

Cambridge University Press

0521413974 - Virtuosity, Charisma, and Social Order: A Comparative Sociological Study of Monasticism in Theravada Buddhism and Medieval Catholicism

Ilana Friedrich Silber

Index

More information

Index

- activist–ascetic virtuoso religion, 26, 27, 32; Church’s ambivalence toward, 28
- Alcuin, as abbot counselor to Charlemagne, 166
- alternative structure, monasticism as, 38–41, 43, 51, 187, 194; in medieval Christianity, 187, 205–6; in Theravada Buddhism, 187–8
- Amapura, 111
- ambiguity: of aspects of Benedictine rule, 126; in attitude of Buddhist canon to magical beliefs and practices, 70; in definition of monastic vocation, 65; in definitions of the way to perfection and of the Church, 122; of doctrinal status of ascetic practices, 110; of doctrinal status of Christian monasticism, 119; ideological, 216; of ideological premises’ interaction with institutional structures, 50; in monastic attitude to work, 138; in nature of the ideological dimension, 217; in notion of dharma, 60; of social position of Christian monasticism, 187, 193–4
- ambiguous orientation to the social order and kingship, 60, 63
- ambiguous stance of canonical texts toward magico–animistic practices, 76
- ambiguous status of monks, 131
- ambivalence: toward virtuoso radicalism, 109; toward virtuoso religion, 28, 44; in virtuoso–laymen relation, 196, 197, 216
- anatta*, 63
- anchoritic monasticism, 44, 176
- Aniruddha, 102
- Anthony, 175
- Anuradhapura*, 94
- antistructure, in monasticism, 40–1, 53
- Apostolic Brethren, in eremitic–apostolic revival, 181
- apostolic movement, in medieval Europe, 17
- Aquinas, on medieval Catholic religious hierarchy, 132
- arannavasi*, 105
- arhat, 69, 72, 107–8
- arhatship*, 110
- aristocracy (see also elites; nobility), Christian monastery recruitment from, 158–9, 172
- Arnoldians: in eremitic–apostolic revival, 181; as lay religious movement, 166
- Arthurian legend, hermit–saint figure in, 180–1
- arya sangha, 72–3
- ascetic virtuosi, 1, 2, 9, 18, 36, 71, 137 (see also eremitism; hermits); convertible aspect of, 45; Durkheim functionalist approach to, 43; role of, 7, 13; safety–valve model for, 44
- Ashoka, 61, 62; role in spread of Buddhism, 15, 57n, 58n, 74, 142
- Augustine, 120, 122, 126
- Aung-Thwin, M., 86
- autonomy: of Christian monasteries, 52, 138, 150–6, 173; of religious institutions, 50; of Theravada Buddhism monasteries, 155, 173
- Axial Age religions, 4–5
- Ayutthaya, 104
- Basil, 125, 126
- Bechert, Heinz, on definition of traditional Theravada Buddhism, 14, 112
- begging, by Theravada Buddhist monks, 66–7
- Bellah, Robert, 4n, 6
- Benedictine form of Christian virtuosity, 17, 136
- Benedictine monasteries, 166n, 170; eremitism in, 166n, 170; expansion of, 142, 155; organizational structure of, 138, 140, 141; wealth of, 182
- Benedictine Rule, for monastic life, 126, 138, 142, 143, 146, 151, 154, 155–6, 160, 173, 174, 175–6, 178
- Benedict of Aniane: as abbot counselor to Louis the Pious, 166; monastic reform of, 138, 142, 143–4, 162, 174
- Berger, Peter, 6
- bhikkhus*, 80, 86, 90, 91, 92, 95, 98, 105, 114, 128
- Bimbisara, 68
- Bloch, M., 157
- bodhisattva*, 61–2, 65, 66, 72, 100
- Bourdieu, Pierre: on Weber, 35n
- Bowersock, G., 164
- Brahmanism: renunciation and, 8, 9n, 46
- Brown, Peter, 31, 45–6, 47, 176

Cambridge University Press

0521413974 - Virtuosity, Charisma, and Social Order: A Comparative Sociological Study of Monasticism in Theravada Buddhism and Medieval Catholicism

