

General index

- Achurch, Janet, 332
- acting
- necessary prerequisites to become an actor, 23–4; Antoine disappointed by the Meiningen, 81; symbolist 'non-acting', 93, 95–6; typecasting in Germany, 119; Winds's Stanislavskian techniques, 138–40; Kainz analyses his own acting style, 140–4; Saxe-Meiningen's influential principles of staging, 148–52; importance of non-verbal communication in naturalist acting, 157–8; the actor's centrality in Reinhardt's theatre, 170–2; Fuchs on the link between acting and dancing, 181; Wedekind attacks naturalist acting, 182–3; Wedekind judged as actor, 184–5; Oriental influence: stylized acting, 186–7; expressionist acting, 188–9; Shchepkin's advice to actors: to keep nature in sight, to observe, to be truthful, to work hard, 195–7; on the necessity of creating the essence of a role, 201; Russian ham acting, 204–5; subtle acting in The Power of Darkness, 206; Nemirovich criticizes Stanislavsky for overacting, 218–19; Meyerhold's stylized acting which 'reveals the actor's soul', 286–7; Kommissarzhevskaya fails to understand Meyerhold's symbolist acting, 238 – but she rejects naturalism, 238; first expression of Stanislavsky's principles on acting, 244–5; the actor at the Danish Royal Theatre, 278–80; acting début of a Danish actor, 295; Ibsen on how to play Rebekka, 296; Strindberg on how to play The Father, 307–10; Strindberg on acting, 314–15; Salvini expresses reservations about an acting career, 422–3; Ristori's style and realism, 432; Salvini's tragic qualities, 434–6; Salvini's meticulous preparation before a performance, 438;
 - Shaw compares Duse and Sarah Bernhardt, 439
- actors' contracts
- at the Ambigu-Comique, Paris, 24; in Germany, 126–8; in England, 362–3; protest against legal tangles, 363–4; the fifteen-year-old Scarpetta's first contract, 429
- Ainsworth, W. H., The Great Fire of London, adapted from Old St Paul's, 391–2
- Albee, Edward, 9, 22
- Albert, Prince of Wales, 406
- Alexander, George, 329, 359
- Alexandersson, Karin, 309, 310
- Alexis, Paul: Mademoiselle Pomme, 83
- 'alternative theatre'
 - Tzara's anti-art Dada manifesto, 105–8; in praise of German cabaret, 175–8; Russian cabaret, 246, and Russian futurism, 246–7, 252–56; Evreinov parodies naturalism, 256–7; Italian futurism: Marinetti's 1911 manifesto, 470–2; a futurist variety theatre, 472–3; synthetic theatre, 473–5
- Andreev, Leonid, 7, 208, 240
- Annenkov, Pavel V., 197
- Annensky, Innokenty F., Thamyris the Cithærist, 254–6
- Antique Theatre, St Petersburg: The Miracle of Théophile, 246, 247–8
- Antoine, André, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 17, 18, 68, 71; defends his experimental theatre, 79; assesses the Meiningen, 80–1; encourages visual artists, 82; interviewed by a London journalist, 83–4; defines the role of the director, 84–6; stages La Terre, 86, 90, 113, 146, 147, 158, 305; in Milan, 446–7; visits Lisbon, 485
- Appia, Adolphe, 113, 161, 163; Die Musik und die Inszenierung, 113
- Archer, William, 368, 370; a censor's obituary, 371–2

518 General index

architecture

Théâtre Sarah-Bernhardt, 61; German theatres, 114–19; Reinhardt's Kleines Theater, 172–5; Danish Royal Theatre, 280–1; Strindberg's Intimate Theatre, 311–13; Theatre Royal, Exeter: meticulous description of the auditorium, 336–8; English theatres in London and the provinces, 339–44; the London Coliseum, 344–50; safety regulations, 365

Aristotle, 8

Arnold, Matthew, 324, 326, 335, 432

Arrabal, Fernando, 9, 22

Artaud, Antonin, 4, 9, 22, 186

Ashwell, Lena, 335

Atkyns, S., 391–2

audiences

spectators bullied by Parisian usherettes, 37–8; popular audience at the Bouffes-Parisiens, 57; seating plan, Théâtre Sarah Bernhardt, 61; theatre tickets, 94, 101; popular audiences in France, 100–1; audience sizes in Germany, 117; Wedekind attacks the passive audience of naturalist performances, 183–4; a more democratic admission system in Denmark, 285–9; English audiences segregated by class, 336–8; Dickens observes a popular audience, 352–3; Scott rails against bad behaviour, 353–4; a Whitechapel gaff, 354–5; the good manners of Edwardian audiences, 356; safety regulations, 366

Augier, Emile, 13–14, 443; design for Les Fourchambault, 69–70

Ayala, López de, 479

Aykhenval'd, Yuly 251–2

Bahr, Hermann: rejects naturalist design, 162–4

Bakst, Léon, 222, 455

Ball, Hugo: assesses Wedekind's acting, 184–5

Balla, Giacomo, 469

Balzac, Honoré de, 16, 483

Bancroft, Squire Sydney, 325, 326, 383, 384, 393

Banville, Théodore de, 411, 448; Le Baiser, 84

Barrett, Wilson, 326, 336; financial organization of a provincial tour, 357–8

Barrie, J. M., 373

Barthes, Roland: effet de réel, 3

Baus, Tamayo y, 479

Beaumarchais, 64, 493; Becque recalls The

Marriage of Figaro, 54

Beckett, Samuel, 9, 22, 105, 114

Becq de Fouquières, Louis, 68; old-fashioned view on mise en scène, 69

Becque, Henry, 17, 445–6; attacks censorship of plays, 53–4; Les Corbeaux, 300

Belaev, Yury, 235–6

Bellotti Bon, Luigi, 418, 423, 451, 465

Bely, Andrey, 227; criticizes symbolic aesthetics, 232–3

Benois, Aleksandr, 222, 227

Bergh, Ludvig, 269

Bergman, Ingmar, 9

Bernhardt, Sarah, 16, 452; a résumé of her career, 60; as theatre director, 61–2; on tour, 62–3; compared to Eleonora Duse, 439

Biester, Ernesto, 480

Bilibin, Ivan Y., 247

Bismarck, Otto, Prinz von, 112; an appeal to Bismarck to help the theatre, 130–1

Bjørnson, Bjørn: remembers the Christiania Theatre, 266–7, 269

Bjørnson, Bjørnsterne, 122, 261; champions indigenous Norwegian theatre, 265–6, 268, 269; Ibsen's advice not to work in the theatre, 271

Blok, Aleksandr Aleksandrovich, 7, 9, 235; eulogy of Kommissarzhevskaya, 239

Boccioni, Umberto, 469

Booth, Charles: structures and salaries of London companies, 374–7

Borgaard, Carl Peter, 262

Boucicault, Dion, 323, 325, 327; playbill for Arrah-na-Pogue, 394; a transformation scene in Arrah-na-Pogue, 395–401; revival of The Corsican Brothers, 405–8

