

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39733-9 - Value and Justification: The Foundations of Liberal Theory

Gerald F. Gaus

Index

More informationIndex

- Abselson, Robert P., 113, 117, 184, 220
 Ackerman, Bruce A., 243, 356, 359, 258, 383, 482
 Adcock, Christine, 217, 221 aesthetics, 125, 128–9, 156, 158, 217 affect, see also feeling and amount of psychic energy, 177–8 and attitudes towards presidential candidates, 117 and attitudes, 112–18
 and consistency, 220
 and deliberation, 182–4
 and indifference substitution function, 181, 182 and knowledge, 55 and Kohlberg's account of moral development, 298 and learning theory, 13
 and needs, 101–5
 and neurological theories, 41–4, 45–6 and personal value judgments, 159–60 and psychological theories, 44–5 and psychopaths, 296
 and rational action, 136
 and somatic sensations, 41, 43
 and summation theory of attitudes, 112–18, 213 and the hedonistic thesis, 106 as element of emotion, 41, 48, 49, 64, 80 as essentially evaluative, 70 as mental feelings, 26–8, 41–2 as more basic than desire, 88–100, 165 as part of value, 3, 212, 241, 246–7 attempt to explain in terms of desire, 93 basic, specific and general, 42, 142–4 contents of affective states need not be beliefs or propositions, 54–5 difficulty in communicating complex states, 47 evidence for, 41–9 failure to be evoked not a rational defect, 159, 172, 300
 free-floating, 55, 71 identified independently of appropriate beliefs, 42, 44, 49 in animals and infants, 48, 49 intensity differences, 175–6, 179–80
 intentionality of, 49, 108 no appropriateness conditions for levels of, 75, 186 non-intentional, 173 not necessary for rational action, 164 panculturally recognized, 46 positive and negative, 42, 67–9, 115–17
 public expression of, 45–8
 trade off rates between, 180 types of and comparative value judgments, 176 ways to accommodate affect presupposition of valuing, 105 affective disposition, 76, 79, 118
 Affective-Cognitive Theory of emotion, 41–79 Affective-Cognitive Theory of value, 80 acceptance of and objectivity, 201 account of moral value, 376–8 and agent-relativity of value-based reasons, 256 and attitude theory, 12, 112–18 and Blum's account of altruism, 259 and egocentrism, 278, 279 and impersonal comparative value judgments, 189
 and needs, 101–4, 424
 and nihilism, 16, 336
 and open question argument, 244

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39733-9 - Value and Justification: The Foundations of Liberal Theory

Gerald F. Gaus

Index

More information

- and puzzles about the concept of desert, 487
- and Strong Externalism, 157
- and unity of personality, 389, 478
- and Value-Grounded Rationalism, 312
- as a non-comparative account of value, 174
- as a psychological theory of value, 247
- as non-skeptical theory of value, 11, 243
- confirms diverse valuations of pluralistic culture, 11
- contrasted to hedonism, 105, 145
- contrasted to Perry's theory, 112
- defense of weak impersonality, 149
- distinction between valued and valuable, 361
- grounds for accepting, 10–12
- in what way revisionist, 241–4
- main claims of, 10, 25, 145
- no special feeling for value assumed by, 109
- rejection of temporal neutrality, 203, 239–41
- rules out claim of Ueberrnensch, 311
- stresses intentionality of affect, 108–9
- valuing as prior to value judgments in, 145
- agency
 - and deliberation, 403
 - not necessarily valued, 393
- agent-neutral reasons for action, see also reasons for action, value-based reasons for action
 - and consequentialism, 14
 - and moral value, 376
 - and morality of virtue, 378
 - and objectivist accounts of value, 10
 - and objectivity, 190
 - and orthodox view, 255
 - not suited to contractual arguments, 329
 - rejection of liberalism based on, 480
- agent-relative reasons for action, see also reasons for action, value-based reasons for action
 - and constrained teleological justification, 379
 - and contractualism, 19
 - and Hobbes' theory, 256
 - and justification, 321
 - and orthodox view, 255
 - and subjective theories of value, 10, 256
 - and the point of morality, 270
 - and value judgments, 13
 - as element of contractual argument, 329
 - distinguished from agent-neutral, 190
 - view of life supposing only, 278
- Ajzen, Isck, 113–16, 118, 119, 184, 206, 211, 213, 229
- Allport, Gordon W., 128, 176, 206, 217, 218, 231, 384
- Alston, William P., 29, 34
- altruism
 - and friendship, 288
 - and moral value, 377
 - as acceptable in teleological justification, 349
 - distinguished from objectivity, 203
 - emotional account of contrasted with Nagel's view, 259
 - excluded by most liberal justifications, 361–2
 - not adequate account of moral reasons, 259
- amoralist, 292–300, 310–11; see also Nazi, psychopathy
- amusingness, 62, 149, 245, 247
- Anderson, Lynn R., 220
- angels, 102
- anger
 - a standard case of, 58, 59
 - and arousal, 33, 35–41
 - and attitudes, 117
 - and indignation, 74
 - and somatic sensations, 43
 - as a feeling, 27, 29, 44
 - as a free-floating emotion, 60
 - as intentional state, 52
 - as negative emotion, 68
 - as open to mere valuer-agents, 284–6
 - public expression of, 46
- animals, 370
- Anschutz, J. P., 464
- Anscombe, G. E. M., 1, 94
- anxiety, 30, 63
- appetites, 58, 63, 141
- Aquinas, Thomas, 335
- Archimedean perspective, 198
- Argyle, Michael, 136, 294, 299, 314

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39733-9 - Value and Justification: The Foundations of Liberal Theory

Gerald F. Gaus

Index

More information

- Arieti, Silvano, 296
 Aristotle, 2, 52, 102, 235, 314, 327, 378, 457, 474
 Arnold, Magda B., 34, 72, 143
 Arrow, Kenneth, 350, 448
 Asch, Solomon E., 206
 Attfield, Robin, 138, 191, 248, 250 attitudes and appraisal, 205–6 and beliefs about goodness, 155 and valuing, 112
 as foundational, 215, 229 contents can be vague, 206 correlation with values, 215–17 pro-attitudes and desire, 94 relation to values, 205 summation theory of, 112, 213–14, 220–21 two-component view of, 116–18, 184–5 Audi, Robert, 130, 140, 219 autism, 388 autonomy, 386, 394, 398, 400
 Axelrod, Robert, 261 axiology, ix, 4, 25, 83, 108, 127, 140, 147, 171, 243, 247, 359
 Bagozzi, Richard P., 113
 Baier, Annette, 291
 Baier, Kurt, 2, 136, 222, 279, 309, 330 advocates instrumental view of reasons to be moral, 274 agreement with Hobbes on self-interest as foundation of morality, 257, 361 and paradox of Value-Grounded Rationalism, 272 answer to question “Why be moral?”, 271 ideal of rational agent, 135, 273 on benefit dimension of value, 103 on moral reasons overriding self-interest, 270 on the rationality of unconcern about others, 197 on the relation of values and valuing, 205–6 emphasizes benefit dimension of value, 103, 222 recognition that all reasons to act are not self-interested, 362 three crucial claims made by, 273 upholding comparative conception of value, 173
 Bakunin, Michael, 224
 Baldwin, Mark W., 118
 Balinese, 373, 383, 389
 Barry, Brian, 104, 105, 323, 336, 344, 347
 Bayles, Michael D., 404
 Beattie, Sharon, xii beauty, 156, 247; see also aesthetics
 Becker, Lawrence C., 3, 7, 106, 113, 120, 129, 156, 166, 192, 410, 411, 414, 418, 432
 Bedford, Errol, 26
 Beehler, Roger, 85
 Beit-Hallahmi, Benjamin, 387 belief, 225 about causes of emotion, 38–9, 112 about goodness, 118–24, 155, 269 and the appropriateness of emotions, 29, 41, 64–79
 and attitudes, 112–18
 and consistency, 219
 and errors in practical reason, 134 and testimonial credents, 147–57 and truth-centered, 317 and web metaphor, 230–31 as cause of affect, 50–52
 as causes of valuing, 225 as grounds for emotions, 29–32, 39, 57–64
 coherence of, 231
 evaluative and emotions, 70 fictional, 54
 grounding beliefs as justifying and causal, 57, 7, 156
 intentionality of, 52
 not necessarily the contents of affective states, 54 not sufficient for valuing, 83, 119–24 number salient in attitude formation, 113–14 pragmatic completeness, 74–9, 169, 190 rational need not be conscious, 95
 Ben-Zeev, Aron, 250
 Benditt, Theodore, 87
 benevolence, see altruism
 Benn, Stanley, I., v, x, 81, 83, 97, 168, 177, 179, 182, 231, 232, 234, 258, 326, 348, 372, 386, 388, 398, 464 and overriding action commitments, 363

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39733-9 - Value and Justification: The Foundations of Liberal Theory

