

Contents

List of tables and maps	page viii
Preface	ix
Introduction	1
1 LIFE IN THE HIGHLAND HABITAT	16
An ecological overview	17
Prehistory	22
Language and physical type	26
Society in the highland fringe	28
Technology and trade	39
Diet, health, and disease	51
2 AGRICULTURE AND POPULATION	66
Agriculture	66
Pigs	87
The population	95
3 LAND AND LOCALITY	113
Territory	114
Land tenure	115
Locality	130
4 FAMILY AND KINSHIP	144
Youth	145
Patriliney	148
Separation and bonding between males and females	150
Initiation and male cults	151
Courtship	156
Marriage	161
Kin relations	178

5	COHESION AND COMPETITION	182
	Group structure	182
	Conflict and cohesion	203
	Festivals	215
	Conclusion	234
	References	246
	Index	251

Tables

1	The East New Guinea Highlands Language Phylum	27
2	Percentage weight in diet of various foods	53
3	Dietary nutrients	54
4	Height, weight, and diet of men and women	56
5	Intensifying agricultural practices	77
6	Population and agricultural measures for highland societies	106
7	Ranking of highland societies	109
8	Areas of clans and political units	191

Maps

1	The highland area	6
2	Locations of highland groups in New Guinea	7