

Index

- Abel, Theodore, on anti-Semitism, 104, 114, 131–2n
- abolition of slavery, group action in, 261
- Ache Indians (Paraguay), killing of, 85
- Adana, Turkey, killings in, 177
- adaptability of society to change, 14–15
- Adorno, Theodor, on authoritarian personality, 73n
- agentic mode, authoritarian influences on, 43
- aggression (see also violence): anonymity and, 50, 77; as cultural ideal, 54; displacement of, 63–4; economic conditions and, 44; frustration–aggression hypothesis and, 38–9; genetic predisposition for, 24, 35, 52–3; in headhunter tribes, 52; historical availability of, 54; instrumental, 43; moral orientation and, 56–7; motivations for, 38–44, 63–4; and nonaggression, 274–83; origin/instigation of, 35–6, 75–6; in perpetrators, 71; persistent, 52–4; personality characteristics in, 75–6; power desires and, 40–1; situational factors in, 75–6; societal potential for, 20; sociology and, 52–3; in United States, 242
- agriculture in Cambodia, 199
- Alfonsín, President, 227n
- Alianza Anticomunista Argentina, 218
- Allport, Gordon, on creation of common enemy, 95
- altruism (see also continuum of benevolence; helpfulness; heroic bystanders): genetic predisposition for, 24, 53; and the “good fanatic,” 77, 169, 229; in group, 28; group subversion of, 263; societal institutions promoting, 66; of Wallenberg, 168–9
- American Jewish organizations in the Holocaust, 156
- Amherst, Massachusetts, playground group work at, 275
- Amnesty International: on Argentine prisoner treatment, 222–3; prisoners freed by, 87; on superiors assuming responsibility, 226
- Angkor empire, 196–8, 199–200
- Angkor Wat, 196, 197, 199
- antagonism: continuum of, 250; ideology of, 250–1
- anticommunism: in Argentina, 214–15; in United States, 258
- Anti-Semites Petition (1881), 100
- anti-Semitism: in Argentina, 223; in Austria, 98, 164n; in Bulgaria, 154–5; in deep structure of culture, 104; devaluation of group and, 61, 100–4; of early Christians, 60, 101; in France, 20; in Germany, 30, 100–4, 117–21, 163; history of, 20, 100–3; in Hungary, 153; increase of, before World War II, 88; as ingroup cement, 95; and ingroup–outgroup differentiation, 66; level of, vs. proportion of Jews killed, 153; of Martin Luther, 46, 102–3; in Middle Ages, 101–2; modern, 103–4; in Nazi Europe, 153–5; outside Germany, 85; in Poland, 154; promotion of, 267; propaganda about, 120; in Soviet Union, 20; of SS members, 131, 136; theological, 46, 60, 101–3, 117; in Ukraine, 136; in United States, 157
- antisocial personality, 68, 71, 72–3
- “anus mundi,” Auschwitz as, 142
- Arendt, Hannah: on banality of evil, 126; on Eichmann, 82; on euphemisms, 29; on Jewish councils, 159, 160; on Jewish perception of Nuremberg laws, 163; on victim role in Holocaust, 31
- Argentina: anti-Semitism in, 223; deprivation feelings in, 55; disparate suffering in, 267; social change opposition in, 86

- Argentine disappearances/mass killings:
 abduction in, 11, 220–5; anticommunism in, 214–15, 218; and book burning, 217; bystander role in, 227–30; caprice in, 224; casualties in, 7, 11; church silence in, 228; civil war preceding, 47; communist treatment in, 222; continuum of destruction in, 217–20; Cuban blockade and, 218; cultural characteristics and, 212–17, 233; detention centers in, 220; difficult life conditions preceding, 44, 210–12; economic difficulties and, 210–11; end of, 231; euphemistic language in, 227; German influence on, 214, 219–20; historical conditions preceding, 210–12; ideology in, 214–17, 224–5; institutional changes and, 219; institutional cooperation in, 227–8; Jewish prisoners in, 222–3; killing/torture methods in, 220–5; machinery of destruction for, 219–20; military role in, see military groups (Argentina)
 Montoneros and, 218; Mothers of Plaza del Mayo and, 228–9; motivations for, 23, 225; Nunca Mas report on, 211, 220–3, 225, 227–8; officers' responsibility for, 84; opposition to, 228–9; origins of, 232–6; vs. other genocides/killings, 7; overview of, 11; Perón's role in, 210–12, 213, 217; perpetrators in, 25, 76, 216–17, 225–6, see also military groups (Argentina); political conflict and, 211–12; property confiscation in, 131; self-concept of military and, 214–17; Soviet Union as bystander in, 230; victim selection in, 11, 61, 223–6; violence preceding, 211–12
- Armenia, earthquake aid in, 4
- Armenian genocide (see Turkish genocide of Armenians)
- Armenian Revolutionary Federation, 179
- Arrow Cross, 154
- artists in social change, 282
- Aryan culture as ideal, 94–5, 97, 105–6
- Athens, moral orientation of, 57
- attachment, infant–caretaker, 26–7, 59, 111
- Auschwitz: commandant of, 132, 142; doctors' behavior/motivations in, 141–4, 145; inmate resistance in, 162; killing procedures in, 136–7; processing of victims in, 141–2; Schindler camp inmates from, 141; “selection procedures” in, 9, self, 143; SS activities in, 141–4
- Austria: anti-Semitism in, 98, 164n; Hitler's early life in, 98; Jews of, 161, 164n
- authoritarianism (see also obedience):
 aggression displacement in, 63–4; as aggression source, 43; authority orientation vs., 75; in Cambodian autogenocide, 197–8; cultural attitudes toward, 63; doctors' submission to, 122–3; facts created by, 65; in family, 51, 72–5; in Germany, 23–4, 108–11; mistreatment and, 66; in perpetrator organizations, 78; personality characteristics in, 73–5; as predisposing factor in genocide, 19, 29–30; in schools, 280–1; self-responsibility problems and, 29–30; in SS, 132–3; in Turkey, 176; in United States, 242
- authority orientation, see authoritarianism
- autogenocide in Cambodia, see Cambodian autogenocide
- Barnet, Richard, on ideology of national security, 254–5
- battlefield experiences, psychological effects of, 30, 47–8
- Bay of Pigs, decision making in, 270
- Becker, Ernest: on power and aggression, 40–1; on power of human sacrifice, 149
- Belgium, Jews of, 155, 161
- Bellah, Robert, on individualism, 268
- belonging to group, importance of, 253
- Belzec camp, guard attitude in, 84
- benevolence, continuum of, 167–9, 276–8
- Berlin, Isaiah, on national identity, 252
- Berlin Psychoanalytic Institute, 119, 122
- Bettelheim, Bruno: on “Heil Hitler” greeting, 82; on Jewish resistance, 160; on totalitarianism, 126
- better-world thinking as source of antagonism, 251
- Biafra, killings in, 86
- Binding, Karl, on euthanasia, 122
- biological needs as motivation, 36–7
- Bismarck, Otto, unification under, Holocaust origin and, 32
- blacks (see also civil rights movement) as scapegoats, 49
- Bolshevism: aggression idealization in, 54; Jews accused of conspiracy with, 104
- bombing of Cambodia, 190, 204–5
- bonding: in concentration camps, 162; infant–caretaker, 26–7, 59, 111
- brainwashing, group support in, 269
- Bronfenbrenner, Uri, on mutual devaluation of societies, 278
- brownshirts, see SA
- Buchenwald, death and survival attitudes in, 45–6