Gerald F. Gaus

Index

More information

- and presumption in favor of liberty, 382
- as example of right-based view of distributive justice, 472
- concept of a natural person, 275
- model of a rational agent, 267
- on appropriate response to valuing, 138
- on commitment to preserve and protect what is valued, 137
- on concern for welfare of art not derived from human welfare, 103
- on cross-cultural conceptual analysis, 110
- on distinction between public and private morality, 322–3
- on enterprise associations, 338
- on indignation and resentment as moral emotions, 284
- on love that smothers, 280
- on psychopathy, 292
- on public and private, 5–6
- on rational participation in politics, 207
- on the complexity of the label “objectivist” theory of value, 10
- on the enormous cost of adopting solipsism, 277
- on the priority of personal reflection over interpersonal justification, 21
- on the sacrifice of integrity in public life, 236
- on usual vs. technical meaning of “preference,” 8
- on valuing as equivalent to reasoned choice, 100
- Bennett, Jonathan, 50, 58
- Benson, G. C. S., 482
- Benson, Jann, 307
- Bentham, Jeremy, 106, 175, 206, 232
- Berlin, Isaiah, 176, 177, 221, 222, 391, 392, 395
- Berry, Christopher J., 389
- Bettelheim, Bruno, 129, 229, 230–2, 293, 339, 387, 388
- Birch, Charles, 248
- blameworthiness, 281
- Bluhm, William T., 441
- Blum, Lawrence A., 79, 259, 288–90
- Bogart, John, 415
- Bond, E. J., 2, 3, 11, 25, 84, 85, 87, 89, 106, 147, 154, 161, 162, 165, 173, 254, 376
- Boruah, Bijoy H., 58, 61, 62, 72, 75
- Bosanquet, Bernard, xi, 231, 235, 236
- Boulding, Kenneth, E., 181, 182
- Braddon-Mitchell, David, xii
- Brahams, J., 161–4
- Brandt, Richard B., 9, 13, 68, 88, 91, 112, 113, 134, 135, 142, 441
- Braybrooke, David, 104, 342, 425, 427, 448
- Brentano, Franz, 50, 52, 108, 124, 168, 173, 174, 178, 179, 186, 219
- Bridger, Gale W., 482
- Broad, C. D., 68, 364
- Brock, Dan, 333, 399, 400, 402–404
- Brown, Robert, 65, 228
- Bryne, D., xii
- Buchanan, Alan, 417, 433
- Buchanan, James M., 330, 380, 381, 404
- Buckle, Stephen, xi, 408, 419, 423, 473
- Buckley, Norman, 200, 260
- Burnkrant, Robert E., 113
- Cadwallader, Eva H., 3
- Callahan, Mary, xii
- Campbell, James, 153
- Cannon, Walter B., 28
- capitalism, 434, 464
- Carr, Spencer, 328
- Carter, Jimmy, 30
- Carter, Robert Edgar, 110
- Castañeda, Hector-Neri, 214
- Catholic political philosophy, 334, 335
- Chaiken, Shelly, 118
- Chapman, John W., xi, xiii, 231, 389, 459, 464, 471, 473
- character ideals, 181
 - and choosing values, 10
 - and comparative valuing, 184
 - and unity of personality, 232
 - morality of, 378
- Charvet, John, 389
- Chess, Stella, 76
- Chisholm, Roderick, 173, 174, 219
- Christman, John, 408, 411, 415
- Cleckley, H., 294, 296, 297
- coercion, 390, 391, 396, 397
- cognition, see belief
- Cohen, Brenda, 166
- Cohen, Elliot D., 3, 140, 223
- Coleman, Jules, 346, 347
- Collingwood, R. G., 455

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39733-9 - Value and Justification: The Foundations of Liberal Theory

Gerald F. Gaus

Index

More information

- commitments to act, 133, 363; see also reasons to act
- common good, 334–59
 - and moral rules, 273
 - and aggregate/distributive distinction, 336
 - and compromise, 343–6
 - and contractualism, 18, 334–6
 - and cosmopolitan morality, 373, 479
 - and deontological justification, 363–5
 - and distributive justice, 474
 - and justice, 335, 336, 351, 352
 - and neutrality, 356–359
 - and proceduralism, 351–6
 - and the general will, 351
 - as core of constrained teleological justification, 438, 476
 - as favored interpretation of contractualism, 19, 334
 - characterized, 334–336
 - distinguished from utilitarian arguments, 335
 - individualist contrasted with Catholic conception of, 335–6
 - two opposing interpretations of, 354
 - types of arguments, 337–56
- community
 - and shared valuings, 16
 - characterized, 481, 482
 - moral, 374
- community of valuing, 335–9
- comparative value judgments, 173–90
 - and deliberation, 183
 - Brentano's view of, 186–7
 - criticism of, 190
 - impersonal, 185–90
 - Moore's suggestion, 187
 - trade-offs and opportunity costs 230
- comparative valuing, 74, 175–205
 - and background values, 184
 - and Freudian theory of psychic energy, 177–8
 - and friendships, 288
 - and intensity of affect, 175–6
 - and preference, 178
 - as a barrier to paternalism, 400
 - forgoing promoting a value distinguished from renouncing it, 230
 - neo-millian account of, 179–82
 - often ignored in political theory, 258
- completeness
 - and cosmopolitan morality, 372
 - as an assumption of the contractual argument, 444
 - as requirement for sound public moralities, 326
- compliance problem, 257–61, 272, 301
- compromise
 - and constrained teleology, 333–4
 - and distributive justice, 473
 - and equal liberty, 467
 - and justification of democracy, 477–8
 - and liberalism, 455, 465
 - and minimax relative concession, 344–51, 438
 - and the common good, 343–6
- conception of others
 - and decentering, 198
 - and solipsism, 275–7
 - as mere valuer-agents, 278–300
 - egocentric, 277–8
 - recognition of others' reality and agent-relative reasons for action, 191
- concepts
 - and normative ethics, 9
 - clarification of, 4
 - practical nature of, 6, 81
 - reconstruction of, 9–11
 - semantic theories of, 4–9
- consequentialism
 - and non-truth centered belief, 317
 - and orthodox view, 15
 - based on objectivity as impartiality, 243
 - characterized by agent-neutral view of reasons and orthodox view, 255
 - deep intuition informing, 262
 - undermined by agent-relativity of value-based reasons for action, 13, 14
- conservatism
 - and denial of right to natural liberty, 430
 - and liberalism, 455, 457, 465
 - as an ideology, 441
- consistency, see also valuational consistency, principle of
 - and acceptance of value-grounded rationalism, 306
 - and universalizability, 306
 - not simply a value, 313–15
 - of value judgments, 219
- constrained teleology

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39733-9 - Value and Justification: The Foundations of Liberal Theory

Gerald F. Gaus

Index

More information

- and agent-relative reasons for action, 19, 379
- and common good arguments, 335
- and contractualism, 19, 329
- characterized, 17, 331
- formal distinguished from substantive constraints, 332
- relation to bargaining models, 438
- consumers' surplus, 341–2
- contempt 44, 305
- contractual argument, Ch. IX; see also contractualism, public justification
 - a sense in which it violates neutrality, 470
 - and basic structure of society, 406
 - and state of nature, 379–81, 429–39
 - as compromise justification, 440
 - as selection of public ideology, 439–43
 - assumes no veil of ignorance, 354, 380
 - assumptions of, 444–9, 457
 - constrained by natural right to property, 432–3, 473
 - equal liberty as a compromise in, 467
 - immoral proposals, 365, 431–7
 - in N-dimensional space, 457–66
 - in one-dimensional political space, 443–57
 - irrational values excluded from, 429–31
 - law of nature as foundation, 404, 435
 - number of alternatives considered in, 445
 - ranking of alternatives and non-tuism, 348–51, 354
 - reasons to reject strongly procedural version of, 354–6
 - role of impersonal value judgments in, 357, 358
 - supposes large numbers of people, 447, 461
- contractualism, 18–19
 - all rational values are relevant, 350
 - and animals, 370
 - and children, 372
 - and common good, 18, 334–6
 - and compromise arguments, 343
 - and constrained teleology, 19, 329
 - and priority of deontology to teleology, 18, 380
 - and public justification, 15–19, 328–9
 - and utilitarian contracts, 333
 - consent not fundamental to, 19, 328
 - neutrality not a part of, 356–9
 - not based on agent-neutral reasons for action, 243
 - not necessarily based on good of contractors, 367–72
 - Scanlon's view of disputed, 367–72
 - whether it sanctions long-term losers, 354
- Cooper, Neil, 2, 119, 123, 138, 171, 179, 221, 269
- coordination problem, 261, 280, 301
- cosmopolitan morality, 372–6, 479
- Cox, David N., 293, 294
- Cranor, Carl, 138
- cruelty, 40, 370, 407
- Culver, Charles, 397, 398
- D'Agostino, Fred, x, 20, 21, 400
- Dagger, Richard, 387, 393
- Dahl, Robert, 434–6
- Daniels, Norman, 20
- Davis, Nancy, 192
- Davison, Ian, 25, 110
- Deiner, Ed, 172
- deliberation, 2
 - and affective disposition, 178
 - and reasons, 182–4
 - and weighing values, 178
 - flaws in and paternalism, 403, 404
 - role of important and foundational values in, 230
 - trade-off of valuing, 178
- democracy, 373, 435, 446, 477, 483
- deontological justification, 14, 21, 362–7; see also justification, public justification
- and consensus, 364
- and description of state of nature, 378–81
- and desert-based arguments for property, 410, 411
- and need-based arguments, 423–8
- and parochial morality, 373
- and the harm principle, 420–3
- as prior to teleological, 18, 379
- distinguished from Simple Rationalism, 263
- of friendship, fidelity, wrongness of cruelty, 368, 407

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39733-9 - Value and Justification: The Foundations of Liberal Theory

