

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-31755-9 - The Babi and Baha'i Religions: From Messianic Shi'ism to a World Religion

Peter Smith

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS

Lists of illustrations, tables, figures and maps	page x
Note on transliteration	xii
Acknowledgements	xiii
Introduction	1
 PART I: BABISM
2 The Babi movement	5
Iran and Shi'ism	5
Early Shaykhism	8
The emergence of Babism, 1844–5	13
Expansion and the growth of opposition, 1845–8	16
The radicalization of Babism, 1848–53	22
2 Babi doctrine and dominant motifs	31
Legalism	33
Esotericism	35
Polarity	38
Millenarianism	42
Holy war and martyrdom	44
Rationalism and social reformism	45
3 Babism as a socio-religious movement in Iran	48
Growth and social composition	48
The political aspects of religious dissent	51
Social discontent and class conflict	52

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-31755-9 - The Babi and Baha'i Religions: From Messianic Shi'ism to a World Religion

Peter Smith

Table of Contents

More information

viii

Contents

PART II: THE BAHÁ'Í FAITH IN THE EAST, c. 1866–1921

4	The Babi recovery and the emergence of the Baha'i Faith	57
	Bahá'u'lláh and the revival of Babism, 1853–66	57
	The emergence of the Baha'i Faith, 1866–1921	66
5	Dominant motifs in the Baha'i Faith in the East	72
	The polar/theophanic motif	73
	Social reformism, modernization and the millennium	74
	The legalistic motif	80
	Universalism	82
	The esoteric–gnostic motif	84
6	The Iranian Baha'i community, c. 1866–1921	86
	Iran in crisis	86
	The expansion of the Baha'i community	87
	Conversion and appeal	93
	Political change: the Baha'i and Azali responses	97

PART III: THE BAHÁ'Í FAITH AS A WORLD RELIGION

7	The early American Baha'i community	100
	The Kheiralla period, 1894–1900	100
	The American Baha'i community after 1900	102
	Activities outside the United States	106
	Dominant religious concerns	107
	Emergence from the cultic milieu	112
8	Institutionalization in the Formative Age	115
	The establishment of the Administrative Order	115
	Administration and succession, 1950–85	126
	Authority and leadership in the contemporary Baha'i community	133
9	Modern Baha'i motifs	136
	The polar motif	138
	The legalistic motif	139
	Millenarianism	140
	Universalism and liberalism	144

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-31755-9 - The Babi and Baha'i Religions: From Messianic Shi'ism to a World Religion

Peter Smith

Table of Contents

More information

Contents	ix
Social reconstructionism	146
Esotericism and rationality	154
10 World-wide expansion	157
Systematic plans for expansion and consolidation	157
Geo-cultural expansion and change	162
The Middle East	172
The West	180
The Third World	190
Conclusion	196
Notes	200
Appendix 1 Glossary	213
Appendix 2 Chronologies	215
Appendix 3 A note on the sources and a guide to further reading	225
Index	239