Index

321

- Bulgaria: anti-Semitism in, 154–5; Jews of, 154–5; Nazi resistance in, 87; Turkish massacres in, 184–5
- bureaucratization, see compartmentalization of function
- Burschenschaften, 115
- Burundi, killings in, 86
- bystanders: acceptance of situation by, 124; in Argentine killings, 227–30; in Turkish genocide, 184–7; behavior of, 86–8; in Cambodian autogenocide, 208–9; definition of, 20; in Germany, 151–2, 164; helpfulness of, 87; heroic, as rescuers of Jews, 119, 140, 154–5, 165–9; in Holocaust, 119; increasing participation of, 82; international, 155–8; intervention by, 241n; in Nazi Europe, 152–5; obligations of, 239–40; opposition from, 20–2, 87; passivity of, 18, 82, 87, 151–8; perpetrators developed from, 18; power or influence of, 86–8, 152; in practice of minimalism, 259; reality perceptions of, 65; 87; as semiactive perpetrators in Germany, 82, 152; as victims, 87
- Cambodian autogenocide (see also Khmer Rouge): Angkor empire and, 196–8, 199–200; authority orientation and, 197–8; bystander roles in, 208–9; casualties in, 7, 11, 193; city evacuation in, 191–3; civil war preceding, 47; class divisions and, 198–9; continuum of destruction in, 208; cultural characteristics in, 195–201, 233; difficult life conditions preceding, 44, 188–91, 204; disparate suffering in, 267; fanaticism sources in, 201–4; followers gained in, 204–6; government upheaval in, 33; historical conditions preceding, 188–91; ideology of, 17, 194–5, 198–9, 201–4; individuals' roles in, 206–8; intellectual sources of, 201; killing methods in, 11, 192–3, 194; lack of bureaucracy in, 29; motivation for, 23; “new people” in, 4, 192–3, 195, 196–7; origins of, 232–6; vs. other genocides, 7; overview of, 10; peasant conditions before, 188–9; perpetrators in, 78; Pol Pot's role in, 194–5, 196–7, 199, 203–4, 205, 206–7, political instability before, 189–91; preexisting idea for, 67; self-concept in, 199–200; Sihanouk's role in, 188–90, 198–9, 201, 207–8; slavery and, 199; South Vietnamese invasion and, 191; tradition of violence and, 200–1; urban–rural rift and, 198–9; U.S. bombing and, 190, 204–5; victim selection in, 8, 10–11, 61, 86, 192–3, 196; Vietnam hatred and, 191, 195, 198–9, 201–2; youth groups in, 205–6
- camps, see concentration camps
- Canada, resistance to Jewish immigration in, 156
- caring: in children, 280 creation/evolution of, 274–83; self-actualization and, 269
- Carter, President Jimmy, and human rights in South America, 230
- categorization as source of ethnocentrism, 59–60
- Catholic church: in Argentina, 211, 215, 224; in Hungary, 153; role in anti-Semitism, 46, 60, 117
- Catholics (as individuals): euthanasia opposition by, 125; as Nazi supporters, 46
- censorship of media: in repressive system, 271–3; self-imposed, 271
- Chamberlin, Houston, on German superiority, 106
- Chandler, David, on Cambodian cultural history, 195–7, 200
- change (see also continuum entries; evolution; learning by participation; social change): institutional, 219; in motivation, 38; in values, 25
- Charny, Israel, on family role in genocidal attitudes, 30–1
- Cheka (Soviet secret police), aggression idealization in, 54
- children: Argentine military influence on, 216, 224; in Armenian genocide, 10; in concentration camps, 143; enablement of, 268; euthanasia of, 121, 123; German, World War I effects on, 30; helpfulness in, 80; individualism of, 270; in Khmer Rouge, 206; political killing of, 3n; positive socialization of, 279–81; rearing of, see family; rescue of, 155, 165–6; teaching helpfulness to, 277
- China: as bystander in Cambodian autogenocide, 208–9; cultural revolution in, 88; Great Leap Forward (1958–60), Khmer Rouge ideology and, 203; as Khmer Rouge enemy, 202; Nixon trip to, 257
- Christians (see also Catholic church; church leaders): anti-Semitism in, 60, 101–3; and Argentine clergy persecutions, 224; behavior of, vs. Jews killed, 153; devaluation of, in Turkey, 175–6; euthanasia opposition by, 125; in Hungary, 153; as Nazi supporters, 46;

