Preface

I am deeply grateful for the help received from colleagues, friends, and institutions in the writing of this book.

Parts of chapter 6 are based on the introduction to Die Meininger: Texte zur Rezeption (Tübingen, 1980); I thank the publishers, Max Niemeyer, for permission to re-use the material.

My thanks are due to the University of Warwick for the generous provision of study leave; to the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation, the Leverhulme Trust, the British Academy, and the Academy of Sciences of the German Democratic Republic for research and travel grants.

For their assistance in helping me to obtain and to exploit otherwise inaccessible material I am particularly indebted to the University Library, Warwick and its photographic services, the Niedersächsische Staats- und Universitätsbibliothek, Göttingen, the Theatre Museum of the University of Cologne (Sammlung Niessen), the Deutsches Theatermuseum, Munich, the Theaterwissenschaftliches Seminar of the Free University, Berlin, the Literaturwissenschaftliches Seminar of the University of Hamburg, the Kunstsammlungen der Veste Coburg, the Deutsche Staatsbibliothek, Berlin, DDR, the Staatsarchiv Meiningen, the Staatliche Museen Meiningen, the Goethe–Schiller Archiv Weimar, and the staff of all these institutions.

For their practical support, the interest they have shown, and the encouragement they have given me, I am especially grateful to: Colin Bearne, Gustav Erdmann, Roswitha Flatz, Helmuth Grosse, Dieter Hoffmeier, Rolf Hübner, Peter Larkin, Laci Löb, Edward McInnes, Minni Maedebach, Marie Mahr, Jean Moes, Lydia Mohr, Helen Osborne, Richard Parker, Volker Reißland, Renate Schipke, Albrecht Schöne, Peter Stern, Irmgard Strahl, Ronald Taylor, Gotthart Wunberg, Ann O'Quigley, Sarah Stanton, and, as always, Janet Osborne.

A very special debt is acknowledged in the dedication.