Gerald F. Gaus

Index

More information

- quickly exhausted in pluralistic culture, 366
- rational commitment to, 365–7
- Rawls' view of, 364–5
- derived valuations and value judgments, 116, 130–44, 184–8
- Descartes, Rene, 26
- desert 410–20, 485–9
 - and exchange, 416–20
 - and institutions, 487
 - and justice, 488–9
 - and Lockean proviso, 415
 - and value, 485–9
 - commitment to and social contract, 432–3
 - economic, 485
 - reward model of, 485
- desire
 - and craving satisfaction, 84, 85–8, 93
 - and goals, 84, 93
 - and Nagel's view of agent-relative value, 199
 - and somatic sensations, 86
 - and Spinoza's theory of emotion, 50
 - and the desirable, 163
 - and the will, 84
 - and utilitarian theories of value, 2
 - as impulse, 91
 - as inclination, 84
 - as motivational propensity, 84, 88–93, 97
 - as preference, 99
 - as presupposition of valuing, 84–100
 - as wanting, 94–5, 97
 - attempt to explain affect in terms of, 93
 - derived from affect, 132
 - irrational, 87–8, 91–3
 - not necessary for action, 97, 164, 316
 - not primitive, 84–101, 132
 - satisfaction of, 84, 93–4
 - second-order, 233
- Dewey, John, 80, 128, 455
- Diamond, Arthur M., 139
- Diggs, B. J., 334
- Dillon, William R., 116
- dirty hands, 236
- disagreement about value, 2
 - and paternalism, 401
 - genuine, 167
 - not possible under extreme subjectivism, 165–6
 - when fruitful, 188, 189
- disgust, 27, 44, 46, 53, 54, 117, 247, 282, 484
- dispositions, see habit
- distinctive importance of one's own
 - valuational perspective, 11
 - and case for natural liberty, 426
 - and paternalism, 402
 - rationality of, 194
- distress, 65, 67, 68, 484
- distributive justice, 470–6
 - and common pool of assets, 471–2
 - and universal benefit, 427
 - desert-based conception of, 417–18, 435
 - right-based approach to, 472
- Douglass, Bruce, 335
- Downs, Anthony, 446, 452, 458
- Dunn, John, 437
- Durkheim, Emile, 337
- Dworkin, Gerald, 396
- Dworkin, Ronald, 10, 178, 270, 382, 431, 473
- Eaton, Howard O., 108, 127, 210, 226, 247
- education, 482–3
- Edwards, Rem B., 181
- egocentrism
 - and Affective-Cognitive Theory of value, 14, 199
 - and love, 280
 - and psychopaths, 298
 - as lack of objectivity, 199
 - distinguished from egoism, 279
 - Piaget's concept of, 199
- egoism, 191–3, 224, 256, 279, 289–90, see also self-interest
- Ehrensfeis, Christian, 3, 85, 92
- Ekman, Paul, 46–7
- Elliot, Robert, 372, 482
- Ellsworth, Phoebe, 46
- Elster, Jon, 474
- Emmons, Robert A., 172
- emotion, Ch. II
 - absurd, 29–31
 - akrasia* of, 125
 - ambivalence of, 78, 219–23
 - and action tendencies, 72
 - and altruism, 259
 - and arousal, 59–60
 - and belief, 29, 32, 61, 64, 77–9, 125
 - and consistency, 178, 223
 - and evaluation, 69–74, 118

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39733-9 - Value and Justification: The Foundations of Liberal Theory

Gerald F. Gaus

Index

More information

- and friendship, 288
- and psychopathy, 295
- and rational action, 136–40
- and self-deception, 32
- and theory of justice, viii
- appropriateness of, 29–32, 41, 58–61, 64–79, 92, 125, 167
- as affective and cognitive, 64
- as based on same relation as value, 246, 247
- as cultural artifact, 67, 139
- as feelings, 27
- as focuser on environment, 56, 58, 72–3
- central neural theory of, 28–9
- cognitive-arousal theory of, 35–41
- content of emotional state distinguished from objects, 51–61
- contrasted with moods and appetites, 63–4, 140–4
- criticism of, 25, 75, 124–6, 165–72, 190
- directed at fictional characters, 54, 57, 61, 72
- directed at future events, 62–3
- dispositional distinguished from occurrent, 66, 110–11
- evaluative theory of, 70
- free-floating, 55, 59–60, 63
- genetic component of, 28–9, 139
- grounded on belief, 32, 67, 139
- ill-grounded, 31–2
- intentionality of, 25, 49
- internal sensation theory of, 36–43, 45, 49, 64
- objectless, 61–4
- open-ended appropriateness conditions, 67, 166
- positive and negative, 69–76, 111
- prospective and motivation, 165
- rejection of appropriateness conditions for being nonemotional, 75
- somatic-viscera theories of, 25–8
- standard case, 58–61
- targets of, 32
- unworthy, 124–6
- Enelow, James M., 446, 452, 460
- Engeman, T. S., 482
- enjoyment, 44, 55, 65, 73–4
- enterprise associations, 338–9
- environmentalism, 103, 163–4, 221, 247, 394, 432, 459, 461, 462, 464
- epistemology, 12, 106
- equal liberty, see also liberty, natural
 - liberty argument for, 466–70
 - not based on neutrality or skepticism, 359
- equality
 - and liberty, 458, see also equal liberty
 - as a foundational socialist value, 442
 - as a value, 209, 211, 216, 377
 - views of distributive justice which stress, 473
- Euclidean space, 460
- evaluation
 - and affective response, 118
 - and attitudes, 114, 205–6
 - and emotion, 69–74, 109
 - and standards, 119–24
- Ewin, R. E., 264
- Ewing, A. C., 76
- exchange, 340–3, 416–20
- excitement, 166–71, 183
- exhaustiveness of preference structures, 447, 460
- externalism, see also strong externalism
 - and criticism of others' values, 278
 - and impersonal value judgments, 165
 - as theory of motivation and moral obligation, 153–4, 264
 - challenge of impartiality, 194
 - in value theory, 153–61
 - minimal, strong and weak distinguished, 154
 - of reasons for action, 73, 133, 135, 154, 268
- fascism, 386, 444, 465
- fear, 484
 - and somatic sensations, 43
 - appropriateness conditions for, 65
 - as a feeling, 27, 29
 - as an affect, 42, 44
 - as an intentional state, 53
 - as disvaluing, 111
 - as emotional state, 66
 - discounting of, 178
 - does not require propositional content, 55
 - identified as pancultural, 46
 - irrational, 30, 76–7, 227
 - rational response to, 138
- Feather, Norman T., 112, 212
- feeling, see also affect
 - and desire, 86
 - and hunger, 141

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39733-9 - Value and Justification: The Foundations of Liberal Theory

Gerald F. Gaus

Index

More information

- and internal sensational theory, 27
- intentional contrasted with non-intentional, 52
- non-intentional and pain, 142–44
- Feinberg, Joel, 4, 6, 9, 76, 94, 281, 289, 382, 392, 393, 404, 413, 420–3
- feminism, 349, 406
- Findlay, J. N., 51, 82, 93, 108, 109, 110, 113, 136
- Fennis, John, 207, 235, 313, 324, 334, 335, 339
- Fishbein, Martin, 113–16, 118, 119, 176, 184, 206, 211, 213, 220, 221, 229
- Fishkin, James S., 14, 149, 166, 196, 202, 203, 362, 376
- Flathman, Richard E. 281, 387, 396
- Foot, Philippa, 155–7, 162, 194, 197, 264, 269, 271
- Ford, Harrison, 75
- Fortenbaugh, W. W., 52
- foul dealers, 303, 304
- Foxton, Ra, xii
- Frankena, William K., 154, 245, 265, 331
- Frankenstein monsters, 475, 476
- Frankfurter, Harry G., 233
- Freud, Sigmund, 31, 59, 77, 90, 93, 177, 393
- Fried, Charles, 99, 187, 231, 239, 384, 287, 288, 324
- Friedman, Richard, 402
- friendship
 - and moral personality, 319
 - and private morality, 324
 - and psychopaths, 294
 - and respect, 291
 - and rights, 287
 - as deontologically justified, 407
 - as supposing moral principles, 360, 362
 - justification of supposes other-regarding values, 349–51
 - Kantian conception of, 287–8
 - lack of by mere valuer-agents, 287–92
 - not primarily emotion, 288–91
 - temporally extended nature of, 228
 - undermined by account of morality as irrational habits, 305
 - value of, 285
- Friesen, Wallace V., 46
- Frijda, Nico H., 28, 34, 44, 46–8, 60, 63, 66, 68, 72
- Fromm, Eric, 386
- Fronzizi, Risieri, 81, 107, 244, 247
- Fuller, Lon, 338
- functional autonomy, 128
- Galston, William A., 105, 237, 313, 322, 437, 455, 470, 481
- Garnett, A. Campbell, 225
- Gauthier, David, xi, 257, 303, 347, 415, 448, 460
 - and requirement that no one be driven from bargaining table, 344, 437
 - as example of common assets view of social justice, 472
 - assumptions of value maximization and non-tuism, 348
 - defense of free-market liberalism, 471
 - employing state of nature as benchmark, 380
 - instrumental, 129
 - judgments of and externalism, 154
 - medical, 122
 - related to the right, 14–5
 - Scanlon's view that it is crucial to contractualism, 367
 - technical, 121, 128, 129
 - vague sense of, 123–4, 171, 269
- Geertz, Clifford, 67, 383, 384, 388, 442, 459
- general will, 351
- generalized valuing of morality argument, 259–60
- Gert, Bernard, 3, 119, 169, 181, 397, 398
- Gesellschaft, 325
- Gewirth, Alan, 94–9, 187, 243, 286, 314, 471, 472
- Gillmore, Janet, 200, 260
- Goffman, Erving, 384, 388
- Golding, Martin, xii, 291, 343, 344, 353
- good
 - and one's purposes, 98
 - and teleological argument, 331
 - beliefs about, 118–24, 155
 - conception of and a person's values, 238
 - distinguished from values, 234, 426
- Goodin, Robert, 193, 323