- Christians (cont.)
 Nietzsche's views on, 112; as rescuers of Jews, 4, 71, 155; as scapegoats in early Rome, 49
- church leaders: behavior of, vs. Jews killed, 153; in Belgium, 155; of Bulgaria, 154
- civil rights movement, 261; origins of, 64; shared goals in, 274–5
- cognitive consistency theory, 151
- collective retribution in Holocaust, 164
- Committee of Union and Progress, see Young Turks
- Communists: in Cambodia, see Khmer Rouge; elimination of class enemies by, 86; in Germany, 93–4; in Russia, Stalinist persecutions and, 20
- community, see connection; group(s)
- compartmentalization of function, 18, 28–9, 83–4
- concentration camps (see also Auschwitz):
 commandants of, 132, 138–9;
 compartmentalization of functions in, 83;
 cruelty of exterminations in, 138; death attitudes of inmates in, 45–6; doctors' behavior in, 43, 83, 141–4; enemies taken to (1933), 135; escapes from, 162;
 euthanasia methods/personnel transferred to, 123; guards for, 40, 68–9, 135; inmate adaptive mechanisms in, 162; killing methods in, 9, 136–7; kindness in, 146; living conditions in, 9–10, 137; medical experimentation in, 83, 145; prisoner song in, 68; processing of victims in, 141–2; reality denial in, 163; "selection procedures" in, 9; SS behavior in, 145–6; survival mechanisms in, 162; transportation to, Jewish councils' role in, 31; uprisings in, 162; worker attitudes in, 84
- conflict mode, nations operating in, 250
- connection, see also group(s): creation/ evolution of, 274–83; group membership and, 266; importance of, 253, 270; promotion of, 278–9; security needs and, 265; self-actualization and, 269; social justice and, 268
- conservatives, reaction of, to societal changes, 46–7
- Constantinople massacres, 10, 178
- continuum of antagonism, 250
- continuum of benevolence, 167–9; social change and, 276–8
- continuum of destruction (see also learning by participation), 17–18, 238–9; in Argentine mass killings, 217–20, 226; bystander role in, 82, 86–8, 119; in Cambodian autogenocide, 208; compartmentalization and, 83–4; conversion in, 134n; difficulty of stopping, 85; extraneous motives in, 84; extreme destructiveness role in, 80–5; fanaticism in, 77; "foot in the door" phenomenon in, 80; group role in, 28, 124; heroic resistance effects on, 18; in Holocaust, 116–27; in Hungary, 154; individual responsibility in, 148; just-world thinking and, 79–80; leadership role in, 85–6; learning by doing and, 80–5; monolithic societies and, 19; moral choices in, 147–8; motivation role in, 23; opposition/resistance in, 65, 125; passivity of victims and, 31–2; pluralistic societies and, 19; in Turkish genocide, 176–7
- continuum of victimization, 165
- Contras, Nicaraguan, selective reporting about, 273
- control of environment, need for, 264–5
- conversion in continuum of destruction, 134n
- cooperation of Jews, 158–60
- coping mechanisms (see also devaluation), 16–17, 48–50
- Coughlin, Father, anti-Semitic radio programs of, 157
- Craig, Gordon: on German culture, 105; on German obedience, 108; on Hitler's accomplishments, 116–7
- Crawley, Eduardo, on Argentine military, 216–17
- crematoria in concentration camps, 143
- crosscutting relations, 274–6, 278–9
- crystal night, 135
- Cuba: blockade of, 214, 218; invasion of, decision making in, 270
- cultural characteristics, 234–6; aggression and, see aggression; in Argentine mass killings, 212–17; of Aryans, 94–5, 97; authoritarianism and, see authoritarianism; in Cambodian autogenocide, 195–201; deep structure of, 104; effects of, 14, 18–20, 24–5, 51–2; in Germany, 100–15; importance of, 240–1; in ingroup–outgroup differentiation, 58–62; modification of, 51; in monolithic society, 62–3; moral orientation and, 56–8; national self-concept and, 54–5; in pluralistic society, 62–3; summary of, in genocide origin, 234–6; in Turkey, 175–6; unconscious motivation and, 63–4; variation in, 51–2; war and, 250–7
- cultural devaluation, see devaluation

Index

323

- cultural tilt, see societal tilt
- culture (see also cultural characteristics), 18–19, 51–65
- Darley, John, on helpfulness, 87
- decision making: vs. direct perpetration, 67–8, 225–6; leadership accountability and, 270–1; and learning by doing, 82–3
- decolonialization, killings after, 86
- defense, psychological, 3, 15, 162–3
- Dekmejian, R.H., on discontinuity with past, 32
- DeMause, Lloyd, on punishment of children, 74
- denial of reality: by bystanders, 88; in Holocaust, 29, 162–3; during threat, 163; by victims, 31, 162–3
- Denmark: Jews' escape from, 152; Nazi reaction to resistance in, 87
- depression (economic), anti-Semitism intensified by, 157
- deprivation feelings, cultural self-concept and, 55
- derogatory labels for outgroup, 61
- destruction, continuum of, see continuum of destruction
- Deutsch, Morton: on crosscutting relations, 274; on malignant social process, 250
- devaluation (see also just-world thinking), 234; absence of, in established innocence, 79; in Argentina, 222; blame assignment in, 61–2; as central factor, 240; as coping mechanism, 48–9; in Hindu–Muslim conflict, 250; humanity diminished in, 62; ingroup–outgroup differentiation and, 58–62; of Jews, 100–4; justification for, 82; moral exclusion and, 71; of poor people, 56; as protection of identity, 60; psychological basis for, 19; recognition of, 281; societal differences in, 61; as source of evil, 26; in Turkey, 175–6; in United States, 242; victim definition by, 61
- Dicks, Henry, on SS family backgrounds, 132
- difficult life conditions (see also war) 13–14, 35–50, 232, 234; aggressive response to, 35–6, 38–44; in Argentina, 210–12; in Cambodian autogenocide, 44, 188–91, 204–5; combat experience as, 47–8; constructive action in, 16–17, 50; coping strategies for, 16–17, 48–50; cultural characteristics and, 18–20; danger as, 44–7; degree of difficulty and effects of, 14; effects of, 13–14; examples of, 35–6; failure perceived in, 42; frustration in, 35–6, 38–44, 55; group disparities in, 267; group dynamics in, 16, 41–2; harmful behavior in, 72; hedonic balancing in, 38; hostility in, 16; institutions to deal with, 267; motivation changes in, 38; motivation combined with, 23; nationalism during, 19; positive reactions to, 50; in post–World War I Germany, 92–3; preceding genocide, 44; psychological needs arising from, 15–16; radical leadership in, 24; reality perceptions and, 15; regression to childish state in, 45; self-concept effects of, 15–16; self-protective motives arising from, 15; societal characteristics and, 18–20; stress as, 44–7; in Turkey, 173–5; in United States, 243
- disappearance, see Argentine disappearances/mass killings
- discontinuity, social turmoil caused by, 32–3
- discrimination in ingroup–outgroup differentiation, 66
- doctors in Holocaust: as Burschenschaft members, 115; compartmentalization of values in, 83; in concentration camps, 141–4; doubling by, 143–4; in euthanasia program, 70, 121–3, 142; initial shock of, 142; motivations of, 145; obedience of, 122–3; rationalization by, 143; reassignment of, to Russian front, 145
- doubling in SS doctors, 143–4
- Dreyfus affair, 20
- Dyson, Freeman, on nuclear war, 255
- economic conditions: aggression and, 44; Argentine mass killings and, 210–11; before Cambodian genocide, 188–9; effects of, 13–14; in Holocaust origin, 32, 92–3
- education: Argentine military control of, 216; about child rearing, 280; as enablement, 268; for helpfulness, 277n; level of, vs. destructiveness, 136n; positive socialization in, 280–1
- Eichmann, Adolph: cooperation with, 154; on lack of opposition to exterminations, 65; late war activities of, 149–50; as mediocrity, 126; moral conflict in, 147; progressively destructive behavior of, 82; Wallenberg dealings with, 169
- Einsatzgruppen*: activities of, 9, 135–6; as euphemism for extermination squads, 29
- Einstein, Albert, on united Europe, 107
- El Salvador, social change opposition in, 86
- emigration of Jews, 155–6, 159, 161
- empathic joining in groups, 238

