

Contents

	Preface	page ix
1	Introduction: some notes on ritual	1
2	The surface contours of the Sherpa world	10
	Economy	14
	Social organization	18
	Religion	30
3	Nyungne: problems of marriage, family, and asceticism	33
	The ritual	34
	The problems of the ritual	36
	Merit making and social atomism	36
	Gods, parents, and social sentiments	41
	Ascetic ideology and the crisis of the children's marriages	43
	The solutions of the ritual	48
	The fostering of altruism	48
	Nyungne as passage to postparenthood	52
	Ascetic ideology and family structure	55
4	Hospitality: problems of exchange, status, and authority	61
	The party	61
	The problems of hospitality	65
	The problem of giving and receiving	65
	The power of food	68
	Problems of status, power, and authority	74
	The solutions of hospitality	78
	The "empty mouth" principle and the etiquette of giving and receiving	78
	Seating and joking: the party as politics	82
	"Civilized" coercion and the reproduction of hosts	85

viii	Contents
5	Exorcisms: problems of wealth, pollution, and reincarnation	91
	The rituals	92
	The do dzongup	93
	The gyepshi	95
	The problems of the rituals	98
	Demons, greed, and social predation	98
	Pollution, disintegration of self, and subversion of the social order	103
	Reincarnation theory and the social order	110
	The solutions of the rituals	113
	Exorcisms as purifications: reconstituting the psychic hierarchy	114
	Rich and poor: resynthesizing the social hierarchy	120
	Self and social order: dilemma	125
6	Offering rituals: problems of religion, anger, and social cooperation	128
	The ritual calendar and the rite of offerings	129
	The problems of the ritual	132
	Torma and the body problem	132
	Gods, demons, and the problem of moods	137
	Hospitality, anger, and body	141
	The solutions of the ritual	144
	Bodying the gods	147
	The molding of anger	149
	Hospitality: mediating religion and the social order	152
7	Conclusions: Buddhism and society	157
	The ritual mechanism	163
	Notes	171
	Bibliography	187
	Index	191