Bourgeois, Anicet, 15

Boutet, Edoardo, 461, 462

Bragaglia, Anton Giulio, 470

Brahm, Otto, 3, 5, 113, 136, 140, 141; the Freie Bühne manifesto, 158–9

Brandes, Edvard, 294–5, 305

Brandes, Georg, 294

Brecht, Bertolt, 9, 114, 160, 186, 188

Brieux, Eugène, 447; La Robe rouge, 98

Brook, Peter, 9

Bryusov, Valery Yakovlevich, 208; attacks superfluous realism at the Moscow Art Theatre, 219–20; assesses Meyerhold's Theatre Studio, 224–5, 235

Büchner, Georg: Dantons Tod, 111

Cambridge University Press

0521230144 - Naturalism and Symbolism in European Theatre 1850-1918

Edited by Claude Schumacher

Index

More information

General index 519

- Buckle, James George: theatre architecture and class differentials, 336–8
- Buckstone, J. B., 326
- Bull, Ole, 261
- Busnach, William: L'Assommoir, 74–5; Nana, 72–4
- Byron, George Gordon, Lord, 342, 387
- Byron, H. J., 327
- Calmour, Alfred Cecil, 360–1
- Câmara, D. João da, 481
- Campbell, Mrs Patrick, 359
- Cano, Leopold, 482–3
- Capuana, Luigi, 444–5; champions verismo, 445–6; contract between a dramatist and an actor-manager, 450–1
- Castegren, Victor, 316, 317–18
- casting
 French type-casting: 24; the Meiningen's ensemble philosophy, 81
- Cazzola, Clementina, 418, 424
- censorship
 Napoleon III declares the freedom of French theatres (1864), 47–8; The Lady of the Camellias is banned (1851), 48–51; a utopian theatre to beat censorship, 51–2; Becque thunders against censorship, 53–4; the Théâtre Libre censored in London, 84; appeal to Bismarck for the removal of censorship, 130–2; L'Arronge argues for the retention of censorship, 132–3; Reinhardt applies for permission to stage Spring Awakening, 136–8; Miss Julie banned in Denmark, 306; the 1843 Theatres Act (England), 331; Whitechapel 'dumb-shows' evade the regulation of the Act, 354–5; the office of the Lord Chamberlain, 365–6; English licensing laws, 367; the English censor defends his office, 368–71; Archer's attacks on the censor, 371–2; playwrights against pre-censorship, 372–3; the Independent Theatre, London, does not submit Ghosts for a licence, 410
- Chagas, Pinheiro, 481
- Charrington, Charles, 332
- Checchi, Eugenio, 422–3
- Chekhov, Anton, 6, 222, 225, 226, 326; music-hall turn in Three Sisters, 204–5; The Seagull, 208; Stanislavsky prepares The Seagull, 212–14; a favourable review, 214–15; a photograph, 216; an unfavourable review, 216; Meyerhold's comments on The Seagull, 216–17; Uncle Vanja, 220; Stanislavsky directs The Cherry Orchard, 220–1
- Chekhov, Mikhail, 240
- Christensen, Gyda, 269
- Chronegk, Ludwig, 2, 3, 148, 198, 199
- Ciceri, Pierre-Luc-Charles, 16
- 'claque'
 theatres and actors hire paid applauders, 33–7
- Claudell, Paul, 18
- Clavé, Josep Anselm, 486
- Cooke, G. F., 326
- Cooke, Thomas Potter, 385
- Copeau, Jacques, 20–1
- copyright
 European International Conventions and US laws, 332; English trial matinées to secure rights, 360–1; Italian copyright laws, 420, n.7; arrangement between an Italian dramatist and an actor-manager, 450–1
- Corneille, Pierre: Le Cid, 64
- Costetti, Giuseppe, 428
- costumes
 obligation for actors to provide their own costumes, 25–6; the Comédie-Française gives some financial assistance, 29–30; the Meiningen's extravagance, 81; German actresses receive no financial help, 126, n.2; Hofmannstahl's pre-expressionist costumes for Elektra, 169; absurd conventions in Russian provinces, 202–3; Boyar costumes for Tsar Fëdor, 209; the wardrobe-mistress in the English theatre, 376; the success of Italian costume makers, 426–7
- Courteline, Georges, 18
- Craig, Edward Gordon, 5, 161, 162, 163, 240; discusses Hamlet with Stanislavsky, 241; a design for Hamlet, 242; Hamlet reviewed, 243, 455
- Curel, François de: Les Fossiles, performed at the Théâtre Libre, 82
- Dada, 8, 21, 175, 184; Tzara's anti-art manifesto, 105–8
- Daguerre, Louis-Jacques-Mandé, 16
- D'Annunzio, Gabriele: Francesca da Rimini, 440, 452–3, 461, 462; his conception of an ideal theatre, 435–5; his vision of modern tragedy, 455–6; Duse rehearses La Gioconda, 457–9; photograph of Duse in

Cambridge University Press

0521230144 - Naturalism and Symbolism in European Theatre 1850-1918

Edited by Claude Schumacher

Index

More information

520 General index

- D'Annunzio, Gabriele (cont.)
La Gioconda, 460; Talli directs La Figlia di Jorio, 464
- Dasté, Jean, 21
- Daumier, Honoré: caricatures of an actor being fined, 29; of an actor's 'engagement', 33; of a paid 'applauder' (claqueur), 36; of an usherette, 38
- Davydov, Vladimir N.: on directing in provincial Russia, 203-4; Chebutykin in Three Sisters, 204-5
- Del Testa, Gherardi, 418
- Dennery, Adolphe: Les deux orphelines, 15; Michel Strogoff, adapted from Jules Verne, 57-9
- design
 grand spectacle: Michel Strogoff at the Châtelet, 57-9; Montigny introduces real furniture, 68-9; old conventions re-affirmed, 69-70; two examples of naturalist grand spectacle: Nana, 72-4 and L'Assommoir, 74-5; Antoine praises and criticizes the Meiningen sets, 80-1; Maeterlinck's and Jarry's rejection of realistic sets, 93 and 95; invention of the modern revolving stage, 118-19; the pursuit of authenticity, 124-5; Bahr rejects naturalist stage design, 162-3; atmospheric setting for Elektra, 168; theatre of the mind: design must stimulate the imagination 179-81; Simov designs The Lower Depths, 218; Stanislavsky's meticulous research, 209-23; cubist design for Victory over the Sun, 254; rhythmic organization of space, 255; Ibsen's stage-plan for Dragedukken, 274-5; creating an illusionist set, 281-4; Strindberg on the designs of To Damascus and A Dream Play, 317-20; scene-painters in England, 376-7; Telbin: a scene-painter at work, 378-80; Italian stage technology, 424-7
- Diaghilev, Sergei Pavlovich: reviews Maeterlinck at the Moscow Art Theatre, 221-2
- Dicenta, Joaquín, 486-7
- Dickens, Charles, 387-8; visits the Britannia Saloon, 352-3
- Diderot, Denis, 156
- Di Lorenzo, Tina, 420, 462-3, 467
- Domeniconi, Luigi, 418, 423, 424
- Dondini, Cesare, 418, 422, 463
- Dreyfus, Alfred, 65, n.2
- Dullin, Charles, 21
- Dumas, Alexandre fils, 13, 14, 64, 97, 98, 439, 442, 443, 480, 489; The Lady of the Camellias is banned, 48-51; Sarah Bernhardt on tour, 63
- Duncan, Isadora, 240, 244
- Dürrenmatt, Friedrich, 9
- Duse, Eleonora, 244, 419, 420, 430, 444, 445, 448, 450, 452-3, 456, 461; eulogized by Shaw, 439; photographed in Francesca da Rimini, 440; her star quality, 441-2; rehearses La Gioconda, 457-9
- Dybwad, Johanne, 269
- Echegaray, José, 482-3
- Edel, Alfredo, 426
- Elde, Egil, 269
- Emanuel, Giovanni, 418, 447-8
- Emery, Winifred, 412
- Enes, António, 481
- ensemble work
 Antoine admires the Meiningen ensemble, 80-1; L'Arronge praises their crowd scenes, 146-7; the Meiningen's first impact in Russia, 198-200; Meyerhold severely criticizes the notion, 225; the Meiningen's first visit to London, 384; carelessness of Italian crowd scenes, 427; permanent companies are necessary to achieve satisfactory working methods, 467
- Erle, Thomas, 326
- Ermolova, Mariya N., 206
- Ernst, Paul, 113; theatre must discover the essential quality of life, 165-6
- Evreinov, Nicolay N., 8, 227, 235, 246, 247; introduces monodrama, 233-4; cabaret parody of naturalist, 256-7
- Faguet, Emile, 5
- Falck, Johan August, 308-9, 309-10, 311-12, 313, 316, 319, 320
- Falconi, Armando, 462-3, 467
- Falkner, Fanny, 310
- Fechter, Charles Albert, 326, 387-9, 405
- Ferrari, Paolo, 418, 464-5
- Ferrario, Carlo, 425-6
- finances
 general expenditure at the Comédie-Française: 1880-97, 39-42; running costs for 1882, 43-4; wages paid at the Ambigu-Comique in 1862, 44-6; at the Municipal

