

Index

- addendum types of patron–client relations, 173–200 age group, 4–5, 40–1, 286–7
aghās: in Turkey, 84–7; in Iraq 88–9
 Aichhorn, A., 31
 Allum, P. A., 230
 Almagor, U., 246–7
 ambivalence towards the institutional order, 1–28, 276–301 amicitia: in Ancient Rome, 61–2 amity, 33
 Argentina, patron–client relations in, 113–14
 Aristotle, 277
 ascriptive hierarchical systems, 173–84, 276–8
- balance of power in patron–client relations, 213–14, 217, 250–63 banditry, 68–70, 75, 200–2
bapakism, bapak-anak buah: in Indonesia 122–7
 Bateson, G., 40
 Blau, P. M., 33
 Bloch, M., and S. Guggenheim, 13–4
 Bolivia, patron–client relations in, 111–13
 bossism, political: in U.S.A. 155–7; in Japan 159–62. See also linked clientelistic networks
 Bowlby, J., 31
 Brazil, patron–client relations in, 104–7, 216–17
 brokerage, 228–45
 Buber, M., ix, 40
 Buddhism, 117–27, 130–8, 206–8, 261–3
buhake: in Rwanda, 153–4
 Burma, patron–client relations in, 137–8
 Burridge, K. O. L., 12
- caciques*, caciquismo, 72–3, 114–17
- camarillas*: in Mexico 116
 Campbell, J. K., 80
 ‘captive’ clienteles, 225–7
 Catholicism, 50–2, 64–71, 99–117, 206–8, 261–3 passim
caudillos, 102–3, 114–15. See also Latin America centre–periphery relations in clientelistic societies, 204–6, 228–46 changes in clientelistic relations, 225–8, 263–8. See also patron–client relations.
 China, patron–client relations in, 139–45 clientelae: see patrociniūm clientelism, 166–219; in comparative perspective, 166–73 coalitions 37–9, 234–41; populist, 238; authoritarian, 238–41. See also elites in clientelistic societies
 Cohen, Y., 5, 7, 11, 274
 Coleman, J., 4, 33–4
 Colombia, patron–client relations in, 102–4
 Communist systems, 157–9; and favouritism, 186–91 compadrazgo, 13–6, 76–7, 109, 128, 248–50, 278–81 consociational systems, 170–2, 195–200, 290–1 coronéis, coronelismo, 105–6 corporatist systems, 170–2
 Cyrenaica, southwestern, patron–client relations in, 154–5
- Davis, K., 21–3
 discretion in patron–client relations, 259–63
 Du Bois, C., 5, 7
 Durkheim, E., 20–1, 34

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-28890-3 - Patrons, Clients and Friends: Interpersonal Relations and the Structure of Trust in Society

S. N. Eisenstadt and L. Roniger

Index

More informationIndex

- ecologico-social organisational matrix and patron-client relations, 216-18
- Egypt, patron-client relations in, 89-91
- Eisenstadt, S. N., 5-12, 273
- elites, 37-9; in clientelistic societies, 207-11, 228-45
- entitlements, 35-7
- Fortes, M., 33, 36
- Foster, G. M., 27
- Frankenstein, C., 31
- friendship, 2, 6-12, 15-18, 33, 269-93
- futuwwat*: in Egypt, 90-1
- gamonales*: in Colombia, 102-4
- gauchos*: in South America, 113-14
- Gellner, E., 164
- generalised exchange, 32-42; modes of structuring, 166-73
- Goffman, E., 25-6, 175
- Graziano, L., 66
- Greece, patron-client relations in, 77-81
- Guasti, L., 240
- Gudeman, S., 13, 280-1
- Guggenheim, S., 13-14
- hierarchical social systems, 169-70; and patron-client relations, 173-84
- Homans, G. C., 33
- honour, 15, 70, 74-7, 210-14
- India, patron-client relations in 150-3, 178-84
- Indonesia, patron-client relations in, 122-7
- instability of patron-client relations, 229-42, 248-50, 263-7
- interpersonal relations: the study of 1-28; contexts of variation of, 269-301
- Iraq, northern, patron-client relations in, 88-9
- Islamic societies and patron-client relations, 229-43, 248-50, 263-7
- interpersonal relations, 81-99, 204-7
- Israel, patron-client relations and countervailing forces in, 195-200
- Italy, patron-client relations in, 64-71
- jajmani* relations: in India 150-3, 178-83
- Japan, patron-client relations in, 145-50, 174-8; patron-client relationships in modern, 159-62, 248-50
- Jordan, patron-client relations in, 87-8
- kan-ch'ing* relations: in China 139-42, 144-5, 276-8
- Kenny, M., 73, 75
- kinship, 15-18, 29-33, 272-81; bilateral, 206; corporate, 169-70; dozoku, 147-8, 247-8, and see also 176-7 on the Japanese family system; fictive, ritual: see ritualised relations, compadrazgo, oyakun-kobun
- Latin America, patron-client relations in, 99-117
- Lebanon, patron-client relations in, 91-5
- Lévi-Strauss, C., 34-6
- Leyton, E., 5, 185
- liminality, 18
- linked clientelistic networks, 228-34, 243-5
- McNeill, W. H., 79
- mafiosi*: in western Sicily, 68-70
- marginality, 117. See also Latin America markets and personal relations, 29-42 passim; and patron-client relations, 43-50 passim, 252-68
- Marx, K., 20-1
- Mauss, M., 33-6
- meaning in society, 24-42, 294-301. See also symbolic domain of human relations
- Merton, R. K., 21-3
- Mexico, patron-client relations in, 114-17
- Mezzogiorno, patron-client relations in, 64-8
- Middle East, (Muslim), patron-client relations in, 81-99
- Moore, W. E., 21-3
- mu-fu* system: in China, 142-3
- Muqata'ji*: in Lebanon, 91-5
- Naegele, K. D., 4, 7, 16
- Nai-phrai* relations: in Thailand, 131-3
- Nakane, C., 177
- organisational clientelistic brokerage, 228-45
- oyabun-kobun* relations: in Japan, 146-50, 161-2, 174-8, 248-50
- Paget, J., 4
- Paine, R., x, 5, 16, 213-14
- panelinhas*, 107
- Parsons, T., 4, 21-6, 33-4
- patrocinium* and clientelae: in Ancient Rome 52-64
- patron-brokerage, 228-45
- patron-client relations, 2, 43-268; as addenda to hierarchical models of generalised exchange, 173-84; as addenda to universalistic models of generalised exchange, 184-200; basic characteristics of, 43-50; clientelistic

