

Index

- Abercrombie, Patrick, 349, 350
 Abramovitz, Moses, 158
 Adams, Henry Carter: on industrial problems, 242; on research, 17
 Adams, John Quincy: on American interest in science, 78; design for American system by, 25, 29, 32, 39, 74, 76, 82, 87–8, 90, 95, 97; election of, 76; emphasis of, on knowledge, 77; and federalism, 80, 81, 84; first annual message to Congress by, 76–9; on human improvement, 76, 78–9, 81–2; Jefferson and, 86; public reaction to, 96; Republican views of, 85–6; “system of opposition” to, 95–6
 Adams, Thomas Sewell: and excess-profits tax, 409–11, 414, 423–4, 426–8; and excess-profits/“war-profits” tax, 417–19; and progressive income taxation, 428–30; and progressive tax on spending, 431; public service career of, 408–9; role in state income tax administration of, 209; as Treasury’s chief tax adviser, 408, 423; and undistributed corporate profits tax, 430, 433
 Addison, Paul, 63
 AEA, see American Economic Association
 Agricultural Adjustment Act, 108, 140
 Agriculture: New Deal policy for, 141–2, 321–2; see also Bureau of Agricultural Economics
 Aldrich report (Nelson Aldrich), 246; criticism of, 254; on price changes, 253
 Allen, G. C., 358, 361
 American Economic Association (AEA), 17; proposed research of, 155; review of economics’ fields by, 158; War Finance Committee, 415; on wartime need for knowledge, 290
 American Revolution, 74
 American Statistical Association, 290
 Annual Conference on Research in Income and Wealth, 167
 antistatism, 32, 300
 antitrust policy, British: American pressure for, 356; deterrents to mergers under, 359–60; economists on, 356–8, 360–3; and government-controlled entities, 363–4; laissez-faire vs., 357 antitrust policy, U.S., 8, 354–5
 Ashley, William J., 18, 52; on social welfare, 385–6
 Attlee, Clement, 225
 BAE, see Bureau of Agricultural Economics
 Bagehot, Walter, 62; on British political economy, 41, 42, 46 balance of payments, British: deflation to correct, 217; equilibrium in, 227; failure of import controls and, 228–9; post-World War II interest in, 218; unemployment to correct, 217, 228
 Balfour, Arthur, 337, 342; see also Committee on Commercial and Industrial Policy
 Barber, William J., 6, 10, 14, 18, 23, 30, 103
 Barlow Commission, see Royal Commission on the Geographical Distribution of the Industrial Population
 Bassie, V. Lewis, 118
 Bastable, C. F., 51
 Beckerman, Wilfred, 362
 Bemis, Samuel Flagg, 84
 Bentham, Jeremy, theory of, 4, 40, 56, 63; individualism of, 44; influence on British policy, 45
 Beveridge, William, 55, 63; social security plan of, 386–8, 391; on unemployment, 213
 Bevin, Ernest, 349
 Blaisdell, Thomas, 107
 Blaug, Mark, 389
 Blough, Roy, 161
 BLS, see Bureau of Labor Statistics

- Board of Trade, 54, 66; actions on mergers by, 359–60; data accumulation by departments of, 389; inquiry into specific industries by, 337–40; labor bureau of, 247; on location of industries, 349–50; and tariff reform controversy, 336
- “Bonus Bill” (1817), 88, 90
- Borah, William E., 419
- Bowles, Chester, 146–7
- Bowley, Arthur, 390, 392
- Bradbury, John, 174; on free trade, 197; on return to gold standard, 179
- Bridges, Edward, 211, 212; on economic statistics, 233; on purpose of budget, 225; on tax relief, 236
- British Association for the Advancement of Science, 50, 51, 52
- Brookings Institute of Economics, 306; creation of, 301n
- Brookings Institution, 147, 159
- Brownlee, W. Elliot, 10, 14, 18, 23, 30, 39, 401
- Bullock, Charles, 247
- Bureau of Agricultural Economics (BAE), U.S., 28, 288; conflict between Commerce Department and, 299, 309–12; conflicts within, 298–9; data generation by, 111; farming specialization studies by, 298; functions of economists in, 295; land use inventory program of, 298; management of agricultural sector by, 297; managerial economics of, 292; and New Deal agricultural planning, 312–13; public research institute in, 296–7; statist tendencies of, 308
- Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS), U.S., 28, 37; analysis of work force, wage, and employment trends by, 255; annual budgets of, 246; cost-of-living index by, 253; data generation by, 111; empirical data and theoretical analyses by, 248; as guide to federal labor policy, 284–5; price and wage studies by, 253–5; report by, on scientific management, 259–61; research on unemployment by, 278–9; research on wages and hours by, 261–2; retail price series of, 261; studies by, of strikes, 251–3; termination of wage reporting by, 262, 263
- Bureau of the Budget, 125; and postwar unemployment, 133–5; statistical services of, 164–6; support for World War II tax increases by, 129–30
- Burns, Arthur: and Eisenhower’s CEA, 153; on Keynesianism, 136n
- business cycle theory, 153; CEA and, 155–6; CREC–NBER study of (1928–9), 314–17; NBER study of (1922–3), 303–5, 307
- Butler, R. A., 227; budget of, 228, 229, 233; on investment control, 229; monetary policy of, 228, 229
- Cairnes, John Elliot, 44, 62; on British political economy, 41, 42, 46; on practical recognition of economic science, 47
- Calhoun, John C.: on federal government powers, 81; on national improvements, 88, 90, 91; opposition to Adams by, 95–6
- Cambridge Economics Tripos, 52, 54, 58n
- capitalism, 8; post–World War I victory of, 432, 434; progressive, 267, 413, 431; reforms needed to democratize, 282; and scientific management, 257
- Carnegie Corporation funding of NBER business cycle studies, 304, 314
- Carr-Saunders, Alexander: and British demographic research institute, 446, 447; and Royal Commission on Population, 450, 451
- Catchings, Waddill, 109
- CEA, see Council of Economic Advisers
- Central Bureau of Planning and Statistics, 289, 290
- Chadwick, Edwin, 389
- Chamberlain, Joseph, 332, 335
- Chantler, Philip: as economic adviser to government, 361; on price policy, 364, 365
- Charles, Enid, 446
- Chester, Norman, 364
- Churchill, Winston: budget position of, 187; on gold standard, 174, 197
- CIR, see Commission on Industrial Relations
- civil service, British: criticism of, 60; economists in, 55, 65–6; Oxbridge recruits in, 64–5; professional vs. practical economic knowledge in, 67–8; proposed education for recruits in, 47
- Clark, John D., 147; on business cycle theory, 155; on CEA’s statistical services, 164
- Clarke, Peter, 6, 14, 18, 23, 28, 30, 111, 171
- Clay, Henry (American statesman): on federal government, 81; on national improvements, 90, 91, 95
- Clay, Henry (British economist): on direct