Cambridge University Press

0521230144 - Naturalism and Symbolism in European Theatre 1850-1918

Edited by Claude Schumacher

Index

More information

General index 521

- Theatres of Cologne in 1907/8, 120–1;
 ticket prices, 121; subsidies, 122; Barrett on the organization of a provincial tour,
 357–8; the cost of a trial matinée, 360–1;
 Irving's expenses for The Corsican Brothers,
 408–9; the Italian situation, 417–19
- finés imposed on French actors, 27–8, Daumier's caricature, 29; on English actors, 363–4
- Flygare, Anna, 310
- Fo, Dario, 9
- Fort, Paul, 18, 452
- Fortuny, Mariano, 164
- Franco, Spanish dictator, 481
- Frisch, Max, 9
- Frohman, Charles, 335
- Fuchs, Georg, 113; his 'revolutionary' theatre of the mind and the Künstlertheater, Munich, 179–81; 'the theatre of the future', 181
- Galdós, Benito Pérez: Spain does not understand naturalism, 483
- Garavaglia, Ferruccio, 462
- García Lorca, Federico, 481, 489
- Garnett, Edward, 372
- Garzes, Francesco, 461, 465
- Gaudi, Antoni, 491
- Gémier, Firmin: founder of the Théâtre National Ambulant, 19
- Genet, Jean, 22
- Giacometti, Paolo, 418; Elisabetta d'Inghilterra,
 433; Salvini in La morte civile, 434–7
- Giacosa, Giuseppe, 418; Tristi amori, 443
- Gignoux, Hubert, 21
- Gilbert, W. S., 332, 358–9, 373
- Giotti, Napoleone, 418
- Goethe, Wolfgang, 112, 122, 179, 180, 246,
 453, 454, 493; Faust II, 111
- Gogol, Nikolai Vasilievich, 18, 193, 195
- Goldoni, Carlo, 417, 466, 489
- Gorky, Maksim, 235; Lower Depths, 124; Stanislavsky directs The Lower Depths, 217;
 Simov's design, 218; Stanislavsky criticized in Lower Depths, 218–19
- Got, Edmond, 35–6
- Gottsched, Johann Christoph, 111
- Grabow, Carl Ludwig, 316, 317
- Gramatica, Irma, 463
- Grandinson, Emil, 316; praised by Strindberg for To Damascus 317–18
- Granville Barker, Harley, 335, 372
- Greenwood, James: reports on the penny gaff, 354–5
- Grein, J. T., 3; stages Ghosts at the Independent Theatre of London, 410–11
- Griboedov, Aleksandr Sergeevich, 195; Woe from Wit, 248
- Grotowski, Jerzy, 4, 9
- Gual, Adria, 493; lecture to the Barcelona
 Wagnerian Association, 494
- Guitry, Lucien, 75
- Gundersen, Laura, 267
- Gundersen, Sivard, 269
- Gustafson, Gösta, 310
- Hamsun, Knut: Stanislavsky rehearses The Drama of Life, 222–3
- Handke, Peter, 9
- Harden, Maximilian, 158; a definition of naturalism, 152
- Hare, John, 329, 381
- Hart, Heinrich and Julius: appeal to Bismarck to support the theatre, 130–1
- Hauptmann, Gerhart, 18, 97–8, 113, 122,
 137, 462, 486, 489, 491; The Weavers,
 124; aphorisms on theatre, 153–4; Drayman Henschel in Barcelona, 493
- Heiberg, Johan Ludvig, 271, 277, 285–9, 294;
 a transformation scene for Seven Sleepers'
Day, 282–4
- Heiberg, Johanne Luise: stage-instructor in Copenhagen, 278–80; a new constitution for the Danish Royal Theatre, 285–9
- Hennique, Léon: Jacques Damour, 83; *La Mort
 du Duc d'Enghien*, 84
- Hervieu, Paul, 98, 462; Sarah Bernhardt performs Théroigne de Méricourt, 62
- Hofmannsthal, Hugo von, 7, 113, 170; Neuromantik: the stage as dream image, 166–7;
 'directions for staging Elektra', 167–9
- Holberg, Ludvig, 294
- Hugo, Victor: Hernani, 64, 91 preface to Cromwell, 483
- Hunderup, Hans Riber, 306, 307
- Ibels, Henri-Gabriel: a lithograph for the Théâtre Libre, 82
- Ibsen, Henrik, 6, 7, 18, 81, 113, 122, 138
 n.6, 154, 158, 160, 182, 220, 226, 228,
 239, 261, 326, 332, 333, 334, 452;
Ghosts at the Théâtre Libre 4; Ghosts performed by the Meiningen, 81; Kainz on his performance in Ghosts, 141;