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39733-9 - Value and Justification: The Foundations of Liberal Theory

Gerald F. Gaus

Index

More information

- Gordon, Robert M., 6, 28, 30, 32, 34, 35, 40
- Gow, David John, xi, 450
- Gracia, Jorge J. E., 226, 247
- Gray, John, 21, 328, 387
- greed, 54, 57, 61
- Green, O. H., 30, 61
- Green, T. H., 235, 289, 339, 392, 393
- Greenspan, Patricia S., 68, 69, 78, 179, 220
- grief, 137
- Griffin, James, 2, 176, 182
- Grunberg, Ludwig, 158
- Gutmann, Amy, 481, 483
- Guttman, Louis, 175
- habit
- and moral action, 300–6
 - as rational, 95
 - irrational, 304
- Haksar, Vinit, 295
- extension of two person case to n-persons, 469
 - harmony justification of the market, 340–2
 - his account of minimax relative concession, 344
 - his contractual theory as constrained teleology, 330–2
 - his minimax relative concession as an interpretation of compromise, 343, 438
 - insists that in contractualism there are no long-term losers, 354
 - non-tuism as a way to filter values, 361–2
 - on a just society and universal benefit, 335
 - on preference satisfaction as value, 331
 - on the rationality of moral dispositions, 302–4
- Halliday, R. J., 464
- Hampshire, Stuart, 60, 90, 176, 177, 181
- Hampton, Jean, 267, 281, 302, 334
- Hancock, Roger N., 245
- Hardin, Russell, 469, 472
- Hare, R. M., 91, 99, 101, 152, 191, 286, 295–7, 299, 307, 331, 441
- Hare, Robert D., 293, 294, 371
- harm, 169, 285, 420–3
- Harman, Gilbert, 85, 102, 201, 236, 344
- harmony, 222, 339–43
- Harris, Marvin, 139
- Harris, Paul, xiii
- Harrison, George J., 166
- Harsanyi, John C., 9, 331, 344
- Hart, H. L. A., 227
- Hart, Samuel, 3
- Hartmann, Heinz, 231, 384
- Hartmann, Nicolai, 82, 175
- Hayek, F. A., 29, 353, 354, 355, 455
- Hayes, Edward C., 191
- hedonic tone theory, 68–9
- hedonism
- account of intrinsic and extrinsic value, 127
 - and desire, 87
 - and J. S. Mill, 179
 - and prospective affects, 165
 - and satisfaction, 107
 - and the environment, 248–50
 - contrasted to Affective-Cognitive Theory, 105, 145
 - hedonistic thesis, 106, 107
 - inadequacy of as an account of value, 105–8, 241
 - partial truth of, 138
- Hegel, G. W. F., 413
- Held, Virginia, 321, 335
- Henderson, T. Y., 7
- Hinch, Melvin J., 446, 452, 460
- Hobbes, Thomas, viii, ix, 85, 267, 279–81, 304, 340, 404
- and destroying those outside the social contract, 371
 - and the common good, 334
 - as advocate of agent-relative values, 256–7
 - description of the wicked man, 293
 - on conditions for blameworthiness, 282
 - on the immoral as suffering from false reasoning, 295
 - self-interested argument for morality, 361
- Hobbes' Fool, 302–4
- Hobbes' state of nature
- and agent-relative reasons for action, 256
 - and natural law, 404
 - as basis for social contract, 380
 - as regime of pure liberty, 281

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39733-9 - Value and Justification: The Foundations of Liberal Theory

Gerald F. Gaus

Index

More information

- populated by mere valuer-agents, 280
- war of all against all, 381
- Hobhouse, L. T., 446, 471, 473
- Hohfeld, Wesley, 281
- homosexuality, 234
- Honoré, A. M., 227
- Horney, Karen, 234, 384
- Hotelling, Harold, 446
- Hovland, Carl I., 116
- human flourishing, 102, 236, 237, 243
- human nature, viii, ix, xi, 377
- Hume, David, viii, ix, 26, 87, 90, 92, 109, 134, 164, 165, 315
- hunger, 42, 43, 64
 - and intrinsic valuing 140
 - as craving 85
- Hunter, R., 221
- Hutchinson, Francis, 109
- idealism, 231, 235, 236
- ideology
 - and conceptual analysis, 5
 - and social contract, 19
 - and truth claims, 442
 - anti-liberal, 466–70
 - as alternatives in contractual negotiation, 439–43
 - as device for coping with ignorance, 458–9
 - hostile, and equal liberty, 468ff
- impartiality, 190–8
- impersonal value judgments, 11, 13, see also comparative value judgments, value judgments
 - and Affective-Cognitive Theory, 242–4
 - and background interests, 160
 - and contractual argument, 357
 - and externalism, 165
 - and future valuing, 240–2
 - and moral value, 377–8
 - and reasons for action, 161–5, 189–90
 - and Strong Externalism, 158
 - comparative, 185–90
 - distinguished from personal, 157
 - rational criticisms of, 166–7
 - role of in education, 482–3
- impersonality
 - strong distinguished from weak, 149
- inclusiveness
 - as an assumption of the contractual argument, 444
- inclusiveness, principle of, 187–8
- indignation
 - and anger, 74
 - and right to natural liberty, 383
 - as presupposing an evaluation, 69, 70, 360
 - at interference with the self's activity, 394
 - not open to mere valuer-agents, 284–6, 294
 - specific appropriateness conditions for, 65
- individualism, 5–6
- instrumental value, 3, 126–140
- integrity
 - sacrifice of, 236
 - undermined by impartiality, 92–3, 192
- intentionality, 25, 49ff, 56–7
 - and affects concerned with valuing, 100, 108, 109
 - and pain, 198
 - as explication of desire, 94ff
 - view that intentionality of emotion derives from that of belief, 52
- interest, 62, 484
 - and truth, 45
 - and whims, 62
 - as an emotion, 44
 - as one type of valuing, 111, 112
 - comparative judgments of, 175ff, 187, 188
 - does not require propositional content, 55
 - judgments of, 155ff
- internalism
 - and judgments of beauty, 158
 - as theory of motivation and moral obligation, 153–4
 - in value theory, 153–61
 - of reasons, 73, 133, 154
- intrinsic valuing, 3, 105–30; see also valuing
- intuitions, 17, 364
- Izard, Carroll E., 31, 34, 44–7, 56, 67, 68, 72, 73, 111, 112, 484–5
- Jackman, Simon, xii
- James, Gene G., 111, 162
- James, William, 27, 29, 34, 153
- James-Lange theory of emotions, 27–8, 27
- jealousy, 276, 290

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39733-9 - Value and Justification: The Foundations of Liberal Theory

Gerald F. Gaus

Index

More information

- Jehovah's Witnesses, 387
 Jouvenel, Bertrand de, 470 joy, 29
 and arousal, 35–41
 and liking, 65
 and somatic sensations, 43
 as an affect, 42, 44
 as an open-ended emotion, 67 as positive emotion, 68
 irrational, 57
 Spinoza's account of, 50
 justice, see also rights and benevolence, 283 and defining harm, 421ff
 and indignation, 285
 and the common good, 335–6, 351–6 not well grounded on theories of human good 237–8 justification, Chs. VII–IX; see also constrained teleology, deontological justification, public justification, teleological justification rational rather than radically pragmatic, 16, 20–2, 319–21, 327 can appeal to controversial claims, 357, 358 does not appeal to unsound values, 356–9 limits of, 478ff moral and epistemological, 327–8 our commitment to, 322 procedural, 351–6 relation to persuasion, 321–2 subjects of distinguished from objects of duties, 367–72 to animals and psychopaths not sensible, 368ff
- Kamenka, Eugene, 325
 Kant, Immanuel account of moral friendship, 287–8 and the rational will, 300 as a simple rationalist, 262–3 as classic contract theorist, 380 charge that he overemphasizes demands of abstract moral self, 478 claim that friendship cannot be based on mutual advantage, 349 conception of the social contract, 334 friendship as the union of love and respect, 291 on presuppositions of concepts, 81
- Kaplan, Morton A., 102
 Kavka, Gregory S., 257, 302
 Kennedy, Ralph, xi
 Kenny, Anthony, 26, 37, 45, 50, 59, 62, 246
 Kim, Jaeywon, 151, 152
 Kitchner, Richard F., 298
 Kleinig, John, xi, 122, 284, 291, 292, 396, 397, 399, 487, 488
 Kocis, Robert A., 177, 221, 392
 Kohlberg, Lawrence, ix, 196, 200, 260, 298, 351, 352, 353, 482
 Kolnai, Aurel, 3, 108, 138, 158
 Konner, Melvin, 28, 33, 42, 64, 67, 70, 71, 110
 Kothandapani, Virupaksha, 116
 Kraft, Victor, 107, 147, 148, 159, 170
 Kramer, R., 196
 Krebs, Dennis, 200, 260
 Krygier, Martin, 325
 Kuflik, Arthur, 343
 Kumar, Ajith, 116
 Kupperman, Joel J., 1, 3, 107, 137, 162, 359
 Kurdek, Lawrence A., 200, 260, 298, 299
- Laing, R. D., 388, 389
 Laird, John, 2, 3, 87, 102, 106, 124, 176, 376
 Lamont, Juilan, 409, 485
 Larsen, Randy J., 172 last man argument, 250
 Lee, Harold N., 162 left-right continuum, 443ff
 Lesser, Harry, 426
 Leventhal, Howard, 28, 29, 34, 46, 60
 Lewis, C. I., 3, 25, 106, 107, 110, 127, 148, 151, 152, 167, 173, 226
 Lewis, George Cornewall, 323 Liberal Socialism, 446 liberalism and charge of corruption, 12 and community, 6, 481ff and compromise, 464ff and justification of liberty-limiting principles, 382 and median position argument, 454–7 and public acknowledgment of value, 481 and the harm principle, 420ff antinomies of, 464–6