- empathy: distress caused by, 80; factors affecting, 119–20; lack of, in perpetrators, 68, 71
- enablement for social justice, 267–8
- enemy, image of, 254n
- Enver Bey on Young Turk ideology, 181
- Epstein, Seymour, on self-concept loss, 41
- equality of opportunity as cultural value, 55–6
- Erikson, Erik, on Hitler's image to German youth, 30
- Estonia, Jews of, 161
- Etcheson, Craig, on Khmer Rouge ideology, 202
- Ethiopia, starvation aid in, 4
- ethnocentrism, 54–5; in Germany, 107–8; sources of, 59; in United States, 252
- Etzioni, Amitai, on prisoner group support, 269
- eugenics, 121
- euphemistic language: in Argentine killings, 227; in Holocaust, 29, 156; social change and, 282
- euthanasia, 121–3, 137; as extermination technique, 66; killing methods in, 122; opposition to, 125; perpetrators selected for, 70
- Evian Conference (1938), 155
- evil: banality of, 126; concept of, 25–7; in group dynamics, 27–8; inconsistent attitudes in, 27; perpetrators of, see perpetrators; potential for, in group violence, 26; vs. self-defense, 26; sources of, 26–7; terrorism as, 26
- evolution (see also continuum entries; learning by participation); of caring, 274–83; of fanaticism, 77; of nonaggression, 274–83
- expansionism vs. minimalism, 258–9
- extermination camps, see concentration camps
- Falkland Islands war, 231, 256
- family: authoritarianism in, 72–5, 109–11, 132; divisions in, in continuum of destruction, 125; enablement of, 268; German, relationships in, 109–11; in motivation transmission, 64; of perpetrators, 30–1, 72–5; positive socialization in, 280; punishment of children in, 72, 74
- fanaticism, 235; genocide resulting from, 76; for good purposes, 77, 169, 229; of Hitler, 31, 76, 98; irrational behavior in, 76; of Khmer Rouge, 201–4; origins of, 76–7; perpetrators and, 76–7; vs. self-preservation, 28
- fascism (see also military and military groups [Argentina]; Nazis and Nazism), mass psychology of, 114
- fear in bystanders, 239
- Fein, Helen: on Jewish segregation, 160; on prewar anti-Semitism, 153; on resistance to Nazis, 87; on resistance to oppression, 158
- Final Solution (see also Holocaust): creation of, 9; as euphemism, 29
- followership, 23–4, 236; in Cambodia, 204–6; Hitler's appeal and, 31; and leadership, 23–4; role in genocide of, 23, 236
- foreign policy, minimalism in, 258–9
- France: anti-Semitism in, 20; Cambodia under, 197, 199; resistance in, 165–6; revolution of, scapegoating after, 50; Ruhr occupation by, 92
- freedom, information flow and, 271–3
- Freikorps, 115
- Freud, Sigmund: on aggression, 53; on anatomy as destiny, 278; on defense mechanisms, 162–3; on mysteries of unfamiliar, 103; on roots of evil, 26
- Fromm, Erich: on group identity, 42; on Hitler's appeal, 109; on submission to authority, 29–30; on “sleeper” concept, 133
- frustration: aggression and, 35–6, 41–2, 55; anger displacement in, 63–4; in benevolent society, 265; as positive challenge, 265
- frustration–aggression hypothesis, 38–9
- fundamentalism (Christian), humanism attacked by, 61–2
- fundamentalism (Islamic) in Iran, 14
- gas chambers, 9, 136–7, 141–2; and bombing proposal, 156–7
- genetic views in German extermination program, 9, 121
- genetic predisposition: to aggression, 24, 35, 52–3; to altruism, 24; to ingroup–outgroup differentiation, 59
- genocide: in Argentina, see Argentine disappearances/mass killings; in Armenia, see Turkish genocide of Armenians; in Biafra, 86; in Burundi, 86; in Cambodia, see Cambodian autogenocide; definition of, 7–8; differences in, 6–7; in Germany, see Holocaust; government role in, 24–5; as insanity, 91; justification of, 11–12; opposition to, see opposition to genocide; perpetrators of, see perpetrators; of

Index

325

- political groups, 8; prediction of, 241–4; self-destructive nature of, 12; vs. war, 4
- Genocide Convention, 7–8
- genocide origins: anti-Semitism and, see anti-Semitism; authoritarianism and, 29–30; bystander role in, see bystanders; central factors in, 240–1; compartmentalization of functions and, 28–9; coping mechanisms and, 16–17; cultural characteristics and, see cultural characteristics; destruction continuum and, see continuum of destruction; difficult life conditions in, see difficult life conditions; economic conditions and, 32; euphemistic language and, 28–9; evil and, 25–8; family role in, 30–1; followership and, 23–4, 236; governmental discontinuity in, 32–3; group psychology in, 237–8; Hitler's psychopathology and, 31; individual's role in, 24–5; leadership and, see leadership; motivation in, 22–3; obedience and, 29–30; perceived threats to nation and, 23; perpetrator psychology in, 237–8; personal goal theory of, 22–3, 28–33; psychological needs and, 15–17; social goal theory and, 28–33; societal characteristics and, 18–20; state role in, 33; victim role in, 31–2; World War I effects and, 30
- Germany (see also Holocaust): academic community of, 106–7; anarchy in, 93; anti-Semitism in, 20, 30, 100–4, 117–21, 163; authoritarianism in, 108–11; bureaucratic traditions of, 28–9; as bystander in Armenian genocide, 185–7; bystanders in, 151–2, 165–6; child-rearing practices in, 74, 109–11; communist movement in, 93–4; cultural characteristics of, 100–15, 233; democracy absence in, 109; depression effects on, 92; deprivation feelings in, 55; economic conditions in, 92; education valued in, 129–30; euthanasia program in, 66, 70, 121–3, 125, 137; “genetically inferior” persons in, extermination of, 9; genocide in, see Holocaust; government upheaval in, 32; inflation in, 92; influence of, on Argentine military, 214, 219–20; institutions of, societal climate created by, 66; intellectual community of, 106–7; Jewish persecutions in (Middle Ages), 117; Jewish persecutions in (pre-World War II), 82–3, 117–21; loss of war by, intensified killing during, 85, 149–50; moral dichotomy in, 113; Napoleon's conquest of, 106; political history of, 106; propaganda ministry of, 66; rationality in, 113; revolution in (1918), 92; romanticism in, 105–6, 113; socialists in, 114; superiority feelings in, 105–8; territories occupied by, 152–5; Treaty of Versailles effects on, 91–3; violent ideology in, 17; World War I effects on, 44, 47–8, 91–3, 113–15; Young Turks alliance with, 174; youth of, World War I effects on, 30, 113–15
- Gestapo, 135
- Gilligan, Carol, on moral orientation, male vs. female, 57
- Girard, P., on early Christian dogma, 101
- goals (see also motives; personal goal theory): cultural, 56; group, 238; hierarchy of, 144–5; internal, 56; international, 56; long-term vs. short-term, 261; modification of, in frustration, 265; national, 251–2, 258; progression toward, 85, 149–50; shared, 274–5; short-term vs. long-term, 261; superordinate, 274–6, 279
- Goebbels, Joseph: on master race, 97; on rightness of Nazi policy, 158
- Goeth, Amos (Plaszow commandant), 138–9
- Gorbachev, Mikhail, Soviet–U.S. relations and, 257
- government: cultural characteristics of, 65; genocide organization by, 24–5; upheaval of, as genocide predisposing factor, 32–3
- Great Britain: as bystander in the Holocaust, 156; as bystander in Turkish genocide, 184–5; Palestine blockade by, 156; Turkish alliance of, 174
- Greece, torturers in, 70, 82
- group(s): adversity faced by, 267; altruism subverted by, 263; belonging to, 253; commitment to, 124; connection values in, 265; connections between, 278–9; critical loyalty to, 266; deindividuation in, 50; difficult life conditions and, 15–16, 41–2, 266–7; emotional expression in, 77–8; empathic joining in, 238; enablement promoted by, 267–8; evil potential of, 27–8; frustration in, 265; goals in, 238; human nature effects on, 262–3; human needs and, 264–5; human potential fulfillment in, 265; identification rituals in, 60, 82; individual identity diminished in, 77–8; individual relations with, 266; vs. individualism, 268–70; interaction among, 274–6; leadership of, see leadership; membership in, as coping mechanism, 49–50; minimum mass in, 278; moral orientation in, 28, 56–8; morality of, vs.