- government intervention in economy, 203–5; on monopolies, 357; on relief from unemployment, 192–3
- Coleridge, Samuel Taylor, 42, 48
- collectivism, democratic and statist, 245–6, 274–5, 281, 283; and American New Liberalism, 244–5; vs. corporate liberalism, 244; policy toward, 286
- Collins, Robert N., 6, 14, 18, 23, 28, 31, 39, 138, 205
- Colm, Gerhard, 118, 122; on economic growth, 146, 150
- Commerce, U.S. Department of: as center of new economic knowledge, 116; Committee on Recent Economic Changes, 16, 315–19; Committee on the Present Business Cycle, 314; conflict between BAE and, 299, 309–12; Division of Industrial Economics, 118, 122; GNP reporting by, 167; under Herbert Hoover, 300, 308–9; National Income Division, 118, 319; national income reporting by, 110, 117, 164
- Commission on Industrial Relations (CIR), U.S., 16, 23, 28, 36, 269, 277; accomplishments of, 283; analysis of industrial unrest by, 276–7; creation of economic knowledge by, 285; on intervention in welfare projects, 280; on intervention in working and living conditions, 275–6; investigation of working conditions by, 274–5; labor economics of, 275; members of, 274; program of economic and social stabilization by, 281; on regulation of corporations, 282; on unemployment, 278, 279; on workers' income, 277
- Committee on Commercial and Industrial Policy (Balfour Committee): inquiry into specific industries by, 337–8, 342; on intervention in economic organization and industrial structure, 343–4
- Committee on Economic Development, 119, 145; on stabilized budget policy, 146
- Committee on Finance and Industry (Macmillan Committee), 15, 16, 184; advice to government from, 189; membership of, 190
- Committee on Recent Economic Changes (CREC), Commerce Department, 16, 314; business cycle study with NBER of (1928–9), 315–17; joint depression-related study with NBER of, 318–19
- Committee on the Present Business Cycle, U.S. Commerce Department, 314
- Commons, John R., 156, 273; on distribution between capital and labor, 258–9; on scientific management, 259–60
- competition in Great Britain, 6; and economic maturity, 330–7; economists' committee for, 355, 360, 371–2, 373; privatization program and, 369–70
- competition in U.S., 8, 19
- Comte, Auguste, 48
- Constitution, U.S., 86; federal sovereignty in, 80; proposed public works–related amendment to, 87, 89, 95
- corporate liberalism: CIR criticism of, 275, 276; conflict between statist collectivism and, 244; policy toward, 285–6; USIC and, 268–70
- Council of Economic Advisers (CEA), 15, 28; creation of, 135, 145; Eisenhower's, 153; Kennedy's, 169, 432; and Nation's Economic Budget, 166; purpose of, 145, 155; relation between economics profession and, 155; scientific data management by, 163; statistical fact-finding activities of, 164–6; see also Council of Economic Advisers, Truman's
- Council of Economic Advisers, Truman's: achievements of, 154; conflicts in, 161–2; and economic growth, 146–50; and economic stabilization, 148; institutional approach by, 156–7; members of, 147; use of economic theory by, 31, 156, 160–2; view of production by, 148–9, 152
- Crawford, William H., 89–91
- CREC, see Committee on Recent Economic Changes
- Cripps, Stafford, 210
- Cuff, Robert, 9, 12, 69
- cultural benefits and values, 13, 24; ideological nature of, 24; relation to market of, 25
- Currie, Lauchlin, 109, 113; on demand management, 120, 121; on fiscal activities and national income, 111
- Dalton, Hugh, 210, 224; cheap money policy of, 226
- Defense Production Act (1950), 153
- deficit spending: British resistance to, in 1950s, 221, 228; Roosevelt administrations and, 109–10, 115
- demand in Great Britain: fiscal policy's effect on aggregate, 8, 235; Keynes's theory of effective, 200, 202