522 General index

- Ibsen, Henrik (cont.)
 Kommissarzhevskaya in Hedda Gabler, 235–6; Vikings at Helgeland, Peer Gynt, 262; makes a case for a Norwegian theatre, 263–4; opposed by Petersen, 264–5, but supported by Bjørnson, 265–6; The Wild Duck, 267, 268, 269, 270; letter to Bjørnstjerne Bjørnson against working in the theatre, 271; stage-plan for Dragedukken, 274–6; writes to Sofie Reimers on how to play Rebekka, 296; censorship in England: 368, 370, 371, Ghosts, Hedda Gabler, Pillars of Society, 372; Ghosts at the Independent Theatre, London, 410–11; Zaccaroni stars in Ghosts, 447–9; Ghosts in Barcelona, 482, 486, 489, 491, 493
- Icres, Fernand: Les Bouchers, 5, 90–1
- Iglésies, Ignasi, 485–6
- Ionesco, Eugène, 9, 14, 22, 105
- Irving, Henry, 325, 326, 329, 368, 384, 388; denounces gossip journalism, 382; revives The Corsican Brothers, 405–9
- Ivanov, Vyacheslav Vasil'evich, 227; projects a 'Theatre of the Future', 228–30
- James, Henry, 326; assesses the art of Adelaide Ristori, 431–2; of Ernesto Rossi in Romeo, 433–4; and of Tommaso Salvini, 434–6
- Jarno, Josef, 183
- Jarry, Alfred, 9, 18, 21; Yeats at the first night of Ubu roi, 7–8; anti-naturalist manifesto, 95–6
- Jaurès, Jean, 19; manifesto for a popular (socialist) theatre, 97–8
- Jones, Henry Arthur, 329, 332, 359, 371, 373, 413
- Josephson, Ludvig, 262
- Jouvet, Louis, 21
- Jullien, Jean: a naturalist manifesto, 77–8
- Kainz, Josef, 183; star performances in Don Carlos, Ghosts, The Robbers, Richard III and Hamlet, 140–4; poster for his guest performance of Hamlet in Berlin, 145
- Karelin, Andrey, O., 211
- Kayssler, Friedrich: the 'soul' as actor, 188
- Kean, Charles, 323, 325, 326, 384, 405; manager of Princess's Theatre, 343–4; stages Richard III, 390–1
- Kean, Edmund, 327
- Kendal, Madge: makes a speech against actors making speeches, 381–2
- Kingston, Gertrude, 335
- Kjellgren, Alrick, 314
- Kleist, Heinrich von: Prinz Friedrich von Homburg, 111, 122
- Knipper, Ol'ga L., 215, 216
- Kommissarzhevskaya, Vera Fëdorovna, 235; performs Hedda Gabler, 235–6; as Sister Beatrice, 237; dismisses Meyerhold from her studio theatre, 238; Blok's eulogy, 238–9
- Kommissarzhevsky, Fëdor, 235, 246
- Koonen, Alisa, 247, 254–6
- Kornfeld, Paul: calls for 'theatricality in the theatre', 188–90
- Kruchënykh, Aleksey Eliseevich: Victory over the Sun, a cubist production, 253–4
- Krum, Johanne, 307
- Laading, Herman, 273
- Labiche, Eugène, 14; his career and his masterpieces, 56–7
- L'Arronge, Adolphe, 122, 141; condemns theatre freedom, 132–3; defines the role of the director, 133–4; proposes a plan to improve the quality of theatre in Germany, 134–6; praises the Meiningen, 146–7
- Larsen, Nathalie, 306
- Lathom, Earl of (Lord Chamberlain), 367, 410
- Laurent, Marie: performs Madame Raquin, 71
- Lautenschläger, Karl: invents the revolving stage, 118–19
- Leal, Mendes, 480
- Lehmann, Julius, 281–2
- Lemaître, Jules: analysis of Cyrano de Bergerac, 64–5
- Lessing, Gotthold Ephraim, 111, 112, 113, 122, 153, 156–7
- lighting
 The Meiningen's conventional lighting effects, 81; introduction of electricity in Germany, 118–19; expressionist lighting effects for Elektra, 168–9; lights lend a mysterious energy and sense of the fantastic, 180–1; Bryusov criticizes the Moscow Art Theatre for subtle lighting, 219–20; organically integrated lighting, 255; spectacular effects at the London Coliseum, 345; safety regulations, 365; from gas to electricity, 388–9
- Lindberg, August, 302, 305, 308
- Littlewood, Joan, 9

- Lorde, André de, 65
 Lugné-Poe, Aurélien, 5, 8, 18, 87, 452
 Lunacharsky, Anatoly, 227
 Lundegård, Axel, 307
 Lyonnet, Henri, 420-1, 448
- McCarthy, Lillah, 335
 Macready, William Charles, 325
 Maeterlinck, Maurice, 7, 166, 170, 208, 220, 224, 226, 227, 228, 238, 311, 448, 486, 490, 491; Pelléas et Mélisande, 91; a symbolist manifesto, 92-3; ticket for Intérieur, 94; Pelléas in Berlin, 118-19; Diaghilev reviews The Blind and Interior, 221-2; Kommissarzhevskaya as Sister Beatrice, 237
 Majeroni, Achille, 423-4
 Malevich, Kazimir S., 253-4
 Mallarmé, Stéphane: his anti-theatricalist credo, 6-7
 Marinetti, Filippo Tommaso, 9, 468; 1909 futurist manifesto, 8; 1911 manifesto, 470-2; futurist variety theatre, 472-3
 Marivaux, Pierre Carlet de: La Surprise de l'Amour, 64
 Martínez Sierra, Gregorio: Canción de cuna, 488-9
 Martini, Fernando, 443
 Martoglio, Nino, 463
 Matyushin, Mikhail V., 254
 Maude, Cyril, 412
 Mayakovsky, Vladimir V.: first performance of Vladimir Mayakovsky, 252-3
 Medvedev, Pëtr M., 203-4
 Meiningen Court Theatre, The, 2, 113, 140, 208, 211, 224, 262, 384; Antoine appreciates the ensemble work of the Meiningen, 80-1; use of box-sets, 118; the creation of authenticity in the décor, 124-5; praised by L'Arronge, 146-7; a crowd scene, 148; the Duke of Saxe-Meiningen's principles of staging, 148-52; in Russia, 198-200
 Méténier, Oscar: Lui, a play for the Grand-Guignol, 65; En famille, 84
 Meyerhold, Vsevolod, 5, 181, 208, 215, 216, 235, 256; comments on The Seagull, 216-17; founds the Theatre Studio, 224-5; defines naturalistic theatre and theatre of mood, 225-6; directs Kommissarzhevskaya in Hedda Gabler, 235-6; defines stylized theatre, 236-7; dismissed from the Art Studio, 238; on the director's freedom in staging 'works from a past age', 248-9; calls for theatricality, 249
 Michaelson, Knut Gottlieb, 309-10
Miracle of Théophile, by Rutebeuf, 247-8 mise en scène (the art of directing) historical context, 2-6; the dawn of realism in France, 68-9; Zola calls for more 'truth', 70-2; Jullien's 'slice of life', 77-8; Antoine interviewed, 83-4; Antoine lectures on mise en scène, 84-6; anti-naturalist approach: a symbolist mise en scène, 87-9; L'Arronge defines the role of the director, 133-4; Wedekind on the 'perforce director', 184; the Meiningen's influence in Russia, 198-200; no artistic performance is conceivable without a director, 201-2; absence of art in Russian provincial staging, 202; the beginnings of mise en scène in provincial Russia, 203-4; Stanislavsky's careful preparation of his productions, 209-23; Meyerhold rejects naturalism and calls for a theatre of mood, 225-6; the Craig-Stanislavsky Hamlet at the Moscow Art Theatre, 243; Nemirovich defines the role of the director, 243; Meyerhold advocates total freedom for the director, 248-9; Kommissarzhevskaya insists on the centrality of the director, 250-1; definition of the duties of the stage-instructor at the Norwegian Theatre, 272-3; duties of Danish instructor, 276-80; Strindberg's advice on how to direct The Father, 307-10; Strindberg on the art of directing, 313-15; Strindberg praises the mise en scène of To Damascus, 317-18; Kean stages Richard II, 390-1; gaucheness of Italian stagings, 427
mise en scène (rejected)
 Quillard: 'theatre requires only the word and the human voice', 90-1; Maeterlinck: beauty 'is not in the actions but in the words', 92-3; Jarry: décor and actors are 'particularly horrifying' in the theatre, 95-6; Bahr: 'all drama has only ever been suggestion', 162-3; Hofmannsthal: 'the economy of dreams is indescribable', 166-7; Remizov: 'New Drama' must 'express eternal mysteries', 230; Sologub: the theatrical focus must be transferred 'to the spectator in the pit or to the author back-stage', 230-2; Bely: the director 'usurps