group(s) (cont.)

- individual morality, 262–3; patriotism and, 263; perpetrator psychology and, 77–8; psychology of, 16–17, 237–8; rescuers affected by, 167; satisfaction in, 78; security needs of, 265; selection for power in, 262; self-actualization and, 268–9; self-concept of, 253–4; self given up to, 17; self-interest of, 262–3; self-sacrifice in, 28; social change produced by, 261–2; social justice and, 266–8; SS identity molded by, 130; support within, 269–70; thinking patterns in, 67, 78, 124, 257; threats against, 264; trust in, 265; violent potential of, 18–19, 26
- “groupthink,” 67, 77–8, 124, 257
- Grueber, Pastor Heinrich, as rescuer of Jews, 125
- guards, behavior and attitudes of, 40, 68–9, 76
- Guatemala, social change opposition in, 86
- Gulf of Tonkin incident, 65, 256
- Gypsies in Nazi genocide, 9, 95
- Hamid, Sultan Abdul, and Turkish genocide, 173, 174, 177, 185
- hard times, see difficult life conditions
- Hartt, B., on national upheaval, 32
- Head Start program, 268
- hedonic balancing: in difficult times, 38; by perpetrators, 70
- Heidegger, Martin, as Nazi supporter, 107
- Heider, Fritz, cognitive consistency theory of, 151
- “Heil Hitler” greeting, psychological effects of, 17, 82
- helpfulness (see also altruism; caring; continuum of benevolence): bystander influence in, 86–8, 152; divisive forms of, 278; factors affecting, 41–2; and learning by doing, 80–1; vs. number of persons present, 84; responsibility in, 87
- helplessness of Jews, 164–5
- Herder, Johann Gottfried, on German cultural specialness, 105
- heroic bystanders as rescuers of Jews, 119, 140, 154–5, 165–9
- heroic nihilism in Germany, 115
- Hess, Rudolph, 94
- Hilberg, Raul: on bureaucratization of functions, 28–9; on euphemistic language in Holocaust, 29
- Himmler, Heinrich, 128–9, 131; on master race, 97; moral conflict in, 147; responsibility assumed by, 84; on SS goals, 150
- Hindu–Muslim conflicts, 250
- Hitler, Adolph: accomplishments of, 116–17; on Armenian genocide, 187; bodyguard for (SS), 128; chancellor appointment of, 94; confirmation of faith in plans of, 87; difficult life conditions exploited by, 267; on dismissal of Jewish scientists, 97; early public speeches of, 96; on exterminating Munich Jews, 97; fanaticism of, 76, 98; genocidal ideas of, before gaining power, 67; ideology of, 94–8; influences on his anti-Semitism, 98; leadership effectiveness of, 23–4, 30, 98–9, 109; on living space (Lebensraum) rights, 55; Mein Kampf, 64, 94, 97; mother of, 31, 98; national interest defined by, 257; Nietzsche’s influence on, 111–13; personality of, 31; Polish attack faked by, 65; positive feelings toward, 151; promises of (1920s), 93; propaganda of, 88; psychopathology of, 31, 98; religious groups supporting, 46; rise to power, 44, 91–9; Russian front defeat of, 49; social classes supporting, 46; Soviet Union alliance of, 96; SS oath of loyalty to, 129; in Vienna, 98
- Hobbes, Thomas, on human nature, 26, 28
- Hoche, Alfred, on euthanasia, 122
- Hoess, Rudolf (Auschwitz commandant), 132, 142
- Hoffer, Eric, on mass movements, 237
- Hoffman, Martin, on parental punishment, 72
- Hoffman, Stanley, on national interest and power, 258
- Holocaust: academic community’s nationalism and, 106–7; anti-Semitism in, 30, see also anti-Semitism; in Austria, 161, 164n; authoritarianism and, 29–30, 108–11; in Belgium, 154–5, 161; bribery in, 131; British passivity in, 156–7; in Bulgaria, 154–5; bystanders’ role in, 151–8, 165–6; Canadian passivity in, 156; casualties in, 7, 9, 152–5; church leaders’ behavior in, 152–5; collective retribution policy in, 164; compartmentalization in, 28–9, 83–5, 108; concentrations camps in, see concentration camps; continuum of destruction in, 116–27; coping mechanisms of victims in, 158–65; cultural preconditions in, 100–16, 233; cultural superiority feelings and, 105–7; in Denmark, 154; devaluation of Jews and, 100–4; difficult life conditions preceding, 91–4; doctor’s role in, see doctors in Holocaust; economic conditions and, 32, 91–3; in Estonia, 161; euphemistic language in, 29, 156; euthanasia in, 66, 121–3; family (perpetrator) role in, 30–1;

