ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Among the many people and organizations who helped me in writing this book, I want first to thank the Society for Psychical Research, London, not only for permission to quote from the papers of Sir William Barrett and Sir Oliver Lodge, but also for the aid that Eleanor O’Keeffe offered during two summers of research in the Society’s library and archives. I am also grateful to the College of Psychic Studies and the Spiritualist Association of Great Britain, both in London, for the opportunity to use their libraries and records. A. H. Wesenraft, Honorary Curator of the Harry Price Library, University of London, was extremely helpful in making that library’s collections available to me. I drew on the expertise of the staffs of the British Library and the Library of Congress, and am particularly indebted to Leonard N. Beck, Subject Collections Specialist, Rare Book and Special Collections Division, Library of Congress. The Houdini Collection, which I consulted extensively, fell under Mr. Beck’s supervision, and he made using it a pleasure. I gratefully acknowledge permission from the Yale University Library to quote from letters in the Thomas Davidson Papers, and from the Master and Fellows of Trinity College, Cambridge, to quote from letters in the Papers of Henry Sidgwick and of F. W. H. Myers.

Research grants from the National Endowment for the Humanities and the American Council of Learned Societies are similarly acknowledged with gratitude.

I have benefited from conversation or correspondence with Joseph Baylen, Elizabeth Eisenstein, Alan Gauld, Peter Marsh, Seymour Mauskopf, Terry Parssinen, Harold Perkin, Joan Richards, John D. Root, Frank M. Turner, James Winter, Anthony Wohl, and Stephen Koss, who also read and commented on much of the manuscript. Scott Parker was generous in lending me books for use in Chapter 6. Indeed, my colleagues at The American University, Washington, D.C., have always been generous with their time and have provided me with stimulating ideas whenever I confronted them with psychics and spirits.

Michael Dauman Gnat's enthusiastic assistance at all stages of the book's production has been much appreciated.

Finally, I need especially to thank my daughter Ashley and my husband, John H. M. Salmon. In their different ways, they have both been enormously helpful.