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-28890-3 - Patrons, Clients and Friends: Interpersonal Relations and the Structure of Trust in Society

S. N. Eisenstadt and L. Roniger

Index

More informationIndex

- exchanges in, 250–63; conditions of emergence of, 203–19; continuities, discontinuities and instability in, 263–8, and see also changes in clientelistic relations; and countervailing forces in clientelistic societies, 200–2; and countervailing forces in universalistic societies, 185–200; organisational aspects of, 228–45; roles and role taking in, 245–58; styles of installation in, 248–50; variations in, 162–5, 220–68. See also balance of power in patron–client relations, discretion in patron–client relations, reciprocity in patron–client relations, socio-moral restraints in patron–client relations, subversion in patron–client relations
- pelegos*: in Brazil 106
- Peru, patron–client relations in, 107–11
- Philippines, patron–client relations in, 127–30
- Pitt-Rivers, J., 2, 5–6, 15, 211
- Poland, patron–client relations in, 200
- Powell, J. D., 241
- privacy and interpersonal relations, 282–93
- Pye, L. W., 278
- qabadayat*: in Lebanon, 91–5
- Ramsøy, O., 5–6, 11, 286
- reciprocity in patron–client relations, 252–6, 256–63 passim
- Republican Rome, patron–client relations in, 52–64
- Riggs, F. W., 134–5
- ritualised relations, 5, 8–11, 248–50, 269–82
- ritual kinship: see ritualised relations, compadrazgo, oyabun–kobun
- roles and role taking in patron–client relations, 245–8
- Rwanda, patron–client relations in, 153–5
- Scott, J. C., 231
- sectarian and oppositionary orientations and interpersonal relations, 275–301
- shillal*: in Egypt and Tunisia, 91
- Shils, E., 21–3
- Sicily, western, patron–client relations in, 68–70
- Silverman, S., 71
- Simmel, G., 2
- Smelser, N., 21–3
- social division of labour, 19–28, 224–5
- social exchange, 33–42; and patron–client relations, 43–50, 250–63
- social hierarchies in clientelistic societies, 205–10
- socialisation, 11, 29–33, 39–40
- sociology: criticisms, 23–6, 308–9; Founding Fathers and the study of social solidarity 19–28; sociological theory and the problem of trust 19–28; structural-functionalist approach 21–3
- socio-moral restraints in patron–client relations 43–550, 259–63
- solidarity, 19–28, and see also trust; and patron–client relations, 250–63
- southeast Asia, patron–client relations in, 117–38
- southern Europe, patron–client relations in, 50–81
- Spain, patron–client relations in, 71–7
- structure of power, 224–5
- subversion in patron–client relations, 200–2, 259–68
- symbolic domain of human relations, 4–5, 13–18, 269–301 passim. See also meaning in society
- Tarrow, S., 67
- Thailand, patron–client relations in, 130–7
- Tönnies, F., 20
- traditional patronage, 225–34
- trust: construction, breakdown and extension of, 19–42, 213–15, 272–4, 278–9, 294–301
- tselingas*: in Greece 80–1
- Turkey, patron–client relations in, 84–7
- Turner, V., 18, 285
- unconditionalities, 35–7
- universalistic societies, 169–71; and patron–client relations, 184–200; and other interpersonal relations, 276–8, 282–93
- U.S.A.: patron–client relations in, 155–7; countervailing forces to patron–client relations in, 191–5
- U.S.S.R.: patron–client relations in, 157–9; countervailing forces to patron–client relations in, 186–91
- wastah*: in Jordan 87–8; in Lebanon 94. See also Middle East (Muslim), patron–client relations in
- Waterbury, J., 164
- Weber, M., 20–1
- Weingrod, A., 231
- Wolf, E., 5, 164, 246
- yuryokusha* in Japan, 159–62, 175
- zu'ama*: in Lebanon, 91–5