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39733-9 - Value and Justification: The Foundations of Liberal Theory

Gerald F. Gaus

Index

More information

- as a compromise, 455
- as an ideology, 441ff
- as centered on public justification, 19, 456
- choice between it and Nietzsche, 457
- classical, 457
- concept of public and private in, 5
- conception of person supposed by, 389
- confusion of objects of duties with subjects of justification, 372
- deontological, 263
- distinctive virtues of, 455, 470
- not based on neutrality, 358–9
- overly narrow justification of, 238, 350ff, 361ff
- place of morality and value in, 480ff
- two strategies of those who reject, 480
- valuers who are often overlooked in, 426ff
- liberty, see also equal liberty, natural liberty
 - and equality, 458
 - as non-intervention, 391ff
 - interference with resented, 98, 281ff, 381ff
 - positive and negative, 390–5, 390
 - poverty of pure, 281–92
- liking
 - and Arnold's evaluative theory, 72
 - and attitudes, 117
 - and pain, 168
 - as a generic emotion, 69, 171
 - as an emotion, 65, 67
 - as an emotion directed at pain, 142–4
- Lindlay, Richard, 386
- Lindzey, G., 217
- Little Hans, 76–7
- Locke, Don, 307
- Locke, John, 167, 173
 - account of state of nature, 380ff
 - and law of nature, 381, 404
 - and original acquisition, 413, 415ff, 445ff
 - argument for property in the state of nature, 412
 - as offering a need-based argument for property, 418, 419
 - his contractual theory and deontological justification, 18–19, 379ff
 - justification of property and capitalism, 434–5
 - on property as a natural right, 407ff
 - on right to charity, 423ff
 - on the need for an umpire, 401ff
- Lomasky, Loren E., xi, xii, 86, 182, 240, 257, 372, 394, 483
- Loring, I. M., 11
- love, 189
 - and craving satisfaction, 86
 - and principle of valuational consistency, 227ff
 - and private morality, 324
 - as an affect, 43, 44
 - as constituting an evaluation, 70ff
 - as dispositional, 110
 - as supposing moral principles, 291, 360, 362
 - being worthy of, 124ff, 186
 - Brentano and “loving more,” 178
 - by egocentrics, 280
 - by mere valuer-agents, 280
 - distinguished from friendship, 288
 - not necessarily grounded in abstract values, 207
 - romantic, 291
 - Spinoza's account of, 50
- Lucas, J. R., 283–6, 485, 486
- lust, 27, 64
- Lycan, William G., 152, 153
- Lyons, David, 2, 256
- Lyons, William, 26, 34, 38–41, 43, 44, 50, 65, 66, 69, 70, 137, 177
- MacCallum, Gerald C., 392
- MacIntyre, Alasdair, 366, 378, 457, 481
- MacIver, R. M., 441
- Mack, Eric, 197, 202, 250
- Mackie, J. L., 85, 106, 158, 197, 245, 247, 343
- MacLean, Paul, 41–5, 47–50, 55, 67, 68, 103, 140, 143, 171
- Mandler, George, 28, 37, 39, 60
- Mannheim, Karl, 442
- Maritain, Jacques, 336
- market, 340; see also exchange, property
 - competition and interference with others, 383
 - Hayek's proceduralism justification of, 353ff
 - justification of and natural liberty, 419

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39733-9 - Value and Justification: The Foundations of Liberal Theory

Gerald F. Gaus

Index

More information

- Marx, Karl, 413
 Maslow, Abraham, 384
 Matthews, Eric, 186, 190
 May, Rollo, 3
 Mayberry, Thomas C., 322
 McAlister, Linda, 179, 187
 McClennen, Edward C., 303
 McCord, William and Joan, 293, 294, 296
 McDougall, William, 26, 27, 29–32, 52, 125
 McDowell, John, 73, 74, 82, 147, 178, 199 median position argument, 449–76
 and liberalism, 454–7
 and need to justify to radical minority, 452–4 contrasted with median voter result, 452–4 limits of as a formal argument, 475, 476
 Meinong, Alexius, 51, 55, 82, 108
 Midgely, Mary, 370
 Mill, J. S., 107, 128, 146 account of comparative value, 179–82 as a proponent of a monistic teleology, 331 change of values as a self-discovery, 218, 219 criticism of Bentham's lack of attention to character ideals, 232, 233 criticism of nineteenth-century capitalism as unjust, 489 dream of workers' cooperatives, 434–5 interpreted as eclectic, 464 on desert-based property rights and natural resources, 414, 416 on rule worshipping, 271–2, 274 understanding of harm principle, 421, 422
 Miller, David, 104, 105, 411, 412, 424, 489
 Miller, George A., 221
 Miller, Peter, 248
 Milligan, David, 91, 182, 183, 189
 Milo, Ronald D., 156, 157, 297 minimal respect for natural rights, principle of, 436, 444 minimax relative concession, 344–51 and argument for equal liberty, 468ff and median position argument, 449ff and procedures, 353 and the N-dimensional argument, 460ff as device for making common good more precise, 438 Braybrooke's criticism of, 448 does not suppose interpersonal comparison of utilities, 460 not a core commitment of the theory of justification, 477 use and limits of as a technical notion, 475ff
 Mitchell, Dorothy, 180
 Mondale, Walter, 57, 61, 62
 Monro, D. H., 2
 Moods, 58, 63
 Moore, F. C. T., 84, 85, 337, 339
 Moore, G. E., 10, 82, 151, 168, 186, 187, 214, 224, 244, 250
 Moore, Willis, 174 moral emotions, see indignation, resentment moral persons, 5, 14ff and commitment to justification, 319, 477 and habitual action, 300 as subjects of justification, 17, 367ff as responsive to moral demands, 17, 278–313 commitment to seeing others as, 16, 278ff conception of as foundational, 14, 270ff, 308ff conflict with valuational self, 398ff, 478 moral point of view and Gesellschaft morality, 325
 Baier's account of reasons to take up, 270ff reasons for adopting not instrumental, 316 supposed by our value systems, 270ff moral reasons, see also reasons for action and Affective-Cognitive Theory of value, 14, Ch. VI and altruism, 257ff and self-interest, 256ff, 266, 271ff, 361
 and Value-Grounded Rationalism, 270, 479 as constraint on the pursuit of values, 257–8, 270ff, 302ff

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39733-9 - Value and Justification: The Foundations of Liberal Theory

Gerald F. Gaus

Index

More information

- as habits, 300–5
- doubts about the motivational power of, 265–7
- orthodox view of, 253–60
- rationalist account of, 261–79
- rough test for, 266–8
- moral value, 11, 243, 376–8
- morality is better than anarchy argument, 257, 260
- Mortimore, G. W., 8, 348
- Morton, Adam, 184
- Mueller, Dennis C., 333
- Muller, Franz H., 335
- Murphey, Arthur E., 337
- Muselmänner, 388

- Nagel, Thomas, 154, 191, 203, 239, 240, 250, 369
 - as proponent of the orthodox view of values and reasons, 254
 - notion of altruism, 203, 259
 - on agent-neutral value, 199
 - on pain and agent-neutral reasons, 195ff
 - on reasons and objectivity, 190ff
 - on resentment and indignation as moral emotions, 284
 - on the first stage of objectification of the mental, 198
 - on the incomplete dominance of agent-neutral value, 256
 - on whims, 62
- Narveson, Jan, 152, 153, 443, 458
- Nash, John, 344
- natural law, 380, 381, 404
- natural liberty, see also equal liberty, liberty
 - and coercion, 397
 - and fear of freedom, 386–9
 - and justification of the market, 419
 - and paternalism, 396–9
 - as obstacle to ownership, 409ff
 - impossible for self-directed agents to renounce, 382ff
 - justification of, 381ff
 - not a specific list of liberties, 382
 - presumption of, 382
 - rejection of by authoritarians, 430
 - right to in state of nature, 379–96
- Nazi, 129, 229, 292, 293, 387
- needs
 - and affect, 103ff
 - and contractualism, 367ff
- arguments for property based on, 418–19
- as derivative category, 104–5
- as presupposition of valuing, 101–5
- as primary goods, 426
- basic, 425ff
- felt, 102–3
- objective, 104
- three conceptions of, 424ff
- Nelson, William, 478
- Ness, Steven, 260
- neutrality, 356–9, 470, 482–3
- Nietzsche, Frederick, 168, 311, 329, 456, 457, 480
- nihilism, 16, 336, 337
- Nomos*, 300, 319
- non-tuism, 348ff, 354
- nonarbitrary endpoints, 444
- Norton, David L., 235
- Nowell-Smith, P. H., 156
- Nozick, Robert, 2, 3, 137, 176, 181, 219, 221, 355, 391
 - argument for organic unity as key to value, 248
 - as example of rights-based approach to distributive justice, 474
 - contractors not committed to his strong defense of property rights, 433
 - his tomato juice, 415
 - minimal state of, 471
 - on compensating those prohibited from exercising natural rights, 437
 - on conflict between one's good and overall value, 235
 - on exchange, 341
 - on liberty and patterns, 417
 - on property rights in the state of nature, 408
 - possibility that his theory constitutes an immoral proposal, 474
- O'Connell, C. T., xii
- Oakeshott, Michael, 339
- objectivism in value theory, 6, 10, 25, 106, 145, 146, 147ff
- objectivity, 190–203
 - and acknowledging the perspective of others, 277
 - and color analogy, 148
 - and criticism of others' affective dispositions, 79
 - as decentering, 198–203