- demand in U.S.: components of aggregate, 121; government managing aggregate, 122; importance of stabilizing, 146; for postwar full employment, 133–5
- democratic collectivism, 244, 270
- depressions: causes of, 249–50; economic knowledge during, 13, 19–20; economists on, 17; labor unions during, 252; new economic theory and, 18; remedies for, 190–1; social learning during, 29; underconsumption theory of, 256; see also Great Depression
- Dacey, A. V., 44, 63–4
- disciplinary knowledge, see professional economic knowledge
- Douglas, Paul, 263–6
- Dupree, A. Hunter, 322
- Durand, E. Dana, 272, 273
- Eady, Wilfrid, 205, 226; on national income accounting, 221
- Eccles, Marriner: on deficit spending, 109; on economic expansion, 143; on full employment, 134
- Ecole Libre des Sciences Politiques, 51–2
- Economic Advisory Council, 15, 55, 59; advice to government by, 189, 205
- economic crises, see depressions; Great Depression
- Economic Expansion Bill of 1949, 151, 153
- economic growth: American Keynesianism efforts at, 142–3; CEA on, 146, 169, 432; and economic knowledge, 138–9; economic stability vs., 148, 153; economists' views on theory of, 157–8; and Korean War mobilization policy, 152–3; and postwar U.S. policy, 138; taxation to stimulate, 432; theory of, 158–60
- economic knowledge: British–U.S. evolution of, 7; categories of, 11–14; description of, 4, 67; economic crises' effect on, 18–20; explanatory models in, 11; and government, 4, 5, 11, 49–50, 208, 401, 434–5; historians' influence on, 66, 68–9; in nineteenth-century Germany, 50; and politics, 15–16, 25–6, 30; see also cultural beliefs and values; economic knowledge in Great Britain; economic knowledge in U.S.; managerial economics; political economy; practical knowledge; professional economic knowledge
- economic knowledge in Great Britain: industrial decline as stimulus for, 352–3; and interwar administration, 54–61; and making of social policy, 379–81, 387, 391–6, 400; and Poor Laws, 393; and political and economic life, 40; and population policy, 458–60; protectionists and, 351
- economic knowledge in U.S.: economic growth and, 138–9; and New Liberalism, 242–6, 285–6; politics and, 401; Roosevelt administrations and, 104–6, 110
- economic maturity, 6, 29; and competition and free trade in Great Britain, 330–7; description of, 6n; economic stagnation and U.S., 140–1
- economic stabilization: CEA and, 148; macroeconomic approach to, 250–1; private planning for, 251
- economists in Great Britain: advice to government by, 372–4; civil service recruitment of, 372; commitment to competition by, 328, 355, 360, 371–4; government need for, 371; influence of, on antitrust policy, 356–7, 361–3; micro-, 368–9, 371–2; in policymaking since World War II, 355, 360–3; in pricing by nationalized industries, 364–5, 372; and privatization, 368–71; and public sector corporate administrators, 364; Thatcher government and, 368–9; views on free trade by, 328–9
- economists, U.S.: and excess profits taxation, 412, 424–6; function of BAE, 295; Roosevelt administrations and, 103, 115–16, 118–19; see also Council of Economic Advisers (CEA)
- education: British economic, 50–2; French university, 51–2; German model of, 50; John Quincy Adams on, 77, 82; political economy in higher, 49–50
- Employment Act of 1946, 145
- Erie Canal, 79, 82
- Eugenics Society, see Population Investigation Committee Eugenics Society
- excess-profits taxation: business community opposition to, 415, 422–3; and capital investment, 235; concerns over disincentives from, 413; deficiencies in administration of, 426–7; economists' views on, 412, 424–5; efforts to repeal, 422–3; proposed alternatives to, 412; replacement for, 430, 433; Revenue Act of 1917 imposition of, 407; Treasury study of, 416–17; and “war-profits” tax, 417–18

- Falkner, Roland, 253
 Federal Reserve Board, 113, 116
 Federal Trade Commission national income research, 163
 Federation of British Industries, 357, 359
 Feeny, Joseph, 160
 Fisher, Irving, 106, 107
 Foster, William Trufant, 109
 France: Office du Travail in, 247; program for family allowances in, 445; pronatalism in, 443, 444; recognition of economics in university system of, 51; research into weights and measures in, 77, 86 free trade: abandonment of, 329, 346; economists' views on, 328–9; experiment with, 29; increasing doubts about (1880s), 330–33; studies of, 45–6, 332–3; Treasury support for, 173, 175, 197
 Friday, David: analysis by, of savings, 424, 434; and excess-profits tax, 424, 427
 Friedman, Milton: approach to inflation of, 126–8; monetarism of, 137 full employment: factors affecting, 121–2; Roosevelt administration's priority for, 124; sought after World War II, 133; UN report on, 150; U.S. prospects for, 144
 Furner, Mary O., 3, 14, 18, 28, 39, 241
 Gaitskell, Hugh, 210, 365
 Gallatin, Albert, 88
 Gay, Edwin, 313; and establishment of NBER, 301–2; and managerial economics, 300; as mediator between Hoover and BAE, 312
 General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, 359
 General Survey Act (1824), 76, 88, 99
 George, Henry, 403, 424
 Germany: and ad hoc Commission for Labor Statistics, 247; economic knowledge in nineteenth-century, 50, 51
 Giffen, Robert, 384, 392
 Gilbert, Bernard, 212; on control of public investment, 221; on tax relief, 236
 Gilbert, Richard V., 122; on demand management, 118; on inflation, 124
 Glass, Carter, 421; concept of economic science of, 422; and excess-profits tax, 422–3, 427
 Glass, David, 447, 458, 459
 gold standard, 173; departure from, 197, 200; effects of, 177–80, 189, 192; parity under, 178–9, 200; return to, 174
 Gray, Alexander, 451
 Great Britain: antitrust policy of, 355–64; bimetallicism in, 332n; coalmining in, 340, 344–5; economic theory in, 30–1; electric utilities of, 364, 365, 370; etatist tradition of, 9; foreign investment, 180–3, 191–3; fuel policy of, 339–40; government's bargaining power in, 37–8; and government's role in higher education in, 50; iron and steel industry in, 345; New Liberalism of, 18, 243; railways of, 339; social scientific research in, 61–2; tariff reform in, 54; “war-profits” taxation by, 407, 417; weights and measures research in, 77; see also Great Britain in interwar period; Great Britain in 1940s and 1950s
 Great Britain in interwar period, 62–3; costs of production in, 186; depression in, 190, 344; election of Labour government in, 204; employment policy in, 187; foreign investment and exports during, 180–3; under gold standard, 177–80, 189, 203; performance of industry in, 340–1, 344–6; public works policy in, 186, 188–9; unemployment in, 63n, 177, 186; wages in, 178–80, 183–5
 Great Britain in 1940s and 1950s: and balance of payments, 217, 223; debt management in, 226–7; employment levels in, 218–20; fiscal policy of, 218, 220, 224, 228; full-employment goal of, 227; inflation problem of, 213, 218; Keynes's plan for, 214–16; Labour government's nationalization policy in, 363–6; and national income accounting, 216, 232–4; tax revenues in, 211–12; and unemployment, 213–14
 Great Depression, 13; economic analysis and, 104; scarcity economics of, 141–2; self-regulating market and, 19, 101; U.S. economic future following, 139–40; see also depressions
 Gribbin, Denys, 356
 Grigg, P. J., 174, 175, 176; on gold standard, 197 gross national product, 167
 growthmanship, see economic growth
 Hahn, Frank, 373
 Haig, Robert M., 416; on excess-profits taxation, 424–5
 Haldane Committee on the Machinery of Government, 54, 388
 Halévy, Elie, 44

