Acknowledgements

A book such as this could hardly be written without the generous help and advice of a large number of individuals and institutions. Particular debts are acknowledged in the text where appropriate, but of the many who have assisted us in one way or another – too numerous to list here in full – we wish especially to record our gratitude to the following. Their views and the information which they have given us have been invaluable – though they must not be held responsible for any of the opinions we express or the interpretations and conclusions we reach in the course of the book, which are, of course, our own.

We would like to thank: John Bailey, Tim Baker, Peter Cheeseman, Alan Durband, Michael Elliott, Richard Eyre, John Faulkner, Giles Havergal, Jo Hodgkinson, Phyllis Leggett, Vivian Nixon, Clive Perry, Geoffrey Rowe, Ronald Russell, Reginald Salberg, Barry Sheppard, Clare Venables, Hazel Vincent-Wallace, Richard Williams, Peggy Ann Wood, and the various staffs of the Citizens' Theatre, Glasgow, the Everyman Theatre, Liverpool, the Nottingham Playhouse, the Royal Exchange Theatre, Manchester, the Salisbury Playhouse, the Victoria Theatre, Stoke-on-Trent, the Local Studies Department of the Nottinghamshire County Library, the British Theatre Association Library and the Research Library of the Arts Council of Great Britain.