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39733-9 - Value and Justification: The Foundations of Liberal Theory

Gerald F. Gaus

Index

More information

- as impartiality, 190–8
- attitude of, 217
- demands of, 201
- distinguished from altruism, 203
- in value theory, 135, 146
- lack of in egocentrics, 277
- minimal, 278–300
- Nagel's revised account of, 198ff
- Oldenquist, Andrew, 224
- Olson, Robert C., 331
- ontology and value, 7, 10, 13, 106
- open question argument, 244–7
- Oppenheim, Felix E., 9
- organic unity, 248
- organic wholes
 - and comparative value judgments, 187
 - and principle of valuational consistency, 224ff
 - and summation theory of attitudes, 213–14
 - and universalized reasons, 308
- original acquisition, 414–16, 439
- orthodox view of value and reasons, 253–61
 - and consequentialism, 255
 - and Hobbes' theory, 256
 - as actually radical, 15, 318
 - attraction of, 261, 268
 - explanation of moral reasons as habits, 300ff
 - implications for agent-neutrality and agent-relativity, 255
- pain, 29, 65
 - and agent-neutral reasons, 195–8
 - and desire, 92
 - and disliking, 142ff, 197
 - and enjoyment, 74, 168
 - and sadism, 126, 168
 - as disvaluable, 122
 - Brentano's view as intentional, 52
 - capacity to feel and justification, 368, 369
- Parfit, Derek
 - and agent-relative/agent-neutral reasons, 13, 190, 191
 - his assumption of transparency, 303
 - his principle, G1 301
 - on non-truth centered beliefs under consequentialism, 317
 - on Nagel's whim, 62
 - on temporal neutrality, 203, 239, 240
 - stretches notion of desire, 84, 93
- Parker, DeWitt, 85, 87, 175, 187
- Pastin, Mark, 140, 219
- Pateman, Carole, 328
- paternalism, 396–404
 - and coercion, 396
 - as an epistemological dispute, 401ff
 - as an imposition, 397–8
 - as overcoming the presumption in favor of liberty, 396–9
 - objection to by self-directing agents, 401
 - presumption against supposed in contractual argument, 444
 - rights based argument against, 403, 404
 - weak and strong, 403, 404
- peer ownership, 433
- Pejovick, Svetozar, 434
- Pennock, J. Roland, xi, xiii, 160, 458, 464
- Perry, Ralph Barton
 - as advocate of weak harmony, 339
 - as a non-comparative value theorist 173–5
 - as proponent of principle of inclusiveness, 187
 - mistake of equating all value with interest, 111–12, 248
 - on community of interest, 337
 - on deep intuition informing consequentialism, 262, 359
 - offers one solution to the problem of circularity, 361
- personal value judgments, see also valuing, value judgments
 - and Strong Externalism, 158
 - based on direct access to value, 150ff
 - distinguished from impersonal, 157
 - do not yield agent-neutral reasons, 193
 - imply reasons for action, 157
 - Nagel's view of, 199
 - stronger claim than impersonal value judgments, 170
- personality
 - and sacrificing the integrity of, 236
 - and trade-offs of affects, 180ff
 - and value orientation, 217
 - disintegration of and tragic conflicts, 478ff
 - extended in friendship, 289–90

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39733-9 - Value and Justification: The Foundations of Liberal Theory

Gerald F. Gaus

Index

More information

- undermined by rejection of consistency, 314
- unity of, 231–4, 389ff, 478
- Pettit, Philip, xi, 149, 150, 193, 303, 304, 323
- philosophic craziness, 196–7
- philosophical ethics
 - addressed to rational moral persons, 312, 321–2
 - and conceptual analysis, 9
 - based on reasons, 265–6
 - not radically pragmatic, 20–2, 358
- Piaget, Jean, ix, 199, 200, 275, 277, 298
- Pitcher, George, 26, 32, 28, 69, 70, 75
- Plamenatz, John, viii, 276
- plan of life
 - and values, 2, 215, 238–41, 426
 - as determining needs, 105
 - claim that it is the basis of justification, 362
 - organization of action commitments, 239ff
- Plant, Raymond, 426
- Plato, 12, 82, 199
- pleasure, 29
 - and desire, 92
 - and open question argument, 245
 - as aspect of emotional experience, 68
 - Mill's qualitative theory of, 180
- political philosophy, viii, ix, xi, 16, 280, 404, 429, 440
- practical rationality, see also rational agent, rational defects, reasons for action
 - and accepting theories of concepts, 4ff, 10, 11
 - and disvaluing pain, 122
 - and value maximization, 332
 - and valuing, 132–6
 - as central to moral justification, 11
 - commitment to not simply a value, 313ff
- Prall, David W., 25
- preference
 - and comparative value judgments, 174
 - and comparative valuing, 178, 180
 - and deliberation, 182–4
 - and reasons, 100
 - and the common good, 335
 - and utilitarian theories of value, 2
 - as a feature of attitudes, 211–13
 - as basis of theory of value, 8, 99–101
 - as equivalent to desire, 99
 - opposed to the market, 342
 - primitive between affects, 180, 182
 - satisfaction of as value, 330
- preference curves, 445ff
- prescriptivism, 123, 124
- Price, A. W., 82, 151
- Pritchard, H. A., 289
- proceduralism 351–6, 477–8
- project-makers, 391–5, 426
- promising, 100, 407
- property, 407–17
 - and alienation, 415
 - and desert, 410–16, 489
 - and full ownership, 419
 - and justification of capitalism, 435
 - and Lockean proviso, 415
 - and need, 418, 423ff
 - and self-realization, 413
 - common pool of, 415
 - constraint on contractual argument, 432, 473
 - distinguished from possession, 408
 - Locke's and Rousseau's views of contrasted, 407ff
 - problem of the acquisition of resources, 414ff
 - requirements for quasi-Lockean rights to, 414
- propositional attitudes, 53, 54
- Protagoras, 148
- prudence, see self-interest
- psychoanalysis
 - account of disproportionate emotions, 76
 - account of obsessional, 90–1, 93
 - and absurd emotions, 31
 - and akrasia of emotions, 125
 - and errors in valuation, 357
 - and ill-grounded emotions, 31–3
 - explanation of irrational action, 90
- psychopathy, 292–300
 - and affective flatness, 296ff
 - and amorality, 311
 - and defects, 295ff
 - and egocentrism, 298ff
 - and Hobbes' description of an evil person, 293
 - and impoverished value systems, 300
 - and lack of sense of justice, 294
 - and lack of true friendship, 294
 - and rejection of public justification, 319ff, 370ff, 480ff

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39733-9 - Value and Justification: The Foundations of Liberal Theory

Gerald F. Gaus

Index

More information

- not a form of insanity, 295
- two types of, 294
- public, boundary of, 326, 367–72
- public conception of justice, see public morality, public justification
- public interest, 258
- public justification, 15–18, Chs. VII–IX
 - and contractualism, 328–9
 - and minimax relative concession, 340–51
 - as commitment of rational moral persons, 327, 477
 - as heart of liberalism, 456
 - characterized, 312–22, 325ff
 - Nietzsche's rejection of, 456–7
 - of a public morality, 17, 327
 - of liberal morality, 480
 - to radical minority, 452–4
- public morality
 - addressed to strangers, 16, 323–4
 - and cosmopolitan morality, 375
 - and public justification of justice, 327
 - commitment to shared code of, 326
 - contrasted to private morality, 322–5
- Pugh, George Edgin, 28, 29, 49, 73, 86, 175, 182
- punishment, 283, 370
- Quine, W. V., 179, 231
- Rabib, Albert I., 387
- Radford, Colin, 32, 61, 62
- rage, 27, 110
- Rapaport, David 177
- Raphael, D. D., 281
- Rashdall, Hastings, 79, 108, 176, 191, 339
 - as an example of pluralistic teleology, 331
 - on consequential criterion of rightness, 1
 - claim that egoism is irrational, 193
 - claim that Kantism is irrational, 253–4
 - claim that self-realization theories are egoistic, 235
- rational agent
 - Baier's notion of, 273
 - ideal of, 135
 - cannot appeal to false theories, 312
 - our intuitive model of, 266–8
- rational defects
 - and contractual argument, 357, 358
 - and desire, 90
 - and prefrontal lobotomy, 142
 - and status of beliefs as causal, 225
 - and ungrounded preferences, 101
 - inconsistency of belief as a paradigm, 306, 314
 - not manifested by affective flatness, 79, 300
- Rawls, John, 20, 239, 243, 283, 324, 343, 349, 353, 362
 - allows for possibility of a utilitarian contract, 333
 - and contract theory, 18
 - and moral theory as a personal activity, 20–1
 - and treating all as moral persons, 371
 - argument for equal liberty, 467ff
 - as example of common assets approach to social justice, 472
 - claim that justification must appeal to noncontroversial premises, 358
 - foundation of a public conception of justice, 326–7
 - justice as a bargain, 343
 - not a Simple Rationalist, 263
 - notion of a plan of life as determining value judgments, 2, 238–41, 426
 - notion of primary goods, 426
 - notion of veil of ignorance, 380
 - on a person's good and conception of the good, 238
 - on contractualism and basic structure, 406
 - on government and the common good, 334
 - on indignation and resentment as moral emotions, 284, 287
 - on list of alternatives in original position, 440
 - pragmatic view of justification, 21–2
 - view of deontological justification, 364–5
 - view of distributive justice, 471
 - Wolff's criticism that his argument is not procedural, 353
- Raz, Joseph, 2, 9, 176, 382, 387, 402
- reasons for action, see also agent-relative reasons for action, agent-neutral reasons for action; value-based reasons for action
 - and emotion, 136
 - and extrinsic valuations, 126–44