- Hall, Robert, 211, 233; on budget deficits, 228; on inflation, 224, 225; and policies of Keynes, 216–17
- Hamilton, Alexander, 85, 87; on taxation, 402
- Hannah, Leslie, 24, 39, 354
- Hansen, Alvin, 115, 120; on fiscal policy, 141; on full employment, 134, 144, 146; on secular stagnation, 140
- Hargreave, Mary, 84
- Harris, Jose, 14, 15, 23, 30, 39, 379
- Harrod, Roy F., 158, 231; on deflation, 217; expansionist ideas of, 211, 218, 238
- Hassler, Ferdinand Rudolph, 99
- Hawley, Ellis W., 14, 18, 28, 37, 39, 287
- Hawtrey, R. G., 184; employment policy of, 187–9; as house economist for Treasury, 176–7, 210; on monetary policy, 200; on public works, 203
- Hayek, Friedrich von, 64, 220, 354, 368
- Hecló, Hugh, 28, 29
- Heller, Walter, 153; focus on economic growth by, 169
- Henderson, Hubert D.: as chairman of Economic Committee of Royal Commission on Population, 451, 453, 454, 458; on public works, 195–6, 202; and white paper on unemployment, 195
- Henderson, Leon, 113; on deficit spending, 115; and inflated prices, 112; and TNEC, 120
- Hicks, J. R., 451, 458
- Hilton, Boyd, 393
- Hoffman, Paul, 144–5
- Hoover, Herbert, 106, 110, 139, 291; antistatist leanings of, 300; Commerce Department under, 300, 308–9; conflict between BAE and, 309–12; plan for President's Conference on Unemployment by, 303
- Hopkins, Harry, 13; deficit spending program of, 115; on government–business relations, 117–19
- Hopkins, Richard, 175, 176, 211; on foreign lending, 191–2; and National Debt Enquiry, 222; on public works, 196; and white paper on unemployment, 195
- Houston, David, 421; concept of economic science of, 422; efforts to repeal excess-profits tax by, 422–3, 427; and excess-profits tax administration, 426; support for economic research by, 423
- Humphrey, Donald, 118
- Hunt, Edward Eyre, 314, 318
- income taxation, U.S.: authorization of federal, 404; broadening of, 422; economists' interests in, 404–5; Populist proposal for, 404; Revenue Act of 1921 on, 428; World War I, 401–2
- industrial relations, U.S.: BLS analysis of, 257–8, 267–8; CIR investigation of, 274–5; CIR recommendations for, 275–6; and movement toward deunionization, 284; scientific management and, 259–62; USIC approach to, 269–74
- industrial sector in Great Britain: competitive performance of, 327, 342; economic knowledge about, 351–3; foreign competitive threat to, 19, 326–7; and foreign tariff, 330–1; government involvement in transforming, 343; government vs. private reorganization of, 344–6; increase in knowledge relating to, 337, 340, 344; inquiry into, 337–40; interwar performance of, 340–1, 344–6; and location of industries, 349; merger activity in, 359–60; proposed duty on foreign manufactures for, 331; proposed large-scale production units in, 342; regional differences in, 346–9; state role in changes in, 327–8
- inflation in Great Britain: full employment without, 218, 227; Keynes's approach to, 213; war and postwar problems with, 213, 218
- inflation in U.S.: and economic expansion, 151; Keynes's approach to, 124; and monetary policy, 230; recommended controls for, 124–8
- informed opinion, see practical knowledge
- institutionalism, 156–7, 170
- Jackson, Andrew, 73, 74, 76; defeat of Adams by (1828), 100; on national improvements, 90
- Jardine, William M., 299
- Jefferson, Thomas: denunciation of Adams by, 86, 94; endorsement of Paine's writings by, 85; explanation of independence by, 81; inauguration of Cumberland Road by, 87; on national improvements, 87, 94, 95, 98
- Jenks, Jeremiah, 271, 272
- Jevons, W. S., 325
- Kahn, Alfred, 364–5, 375
- Kennedy, John F.: CEA under, 169, 432; focus of, on economic growth, 169