Ilana Friedrich Silber

Index

More information

246 Index

- Buddha, Gautama, 61, 66, 80, 81, 92
 Buddhagosa, 110
 Burchard, bishop of Worms, on medieval Catholic religious hierarchy, 131
 Burma, development of Buddhism in, 15, 74, 82, 87, 88, 90, 102, 111
- Caesarius, monastic rules of, 126
 Caesaropapism, 28–9, 30
cakkavatti, 60, 61, 100
 Calmaldoli order of monks, 177
 Calvinism, as activist–ascetic virtuoso religion, 26, 34 capitalism, emergence of, 2–3
 Carrithers, M., 112
 Carthusian order, 178
 caste system, in Sri Lanka, 82–3
 Cathars: in eremitic–apostolic revival, 181; as lay religious movement, 166 celibacy: lack of, in sects, 40; in monasticism, 32, 41, 163, 165 cenobitic monasticism: eremitism compared to, 175–7; segregation of charisma in, 44
 Chakkri, 101
 Chao Phitsanulok, King of Fang, as former Buddhist monk, 99 charisma: institutional, 188, 190, 194; personal, 115, 188; pure, 188; routinized, 188, 194; segregation of, 44, 47, 52, 132, 194; virtuoso religiosity and, 2, 20, 25, 29n, 32n, 33n, 35, 36, 188–94
 Charlemagne, monasticism during reign of, 142, 156, 166
 China, Buddhist monasticism in, 19; record keeping of, 18 chivalry, hermit–saint figure in, 181
 Chulalongkorn, King of Thailand, 84
 Cistercian order, 139, 145, 149, 159–60, 166n, 174; extreme wealth of, 180; lay brothers of, 141, 144, 149, 178–80 clergy, relationship to Christian monasteries, 161–3
 Cluniac order, 144, 149, 152, 159, 162, 163, 167, 168, 171, 177; All Souls Day establishment by, 127; as cenobitic monasticism, 175; death lists of, 153; expansion of, 138–9, 141, 142, 174; foundation charter of, 147–8
 Collins, Steven, 10
 Columbanus: monastic rules of, 126; royal connections of, 159 communal religions, salvation religions compared to, 5, 6 concessions and compromises, of religious virtuosi, 28, 29, 30–1 Constantine, Emperor of Rome, 119, 124 contemplative–orgiastic virtuoso religion, 26, 32 corruption, monastic, 42, 51, 93n, 197, 213
 Council of Chalcedon, monastic control by, 151
 Cowdrey, H. E. J., 149
 Crusades, 128n, 144
- Dagobert I, 157
 Damian, Peter, 168, 169, 177, 178
dana, 67–9, 92, 93, 94, 96, 128 death: Buddhist monk’s role in rituals of, 90; Christian monasticism role in rituals for, 205; living persons as mediators for, in medieval Catholicism, 127; medieval preoccupation with, 153–4; in relation to virtuoso–society complex, 195
 decentered centrality, 7
 desert asceticism, 137, 141, 175, 178
 Devadatta, 111
devaraja, 99, 100
dharma, 60, 68, 72, 75, 81, 101
 “dharma realm,” 101
dharmaraja, 60, 100
 Dionysius, 131
 Dominican order, 140
 donations, see gifts double standard, 70, 126, 192, 196, 201
 DUBY, G., 134, 149, 150
 Dumont, Louis: on Indian “hierarchy” and Western “equality”, 8–9; on Indian renunciation, 44, 46–7; on outwardly asceticism and individualism, 10–11, 123, 124
 Durkheim, Emile, 3, 43
 Durkheimian functions, of institutions, 3, 5, 37, 43, 48
duthanga, 110
 Dutthagammi (warrior-king), 61
- the East: economic expansion, 10; ideological expansion of, 38; tenacity of, 13
 Eastern Christianity, monasticism in, 7n, 19
 Edward the Confessor, King of England, monastic connections of, 160, 166
 Egypt, Christian monastic origin in, 119, 137
 Eisenstadt, S. N.: on the Axial Age, 4n; on charisma, 36, 190, 194n; medieval Europe compared to India, 9; other-worldly civilizations, 49n; on structure of elites, 52n elites: religious virtuosi interaction with, 52; social, monasticism and, 158–61, 206; structure of, 52n