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39733-9 - Value and Justification: The Foundations of Liberal Theory

Gerald F. Gaus

Index

More information

- and habits, 95ff, 300–6
- and impersonal value judgments, 161–5, 189–90
- and intentionality, 94ff
- and McDowell's temperate person, 73–4
- and maximizing value, 137
- and others' value judgments, 193ff
- and the practical syllogism, 315
- and value judgments, 157ff, 161–5, 190
- and value, summary of, 253
- and valuing, 83, 268–9
- as valued, 97ff, 98
- claim that valuing is constituted by, 191
- derived valuing explicated as, 130–44, 130
- distinguished from action commitments, 133, 161
- Humean account of, 85ff, 164–5, 315
- implied by beliefs and valuing, 132–5
- motivating character of, 164, 315–6
- not implied by beliefs about goodness, 156
- not implied by mere affects, 171
- not temporally neutral, 239–41
- not to be explained as mere preferences, 8, 101
- orthodox view of, 231–61
- rationalist view of, 261ff
- universal nature of, 307ff
- weighing of, 179–80
- reflective equilibrium, 20
- Regan, Donald H., 2
- Reich, Ben, 217, 221
- Reid, John R., 25, 247
- relativism, 10, 14
- Rescher, Nicholas, 191
 - claim that evaluation is principled, 119, 120
 - claim that value judgments are impersonal, 3
 - on second-order values, 126
 - emphasizes benefit dimension of value, 103, 222
 - stresses abstract values in analyses of value, 81, 204–6, 210, 216, 218, 219
- resentment
 - and interference, 98
 - and right to natural liberty, 383
 - not open to mere valuer-agents, 284–6
 - specific appropriateness conditions for, 65
 - undermined by view of morality as irrational habits, 305
- Richards, David A. J., 84, 90, 93, 164, 264, 284
- rights
 - and compensation, 437
 - and democracy, 478
 - and desert claims, 416–20, 488–9
 - and distributive justice, 472ff
 - and harm, 421ff
 - and love, 291
 - and paternalism, 403ff
 - human, 389
 - not claimed by mere valuer-agents, 281ff
 - our commitment to claiming, 286
 - overriding, 435ff
 - presupposed by friendship, 287ff
 - supposed by indignation and resentment, 286
 - transferring without also transferring their grounds, 418ff
- Riker, William H., 445, 448
- Riley, Jonathan, 417, 419, 435
- Rist, J. M., 327
- Robins, Michael H., 316
- Rogers, Carl R., 384
- Rohr, Michael David, 174
- Rokeach, Milton, 208–18, 238, 258
- role taking
 - affective, 298ff
 - and altruism, 260
 - and justice, 260
 - and the pain of others, 369
- role-directed personalities, 383ff
- Rolston, Holmes III, 171, 249
- Rommen, Heinrich A., 335
- Rorty, Amelie O., 32, 59, 60, 63, 66, 125, 137
- Rosen, Hugh, 200
- Rosenberg, Milton J., 116, 125
- Ross, W. D., 93, 94, 263, 474
- Roupas, T. G., 191
- Rousseau, J.-J., 276, 334, 351, 407, 408, 410, 434
- Ruggiero, Guido (de), 455
- rule worshipping, 271ff
- Runciman, W. G., 351
- Rushton, J. Phillippe, 260

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39733-9 - Value and Justification: The Foundations of Liberal Theory

Gerald F. Gaus

Index

More information

- Ryan, Alan, 408, 416
 Rycroft, Charles, 30, 63
 Ryle, Gilbert, 43, 84, 93
- Sabani, John, 44
 sadism, 65, 126, 168 sadness, 46, 117, 150
 Sagan, Carl, 67
 Samuelson, Paul, 341
 Sandel, Michael J., 263, 331, 333, 364, 472, 481
 Sankowski, Edward, 76
 Santayana, George, 82, 83
 Sartre, J-P, 236
 Sauerbach, Ferdinand, 143
 Savery, William, 142
 Scanlon, T. M., 328, 329, 333, 367, 368, 369
 Schachter, Stanley, 33–40, 60
 Schalling, Daisey, 293, 294, 298, 299
 Scheffler, Samuel, 193, 255, 256
 Scheler, Max, 108
 Schelling, Thomas C., 344
 schizoid personalities, 388ff, 398–9 schizophrenia and inconsistency, 136, 314 charge that liberalism implies, 389 incoherence of personality, 231
 Schrader, George, 83, 245
 Scruton, Roger, 149, 150, 151, 159
 Searle, John R., 50–4 secrets, 287
 self-directed personalities, 384ff and conflict with moral personality, 389ff
 and paternalism, 401ff and schizoid personalities, 388 claim by not to be manipulated, 398 claim natural authority over their own activity, 395 contrasted with self-mastery, 393 distinguished from autonomous persons, 386 flight from, 383ff not necessarily valued, 393ff self-interest, 257, 266, 271ff, 289, 361 self-realization, 235ff, 413 self-sacrifice, 236, 289 semantic dementia thesis, 297–300
 Sen, Amartya K., 2, 9, 351, 448
 Shapiro, Ian, 281
 Sher, George, 411, 488, 489
 Sherif, Muzafer, 112
- Shibles, Warren, 35, 39
 Shields, Stephanie A., 28
 Shils, Edward, 464
 Sidgwick, Henry, 191, 265, 308, 339
 Siedentop, Larry, 443
 Siegel, Linda S., 260
 Silver, Murray, 44
 Simmons, A. John, 328
 Simonsen, Kenneth H., 107, 248
 Simple Rationalism, 261–72; see also rationalism
 Singer, George Marcus, 152, 262, 266, 307–9
 Singer, Jerome E., 33–40, 60
 Singer, Peter, 477
 single-peakedness, 445ff
 Skubik, Daniel, xi, 224 slave ethic, 311, 432–3 slaves, 283, 327
 Slote, Michael, 2, 73, 126, 178, 225, 239, 240, 411
 Smart, J. J. C., 259
 Smith, Adam, 109, 340, 415
 Smith, M. Brewster, 206, 208, 211 social contract, see contractualism; contractual argument socialism and liberalism, 464ff
 as an ideology, 441ff limitations on given by argument from state of nature, 433 market, 433–45, 471 radical forms of excluded in contractual argument, 444 solipsism, 275–7 sorrow, 42, 50
 Sousa, Ronald (de), 31
 Soviet-type economies, 444 spatial arguments, 443ff special duties, 323–5
 Spielberger, Charles D., 296, 297
 Spinoza, B., 50, 52, 85
 Spranger, Eduard, 217, 218, 232 state of nature and deontology, 379–81 and social contract, 19, 379ff, 429–39 and the prohibition of harm to others, 420–3 as baseline for contractual argument, 437–9 as phase is justificatory argument, 415

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39733-9 - Value and Justification: The Foundations of Liberal Theory

