vs. physical efficacy) 46
Ritual as communication 50
Self-referential and canonical messages 52
Symbols, indices, and the two streams of messages 54
Appendix 58

© Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
0521228735 - Ritual and Religion in the Making of Humanity
Roy A. Rappaport
Table of Contents
More information

3 Self-referential messages 69
On levels of meaning 70
Variation and indexicality in the Maring ritual cycle 74
Index, icon and number in the Maring ritual cycle 77
Natural indices in the Maring cycle 80
Ordinal and cardinal messages 82
Quantification and the substantial representation of the incorporeal 84
The digital representation of analogic processes 86
The binary aspect of ritual occurrence 89
Ritual occurrence and the articulation of unlike systems 97
Ritual occurrence and buffering against disruption 101

4 Enactments of meaning 107
The physical and the meaningful 108
Speech acts 113
The special relationship between rituals and performativeness 115
Ritual's first fundamental office 117
Acceptance, belief, and conformity 119
Performativeness, metaperformativeness, and the establishment of convention 124
Ritual and daily practice in the establishment of convention 126
The morality intrinsic to ritual's structure 132
Ritual and myth, and drama 134
Ritual as the basic social act 137

5 Word and act, form and substance 139
Substantiating the non-material 141
Special and mundane objects 144
Acts and agents 145
Predication and metaphor 147
Ritual words 151
The reunion of form and substance 152
The union of form and substance as creation 155
Ritual, creation and the naturalization of convention 164

6 Time and liturgical order 169
The dimensions of liturgical orders 170
St. Augustine, St. Emile, time and the categories 170
Temporal experience and public order 175

© Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
0521228735 - Ritual and Religion in the Making of Humanity
Roy A. Rappaport
Table of Contents
More information

Succession, division, period and interval 177
Temporal principles 181
The grounds of recurrence 188
Schedules and societies 190
The temporal organization of activities 193
Regularity, length and frequency 196
Sequence and space 209

7 Intervals, eternity, and communitas 216
Time out of time 216
Tempo and consciousness 220
Tempo, temporal regions and time out of time 222
Frequency and bonding strength 225
Coordination, communitas, and neurophysiology 226
Eternity 230
Myth and history 233
The innumerable versus the eternal 234

8 Simultaneity and hierarchy 236
The Yu Min Rumbim 237
Language and liturgy 251
Analysis vs. performance 253
Ritual representations and hyperreality 257
Mending the world 262
The hierarchical dimension of liturgical orders 263

9 The idea of the sacred 277
Sanctity defined 277
Sanctity as a property of discourse 281
The ground of sanctity 283
Axioms and Ultimate Sacred Postulates 287
Sanctity, heuristic rules, and the basic dogma 290
Sanctity, unquestionableness, and the truth of things 293
Divinity, truth, and order 297
The truths of sanctity and deutero-truth 304

10 Sanctification 313
Sanctified expressions 317
Falsehood, alienation, sanctity and adaptation 319
Major variations in sanctification 324

© Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
0521228735 - Ritual and Religion in the Making of Humanity
Roy A. Rappaport
Table of Contents
More information

Sanctity, community, and communication 326
The sacred, the sanctified, and comparative invariance 328

11 Truth and order 344
Logos 346
Logoi 353

12 The numinous, the Holy, and the divine 371
Religious experience and the numinous in William James, Rudolph Otto, and Emile Durkheim 374
Order, disorder, and transcendence 381
Grace 382
Grace and art 384
Ritual learning 388
Meaning and meaningfulness again 391
Belief 395
The notion of the divine 396
Illusion and truth 399
The foundation of humanity 404

13 Religion in adaptation 406
Adaptation defined again 408
Adaptation as the maintenance of truth 410
Self-regulation 411
Religious conceptions in human adaptation 414
The structure of adaptive processes 419
The structural requirements of adaptiveness 422
Hierarchical organization of directive, value, and sanctity 425
Sanctity, vacuity, mystery, and adaptiveness 427
The Cybernetics of the Holy 429

14 The breaking of the Holy and its salvation 438
The natural and the unnatural 438
Sanctity and specificity 440
Oversanctification, idolatry, and maladaptation 441
Adaptive truth and falsity 443
Idolatry and writing 444
Sanctity, power, and lies of oppression 446
Breaking the holy and diabolical lies 447
Inversion in the order of knowledge 449

© Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
0521228735 - Ritual and Religion in the Making of Humanity
Roy A. Rappaport
Table of Contents
More information

Humanity's fundamental contradiction 451
Dissonance between law and meaning 453
Post-modern science and natural religion 456

Notes 462
References 499
Index 519

© Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org