- elitism: charisma and, 192; distancing from masses in, 11n; of religious virtuosi, 25
- England, 1, 17, 176
- eremites, see hermits
- eremitism, in Christian monasticism, 117–83, 209–10; cenobitism compared to, 175–7; revival in medieval Europe, 17, 179
- exchange, between virtuosi and laypersons, 13, 33, 34, 51, 188, 195–6, 197, 199, 206, 217; see also gift relationship; Mauss
- Fleury, monastery at, 157
- forest dwellers, Buddhist monks as, 105–6, 108–9, 111, 112, 113, 175; Christian eremites compared to, 174–5
- Franciscan order: mendicant movement in, 181; wealth of, 145, 180
- Fratlicelli, in eremitic–apostolic revival, 181
- functional approach: to religion, 3n; to virtuosio religiosity, 43–5
- functionalization of virtuosi, 42, 64, 72, 90–1, 153–5, 186, 205, 213
- ganthadura*, 105
- Gaul, early monasteries in, 137, 138, 141
- Geertz, Clifford, 77, 100, 211
- Geiger, W., 108
- Gellner, Ernst, 4n, 211, 216; on salvation religions, 5
- gender, role in monasticism, 18–19
- Gerald, count of Aurillac, monastic leanings of, 166, 167
- Gerard, bishop of Cambrai, on medieval Catholic religious hierarchy, 131
- Germany, 17, 151, 155, 157
- Giddens, Anthony, structuration theory of, 6, 202, 203n
- gift relationship: Maussian perspective of, 6, 34, 213–14; as virtuosio–layman interaction, 33, 52, 195, 197, 214–16; virtuosio radicalism effects on, 108–10
- gifts: coercive persuasion for, 7n; gift analysis, 13n; to medieval Christian monasteries, 3, 33, 145–50, 180, 214–16; modern forms of, 221; source of monastic wealth, 7, 51; to Theravada Buddhist monasticism, 7n, 33, 35, 66–8, 78, 86, 93–7, 108–10, 214
- Gorze, 177
- Gospels, 121
- Goyigama, 112
- Gregorian period, 17, 136, 152–3, 162–3, 167, 168, 169, 177, 178
- Gunawardana, R. A. L. H., 86
- Henry III, King of England, 160, 166
- hermits: Buddhist monks as, 176–7; in monasticism, 33, 176 (see also eremitism); in monasticism, kings' relationships with, 176
- hermit saint, as literary figure, 180–1
- hierarchization: in medieval Christianity, 133–6, 200, 202; in Theravada Buddhism, 73–7, 84–5, 200
- hierarchy: in Christian monasticism, 130; in Theravada Buddhism, ritualized exchange and, 57–79
- Hill, Michael: on distinction from charisma, 1, 189; on monasticism as “sect within Church”, 40; on religious virtuosity, 1
- Hinduism, 19
- holy men: as religious virtuosi, 31; role in Roman society, 45–6
- Humiliati, in eremitic–apostolic revival, 181
- ideological ambiguity, in Theravada Buddhism, 65, 69, 216
- ideological conservatism, in Theravada Buddhism, 71–3
- ideological power, of religious virtuosi, 196, 210, 216
- India: medieval Catholicism compared to, 8; medieval Europe compared to, 9; renunciation in, 44; virtuosio asceticism in, 29
- indulgences, 170
- institutionalization: basic modes of, 12; of religious virtuosity in Christian monasticism, 50, 137–72, 187, 209; of religious virtuosity in Theravada Buddhism, 11, 80–115, 187, 200
- Ireland, monasticism in, 19, 159
- Irish–Frankish monasteries, expansion of, 155, 156
- Jainism: as contemplative–orgiastic virtuosio religion, 26; monasticism in, 7n, 33, 109
- Jambudipa, 89
- Jaspers, Karl, 4–5
- Joachim of Fiore, effect on Fraticelli, 181–2
- Judaism, rabbinic, absence of monasticism in, 19
- Kandy, 111–12
- karma*, 59, 63, 64, 157
- Kautilya*, 99
- Kemper, S., 106, 114
- kings: in medieval Christendom, 134, 140,

Cambridge University Press

0521413974 - Virtuosity, Charisma, and Social Order: A Comparative Sociological Study of Monasticism in Theravada Buddhism and Medieval Catholicism

