

Index

- a priori argument for God's being experienceable, 252–3 accessible-to-comparison experiences, 235
 accessibly false propositions, 147
 Advaita Vedanta, 298–9
Advaita Vedanta: A Philosophical Reconstruction, 302, 303 analogical predication, 99, 100 analogy, proper, 70, 76 Anselmian theism, 109 apparent experience of God, 16 applying to (concept), 65 Aquinas, Saint Thomas, 336 argument from numinous experience, 261–2, 274
 Arjuna, 18
 aspect, 38
 associative dependence, 137
 atheism, 112, 113
atman, 301, 302

 basic belief, 136
 basic concepts, 64, 65
 basic negative idea, 34 basic positive idea, 34 basicity, 138–9
 belief, 5–6, 120, 177; ethics of,
 129–30, 142; properly basic,
 137–8; propositional and psychological, 120
Belief in God, 220

 Berger, Peter, 144
 Berkeley, George, 286
 Bradley, F. H., 313
 Brahman, 20, 29, 279, 280, 298–9
 Broad, C. D., 215
 Broad's argument, 225, 226
 Buddha, 27
 Buddhism, 279–80
 Buddhist experiences, 31

Capital Times, 205
 causal chains, 256–7
 causal powers, 189
 causes, 119
 circumstance, 238, 239
 collegial disconfirmation, 245, 246, 247, 249, 251, 252, 272, 273 compatibilism, 352 complex falsification, 156 concept, 65, 98, 102–3, 310–11; syntactic, 108–9; as veil, 185–6 conditions of experience, 201 confirmation, full, 168 confirmationism, 113 consistency strategy, 327–8 contentless experience, 188–9 contingent existence, 90, 93 contradictory properties, 62
 Conway, David, 222, 224–5, 231, 232 countervailing factors, 48, 52–3 criteria for proper basicity, 138–9

Index

- Critique of Pure Reason*, 194, 195, 312
- de facto evidence, 44
- Descartes, René, 179, 295
- description: and evidence, 43; phenomenological, 16–17
- Deutsch, Eliot, 302–3, 310, 311, 313, 315, 316, 318
- direct relevance conditions, 40
- disconfirmation. See lateral disconfirmation; polar disconfirmation
- discreditation: of propositional belief, 146–7, 158; of psychological beliefs, 135, 142–3, 158; of religious belief, 149–50
- discreditor, 123
- divine choices, 344–5
- divine crisis condition, 231
- divine foreknowledge, 354
- divine freedom, 344
- divine moral agency, 348–9
- doctrines as pointers, 315–16
- doxastic practice, 205, 206
- dretskes, 254, 255
- dualism, idealistic, 127, 132; physicalistic, 125, 132
- Dvaita Vedanta, 298
- effability, restricted, 83
- effective evidence, 44
- Elias, Thomas D., 205
- enlightenment experience, 280–1, 299; and memory, 284, 285
- entailment, 336–7
- entailment rules, 340–1
- epistemic certainty, 169
- epistemic constellation, 137, 138
- epistemic duty vs. moral duty, 130
- eternal, 342, 343, 346, 347, 353, 354
- ethics of belief, 129–30, 142
- everlasting, 342, 343, 344
- evidence: de facto, 44; description and, 43; total relevant, 234
- evidence cancellation alternative, 240
- evidential association, 137
- evil, 322–3
- existential veridicality, 46, 47
- experience, 42–3; conditions of, 201; imprisoned by concepts, 197–8; kinds of, 23–4, 236, 237; perceptual, 42, 43; pure, 184–5, 192; sc and sco, 300, 304; self-authenticating, 170–1; structure of, 19. See also numinous experience; religious experience
- experiential confirmation scope, 243, 244
- experiential disconfirmation, 243, 244
- experiential object claim, 37
- explanatory indeterminacy, 329–30
- explanatory simplicity, 125
- external epistemic certainty, 293
- faith, 1–2
- falsificationism, 114; complex, 156
- fitting of concept, 65, 98
- foreknowledge, divine, 354
- full confirmation, 168
- future-tense propositions and truth-value, 356–7
- generic epistemic explanation, 128
- high-claim assertions, 218–19
- Hinduism, 298
- historical claims, 155, 156
- human freedom and divine foreknowledge, 354
- Hume, David, 3, 144, 254
- idealism, 127–8, 132
- idealistic (nonphysicalistic) dualism, 127, 132
- incommensurability, 319, 320
- indirect relevance conditions, 40

Index

- individuals, 105, 282–3 ineffability: and language, 81; literal, 62; metaphorical, 62; religious consequences of, 67, 68 ineffability passages, 67, 68 infinite, 97–8
 infinite regress argument, 314–15 intentionality, 34–5, 52 internal epistemic certainty, 283 International Journal for the Philosophy of Religion, 222 introspectible properties, 295–6 introspection, 296
 introspective religious experience, 280, 291–2 Isaiah, 18