- Keynes, John Maynard, 14, 21, 36, 103, 105; as adviser to Treasury, 210, 214; on British bank rate policy, 199; on British Treasury interwar policy, 60, 68, 183–4; criticism of civil service by, 60; development of economic policy by, 62–3; on economic information, 198; effective demand theory of, 200, 202; emphasis on macroeconomic approach by, 219–20, 234; on employment of economists in government, 55–6; fiscal policy of, 114, 215–16, 235; full-employment analysis by, 121; on gold standard, 197; on government agencies and economic expertise, 56–8; influence on Beveridge Plan by, 387; on influencing fellow economists, 65; on influencing public opinion, 63–4; on laissez-faire, 56; letter by, to Roosevelt on government relations with business, 117n; and Macmillan Committee, 189–90; on multiplier, 202; on nineteenth-century legacy of political economy, 43–4; on public investment, 215; remedies for depression by, 190–1; on Ricardo's influence on economics, 43; views of, on economic mobilization for war, 124; on work of American Keynesians, 123–4
- Keynesianism, American, 14, 16, 19, 23; on inflationary controls, 123–4; postwar planning under, 133–5; World War II and, 129–30
- Keyserling, Leon, 147; and academics, 14, 21; on CEA and general economic theory, 156, 159–60; on GNP reporting, 167; institutionalism's effect on, 157, 170; on Korean War mobilization, 152–3; and Truman's CEA, 147, 149, 150, 151, 154
- Kitchin, Claude: on excess-profits taxation, 419; support of redistributive taxation by, 406–7
- Korean War, debate over financing, 153–4
- Krost, Martin, 111, 113
- Kuczynski, R. R., 447, 452
- Kuznets, Simon, 114n, 169; on interest in economic growth, 158, 162; national income reporting by, 110, 319
- labor unions: attitude of trusts toward, 272–3; BLS studies of, 251, 268; opposition to scientific management by, 257, 260; restraining influence of, during depressions, 252; stabilizing influence of conservative, 251; and wages, 261–2, 265; see also strikes
- La Follette, Robert M., 101; and national income estimates, 110
- laissez-faire*, 16, 17; British, 29, 44, 45; Keynes on, 56; U.S., 73, 74, 100, 101
- Larson, John Lauritz, 29, 31, 39, 73
- Lauck, Jett, 275; on industrial democracy, 282; on labor unrest, 276–7; on wage-payments method, 281
- Leffingwell, Russell C., 416, 421; on “war-profits” tax, 417, 419n
- Leiserson, William, 275; on cause of unemployment, 278; and public works and unemployment insurance, 279–80
- Leith-Ross, F. W., 175, 177; on Bank rate policy, 190; on foreign investment, 180–1; remedies for depressions by, 190–1; on wage rates, 184, 185
- Leybourne, Grace, 446
- liberty: Adams's views of, 75; constitutions' balancing of power and, 80; and democratic politics and laissez-faire, 74; human improvement in relation to, 78–9, 81–2, 99–100
- Llewellyn Smith, Hubert, 54, 66
- Lloyd George, David, 194, 204
- Local Government Board, 388; Poor Law reports by, 390, 392, 395
- London School of Economics, 52; population experts at, 446
- Lubin, Isador, 37, 113, 285
- McAdoo, William G., 10, 408, 421; on administration of excess-profits tax, 425–6; and democratic statism, 413; on income taxation, 406, 407; and “war-profits tax,” 418–19
- Macmillan, Harold, 210, 217, 218
- Macmillan Committee, see Committee on Finance and Industry
- macroeconomic theory: Commerce Department economists sympathetic to, 118, 119; counterrevolution in, 132; economic growth as yardstick for, 149, 154; economists vs. advisers and think tanks on, 66; on employment and output levels, 43; fiscal approach to, 109, 116; Keynesian-style, 30; and national income, 116; Truman CEA and, 147–8
- Madison, John, 80, 81, 85, 87; on national improvements, 94–5, 98
- Malthus, Robert 40; on economic growth, 158

- managerial economics: administrative organization for, 288–90; business groups and, 289; description of, 287n; industrial branch of, 300–1; institutional base for, 291–2; mechanism of, 287–8; university-based agencies for, 292n; see also Bureau of Agricultural Economics; National Bureau of Economic Research
- managerial states: and economic knowledge, 323–4; evaluation of 1920s, 323; origin of, 287
- Marshall, Alfred, 18, 56, 328, 397; on old-age pensions, 391; and Royal Commission on the Aged Poor, 385; and study of economics, 52–3; and Tariff Reform controversy, 54, 329, 336–7
- Marx, Karl, 158
- Massachusetts Bureau of Labor Statistics, 247
- Maxton, Jimmie, 450
- Meade, James, 205, 216, 361; on optimal population, 454
- Means, Gardiner, 125–6
- Meeker, Royal, 279
- Mellon, Andrew W., 10; and excess-profits tax, 427; and “supply-side” tax policy, 428; tax program of, 429, 431
- microeconomic theory: British, 368–9, 371–2; Keynesian neglect of, 234; U.S., 375
- Middleton, Roger, 194
- Mill, John Stuart, 40, 44, 56, 431; on political economy in education, 48–9
- Mitchell, Wesley Clair, 156, 157; business cycle studies under, 284, 304, 314; development of industrial branch of managerial economics by, 300; on effect of state on economic knowledge, 332–4; and establishment of NBER, 301–2; on new politico-economic organizations, 319–20
- Moggridge, Donald, 182
- Monopolies and Mergers Act (1965), 355–6, 359
- Monopolies and Restrictive Practices Commission (1948), 355, 374; findings of, 358–9; functions of, 356; members of, 357–8; and privatization of industry, 368; strengthening of, 359
- monopoly, 8; British nationalization as answer to, 357; USIC contribution to theory of, 271, 272
- Monroe, James, 83, 90
- moral improvement, 75, 82, 86
- Morgenthau, Henry, Jr., 109, 126, 432; on Keynesian economists in U.S., 128
- multiplier, 202
- Myrdal, Alva and Gunnar, 458; political achievements of, 442–3; program of social reform by, 440; pronatalism of, 441–2; social democratic approach to population by, 439; and socialist family policy, 441
- Nathan, Robert, 110, 117
- National Bureau of Economic Research (NBER), 15, 28, 32, 110, 288; business cycle study (1922–3) by, 303–5, 307; business cycle study (1928–9) by CREC and, 315–17; creation of, 301–2; goals of, 302; joint depression-related study by CREC and, 318–19; long-term projections by, 167; and managerial economics, 292, 320; national income research by, 163, 303; organizations represented in, 302; private sector funding for, 307; quasi-public status of, 314–15; tendencies toward antistatist corporatism of 308; unemployment conference of, 284; wage studies by, 265
- National Civic Federation, 32, 262, 291; BLS agenda to parallel efforts of, 263; corporatist approach to industrial relations by, 261
- national improvements, 29, 32, 39; Adams’s appeal for, 74, 76, 82, 87–8, 90, 95, 97; General Survey Act to promote, 88; as issue in presidential campaign (1824), 89–91; nationalist support for, 89–90; popular consensus in favor of, 95; press reaction to, 91–3; proposed constitutional amendment regarding, 87, 89, 95; republicanism and, 93–4, 97–8
- national income in Great Britain: management of economy by accounting framework of, 216; Treasury role in reporting, 232–4
- national income in U.S.: amount of, necessary for high employment level, 116–17; Commerce Department estimates of, 110; consumption relating to, 124–5; government fiscal actions influencing, 111; macroeconomic analysis of, 116; research on, 163
- nationalized industries in Great Britain: antitrust policy and, 363–4; economists in pricing policies of, 364–5, 372; management of, 366; pricing and investment policies of, 364–5; revenue support from government for, 367; rules for public corporations in, 365