Index

327

- Final Solution creation in, 9; in France, 165–6; German population as bystanders in, 151; group membership and, 124; Hitler psychohistory and, 31; in Hungary, 153–4; ideas for, before Hitler's rise to power, 67; ideology as motive for, 95–8; and immigration of Jews, 155–6; individual responsibility in, 148–9; intellectual community's nationalism and, 106–7; intensified extermination near end of war, 85, 149–50; international passivity in, 155–8; Jewish cooperation in, 158–60; Jewish councils in, 155, 159–60; killing methods in, 9, 136–7, 141–2; Kristallnacht, 117; leadership in, 23–4; Lebensraum aspect of, 55, 95; media selective reporting in U.S. of, 271; mistreatment of Jews before, 117–21; moral equilibration in, 147–9; motivation for, 23; national goals and, 104–8; in Netherlands, 161; Nietzsche's ideas and, 111–13; Nuremberg laws and, 118, 163; origins of, 28–32, 232–6; vs. other genocides, 6–7; overview of, 9–10; paramilitary organizations and, 114–15; passivity of outside world in, 155–8; perpetrators in, 78, 91, see also doctors in Holocaust; SS; phases of, 9; in Poland, 154, 162; political conditions and, 32, 91–3; preconditions for, 91–5, 100–15; propaganda and, 82–3, 87, 103–4, 118, 120, 157; property confiscation in, 131; Prussian militaristic influences on, 106, 108–9; racial purity and, 95–8, 121–3, 129; rationality vs. romanticism and, 113; reality denial in, 29, 88, 162–3; rescuers of Jews in, 4, 71, 77, 80–1; resistance activity in, 4, 71, 77, 80–1, 87–8, 125, 140, 152–5, 158, 161–2; responsibility in, 148–9; self-concept and, 104–8; self-esteem and, 104–8; societal tilt in, 118–19; SS role in, see SS; totalitarianism and, 125–7; Treaty of Versailles role in, 91–4; vs. Turkish genocide, 176–7; United States passivity in, 156; victim role in, 31–2; War Refugee Board and, 156, 168; Warsaw ghetto and, 139, 162; World War I relationship to, 30, 47, 113–14; youth groups and, 114–15
- hospitals, killing in, in Holocaust, 9
- hostility: in authoritarian family, 110–11; escalation of, 250; leadership influence on, 257; motivating aggression, 39; perception of, 264; social change produced by, 64; targets for, 16, see also scapegoating; unconscious, 25
- Hou Youn, 189, 203–4, 207
- Huguenots, heroic rescue by, 165–6
- human nature, assumptions about, 26–8; group behavior and, 262–3
- human sacrifice, power of, 149
- humanism, secular, attack on, 61–2
- Hungary: anti-Semitism in, 153; Jews from, killing of, 143, 149, 150, 153–4; Wallenberg's rescue work in, 81, 140, 166–7, 168–9
- Hutterites on equality, 56
- “I-we” concept in group, 238
- ideals in social change, 261, 282
- ideology (see also Nazi ideology), 234–5; of antagonism, 250–1; of Argentine military, 214–17; better-world, 251; in Cambodian autogenocide, 193–5; as coping mechanism, 50; definition of, 50; fanatic, see fanaticism; as Holocaust motive, 94–8; as hope in difficult times, 41; of Khmer Rouge, 192, 194–5, 201–4; of national security, 254–5; Pan-Turkism, 174; shaping in difficult times, 17; in victim selection, 86; of Young Turks, 181–2
- Ieng Sary, 207–8
- image of enemy concept, 254n
- immigration: of Jews, 155–6, 159, 161; of Muslims into Turkey, 174
- incest, 245
- India–Pakistan wars, 49, 250
- Indians, American, killing of, 85
- individualism: advantages and disadvantages of, 268–70; vs. connection to group, 266, 268–70; economic, 268; expressive, 268; genocide potential and, 241
- industrialization, Holocaust origin and, 32
- infant–caretaker relationships: in Germany, 111; and good and evil, 26–7; ingroup–outgroup differentiation and, 59
- inflation, severe: in Argentina, 210–11; in Germany, 92
- ingroup, anti-Semitism as cement for, 95
- ingroup–outgroup differentiation (see also “us–them” differentiation), 58–62
- injustice, aggression and, 40, 266–7
- Inquisition, scapegoating in, 50
- insanity, genocide as, 91
- institutions: importance of, 267; international, 279; social, 65–6; societal climate created by, 66
- international institutions as connection mechanisms, 279
- Iran, Islamic fundamentalism in, 14
- Islam (see also Muslims): in Iran, 14, 76; in Turkey, 181–2
- Italy: Jews of, 154; Nazi resistance in, 87
- Ith Sarin on Khmer Rouge leadership, 205
- James, William, on glorification of war, 255

- Janis, Irving, on groupthink, 67
- Japan, suicide rate in, vs. economic conditions, 44
- Jewish councils, 31, 159–60
- Jews (see also anti-Semitism; Holocaust):
 assimilation of, in Germany, 102, 117;
 attempted conversion of, 101; of Austria, 161, 164n; of Belgium, 155, 161; blood transfusions from, 76; Bolshevik conspiracy accusation of, 104; of Bulgaria, 154–5; business takeover from, 118;
 bystander actions against, 82; cooperation of, 158–60; definition of, in Germany, 118; of Denmark, 87; 152, 154;
 devaluation of, 100–4; emigration of,
 155–6, 159, 161; of Estonia, 161; friends of (Judenfreunde), 118; helplessness of, 164–5; of Hungary, 143, 149, 150, 153–4;
 as inferior race, 106; of Italy, 154; of Munich, Hitler's intentions for, 97–8; of Netherlands, 161; occupational restrictions on, 101, 118, 120; passivity of, 160–5; persecution of, see anti-Semitism;
 plague blamed on, 102; of Poland, 154, 162; propaganda about, 102–3; property
 confiscation of, 118–19; rescuers of, 119,
 140, 154–5, 165–9; as scapegoats, 49, 62,
 92; in scientific community, dismissal of,
 97; similarities of, to Armenians, 176–7;
 in Sonderkommando, 136; stereotypes attributed to, 102; of Stetten, 160–1;
 survival mechanisms of, 158–62; torture of, in Argentina, 222–3
- John Birch Society, on South Africa, 238
- Johnson, Lyndon, Gulf of Tonkin incident and, 256
- Jost, Adolph, on state's right to kill, 122
- Judenfreunde*, 118
- Judenrat (Jewish councils), 31, 159–60
- judiciary in Argentine killings, 227–8
- just-war theory, 255–6
- just-world thinking, 266; in Armenian genocide, 186; in Jews of Stetten, 161;
 psychological effect of, 17–18, 79–80
- justice, social, see social justice
- kaiser, abdication of, 93
- Karski, Jan, on violence in Warsaw ghetto, 139
- Keneally, Thomas, on Plaszow
 concentration camps, 138, 140, 141
- Kennedy, President John F.: on Bay of Pigs decisions, 270; Peace Corps program of, 282
- Khieu Samphan, 189, 204, 206–7
- Khmer Rouge: aims of, 194–5; corruption in, 190; early actions of, 191; fanaticism of,
 201–4; guerrilla warfare of, 190–1,
 201; ideology of, 17, 192, 194–5, 201–4;
 international enemies of, 202; killing by,
 10–11, 192–3; “new people” created by,
 4, 192–3, 195, 196–7; Phnom Penh
 occupation and evacuation by, 191–2; policies of, 197; rule of, 191–3; self-concept of, 199–200; victim selection by,
 61; Vietnam hatred by, 198–9, 201–2; world view of, 194–5
- kidnapping in Argentine mass killings, 11,
 220–5
- Kiernan, Ben, on Sihanouk government actions, 201
- killing as healing, 121–2
- killing methods: in Argentina, 220–5; in Turkish genocide, 184; in Cambodian autogenocide, 11, 192–3, 194; in Holocaust, 9, 136–7, 141–2
- Kohlberg, Lawrence, on moral orientation and obedience, 57
- Koran, on Muslim–non-Muslim relationships, 175–6
- Kristallnacht, 135
- Ku Klux Klan, 66, 77
- Kurds in Turkish genocide, 10, 177, 182
- labor camps, see concentration camps
- language: euphemistic, 29, 156, 227, 282; in social change, 282
- Latane, Bibb, on helpfulness, 87
- Le Chambon, France, heroic resistance in, 165–6
- leadership (leaders), 86, 236; accountability
 of, 270–1; authoritarian, power of, 19, 29–30; commitment to, 124; decision makers and, 67–8; vs. direct perpetrators, 67–8; effectiveness of, 23–4; fact manipulation by, 65; and followership, 23–4; government upheaval and, 33;
 increased responsibility of, 18; in Jewish councils, 159–60; and learning by doing, 82–3; personal characteristics of, 23;
 power of, 256–7; psychological assessment of, 67–8; psychological manipulation by,
 256–7; radical, emergence of, 24;
 selection of, 265–6; in social change, 282;
 war origins and, 256–7
- learning by example, 241
- learning by participation (see also continuum of benevolence; continuum of destruction), 238; in destructive behavior evolution, 80–5; in Germany, 125; in schools, 277n; social change and, 276–8;
 vicarious, 154
- Lebensraum* 55, 95, 106
- Lebow, Richard Ned, on Falklands war, 256

