Acknowledgments

This book would not have been written if it were not for the people in Johnstown, Pennsylvania, who took me into their homes, listened to my endless questions, answered them and willingly agreed to repeated visits and repeated questioning, took me around to show me things and places, invited me to their churches and organizations, assisted in deciphering and identifying names, and helped me to make further contacts by “passing me along” through the community. I am indebted to too many individuals to thank each one separately. Let me express my gratitude by mentioning here those who were exceptionally generous with the time they contributed to my project. I am very grateful to the pastors of the East Central European churches in Johnstown: Rev. J. Benedek, Rev. S. Gergel, Rev. J. Golias, Rev. N. Grgurevich, Father Jerome, Rev. G. Johnson, Rev. J. Kraus, the late Rev. W. Kurdzel, Rev. T. Maher, Rev. C. Ossowski, Rev. J. Pier, Rev. W. Sabo, the late Rev. S. Slavik, the late Rev. A. Ulicky, Rev. G. Winning, Rev. G. Yatsko, and Rev. Dr. J. Yurcisin. I would also like to express my sincere gratitude to A. Adamchak, J. Bobovsky, F. Bochenski, J. Brezovec, Mrs. M. Buncic and her daughter Danica, A. Cyburt, his son Walter and daughter Casimira, Mrs. M. Dostal, R. Garbrenya, Mr. and Mrs. P. Holubz, the late Mrs. A. Hozek, M. Hricko, L. Jankowiak, P. Kaminski, Mr. and Mrs. J. Langerholc, Mrs. H. Legat, Mr. and Mrs. A. Mesaros, G. Minno, M. Moncilovich, C. Nagyvathy, E. Neral, the late M. Novak, and Mrs. A. Novak, Mr. and Mrs. M. Novak, J. Ozog, P. Payerchin, Mr. and Mrs. P. Pentz, S. Petruska, H. Sledzanowski, F. Sobditch, Mr. and Mrs. M. Tumbas, Mr. and Mrs. W. Wegrzyn, E. Yesh, and to all the officers of ethnic lodges, clubs, and associations who gave me information and made available their old organizational records.

I would also like to thank heartily the editor, Mr. Richard Mayer, and the whole staff of the Johnstown Tribune who graciously offered me a desk in their offices for the long months of my work with the city directories and newspaper microfilms located in the Tribune's library. My sincere gratitude is extended to the staff of Cambria County Courthouse in Ebensburg and of the City Hall in Johnstown where I spent many hours researching various records pertaining to the history of Johnstown's East Central Europeans, and to the staff of the Senior Citizens' Center in Johnstown where I conducted many of my interviews. I thank Mrs. M. Oyler from the Greater Johnstown School District, J. Moran and J. Katowchik from the Conemaugh Valley School District, and Rev. Father Bunn from the Johnstown Catholic High School for permission to inspect old school records. Mrs. S. Stevens at Meadowvale School Media Center and Sister Lucia at St. Stephen's Slovak Catholic School assisted me during my research on the educational achievement of East Central European children. J. Coleman and J. Penrod from Bethlehem Steel Company provided information about job structures in the mills, and P. Pebley and facilitated contacts with retired company officials. Michael Yates and Bruce Williams from the University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown deserve special thanks for letting me use their priceless tape collection of oral-history interviews with retired East Central European steelworkers and coal miners in the area.

I would also like to thank the librarians at the UMW Health and Retirement Fund in Washington, D.C.; the UMW Health and Retirement Fund in Richland, Pennsylvania; the Berwin-White Coal Company in Windber, Pennsylvania; the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission in Harrisburg; the National Archives in Washington, D.C.; and the Dun & Bradstreet Archives in New York for their kind assistance at various stages of my research.

The following foundations provided generous support during my project: the American Council of Learned Societies, the National Endowment for the Humanities, the Andrew Mellon Foundation, and the Pennsylvania Ethnic Heritage Studies Center at the University of Pittsburgh. At the University of Pittsburgh, the University Center for International Studies and the Research and Development Fund subsidized the typing and retyping of my manuscript, which was done with skill and patience by Nancy Collins, Virginia Enscoe, and Janet Hill.

I would like to thank copyeditor Christie Lerch for her extraordinary patience and professionalism during the arduous editing process. My friends Michael Joyce and Thaddeus Radzialowski worked hard to bring my non-native English into shape and to anglicize my innate Polish baroque style.

I wish to thank Philip Sidel, who assisted in the statistical analysis of data with care and infinite patience, and also Patrick Doreian, Maciej Słomczyński, Paul Allison, Jerry Jacobs, and Philip Morgan for their helpful advice in statistical matters. Katherine Lynch helped with the limited demographic analysis that I conducted.

Several people offered most valuable comments and constructive criticism, both methodological and substantive, as I was writing and rewriting parts of the manuscript: Harold Bershad, Milton Cantor, Renée Fox, Michael Katz, Frank Lechner, John Modell, David Montgomery, Alejandro Portes, Peter Stearns, Stephan Thernstrom, and Charles Tilly. I am most grateful for their kind willingness to contribute their valuable time and perceptive ideas to my endeavor. I am especially indebted to Michael Weber and John Bodnar for providing much-needed help and advice during the long initial stage of my research.

Finally, multiple and very special thanks go to Dee and Joe Dalesandro of Johnstown, who let me become a member of their hospitable home and loving family during four long years I spent on this project. To them this book is dedicated with great fondness and gratitude.