Ilana Friedrich Silber

Index

More information

248 Index

- kings (cont.)
 142, 146, 148, 156–8, 164; in early Buddhism, 60–3, 75, 78, 82, 85, 97–102, 112, 113, 160, 161, 201; medieval relations with hermits of, 176; religious virtuosi interaction with, 52
 knighthood, monastic influences on, 166, 167, 171n
- Landfranc, as abbot counselor to William the Conqueror, 166 laymen: interactions and tensions with other religious groups, 30n; virtuoso religious elite relations with, see virtuoso–layman relations
 Little, L., 171
 Louis the Pious, King of France, monasticism during reign of, 138, 142, 156n, 160
 Louis VI, King of France, monastic connections of, 157
 Louis VII, King of France, monastic connections of, 157
 Lu-Thai, 77, 98
 Luther, Martin, 128, 167
- magical anthropolatry, as virtuoso–layman relationship, 26, 33
 magical cults, 115
 magical orientations, 34, 90, 91, 209
 magical powers, 67
 magical practices, 69, 195, 205
 magical services, 92, 209
 magico-ritual: orientations, 135; protection, 195; services, 201, 205
 Mahakassapa, 112
 Mahanikaya, 105
mahapurusa, 59, 61
 Mahasammata, 100
Mahavamsa, 62, 89
 Mahavihara, 89
 Mahayana Buddhism: monasticism in, 7n, 66, 109; Theravada Buddhism compared to, 71–2
 Malalgoda, K., 108, 112
 Mann, Michael, 6, 20, 212
 mass religiosity, virtuoso religiosity as opposite of, 25, 32, 33n Master's Rule, for monastic life, 126
 Mauss, Marcel, on gift relationship, 6, 34, 213–14
 Melchisedek, 157
 Mendelson, E. M., 84
 mendicant movement, in medieval Europe, 17, 163, 170, 171, 174, 180, 181
metta, 113
 Middle Ages, periodization of, 17n
 Middle Way, as Buddhist way to salvation, 59, 92
- Milinda's Questions*, 110
 monachization of laity, in Theravada Buddhism, 88–9 monachization of the warrior, in Christian knighthood, 166 Mongkut (Thai leader), 15
 mysticism: contemplative, 5n; Weber's underplaying of, 26n, 31, 32n
- neo-Marxism, as approach in historical macrocomparative sociology, 2–3 Nietzsche, Friedrich, on asceticism, 1, 71, 212, 220 nikaya, 83, 105
nirvana, 59, 60, 63, 64, 72
 nobility, religious virtuosi interaction with, 52
- obedience vows, of early Christian monks, 138
 Obeyeskere, G., 77, 108 organization: communal, 3; in early Christian monasteries, 138–43; formal, as criteria of institutionalization, 10; eremitic forms of, 178–9; ideological, 50; societal, 10; virtuoso, 17 organizations: religious institutions as, 3 organizational characteristics of monasticism, 5, 32, 38–54 organizational features: of the Buddhist Sangha, 10, 80–100; of Christian monasticism, 137–72; of forest dwellers, 111 organizational structures: as criteria of institutionalization, 51; organizational-corporate, 10; organizational-structural mode of institutionalization, 10 orthodoxy: apostolic movements and, 181; Christian eremitism and, 177–8, 181; Christian monasticism and, 132–5; Christian virtuoso radicalism and, 209–10; Mahavira, 89; Theravada “orthodoxy,” 58, 71–9, 106; Theravada virtuoso radicalism and, 203–4 otherworldliness, 34; in medieval Catholicism, 49, 123–6; in Theravada Buddhism, 49, 58–63, 200, 219 otherworldly orientations, 34, 49, 199, 215
- Pachomian monastery, organization and work of, 137, 143
 Pachomius, monastic rules of, 126, 175
 Pagan period (Sri Lanka), 15, 102
 Pali scriptures and canon, in Buddhism, 57, 69–70, 74, 75, 85, 90
pamsukulin, 108
 papacy, role in monastic authority, 152
 Parakramabahu I, King of Sri Lanka, 84, 85, 102, 112