Index

329

- Lemkin, Raphael, on genocide definition, 7
 Leninism in Khmer Rouge ideology, 202
 Lepsius, Dr. Johannes: on Armenian genocide, 186; on Islamization of Turkey, 181–2
 Lewin, Kurt, on progression toward goals, 85, 149–50
 liberalism in Young Turk ideology, 181
 Libya, attack on, 256
 life conditions, difficult, see difficult life conditions life unworthy of life concept, 121–2
 Lifton, Robert Jay: on Nazi doctors, 115, 121, 141–4; on psychic numbing, 45; on SS out-of-character behavior, 146
 Lin Piao, Khmer Rouge ideology and, 202
 Littell, Professor, on Hitler's appeal, 117
 Lon Nol: anti-Vietnamese sentiments of, 191, 199; army officers of, extermination of, 192; peasant killing by, 189; in Sihanouk overthrow, 190
 Lorenz, Konrad: on aggression, 53; on racial hygiene, 123
 Lourdes miracle cures, emotional experiences in, 77
 Ludendorff, Marshal, on Jewish profit from war, 92
 Luther, Martin: anti-Semitism of, 46, 102–3; on rights of state, 109
 Lutherans: in Hungary, 153; as Nazi supporters, 46
 lynching in South, economic conditions and, 44, 102n
- McCarthy, Justin, on Van uprising, 180
 Mack, John, on group relationships, 253
 McNamara, Secretary Robert, on Argentine internal security, 229–30 malignant social process, 250
 Malvinas (Falklands) war, 231, 256
 Mao Tse-tung, Khmer Rouge ideology and, 202
 marginality in rescuers, 167
 Marxism in Khmer Rouge ideology, 202
 Maslow, Abraham: on cultural differences, 51; human need hierarchy of, 264–5; on self-actualization, 268–9 mass killings: in Argentina, see Argentine disappearances/mass killings; definition of, 8; justification of, 11–12; origins of, see genocide origins mass meetings, 77, 124
 mass movements, 237
 Massachusetts, University of, group projects at, 275 massacre: guilt-free, psychological conditions for, 61; in wars, 3, 44–5
- Massera, Admiral, 226
 master race concept, 94–5, 97 media: self-censorship of, 271–3; in social change, 282 medical experimentation in Holocaust, 83, 145
Mein Kampf, 64, 94, 97, 257
 Meinecke, Friedrich, on Nazi ideology, 95–6 mentally ill/retarded: defense of, 87; euthanasia of, 121–2; extermination of, 9 mercy killing, see euthanasia
 Merkl, Peter, on anti-Semitism, 104, 131–2n
 Michelet, Jules, on German obedience, 109
 Milgram, Stanley: on aggression, 43; on conforming to group values, 51; on obedience to authority, 29, 63, 75–6
 military and military groups (Argentina): as defenders of Catholicism, 215; educational policies of, 216; evolution of, 218–19; German influence on, 219–20; ideology of, 214–17; killing/torture committed by, 220–5; motivations of, 225; as Nazi sympathizers, 214; Perón ouster by, 211; as perpetrators, 78; in postwar era, 211–12; psychology of, 216, 225–7; role of, 212–13; self-concept of, 214–17; torture enjoyment by, 225; training of, 214–15, 219–20; victim selection by, 223–5; world view of, 215
 Miller, Alice: on obedience to authority, 29–30, 110; on punishment of German children, 74
 minimalism in international relations, 258–9
 Missakian, J., on Van uprising, 179–80
 monolithic society, 235; change effects on, 14–15; cultural characteristics of, 62–3; as predisposing factor in genocide, 19; in Turkey, 176; war potential of, 256
 Montoneros in Argentina, 218
 Moore, John, on Prussian militarism, 108–9 moral equilibration in harming, 147–9 moral exclusion, 33, 57
 Moral Majority: censorship efforts of, 271; secular humanism attacked by, 61–2
Moral Man and Immoral Society (Niebuhr), 262–3 moral orientation, 56–8; of perpetrators, 71, 147–8; person-centered, prosocial, 56–7; rule-centered, 56–7 moral rule orientation, 38 morality and moral values: choices of, 147; conflicts in, 147–8; constraints on, in group dynamics, 28; dichotomy in, 113; equilibration in, 147–8; in Germany, 145; of group vs. individual, 262–3; individual responsibility for, 148–9; of individual vs. group, 262–3; learning of, through action,