Gerald F. Gaus

Index

More information

- place of need arguments in, 423ff
- property rights in, 409–20
- robustness of description of, 404ff
- Stern, Robert M., 28
- Stevenson, C. L., 146
- Stocker, Michael, 29, 126
- stoicism, 222
- Storr, Anthony, 231, 384
- Strawson, P. F., 284
- Strong Externalism, see also externalism
 - and impersonal value judgments, 158ff, 161–5
 - does not apply to personal value judgments, 158ff
 - externalist account of reasons, 268ff
 - initial definition of, 154
 - two forms of, 264–9
- Strongman, K. T., 27, 34, 44, 72
- subjectivism in value theory, x, 6, 10, 16, 25, 165
- Suchman, Edward, 175
- supervenience, 151–3, 307
- surprise, 31, 46, 68
- Swinburn, R. G., 136
- tastes, 29, 165, 167, 172, 183, 186, 376
- Tawney, R. H., 442
- Taylor, Charles, 177, 181, 182, 233
- Taylor, F. Kraupl, 293, 296
- Taylor, Gabriele, 56, 63, 70, 71, 79, 228
- Taylor, Richard, 85, 336
- Taylor-Goodby, Peter, 426
- teleological justification, 14, 21, 329–37; see also constrained teleology, justification
 - characterized, 17
 - monism and pluralism in, 331
 - must admit all rational values, 349–51
 - not really a bargain, 437–38
 - presupposes deontological justification, 18, 379
 - problem of circularity of, 359–62
 - rational commitment to, 365–7
- temporal neutrality, 203, 239–41
- Thalberg, Irving, 55, 61
- Thomas, Geoffrey, 339
- Thomson, Judith Jarvis, 423, 437
- timidness, 178, 184
- Tocqueville, Alexis (de), 218
- Tolkien, J. R. R., 54
- Tollson, Robert D., 333
- Tolstoi, Leo, 59
- Tomkins, Silvan S., 44, 46, 56, 67, 68
- translucency, 303
- Trigg, Roger, 32, 51, 52, 68, 69, 73, 108,
 - on disliking pain, 143–4, 168, 197
 - on identifying a sensation, 27
 - on liking and disliking as emotional states, 65
 - on masochism and pain, 74, 168
- trust, 287–92, 300, 305, 319
- truth, 44, 45, 314, 317, 363
- Tussi, Aldo, 336
- Uebereich, 311
- Ulian, J. S., 179, 231
- Unger, Roberto Mangabeira, 389, 464
- universalizability, 307ff, 441; see also supervenience, valuational consistency
- unrestricted domain, 448
- Urban, Wilbur Marshall, 25, 92
- Urmson, J. O., 155, 157
- Utilitarianism
 - and collectivism, 458
 - and objectivity as impartiality, 191
 - and orthodox view, 256
 - and preference satisfaction, 9, 99, 330
 - and value, 1ff
 - as a teleological ethic, 333
 - as a theory of rightness, 1
 - as an alternative in Rawls's original position, 440, 441
 - as based on agent-neutral value, 441
 - distinguished from the common good, 335
- valence, see affect
- valuableness, see also value, value judgments
 - and needs, 104
 - and organic unity, 248
 - and properties of objects, 146, 242–7
 - and valuing, 163
 - theories which stress, 145
 - wrong to explicate as “is valued,” 166
- valuational consistency, principle of, 151–3, 223–9
- value, 3, 25
 - affective element, 3
 - and choice, 3, 177ff, 199, 212, 232–4, 242

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39733-9 - Value and Justification: The Foundations of Liberal Theory

Gerald F. Gaus

Index

More information

- and desert, 485–9
- as a relational concept, 245–7
- as based on same relation as emotion, 246, 247
- basic features of, 1ff
- conflicts of, 3, 214–23, 242
- incommensurability of, 167ff, 176, 182
- intrinsic and instrumental, 3, 128ff
- practical nature of concept, 1ff, 222, 395
- practice of complicated, 241
- problems with coherence accounts of, 179
- technical theories of, 8–9, 13
- value judgments, Ch. IV; see also comparative value judgments, personal value judgments, impersonal value judgments
 - and approval, 3, 146, 155–61
 - and color analogy, 146–53
 - and desire, 11, 94, 98ff
 - and external properties of objects, 148
 - and relational properties, 147
 - and Strong Externalism, 156ff
 - as derivative of valuing, 81, 145
 - basic characterization of, 10
 - comparative theory of, 173–4
 - comparative, 173–90
 - consistency of, 219ff
 - criticism of, 165–72, 201
 - distinguished from beliefs about goodness, 123–4, 155
 - extrinsic, 172–3
 - generic, 188
 - grounded on properties of objects, 3, 145–53, 165–73, 247
 - personal distinguished from impersonal, 157
 - rational criticism of, 165–73, 200–1
 - simple, 146–73
 - summary judgments, 156, 166
- value systems, 219–41
 - and conflict, 219ff
 - and personality, 231–4
 - and value orientations, 217ff
 - as choice constraining, 232
 - as resting on moral principles, 360ff, 390
 - central valuing of, 229–31
 - coherence of, 126, 223–4
 - not characterized by temporal neutrality, 239
 - rebuilding in the wake of tragic conflict, 479
- value-based reasons for action; see also agent-relative reasons for action, agent-neutral reasons for action, reasons for action
 - and paternalistic assistance, 399ff
 - cultural influence on, 139
 - essential agent-relativity of, 256
 - not necessarily maximizing, 254
 - types of, 348
- Value-Grounded Rationalism, 256–319
 - allows the possibility of values overriding morals, 270, 479
 - and Affective-Cognitive Theory of value, 312
 - and consistency, 306–18
 - and psychopathy, 306, 312, 319
 - argument for accepting not instrumental, 317
 - characterized, 15, 270
 - contrasted to Simple Rationalism, 270
 - paradox of, 272ff
 - two interpretations of argument for, 365–7
- values, abstract
 - ambivalence of, 221–2
 - and a person's interests, 289
 - and conflict with morals, 478–80
 - and goods, 234–9
 - and neutrality, 356
 - and plans, 239–41
 - and trade-offs, 220ff, 230
 - and two-component view of attitudes, 117–18
 - as abstract valuing, 205–7
 - as attitudes, 218
 - as both affective and cognitive, 212
 - as criterion for valuing, 207–12
 - as derivative of valuing, 81
 - as important, 215
 - as summary of direction of valuing, 217
 - choice of, 3, 177ff, 199, 212, 232–4, 242
 - conflict of and opportunity costs, 221–2
 - conflicts of resolved non-rationally, 242
 - correlation with attitudes, 215–17

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39733-9 - Value and Justification: The Foundations of Liberal Theory

Gerald F. Gaus

Index

More information

- dynamic relation with specific attitudes, 219
- irrational excluded from contractual argument, 429–31
- not foundation of all valuing, 204ff
- pluralism of, 221ff
- renouncing, 229–31
- Rescher's stress of, 204ff
- Rokeach's analysis of, 208ff
- valuing, Ch. III, see also comparative valuing
 - abstract, 205ff
 - affect presupposition of, 81ff
 - ambivalent, 111, 114–15, 221–2
 - and background circumstances, 226–7
 - and background interests, 160, 172
 - and reasons for action, 83, 126–40, 178, 191, 222, 268
 - and respect, 138
 - appropriate responses, 137–40
 - as cherishing and prizing, 125, 135
 - as conceptually prior to value judgments, 80, 109
 - as simply reasons for choice, 8, 100
 - based on emotions, 10, 109–10, 225
 - central, 229–31
 - comparative, 74ff, 175–95
 - desire presupposition of, 84–100
 - dynamic relation with abstract values, 219
 - errors in, 7, 165–72, 190
 - extrinsic, 126–44
 - failure to value not necessarily irrational, 172
 - generic, 285
 - health, 122–3
 - instrumental, 127–44
 - intrinsic, 105–30
 - needs presupposition of, 101–5
 - non-rational resolution of conflicts, 242
 - not simply belief, 83, 119–24
 - one's reasons, 97–98
 - practice of, 4, 11, 12
 - renouncing, 229–30
 - responses to as culturally influenced, 139
 - scant attention paid to problems of, 1
 - second-order, 74, 89, 111, 126, 233–4
 - trade offs, 221ff
 - valuings, derived, 126–44, 184–5
- Varian, Hal R., 473
- Veatch, Henry B., 322
- Vernon, P. E., 217, 218
- virtue, 378, 480
- Wagner, 54
- Waldron, Jeremy, 281, 410, 412, 413, 423
- Walhout, Donald, 81, 103, 234, 235, 247
- Wall, Grenville, 6, 166
- Walzer, Michael, 481
- Warnock, G. J., 177
- Warnock, Mary, 75
- Wavell, Bruce B., 181
- Wellman, Carl, 321
- Wenger, M. A., 28
- Wenke, Hans, 143
- Werkmeister, W. H., 25, 113, 234, 247, 314, 337
- Western culture
 - absence of value consensus in, 238
 - and commitment to public justification, 327
 - and immorality of cruelty, 370
 - conception of personhood in, 384ff
 - fractured nature of and virtue, 378
 - importance of public justification within, 325
 - parochial morality of, 373
 - pluralistic nature of, 11, 12, 16
 - problems of deontological justification in, 366
 - wide variety of positions within, 449
- Westin, Peter, 391
- Weston, Michael, 62
- Whelan, Frederick G., 373
- whims, 62
- White, Alan R., 9, 63
- Wicksteed, Philip H., 348, 349
- Widom, Cathy Spatz, 295, 296
- Wiggins, David, 107, 147, 148, 151, 152, 245, 247
- Wiles, P. J. D., 434, 444
- Willard, L. Duane, 128
- Willet, Thomas D., 333
- Williams, Bernard, 2
 - as an example of a Humean theorist of action, 85
 - on belief as truth-centered, 317
 - on clash between values and morality, 478–9

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-39733-9 - Value and Justification: The Foundations of Liberal Theory

Gerald F. Gaus

Index

More information

- on integrity, 192
- on non-consequential value, 207
- on the incommensurability of values, 176, 177, 182
- on internal and external reasons, 133
- on utilitarianism as adopting a stipulative notion of value, 9
- Williams, Gardner, 14
- Williams, Robin M., 208, 212, 224
- Williamson, Oliver, 433
- Wilson, J. R. S., 45, 50, 51, 56, 57, 58, 63
- Wisdom, John, 68
- Wittgenstein, Ludwig, 29, 45
- Wolff, Robert Paul, 353
- worker-managed firms, 433ff
- Wright, Derek, 3, 217, 221, 259, 289, 295, 298
- Wright, Frank Lloyd, 481
- Wright, Georg Henrik, 9, 11, 119, 120, 122, 129
- Wright, George, 348
- Yates, Gregory C. R. and Shirley M., 305
- Young, Paul Thomas, 26
- Young, Robert, 387, 393, 400
- Zimmerman, David, 152, 153
- Zimmerman, Michael J., 168
- Ziskind, Eugene, 295