- Parsonian functionalism, 3n, 5, 6n
 Parsons, Talcott, 30
 Patarins: in eremitic–apostolic revival, 181; as lay religious movement, 166
Patimokkha, 64
 Paul, on chastity, 121n
 Peace of God, 166
 penance, 127–8
 perfection, 59, 63, 64, 121–2, 157 perfectibility, 122, 199, 204
 political aspects of monasticism, 35, 51–2 (see also power); in Catholicism, 98, 164–5; in Theravada Buddhism, 97–102
 Polonnāvura, 103
 Pope Anacletus II, 169
 Pope Benedict IX, 152
 Pope Boniface VIII, 170
 Pope Gregory the Great, 155
 Pope Innocent II, 169 power (see also ideological power): virtuoso religiosity and, 35n, 45–6, 196, 210, 211–21 priests: interactions and tensions with other religious groups, 30n; religious virtuosity and, 2 Prinz, F., 159
 prophets: interactions and tensions with other religious groups, 30n; religious virtuosity and, 2
 Protestant ethic: capitalism and, 3; as extension of medieval monastic virtuosity, 27
The Protestant Ethic and the Spirit of Capitalism (Weber), 3, 21, 26
 Protestantism: as activist–ascetic virtuoso religion, 26; capitalism and, 3; Weber’s comparison of Buddhism to, 8; Protestant Reformation, 17
 purgatory, 127n
 Puritan Calvinism, 10
 radicalism: virtuoso, see virtuoso radicalism rajadharma, 61
 rationalization, 32, 34, 35, 39n, 219 record keeping, lack of, in Indian Buddhist monasticism, 18 reform: in Christian monasticism, 173–4; in Theravada Buddhism, 108 relational structures, 12, 188, 212, 217 relics, monasteries as depositories of, 155 religious–ideological orientations, influence of, 4 religious institutions, as economic organizations, 3 religious virtuosity, 1; ambiguities and tensions in, 25–6, 30; antagonism with established Church, 25; change and, 46–7; charisma and, 20, 25, 29n, 32n, 33n, 35–7, 188–94; definition of, 1, 25; institutionalization of, 11, 80–115, 137–72; mass religiosity as opposite to, 25, 32, 33n; in medieval Catholicism, 1, 137–72; monasticism and, 31–3; organizational structures, 138–43; power and, 45–6; social order and, functionalist approach, 43–5; as sociological phenomenon, 20, 32, 33, 37; as spiritual aristocracy, 2; in Theravada Buddhism, 1, 55–115 renunciation: asceticism and, 9; in India, 44, 46–7; in monasticism, 19, 43; in Theravada Buddhist monasticism, 92 ritual (see also death; magical practices), 26, 45: capacity, 205; chanting, 76; occasions, 94; performances, 91; practices, 5; services, 195; Weber’s insensitivity to, 5n ritualism, 64, 73, 148
 ritualization, 92
 ritualized exchange, 57–79
 ritualized interaction, 68, 78, 101 rituals, 77, 99, 215; Buddhist, 76; court, 91, 99; lay, 68; state, 74, 89
 Robert, King of England, monastic connections of, 160, 166
 Robertson, Roland, on religious and ideological orientations, 6
 Roman society, holy men in, 45
 Romuald of Ravenna, as Calmaldoli order founder, 177, 178
 Rosenwein, B., 171
 royalty, see kings; nobility safety-valve model, for virtuoso ascetics, 44, 45, 47
 Saint Benedict, see Benedictine
 Saint Bernard of Clairvaux, 160, 165, 166, 169–70
 Saint Denis, royal monastery at, 157, 165
 Saint Francis, 140
 Saint Gall, 141
 Saint Riquier monastery, 141
 saints, 109–10, 127, 169–70; as religious virtuosi, 31n salvation (see also soteriological functions): Buddhist view of, 4–5, 58, 72, 219; in Christianity, 4–5; layman’s access to, through religious virtuosi, 26; medieval Catholic view of, 127
samsara, release from, as Buddhist concept of salvation, 58–9
 Sangha Act of 1902 (Thailand), 84
 Sarkisyanz, E., 100
sasana, 101
 Schluchter, Wolfgang, 32n, 50, 191

Cambridge University Press

0521413974 - Virtuosity, Charisma, and Social Order: A Comparative Sociological Study of Monasticism in Theravada Buddhism and Medieval Catholicism