- National Recovery Administration (NRA), 106; criticism of, 107; price-fixing and production control by, 140; Supreme Court decision on, 108
- National Resources Planning Board, 116–17, 128
- National Tax Association, 405, 409
- NBER, see National Bureau of Economic Research
- Neill, Charles P.: approach to labor relations by, 262–3; and National Civic Federation, 262–3, 268
- New Deal, 10, 37; agricultural policy of, 141–2; departmental changes under, 321–2; Department of Agriculture under, 297, 321, 322; economists in, 320, 321; National Recovery Administration and, 106–8, 140; taxation policy of, 432; see also Roosevelt, Franklin D.
- New Era: legacy of, 321; see also Bureau of Agricultural Economics; managerial economics; National Bureau of Economic Research
- New Liberalism, U.S.: conflicting conceptions of, 244–6; economic knowledge and formation of, 242–4; elements of, 26, 37; as middle path between capitalism and socialism, 56
- Niemeyer, Otto, 175, 182
- Niles, Hezekiah, 93
- Noble, Edward J., 118
- Northcote-Trevelyan principle, 47, 58
- Nourse, Edwin G., 147, 154; on CEA, 155; on economic theory, 159
- Office of Fair Trading, 374
- Office of Price Administration, 122, 125
- Paine, Thomas, 85–6
- Pareto Optimality, 373
- PCOU, see President's Conference on Unemployment
- Pechman, Joseph, 433
- Peden, George C., 6, 14, 18, 30, 122, 208
- Phillips, Frederick, 175, 176, 202; and white paper on unemployment, 195
- Pigou, A. C., 174, 397; on government industrial regulation, 328
- Pitt, William, 45
- Poggi, Gianfranco, 31
- political economy: academic recognition of British, 46–7, 50–1; achievements of British, 41–2, 46; and mid-1880s American industrialism, 242; post-1929 U.S., 138–9
- politics: functions of, 28; relationship between economic knowledge and, 15–16, 25–6, 30; social structure of, 36–7
- Pollock vs. Farmers' Loan and Trust Co.*, 404
- Poor Laws, 6, 29; economic knowledge and, 393; limitations of statistics on, 388; “poverty trap” impact of, 392; reform of, 40; see also Royal Commission on the Poor Laws
- population, British: decline of fertility rate and, 437, 445; economic decline and decline in, 457; economic knowledge and public policy on, 438, 458–60; journalistic interest in, 447; Population (Statistics) Bill for data on, 448; predictions on, 446; reversal of prewar trends in, 437; views by experts and activists on, 446; see also Population Investigation Committee Eugenics Society; Royal Commission on Population (1944–9); Royal Commission on the Geographical Distribution of the Industrial Population
- Population Investigation Committee Eugenics Society: and demographic science, 459; expertise on policies in, 447; policy of demographers in, 459–60; publicizing of information by, 447–8
- Posner, Michael, 362
- practical knowledge: and British interwar economic policy, 171; description of, 12–13; professional knowledge and, 21, 23; systematic theorizing for, 20–1
- President's Conference on Unemployment (PCOU), 303–4
- privatization program: economists in, 368, 369; for natural monopolies, 367; Thatcher government and, 367
- professional economic knowledge: advice to British government based on, 189; description of, 12; economic crises and, 17, 20; functions of, 68; levels of performance of, 16; practical knowledge and, 21, 23; state's role in, 14
- Progressive Era: government role in economic inquiry in, 243; investigations by Congress vs. permanent public agencies during, 268–9; public investigations of, 284; see also Bureau of Labor Statistics; Commission on Industrial Relations; New Liberalism; U.S. Industrial Commission
- Pryke, Richard, 367
- public investment: controlling, 230–2; as countercyclical device, 215; interest rates