524 General index

- mise en scène* (rejected) (cont.)
 the author's prerogatives and meddles in the creative act', 232–3; Aykhenval'd: the director is a criminal who is murdering theatre, 251–2
- Mnouchkine, Ariane, 9, 21
- Modena, Gustavo, 431
- Molander, Johan Harald, 309
- Molière (Jean-Baptiste Poquelin), 112, 122, 193, 195, 205, 207, 240, 246; L'École des femmes, 64; Dom Juan, 248–9, 443, 493
- Montigny (Auguste-Adolphe Lemoine, known as), 15; introduces real furniture, 68–9
- Moore, George, 4, 410
- Morelli, Alamanno, 423
- Mounet-Sully, Jean, 95–6
- Müller, Ludvig, 269
- Munch, Andreas, 261
- Nani, Gerolamo, 463
- Napoléon III Bonaparte, Emperor, 13, 14, 18; victim of a silent 'claque', 35–6; grants freedom to French theatres, 47–8; fan of Offenbach's operetta, 57
- naturalist manifestos
 Zola's preface to Thérèse Raquin, 70–2; Jean Jullien's theories, 77–8; a German definition by Maximilian Harden, 152; Hauptmann's aphorisms, 153–4; Brahm's Freie Bühne manifesto, 158–9; Strindberg defines realism, 297–9; Verga's naturalist cri de cœur, 444–5; Unamuno's jaundiced look at the theatre, 484; a Portuguese call in favour of 'modern' theatre, 485
- Nemirovich-Danchenko, Vladimir Ivanovich, 204, 208, 209, 217; criticizes Stanislavsky's acting in Lower Depths, 218–19; defends realism, 240–1
- Nietzsche, Friedrich, 227, 228
- Noccioli, Guido, 457
- Novelli, Ermete, 420, 448, 461; intends to found an Italian national theatre, 464–6
- Oehlenschläger, Adam, 266
- Offenbach, Jacques, 57
- Ostrovsky, Aleksandr Nikolaevich, 193, 202, 246; appraises the Meiningen technique, 198–9
- Overskou, Thomas, 271; on the duties of the Danish stage-instructor, 276–8
- Parelius, Sofie, 269
- Pasta, Francesco: contract between a dramatist and an actor-manager, 450–1
- Pavis, Patrice, 3
- Pereira, Araújo: Portuguese manifesto for a modern theatre, 485
- Pessoa, Fernando: O marinheiro, 490
- Petersen, Richard: virulent attack against Ibsen, 264–5
- Pezzana, Giacinta, 418, 423
- Phister, Joachim, 295
- Pigott, E. F. S., 331, 367; justifies censorship, 368–71; Archer's obituary, 371–2
- Pi i Margall, Francesc, 486
- Pinero, Arthur Wing, 329, 333, 359, 371, 373
- Pinter, Harold, 9, 22, 105
- Pirandello, Luigi, 463
- Piscator, Erwin, 160
- Pitarra, Serafi, 480
- Pitt, George Dibdin, 323, 401
- Pixérécourt, René Charles Guilbert de, 15
- Planchon, Roger, 9
- playwrights' competition (Italy), 428
- Ploug, Carl, 288
- Poel, William, 410; licence granted for Love and Halfpence, 367
- popular theatre
 call for a socialist theatre in France, 97–8; project for a popular theatre in Paris, 98–100; a popular audience in Paris, 100; a family ticket, 101; call for a subsidized theatre, 101–4; workers' theatre in Leipzig, 159–60; Teatro per Tutti, Rome, 463
- Potekhin, Aleksey A., 205
- Pottecher, Maurice, 19; calls for a nationally subsidized theatre in France, 101–4; founds a popular theatre in Bussang, 102
- Poulsen, Emil, 279
- Poulsen, Olaf: his acting début, 295
- Pozza, Giovanni, 424–7
- Praga, Marco, 462, 463; extols the virtues of permanent companies, 466–8
- Pratt, William W., 323
- publicity
 posters: Sarah Bernhardt on tour, 63; Zola's L'Assommoir, 75–6; Reisewuth!, 130; Josef Kainz stars in Hamlet, 145; Madge Kendal condemns self-advertisement, 381–2; Irving denounces gossip journalism, 382; poster for The Great Fire of London, The Wandering Jew, Society and Arrah-na-Pogue, 391–4

- Queirós, Eça de, 481
- Quillard, Pierre, 7: La Fille aux mains coupées, 87–91
- Rachilde, Mme, 91
- Racine, Jean: Andromaque, 64
- Rame, Franca, 9
- Reade, Charles, 323
- Redford, G. A., 331, 372
- rehearsals
in France, 24; in Germany, 123–4; Reinhardt insists on the importance of the classical repertoire, 171; Stanislavsky introduces a careful approach, 212–17; in Norway, 272–3; in Denmark, 276–80; Duse rehearses La Gioconda, 457–9; a teatro stabile allows for improved working methods, 467
- Reimers, Charlotte Engel: survey of German-language theatres, 115–29
- Reimers, Sofie: Ibsen's advice on how to play Rebekka, 296
- Reinhardt, Max, 5, 113, 157, 163; applies for permission to perform Spring Awakening, 136–8; a design for A Midsummer Night's Dream, 164; directs Hofmannsthal's Elektra, 167–9; his 'impressionistic' style, 169–72; designs the Kleines Theater, Berlin, 172–4; plan of the Kleines Theater, 175; final scene of Spring Awakening, 186
- Remizov, Aleksey, 227; drama of eternal mysteries, 230
- Ristori, Adelaide, 418; praised by Henry James, 431–2; in Giacometti's Elisabetta d'Inghilterra, 433; assesses Duse's star quality, 441–2
- Robertson, T. W., 326, 381, 384; his comedies herald a new style of 'realistic' drama, 383; playbill for Society, 393
- Rolland, Romain, 19
- Ronconi, Luca, 9
- Ross, Charles Henry: a theatrical glossary, 386–7
- Rossi, Cesare, 418, 440, 443, 450–1, 464
- Rossi, Ernesto, 418, 423, 451; performs Romeo, 433–4
- Rostand, Edmond: Sarah Bernhardt plays L'Aiglon, 62–3; La Samaritaine, 62; Cyran de Bergerac criticized, 64–5
- Rovescalli, Antonio, 461, 468
- royalties
the earnings of some English playwrights, 358–9; trial matinées to secure rights, 360–1; the earnings of Italian playwrights, 418; arrangement between a playwright and a director, 450–1
- Rusiñol, Santiago, 491
- Russolo, Luigi, 469
- Rutebeuf: Le Miracle de Théophile, 247–8
- Sadovskaya, Ol'ga O., 204–5
- safety regulations (England), 364–7
- Saint-Denis, Michel, 21
- Salvini, Gustavo, 422
- Salvini, Tommaso, 418; his doubts concerning the acting profession, 422–3; James praises his tragic acting, 434–6; photographed in La morte civile, 437; prepares to perform Othello, 438
- Salzmann, Alexander von, 255–6
- Sarcey, Francisque, 13; attacked by Antoine, 79
- Sardou, Victorien, 13, 14, 16, 122; Sarah Bernhardt performs Fédora, Théodora and La Tosca, 62; credits Montigny for the introduction of stage realism, 68–9
- Saxe-Meiningen, Georg II, Duke of, 198; his principles of staging, 148–52
- Scarpetta, Eduardo: his first acting contract at the age of fifteen, 429; stars in Miseria e nobiltà, 430
- scene-painters
status in the English theatre, 376–7; in Italy, 424–7
- Schildknecht, Maria, 314
- Schiller, Friedrich von, 112, 113, 122, 130, 160, 182, 198, 454; Antoine admires Gessler's murder in William Tell staged by the Meiningen, 80; Mary Stuart's extravagant costumes, 81; Die Räuber, 111; Kainz performs Die Räuber, 141–2; Kainz in Don Carlos, 141; Wallenstein's Death, 147; drawing of a Meiningen crowd scene, 148; The Maid of Orléans, 206; Ristori in Mary Stuart, 432
- Schlaff, Johannes: on non-verbal communication in naturalist acting, 157–8
- Schmidt, Ferdinand, 262
- Schröder, Hans, 262, 267
- Scott, Clement, 368, 370; an attack on the bad behaviour of contemporary audiences, 353–4