Ilana Friedrich Silber

Index

More information

250 Index

- sect(s): church versus, 32n; religious orders compared to, 40, 44, 47, 52, 132, 194
- segregation, of charisma, 44, 47, 52, 132, 194
- segregation, monasticism and, 195, 199, 201, 209, 213, 215
- Seguy, Jean, on monasticism, 40
- Shils, Edward, 6, 36; on charisma, 36, 190, 193, 194; on segregation of charisma, 44, 47, 52
- Shin Araham, 102
- Shwegyin, 111
- Simmel, Georg, 12
- soteriological functions (see also salvation): of monasticism, 26, (in Theravada Buddhism) 200–1
- spiritual aristocracy, religious virtuosi as, 2, 25
- Spiro, M., 92
- Sri Lanka, 14–15, 57, 74, 82, 84, 86, 88, 89–90, 98, 103, 104, 158; forest monkhood in, 111, 112
- state-theory approach, to historical macrocomparative sociology, 2–3
- Strenski, I., 95
- structural principle, 202, 207
- structuration theory, of Giddens, 6
- Sufi orders, 19
- Suger, abbot of Saint Denis monastery, 165
- Sukhodaya kingdom (Thailand), Buddhism as dominant religion in, 15
- Takhsin, 98–9
- Tambiah, Stanley J., 71, 90, 93, 94, 100, 103, 108–9, 113
- Tantric Buddhism, monasticism in, 7n
- tapassin*, 108
- Tellenbach, G., 134
- Thailand, 15, 74, 82, 84, 88, 91n, 102, 109
- Tibetan monasticism, 7, 19
- Troeltsch, E., 32n, 125, 126, 196
- Turner, Victor, antistructure concept of, 20, 53
- ultracism, 42
- uposatha*, 65
- utopia: monasticism as, 40; social, 10; Theravada millenarian movements and, 115
- Vallombrosa, lay brothers in, 141
- vanavasi*, 105
- Vessantara, 68
- vipassanadhura*, 105
- virtuosity: in modern secularized settings, 220–1; religious, see religious virtuosity; semantics of, 25(n)
- virtuoso complex, 2, 4, 194–8, 199–210, 216; ideological premises of, 199–201
- virtuoso elites: institutional strength and collective relevance of, 11; interaction with society of, 37; social position of, 212, 213
- virtuoso radicalism, 42–3; conservative features, 110–14; divergent forms, 114–15; in medieval Catholicism, 42, 173–83, 188–94, 209–10; monastic sectarianism and, 106–8; in Theravada Buddhism, 42–3, 53–4, 105–15, 179, 203–4
- virtuoso religiosity, see religious virtuosity
- virtuoso–society complex, 20, 23–31, 187–98, 220; exchange in, 195–6; gift relationship in, 34; in medieval Catholicism, 171, 174, 191, 200, 204, 213; in Theravada Buddhism, 54, 55–115, 171, 191, 200–2, 213
- Visuddhimagga*, 110
- Wach, Joachim, on monasticism as “protest within”, 40
- Wala of Corbic, political power of, 165
- Waldensians: in eremitic–apostolic revival, 181; as lay religious movement, 166
- wealth, monastic accumulation of, 42, 51, 215; in medieval Christianity, 143–6, 180, 182; in Theravada Buddhism, 86–7, 93–7, 197
- Weber, Max: on charisma, 189, 191, 192; comparative sociology of religion of, 4n, 21, 25–31, 38, 211, 218, 219; insensitivity to ritual of, 5n; on medieval Catholicism, 8; on monasticism, 19–20; on Protestantism and Western civilization, 10, 13; religious virtuosity concept of, 1, 19, 25–31; on rise of capitalism, 3; on salvation religions, 5; spiritual aristocracy concept of, 2, 25
- Werblowsky, R. J. Z., 109
- the West: economic hegemony of, 10n; rise of, 2; virtuoso religion in, 13
- William the Conqueror, 166
- women: monastic orders of, 154, 159, 174; in virtuoso Christian religion, 18–19; in virtuoso Theravada Buddhism, 19
- worldliness, tolerance of: in Buddhism, 59, 74; in medieval Christianity, 49, 123, 175
- worldly facets, of otherworldliness: in Theravada Buddhism, 58, 63, 200
- world-systemic approach, 2–3