- public investment (cont.)
and, 215–17; Keynes's approach to, 215–16
- public works: interwar financing of British, 186–9, 201–2; Labour government and, 193–6, 204; to relieve unemployment, 187, 194, 279–80; Treasury's views on, 187, 188–9, 193–4, 197; see also national improvements
- Ramsbottom, E. C., 451
- Reaganism, 38, 74
- Reddaway, W. B., 451, 454
- reflation, 201, 203
- republicanism, 73; Adams's claim to, 85–6; description of, 75; and national improvements, 93–4, 97–8; press and, 92
- Restrictive Trade Practices Act (1956), 355; establishment by, of Restrictive Practices Court, 359
- Revenue Acts: (1916), 407; (1917), 407–8; (1918), 420; (1921), 428
- Reynaud, Paul, 444
- Ricardo, David, 40; on economic growth, 158; influence of, on economic thought, 43
- Rice, Stuart: on influence of statistics, 163; on statistical program for post–World War II economy, 165
- Riley, Roderick, 118
- Ritchie, Thomas, 92–3
- Robbins, Lionel, 44, 227
- Robinson, Joan, 451, 454, 458
- Rockefeller Foundation, 314
- Roosevelt, Franklin D.: concerns of, with U.S. development, 139–40; and economic knowledge, 104–5, 135–7; on economists, 103; resource allocation problem during war years of, 128; see also New Deal; Roosevelt, Franklin D., first administration of; Roosevelt, Franklin D., second administration of
- Roosevelt, Franklin D., first administration of: contribution to economic knowledge by, 110; gold purchase program of, 107; and proposed “concentration and control” formula, 105; recommended deficit-spending program of, 109–10; and restoration of purchasing power, 106–7
- Roosevelt, Franklin D., second administration of: commitment to fiscal spending by, 115; demand for economists' services by, 115–16, 118–19; demand management during, 121–2; economic optimism at beginning of, 112; and factors leading to recession (1937–8), 112–14; full-employment priority of, 121–2; inflation during defense buildup of, 123–8; private sector capital spending during, 117, 120
- Rostow, W. W., 162
- Royal Commission on Population (1944–9): delays in reporting by, 437–8, 453, 454; and economic knowledge, 458; Economics Committee, 451, 453–7; establishment of, 436, 450; failure of, 438; family census of, 452–3, 459; findings of, 451, 455, 457; pronatalist policy of, 456; purpose of, 436–7; role of economists on, 438, 458–9; Statistical Committee of, 452, 453
- Royal Commission on the Depression in Trade and Industry, 28; on free trade vs. protection, 330–2
- Royal Commission on the Geographical Distribution of the Industrial Population (Barlow Commission), 16, 28; on location of industrial plants, 349, 350, 352
- Royal Commission on the Poor Laws, 54; economists' evidence before, 385–6; use of economic ideas by, 395
- Rubinow, Isaac M., 263
- Ruml, Beardsley, 115
- St. Simon, Claude Henri, 48
- Salant, Walter, 118, 122; on inflation, 123–4, 127; on marginal propensity to consume, 125
- Samuelson, Paul, 354
- Saulnier, Raymond J., 153
- Sauvy, Alfred, 444, 458
- scarcity economics: and Great Depression, 141–2; late war years shift from, 143–4
- science: Adams on American lack of interest in, 78; economic knowledge as, 70; modern states and, 31
- scientific management: arguments for, 258–9; BLS report on, 259–60; components of, 259; research on, 259n; union opposition to, 257, 260
- Seligman, Edwin R. A., 409, 422; on excess-profits tax, 412–15; and institutions of public finance, 406; on reform of property taxation, 405; support for progressive capitalism by, 413, 431; support for “tax reduction” plan by, 429–30
- Senior, Nassau, 389, 392
- Shoup, Carl, 126

- Sidgwick, Henry, 44, 383, 397
 Skowronek, Stephen, 31–2
 Slichter, Sumner, 275, 276
 Smith, Adam, 40, 45, 62; on economic growth, 158; on public works, 82
 Smith, Harold D., 128, 135
 Smithies, Arthur, 133–4
 social learning: during economic crises, 29; state institutions and, 27, 28 social policy in Great Britain: accumulated social and economic data for, 387–91; changes in, 396–9; common philosophy for economics and, 381; description of, 379; economic constraints on, 382–3; economic evidence at hearings on, 385–7; economic expertise and, 383–5; economic knowledge and making of, 379–81, 387, 391–6, 400; Gemeinschaft model for, 382; nineteenth-century public discussions of, 396; postwar views on, 399–400; social science: British vs. U.S. research in, 61–2; models for use of, 69–70; U.S. business schools and, 300; U.S. creation of federal bureaus for, 295–6
 Social Science Research Council, 147, 159
 Social Security Trust Fund, 113
 social welfare, U.S.: BLS wages and employment studies and, 248–58; CIR research on employment insecurity and, 278–80; CIR study of need for government sickness insurance and pension plans, 280; Progressive Era problem and, 242; at state level, 243
 Spence Economic Stability Act of 1949, 151, 153
 Stalin, Joseph, 443–4
 Stamp, Joseph, 424–5
 state institutions: compared structures of British and U.S., 27, 35–7; as contexts for social learning, 27–31; economic knowledge and creation of, 5; in formation of economic knowledge, 7, 9, 11, 27; mediating role of, 26, 33; political effects of, 34 statism: democratic, 413; see also managerial economics statistics: CEA role in developing, 164–7; expansion of, during World War II, 165; wage, 247 strikes: Anthracite and Pullman, 253, 267; arbitration and conciliation as alternatives to, 253; BLS reports on, 251–2; causes of, 251–2, 274, 276–7; CIR on, 274–5; distributive effect of, 252; union movements of 1880s and 1890s and, 285
 Supple, Barry, 3, 6, 14, 18, 28, 175
 Surrey, Stanley, 433
 Sweden: declining fertility rate in, 439; liberalization of sex-related laws in, 442; Myrdals' program of social reform for, 440
 Swedish Royal Commission on Population, 440–1
 Sydenstricker, Edgar, 275; on workers' income, 277, 278
 Tariff Commission, 332–3
 tariffs, British: arguments for, 332–4, 335; to encourage private investment, 338; potential effect of, on employment, 334–5; reform controversy over, 54, 329, 332, 336–7; selective industry "safeguarding" by, 338; supply of empirical information on, 337; vested interests' support for, 335–6 tariffs, U.S.: government revenues from, 403; income tax to replace revenue from, 404; political party differences on, 403–4
 Tawney, R. H., 58, 59
 Tax Reform Act of 1986, U.S., 433–4 taxation, British, 218, 220, 224, 228; excess-profits, 235 taxation, U.S.: economic information on, 402; economists' views on, 405; effect of, on consumption, 125; Keynesian support of increased, 129; parties in discussion on wartime, 414; to prevent inflation, 126–7; pre-World War I information about, 402–3; of property, 405; redistributive, 406–7, 428; relief from, 236; to stimulate economic growth, 432; "tax expenditure" exemptions from, 433–4; World War II fiscal management through, 130–1; use of economists to reform, 414; see also excess-profits taxation; income taxation
 Taylor, Henry C., 293, 312; plan for BAE by, 295–6
 Taylorism, see scientific management
 Temporary National Economic Committee, 119
 Thane, Patricia, 9, 49
 Thatcher, Margaret, see Thatcher government
 Thatcher government, 38; economists' relations with, 368; monopolies and mergers policy of, 360; privatization program of, 367