526 General index

- Scribe, Eugène, 13, 14, 68–9, 266, 421
- Selmer, Jens, 269
- Sérusier, Paul; lithograph for La Fille aux mains coupées, 88
- Settinelli, Emilio; synthetic theatre, 473–5
- Shakespeare, William, 5, 112, 122, 133, 169, 179, 180, 193, 198–9, 220, 232, 452, 493; Hamlet, 6, 17, 92, 95; A Midsummer Night's Dream, 112; Kainz in a star performance of Hamlet, 141–5 and Richard II, 142; Julius Caesar and Macbeth, 146–7; Romeo and Juliet, 149; Hamlet, A Midsummer Night's Dream, 163; Reinhardt's revolving set for A Midsummer Night's Dream, 164; the Stanislavsky–Craig Hamlet at the Moscow Art Theatre, 241–3, 299; Kean stages Richard II, 390–1; Rossi's Romeo, 433–4; Salvini's Othello, 435, 438
- Shaw, George Bernard, 18, 122, 332, 333, 371, 395, 410; eulogizes the art of Eleonora Duse, 439
- Shchepkina, Mikhail Semënovich; advice to actors, 195–7
- Shubert, A. I., 196
- Shumsky, S. V., 194–5
- Simoni, R.; scene from La vedova, 422
- Simov, Viktor A., 209; designs The Lower Depths, 218
- Sologub, Fëdor, 227; 'Theatre of a Single Will', 230–2, 235
- Sophocles; Elektra, adapted by Hofmannsthal, 167–9; Oedipus, 169; Antigone, 248
- special effects on the English stage, 386–7; at the Lyceum, London, 387–8; new lighting technique, 388–9; a transformation scene in Arrah-na-Pogue, 395–401; the use of traps, 401–3; Irving's spectacular staging of The Corsican Brothers, 405–6
- Spiga, Pietro, 467
- staffing in France, at the Ambigu-Comique, 43–6; in Germany, 119; in England, 374–7
- Stalin, Soviet dictator, 194
- Stanislavsky, Konstantin, 2, 3, 15, 138, 146, 204, 208, 256, 294; imitates Chronegk's despotism, 199; researches Tsar Fëdor, 209–10; prepares The Seagull, 212–14; The Seagull reviewed, 214–17; prepares Lower Depths, 217; Nemirovich-Danchenko criticizes Stanislavsky's acting, 218–19; Bryusov attacks his superfluous realism, 219–20; prepares The Cherry Orchard, 220–1; score for The Drama of Life, 222; plans a production of Hamlet with Craig, 241; Bryusov reviews Hamlet, 243; analyses Salvini's attitude to acting, 438
- star actors
Sarah Bernhardt in La Dame aux camélias, 63; Kainz in Don Carlos, The Robbers, Hamlet and Richard II, 140–2; Kainz performs Hamlet, 143–4; poster for Kainz's Hamlet, 145; Kommissarzhevskaya as Hedda, 235–6; and as Sister Beatrice, 237; Scarpetti in Miseria e nobilita, 430; Ristori in Elisabetta d'Inghilterra, 433; Rossi's Romeo, 433–4; Salvini in La morte civile, 437 and Othello, 438; Duse in La Dame aux camélias, 439 and in Francesca da Rimini, 440; Ristori assesses Duse's star quality, 441–2; Zacconi in Ibsen's Ghosts, 449
- Stein, Peter, 9
- Stern, Ernst; designer of Reinhardt's A Midsummer Night's Dream, 164
- Stoll, Oswald, 345
- Stowe, Harriet Beecher, 323
- Strehler, Giorgio, 9
- Strindberg, August, 6, 7, 9, 18, 166, 167, 170, 285; preface to Miss Julie, 3, 4; The Father, 5; caricatures the Swedish 'Board of the National Theatre', 289–93; a definition of realism, 297–9; an assessment of the contemporary theatre, 299–301; sends his French translation of The Father to Zola, 302–3; Zola's disappointing reply, 303; newspaper announcement for a Scandinavian Experimental Theatre, 306; advice to actors and directors on how to play The Father, 307–10; a photograph of The Father, 310; plan of the Intimate Theatre, 311–12; the theatre's repertoire and Strindberg's involvement, 313; three actors remember Strindberg at the Intimate Theatre, 314–15; design sketch for A Dream Play and To Damascus, 319–20
- Strindberg, Siri (von Essen), 306
- Sue, Eugène; The Wandering Jew, 391–2
- Sulerzhitsky, Leopold Antonovich, 243; principles of acting for the First Moscow Studio, 244–5
- Sullivan, Barry, 326
- Sutro, Alfred, 329, 373
- Svoboda, Josef, 9

symbolism (derided)

Bely pours scorn on the idea of a new 'sacramental' theatre, 232–3

symbolist manifestos

Quillard's La Fille aux mains coupées, 87–91; Maeterlinck dreams of a static, poetic theatre, 92–3; Jarry on the uselessness of theatre in the theatre, 95–6; Wagner's 'total art-work': a concept to fire the imagination of theatre practitioners, 161–2; Ernst on the search for 'eternal truth', 165–6; Fuchs: theatre must strive for universality and beauty, 181; Evreinov's monodrama: an expression of the internal spectacle, 233–4; D'Annunzio's ideal theatre, 453–5; Unamuno, 484

Syngé, John Middleton, 7, 18

Tairov, Aleksandr Yakovlevich, 247, 255–6

Talli, Virgilio, 461, 462; La figlia di Jorio, 464

Telbin, William Lewis: theory and practice of scene-painting, 378–80

Terry, Ellen, 406

Tessero, Adelaide, 418, 423

theatricality in the theatre

Quillard's ethereal theory, 87–9; Jarry's theatrical anti-theatricality, 94–6; Kornfeld's advice to actors, 188–90; Meyerhold's 'cult of cabotinage', 249; Evreinov insists on theatricality, 249–50

