

Cambridge University Press

0521375851 - Famine and Food Supply in the Graeco-Roman World: Responses to Risk and Crisis

Peter Garnsey

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS

List of tables and figures	page	vii
Preface		ix
Abbreviations		xiii
Maps		xvi-xix
PART I	THE INCIDENCE AND SEVERITY OF FOOD CRISIS
1	Famine and shortage	3
2	The frequency of food crisis	8
3	The infrequency of famine	17
PART II	SURVIVAL STRATEGIES
4	Subsistence and survival: the peasantry	43
5	Supply and distribution: urban communities	69
PART III	FOOD SUPPLY AND FOOD CRISIS IN ATHENS
	c. 600–322 BC
6	The resources of Attica	89
7	The beginnings of dependence	107
8	Rulers of the sea	120
9	Vulnerability and vigilance	134
10	From uncertainty to crisis	150
PART IV	FOOD SUPPLY AND FOOD CRISIS IN ROME
	c. 509 BC – AD 250
11	The beginnings of empire	167
12	Rulers of the Mediterranean	182
13	Food and politics	198
14	Rulers of the world	218
15	The subjects of Rome	244

Cambridge University Press

0521375851 - Famine and Food Supply in the Graeco-Roman World: Responses to Risk and Crisis

Peter Garnsey

Table of Contents

More informationContents

CONCLUSION	271
Bibliography	278
Index	295