- Titmuss, Richard, 449
 Toynbee, Arnold, 42–3
 Trades Union Congress, 224
 Treasury, British: control of public expenditures by, 211–12; on free trade, 173, 175, 197; Keynes's influence on policies of, 205–6, 219–23, 336–7; model of economy by, 173–5, 203–4, 206; monetary policy of, 200; National Debt Enquiry, 221–2, 225–7; national income accounts reporting by, 232–4; and Padmore Committee on nationalized industries' pricing policies, 365; personnel of, 175–7, 211; on protectionism for industry, 345–6; on public works, 187–9, 193–4, 197; on relation of government and nationalized industries, 367; resistance to budget deficits by, 228; resistance to Keynesian ideas by, 60, 68, 172
 Treasury, U.S. Department of, 30, 409; counterinflationary strategies of, 126–8; investigation of tax options by, 416–17; under McAdoo vs. Mellon, 10; opposition to corporate decisionmaking by, 422; Thomas S. Adams and, 410–11; and World War II, 129–31
 Truitt, Paul, 119
 Truman, Harry S., 151; on economic theory, 159, 160; Fair Deal of, 149; and Korean War, 152; see also Council of Economic Advisers, Truman's
 Tugwell, Rexford Guy, 108; on concentration and control, 105–6; and institutionalism, 156–7
 Underwood Tariff of 1913, 404 unemployment in Great Britain: interwar policy on, 63n, 177, 186; problems with, in 1940s and 1950s, 213–14; public works to relieve, 187, 194, 212; recommendations for relief of, 192–3 unemployment in U.S.: BLS and CIR studies of, 278–9; conference on, 284; New Deal and potential permanent, 140; public works and insurance for, 279–80
 Unionist Social Reform Committee, 386
 United States: constitution and political structure and economic knowledge in, 7; energy utility regulation in, 364, 375; government bargaining power in, 37–8; industrial development of, 6; policy sources of, 9–10; republicanism of, 73, 75, 81, 85–6; social scientific research in, 61–2; see also New Era; Progressive Era
 U.S. Industrial Commission (USIC), 16, 23, 28, 36; in creation of economic knowledge, 285–6; hearings held by, 270; on monopoly and price theory, 271; recommendations by, 271; study of economy by, 269; on union relations, 272–4; wage theory of, 271–2
 University of Virginia, 79, 82
 Veblen, Thorstein, 156, 157
 Viner, Jacob, 44
 wages in U.S.: BLS research on, 261–2; CIR method for payment of, 281; development of statistics on, 247; private investigations on, 263–7; strikes' effect on lost, 252; USIC theory on, 271–2
 Wallace, Donald H., 156, 160
 Wallace, Henry A., 141; on abundance and full employment, 144
 Walsh, Frank, 283, 286; as chairman of CIR, 274
 Walters, Alan, 368
 Warburton, Clark, 132–3, 137
 Washington, George, 77, 81; on financing of capital improvements, 97–8
 Webb, Beatrice: on British avoidance of scientific method, 59–60; and economic teaching, 52, 54; interest of, in scientific government administration, 54; and Soviet communism, 60
 Webb, Sidney: and economic teaching, 52, 54; and Soviet communism, 60
 Wells, David Ames, 403
 Williamson, Harold F., 158
 Willoughby, William F., 256
 Wilson, Clyde N., 84
 Wilson, Horace, 211
 Wilson, Woodrow, 17; and tariff revenues, 406; and tax burden on wealthy, 432
 Winch, Donald, 14, 18, 20, 40
 Winter, Jay M., 23, 31, 39, 436
 Wolfe, Humbert, 349–50
 Wolman, Leo, 275, 316; study of union growth by, 278, 284
 Wood, Robert E., 145
 World Economic Conference of 1927, 313, 314
 world economy, 331, 347
 World War I: British fuel policy following, 339; government participation in economic knowledge during, 402; origin of managerial economics during, 288; tax reform during, 406; U.S. income taxation during, 401–2; value and practical-

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39424-6 - The State and Economic Knowledge: The American and British Experiences

Edited by Mary O. Furner and Barry Supple

Index

More informationIndex

477

- ity of economics during, 289–90; Veterans Bonus, 113
- World War II: economic expansion in mobilization for, 142, 143; expanded statistical capability during, 165; interest in British birthrate during, 449; Treasury tax program during, 129–31; U.S. as national security state following, 323
- Wright, Carroll: approach to economic stabilization by, 251; business cycle analysis by, 249–50, 256; on causes of depressions, 249–50; on conditions of American labor, 250, 254; rejection by, of redistributive measures, 257; on role as head of BLS, 248; support for studies on Negro life by, 255–6; support for unions by, 251, 253, 258; views of, on BLS functions and investigations, 248–9
- Young, Owen D., 304