Tieck, Ludwig, 111

Tolstoy, Aleksey K.: on the importance of art in acting, Tsar Fëdor, 201–2; Stanislavsky prepares and researches Tsar Fëdor, 209–10; condescending review of Tsar Fëdor, 211

Tolstoy, Lëv Nikolaevich, 170, 411; The Power of Darkness, 84; The Power of Darkness at Suvorin's Theatre, 205–7

total art-work

Quillard, 87–90; Wagner, 161–2; Ivanov, 228–30; Remizov, 230; Sologub, 230–2; Evreinov, 233–4

Travers, W. T.: London by Night, 401–3

Tree, Beerbohm, 334

Tweedie, Ethel Brilliana: on good manners, 356

Tzara, Tristan: Dada anti-art manifesto, 105–8

Unamuno, Miguel de: discusses notions of naturalism and symbolism, 484

Vakhtangov, Evgeny, 240

Valle-Inclán, Ramón del, 481; Romance de lobos, 488

Vedrenne, John, 335, 372

Verdier, Anton de, 310

Verga, Giovanni: first night of Cavalleria rusticana, 443–4; analyses In portineria, 444–5

verismo

realistic perfection of Italian prop-makers and costume designers, 426–7; naturalist writing and acting in Italy, 443–6; Capuana denounces theatrical conventions, 445–6; Zacconi, the epitome of Italian naturalist acting, 447–9

Verne, Jules, 73; Le Tour du monde en quatre-vingts jours, 15; Michel Strogoff at the Châtelet, 57–9

Vian, Boris, 14

Victoria, Queen, 323, 324

Victory over the Sun: cubist principles in the theatre, 247

Vilar, Jean, 20, 21

Wagner, Richard, 103, 113; Der Ring der Nibelungen, 112; Rienzi, 124; the 'total art-work', 161–2; his influence on Ivanov, 228–30; D'Annunzio on Wagner, 453–4; Gual's lecture to the Barcelona Wagner Association, 494

Wahlgren, Helge, 314–15

Wang, Jens, 269

Wedekind, Frank, 7, 9, 113, 170, 176; Spring Awakening's première, 136–8; attacks naturalist acting and mindless directing, 182–4; Hugo Ball assesses Wedekind as actor, 184–5; photograph of final scene of Spring Awakening, 186

Weiss, Peter, 9

Wickham, Glynne, 8

Wied, Gustav, 306

Wilde, Oscar, 170, 329, 358; Salomé, 167

Wilson, Robert, 9

Wilton, Marie, 325, 326; manageress of Prince of Wales Theatre, 343; in Society, 393

Wind, Adolph: extracts from an actor's hand-book, 138–40

Wittich, Manfred, 160

Wolf, Lucie, 266, 269

Wolzogen, Ernst von, 175–7, 246

working conditions

a draconian French contract, 24–8; unscrupulous

Cambridge University Press

0521230144 - Naturalism and Symbolism in European Theatre 1850-1918

Edited by Claude Schumacher

Index

More information

528 General index

working conditions (cont.)

pulous behaviour of some agents, 30–2; exploitation of German actors and actresses, 126–7; salaries, 127–8; Hofmannsthal's stage as 'dream image', 166–
 7; at the Norwegian Theatre, Bergen, 272;
 rules and regulations in England, 362–3

Yablochkin, Aleksandr A., 203–4

Yeats, William Butler: attends the first night of Ubu roi, 7–8

Yur'ev, Yury M., 204–5

Yxart, Josep: a reticent review of Ghosts, 482;
 deplores the absence of naturalism on the Spanish stage, 482–3Zacconi, Ermete, 420, 455–6, 493; the epitome of Italian naturalistic acting, 447–8; photographed in Ibsen's Ghosts, 449

Zadek, Peter, 9

Zola, Emile, 5, 7, 13, 14, 17, 53, 84, 97, 98, 153 n.1, 443, 483, 486, 487; Le Natura-lisme au théâtre, 2–3; Thérèse Raquin, a naturalist manifesto, 70–2; Nana in performance, 72–4; L'Assommoir, a naturalist set, 75; poster for L'Assommoir, 76; *La
 Terre* at the Théâtre Antoine, 86; *Thérèse
 Raquin, Renée*, 300; L'Assommoir, 484

Zorin, Leonid, 9

Zucchini, Clelia, 457–9

Cambridge University Press

0521230144 - Naturalism and Symbolism in European Theatre 1850-1918

Edited by Claude Schumacher

Index

More information

Index of main theatres cited

Austria

Burgtheater, Vienna, 140, 144, 162

England

Adelphi Theatre, Strand, London, 339, 359

Alexandra Theatre, Liverpool, 344

Astley's Theatre and Circus, London, 340

Bower Saloon, Lambeth, 391-2

Britannia Theatre, Hoxton, London, 341;

Dickens enjoys a visit to the Britannia, 352-3; London by Night, 401-3

Coliseum, London, 344-50

Covent Garden Theatre and Opera House,

London, 342, 364, 379, 385

Criterion Theatre, London, 361, 372

Daly's Theatre, London, 440

Drury Lane Theatre (Theatre Royal), London, 342, 359, 364, 385, 440

Elizabethan Stage Society, 334

English Drama Society, 334

Gaiety Theatre, London, 359, 363, 372, 412

Independent Theatre: 'private' production of Ghosts, 410-11

Lyceum Theatre, London, 38-9, 361, 379,

384; stage innovations, 387-9; The Corsican Brothers, 405-9

New Grand Theatre, Leeds, 344

Prince of Wales Theatre, London, 343, 383,

384, 393, 413

Princess's Theatre, London, 343-4, 384,

385, 405; Kean stages Richard II, 390-1; Arrah-na-Pogue, 394; a pantomime, 404

St George's Hall, London, 367

St James's Theatre, London, 379, 381

Savoy Theatre, London, 389

Shakespeare Theatre, Liverpool, 350-1

Star Theatre, Liverpool, 350-1

Terry's Theatre, London, 359, 413

Theatre Royal, Exeter, 336-8

Theatre Royal, Middlesbrough, 357-8

Vaudeville Theatre, London, 359, 412; trial

matinées, 360-1

Whitechapel penny gaff, 354-5

France (Paris)

Ambigu-Comique (Théâtre de l'), 14, 15, 16,

60; actor's contract, 24-8; salaries paid in 1862, 44-6; designated 'home of melodrama', 47; Nana, 72-4

Châtelet (Théâtre du), 16, 19; Michel Stro-

goff, 57-9

Comédie-Française, 15, 19, 47, 84, 91, 96,

309, 465; subsidy paid to actresses for their costumes, 29-30; general expenditure for 1880-97, 39-42; running costs for 1882, 43-4; Sarah Bernhardt, 60; old-fashioned design, 69-70; Antoine as extra, 80

Grand-Guignol (Théâtre du), 14; its repertoire, 65-6; a caricature, 67

Gymnase (Théâtre du), 15; directed by Montigny, 68-9

Opéra, 19, 47

Opéra-Comique: destroyed by fire, 62

Théâtre Antoine: Zola's La Terre, 86

Théâtre d'Art, 18; stages La Fille aux mains

coupées, 87-91

Théâtre de la Gaîté, 60; designated as 'home of melodrama' (1864), 47

Théâtre de la Porte-Saint-Martin, 60, 455;

Cyrano de Bergerac, 64-5; revival of L'Assommoir, 75-6

Théâtre de la Renaissance, 60, 452; first performance of Thérèse Raquin, 71

Théâtre de l'Odéon, 47, 71

Théâtre de l'Œuvre, 18, 87; ticket for Inté- rieur, 93-4

Théâtre des Menus-Plaisirs, 82

Théâtre du Châtelet, 60, 455

Théâtre du Peuple, 19

Cambridge University Press

0521230144 - Naturalism and Symbolism in European Theatre 1850-1918

Edited by Claude Schumacher

Index

More information

530 Index of main theatres cited

France (Paris) (cont.)