 Jain experiences, 31
 Jainism, 275, 282–3
 John, Saint, 18
 Jones, Rufus, 196

 Kant, Immanuel, 194, 195, 312
 Katz, Steven, 196
 kernel property, 333, 335 kevala, 21, 27–28
 knowing, 49, 50 Krishna, 19

 lateral disconfirmation, 245, 246, 249, 251, 252, 272, 273 Leach, Edmund, 144 level of appearance, 298–9; of reality, 298–9 Lévi-Strauss, Claude, 144 literal ineffability, 62 logic, 204
 low-claim assertions, 218–19

 Madhva, 298
 Mahavira, 27, 28
 Martin, C. B., 216–17, 227, 231
 Mary, 19
 materialism, 123–4, 132; and epistemic explanations, 125

 Mavrodes, George, 220, 221 maximally determinate and maximally indeterminate, 66, 83 meditation, 188, 292, 293 memory and enlightenment experiences, 284, 285 metaphorical ineffability, 62 minimally dispositional beliefs, 177 modality, 110–11
moksha, 21, 29–30, 249, 304, 306, 307 monism, radical, 298, 309 monotheism, 112, 113, 342–3 monotheistic experiences, 25–6 moral duty, 130
 moral perfection, 93
 Moses, 18

 necessary existence, 90, 93 necessitarian atheism, 112 necessitarian (Anselmian) monotheism, 112 negative epistemic explanation, 128 negative evidence alternative, 240 neutral description, 23 nirguna, 299
nirvana, 21, 26–7
 nonepistemic explanation, 120 nonnecessitarian atheism, 113 nonnecessitarian (plain) monotheism, 113 nonvacuous entailment among contingent propositions and among necessary propositions, 340 numinous experience, 236, 237; and physical causal chains, 260, 261; and sensory experience, 263–4; strong, 16, 34; and testability, 266–7 object, 34

 object claim, 37

Index

- omnipotence, 74, 331–2 omniscience, 74, 335
one-type-of-religious-experience-per-tradition view, 183, 193–4 one-type-of-religious-experience view, 183–4 origin of concepts, 102–3 Otto, Rudolph, 16, 261, 262
overturnability, 179
- paralysis questions, 8 Parton, Dolly, 205, 206 perceptual experience, 42, 43 perfection, 92
persons, 282–3 phenomenological description, 16–17 phenomenology, 164
physical chains, 258; causal, 260; experiential, 259 physical event, 258
physicalistic dualism, 125, 132 physiological explanations, 256–7 plain theism, 109
polar disconfirmation, 245, 249, 251 positive epistemic explanation, 128 positive (affirmative) religious beliefs, 151 possibility of assessing religious belief, 1–2 principle: of existential accessibility, 242; of experiential evidence, 37, 52–3, 235, 239–40, 249, 262, 266–7, 274; of explanatory simplicity, 126 problem of evil, 322–3 proper analogy, 70, 76
properly basic belief, 137–8 properly coordinated epistemic constellation, 138 properties: and descriptions, 85–6; introspectible, 295–6 property, 71, 78–9, 84 property identity, 91, 92, 95–6, 337 property instance, 71 property scope, 84
proportional predication, 100–1 propositional belief, 120 propositional identity, 92–3, 337 propositions, 331
psychological belief, 120 psychological claims, 280–1 pure experience, 184–5, 192
- radical monism, 298, 309 Ramanuja, 298
rational kernel, 333 reason, 317–18
reasons and causes, 119 rebutting condition, 228–9 reciprocal checking sets, 222 reducing condition, 228–9 relativism, 196–7
relevance conditions, 38–40 religion, 1–2, 15, 151
Religion, Philosophy, and Psychological Research, 215 Religious Belief, 216 religious doctrines and truth-value, 2–3 religious doxastic practice, 206–7 religious experience, 7–8, 15; introspective, 280, 291–2 restricted effability, 83
Rowe, William, 121, 227–8
- Śamkara, 313, 319
sc experiences, 300, 304
sc0 experiences, 300, 304
scope of one-type view, 203 second-order choice, 349 self-authenticating experience, 170–1 self-authentication, 165–6; and reasonable belief, 180; and religious beliefs, 181–2 sensory checking argument, 217 sensory doxastic practice, 206–7

Index

- sensory experience: and numinous experience, 263–4; and physical causal chains, 260 simple falsification, 155 simplicity, 91, 93, 331 skepticism, 1–2
 social science explanations, 270–1 social science theories, 144 strong numinous experience, 16, 34 stronger one-type view, 200–1 strongly unique, 72–3 structural propositions, 144, 145, 154, 156 structure of experience, 19 subject/aspect and subject/consciousness/object experiences, 19 subjective bias, 164
 sublation, 303–4
 subration, 303–4
 substance, 28
 syntactic concepts, 108–9 taking as evidence, 43 testing experiences, 220–1 theism, plain, 109
 theoretical veridicality, 46, 47 theory, 41–2, 46
 total relevant evidence, 234 truth-value and future-tense propositions, 356–7; and religious doctrines, 2–3 typology, 21–2
 underdetermination, 233–4 uniqueness, 70
 veridicality, 45–7
 verificationist strategy, 109
 Virgin Mary, 19
 Vsisadvaita, 298
 weaker one-type view, 200–1