- Théâtre du Vaudeville, 60, 71
 Théâtre du Vieux-Colombier, 21
 Théâtre Libre, The, 4, 5, 6, 16, 17, 18, 65, 71, 72, 93, 113, 158, 305, 306, 410, 411, 443, 482, 485; Antoine states the aims of his theatre, 79; in Milan, 446-7
 Théâtre National Ambulant, 19
 Théâtre National Populaire (TNP), 20, 21
 Théâtre Sarah Bernhardt, 60-2

Germany

- Berliner Theater, 140
 Deutsches Theater, Berlin, 136-8, 140, 142, 144, 159; L'Arronge praises the Meiningen, 146-7
 Freie Bühne, Berlin, 141, 153, 410; Die Weber, 124-5; Harden defines naturalism, 152; a naturalist manifesto, 158-9
 Grosses Schauspielhaus, Reinhardt's, 169
 Hamburg National Theatre, 111
 Kammerspiele, Berlin, 113, 136, 169, 186
 Kleines Theater, Berlin, 119
 Künstlertheater, Munich, 179-81
 Meiningen Court Theatre, The, 2, 113, 140, 208, 211, 224, 262, 384; Antoine appreciates the ensemble work of the Meiningen, 80-1; use of box-sets, 118; the creation of authenticity in the décor, 124-5; praised by L'Arronge, 146-7; a crowd scene, 148; the Duke of Saxe-Meiningen's principles of staging, 148-52; in Russia, 198-200
 Munich Art Theatre, 113, 179-81
 Munich Court Theatre, 140
 Neues Schauspielhaus, Berlin, 145
 Neues Theater, Berlin, 164
 Saxon Court Theatre, Dresden, 138-40
 Schall u. Rauch, Berlin, 175-8
 Volksbühne, Berlin, 158, 160
 Weimar Court Theatre, 111
 Workers' Theatre, Leipzig, 159-60

Iberia

- Escola Catalana d'Art Dramàtic, Barcelona, 491
 Les Arts, Barcelona, 493
 Teatre Català, Barcelona, 480
 Teatre Independent, Barcelona, 486
 Teatre Intim, Barcelona, 491
 Teatre Romea, Barcelona, 486
 Teatro D. Amélia, Lisbon, 485
 Teatro Eslava, Madrid, 489

Teatro Livre, Lisbon, 485

Italy

- Casa di Goldoni (Valli Theatre) Rome, 461; aborted attempt at creating a 'national theatre', 464-6
 Compagnia della Città di Torino, 440, 444, 451, 466
 Compagnia Nazionale, Rome, 443, 451, 466
 Quattro Fontane, Rome, 463
 Teatro Argentina, Rome, 462
 Teatro d'Arte di Torino, 462
 Teatro Bellini, Palermo, 456
 Teatro Carignano, Turin, 451
 Teatro dei Fiorentini, Naples, 440
 Teatro La Scala, Milan, 424, 425, 427
 Teatro Manzoni, Milan, 444-5, 446-7, 448; Compagnia Stabile de, 462, 463; Compagnia Drammatica Italiana del, 467
 Teatro Metastasio, Rome, 463
 Teatro Nazionale, Rome, 451
 Teatro per Tutti, Rome, 463
 Teatro Quirino, Rome, 427
 Teatro San Carlino, Naples, 429
 Teatro Sannazzaro, Naples, 451
 Teatro Stablini, Milan, 463
 Teatro Trianon, Turin, 463
 Valli Theatre, Rome: aborted 'Italian national theatre', 461, 464-6

Russia

- Alexandra Theatre, St Petersburg, 196, 203, 204, 205-7, 208, 235, 246, 249
 Antique Theatre, St Petersburg, 247-8
 Bol'shoy Theatre, Moscow, 205
 Hermitage Theatre, Moscow, 211
 Imperial Theatre, Moscow, 195; Stanislavsky discovers Salvini's Othello, 438
 Kamerny Theatre, Moscow, 247; 254-6
 Kommissarzhhevskaya's Theatre Studio on Officer Street, 235-8
 Maly Theatre, Moscow, 196, 205
 Moscow Art Theatre (MAT), 193, 443; aims and working principles of MAT, 208-9; Stanislavsky's seminal early productions: Tsar Fëdor, 209-12; The Seagull, 212-17; Lower Depths, 217-19; The Cherry Orchard, 220-1; The Intruder, 221-2; The Drama of Life, 222-4; Meyerhold's Theatre Studio, 224-6
 Suvorin's Theatre, Moscow, 210; Tolstoy's The Power of Darkness, 205-7
 Theatre of the St Petersburg Literary-Artistic

Cambridge University Press

0521230144 - Naturalism and Symbolism in European Theatre 1850-1918

Edited by Claude Schumacher

Index

More information

Index of main theatres cited 531

- Society, Suvorin's, 206, 210, 211
- Theatre Studio on Povarskaya Street, Moscow Art Theatre: Meyerhold founds a new theatre, 224-5
- Scandinavia
- Casino, Copenhagen, 295, 305; première of The Father, 306
- Christiania Theatre, 262, 263-7, 296; a caricature of its actors, 268-70
- Dagmar-Theatre, Copenhagen, 295
- Folketheater, Copenhagen, 295
- Intimate Theatre, Strindberg's, 308; Expressionist concept of The Father, 309; photograph of a set, 309-10; plan of theatre, 311-13; reminiscences of three actors, 314-15; sketch for A Dream Play, 319, and for To Damascus, 320
- Nationaltheatret, Christiania (Oslo), 261, 263, 296
- New Theatre (Nya Teatern), Stockholm, 307, 309
- Norske Theater (Christiania Norwegian Theatre), 262, 263-70
- Norwegian Theatre, Bergen, 261; defining the duties of the stage-instructor, 272-3; Ibsen prepares Dragedukken, 274-5, 296
- Royal Dramatic Theatre, Stockholm, 293; To Damascus, 316-18
- Royal Theatre, Copenhagen, 271, 295; the duties of the 'stage-instructor', 276-7; an actress as 'stage-instructor', 278-80; creating a set, 281-4; new and larger in 1874, 280-1; new constitution, 285-9
- Scandinavian Experimental Theatre, Strindberg's, 305-6
- 'Swedish National Theatre', Strindberg attacks the Swedish status quo, 289-93
- Swedish Royal Theatres (The Opera and the Dramatic Theatre), 293
- Swedish Theatre, Stockholm: A Dream Play, 316
- Switzerland
- Cabaret Voltaire: Dada in Zurich, 8