- morality and moral values (cont.)
80; reversal of, 18, 83–4, 122, 147–8
- Morgenthau, Hans, on national interest, 257–8
- Morgenthau, Henry, on Turkish genocide, 10, 183
- Moscovici, Serge: and group potential for social change, 261; and influence of Nazi propaganda, 157
- Mother Teresa, 77
- Mothers of the Plaza del Mayo, 228–9
- motives or motivation (see also goals; needs; personal goal theory): biological needs as, 36–7; in difficult life conditions, 15–16, see also needs; hierarchy of, 22–3, 37–8, 145; of human behavior, sources of, 36–43; of Jewish council members, 159; national, 108, 251–2; of perpetrators, 145, 224–7, 237–8; of rescuers of Jews, 166–7; social standards as, 37; unconscious, 37, 63–4, 147; for war, 249–50
- Moynihan, Daniel Patrick, on social structure, 278
- Múndurucu headhunters, cultural system of, 24, 52–3, 148
- Munich, Jews of, 97–8
- Muslims (see also Islam): Hindu conflicts with, 250; immigration of, into Turkey, 174; supremacy of, in Young Turk ideology, 181
- My Lai massacre, 44–5, 84, 273
- Naim-Andonian documents, 183–4
- Napoleon I, and war against Russia, 49
- national goals, 251–2; essential vs. desirable, 258; of Germans, 104–8
- national identity, 251–2
- national interest, 257–8
- national security, ideology of, 254–5
- national self-concept, 54–5
- National Socialism, see Nazis and Nazism
- nationalism: as cultural goal, 56; destructive potential of, 253–4; importance of, 252–3; intellectual support for, 106–7; as Khmer Rouge tenet, 195; origin of, 19; in Turkey, 181, 183
- Nazis and Nazism: accomplishments of, 116–17; aggression idealization in, 54; anti-Semitism of, 104; Argentine military sympathy with, 214, 220; collective retribution by, 164; election of (1932), 93–4; emigration of Jews threatened by, 155–6; fanaticism of, 76–7; German belief in cultural superiority and, 105–6; group commitment in, 124; Holocaust and, see Holocaust; Hungarian (Arrow Cross), 154; ideology of, see Nazi ideology; Jewish councils' used by, 159–60; "legal" persecution by, 151; mass meetings of, 77, 124; Nietzsche's influence on, 111–13; opposition to policies of, 152; in other European countries, 152–5; outside Germany, participation of, 85; propaganda of, see propaganda; proselytizing by, 124; resistance to, 87–8, 125; SS in, see SS; support of, 46; totalitarianism in, 125–7; university professors' support of, 107
- Nazi ideology, 94–8, 103–4; appeal of, to youth, 114; doctors adopting, 145; evolution of, 121–3; genetic inferiority in, 121; Nietzsche's influence on, 111–13
- needs (see also motives): basic, 264–5; biological, 36–7; for comprehension, 15; for connection, 15–16, 270, 273; for control, 264–5; hierarchy of, 264–5; for power, 264; psychological, 15–17, 39; for security, 264–5; for self-defense, 15–16; for spirituality, 265; for transcendence, 265
- negative reciprocity, 250
- Netherlands, The, Jews of, 161
- "new people" in Cambodian autogenocide, 4, 192–3, 195, 196–7
- Nicaraguan Contras, selective reporting about, 273
- Niebuhr, Reinhold: on group morality, 27; on individual vs. group morality, 262–3
- Nietzsche, Friedrich, influence of, on Nazi ideology, 111–13
- Night* (Wiesel), 45–6
- 1984* (Orwell): on complicity evolution, 83; on torture, 138
- Nixon, President Richard, China trip of, 257
- nonaggression, creation/evolution of, 274–83
- Norodom Sihanouk, Prince: image of Cambodia propagated by, 188; overthrow of, 191, 199, 204; peasant killing by, 189; policies of, 189–90, 207–8; on treatment of captured communists, 201
- North, Oliver, 270n
- nuclear war/weapons: media selective reporting of, 271–2; misconceptions about, 255
- Nunca Mas*, on Argentine disappearances/killings, 211, 220–3, 225, 227–8
- Nuremberg laws, 118, 163
- Nuremberg trials: concentration camp worker attitudes revealed in, 84; defendant mental health and, 91;

Index

331

- personality studies at, 67
- obedience (see also authoritarianism): in authoritarian individuals, 73–4; as cultural value, 63; in German culture, 108–11; in German family, 109–11; vs. individual responsibility, 148; vs. joining leaders, 29; moral orientation and, 57; as predisposing factor in genocide, 19, 29–30; as source of aggression, 43; in torturers, 244–5
- Oliner, Samuel and Pearl, on rescuers, 167
- opposition to genocide (see also resistance), 18; in Argentina, 228–9; from bystanders, 20–2; changes in, with resocialization, 25; destruction of opponents in, 151; governmental stifling of, 65; Nazi doubts raised by, 87–8
- Orwell, George: and complicity evolution, 83; on shared humanity, 281; on torture, 138
- Osborne, M. E., on Cambodian–Vietnamese conflict, 198–9
- Ottoman Empire, see Turkish genocide of Armenians; Turkey
- outgroup–ingroup differentiation, 58–62
- Pakistan–India wars, 49, 250
- Palestine blockade, 156
- parenting, see family
- passivity of bystanders, 18, 82, 87, 157–8; in Germany, 151–2; international, 155–8; in Nazi Europe, 152–5
- passivity of victims in Holocaust, 31–2, 160–5
- patriotism, 263
- Peace Corps, 282
- peasants, Cambodian: communist influence on, 205–6; as followers, 204; hardships of, 188–9, 191; history of, 196–7; U.S. bombing effects on, 204–5; violence among, 200–1
- Peck, Scott: on compartmentalization in Pentagon, 29; on My Lai massacre, 44–5, 84; on self-selection of police, 69–70
- peer influence, 51
- Pentagon, compartmentalization of functions in, 29
- Perón, Isabel, 211, 219
- Perón, Juan, 210–11, 212; policies of, 213; torture used by, 217
- perpetrators: aggressive behavior in, 71; antisocial value orientation of, 71; authority orientation of, 68, 73–5; behavioral shifts in, 145–7; bystander opposition and, 20–2; in Cambodian autogenocide, see Khmer Rouge; changing of, by social conditions, 68; characteristics of, 144–5; circumstance effects on, 75–6; compartmentalization in, 83; in continuum of destruction, 18; decision makers vs. direct, 67–8; destructive effects on, 12; development of, from bystanders, 18; family relationships of, 30–1, 72–5; fanatic, 76–7; group behavior of, 77–8; groupthink effects on, 67; hierarchical preferences of, 144–5; incapacity for empathy in, 68–9, 70, 71; individual responsibility of, 78; just-world thinking in, 79–80; killing valued by, 83; leaders in, see leadership; and learning by doing, 80–5; military groups as, 78; morality of, 70, 83–4, 145; motivation of, 85–6, 145, 237–8; in Nazi Europe, 152–5; normalization of harmful behavior in, 81–2, 84–5; opposition to, 79; personality of, 68, 69–75, 144–7; posttraumatic stress disorder in, 47; potentially antisocial, 68, 71, 72–3; preparation of, 119; previous roles of, 69; psychology of, 216–17, 225–7, 237–8; punishment of, 225; reality denial in, 29; responsibility relinquishment in, 83–4; selection of, 18; self-awareness, lack in, 71–2; self-concept of, 70; self-selection of, 69–70; SS as, see SS; subcultures of, 78; of torture, 40, 226–7, 244–5; training of, 78; unconscious hostility in, 25; verbal reinforcement of, 81; victims' behavior and, 32; world view of, 70
- personal goal theory (see also motives or motivation, social goal theory), 22–3, 28–33: motivation sources and, 36–8; rescuers' motivation and, 166
- personality: authority oriented, 73–5; of perpetrators, see perpetrators; potentially antisocial, 68, 71, 72–3
- Phnom Penh: evacuation of, 10–11, 191–2, 193; history of, 196; refugees movement to, 190
- Pinderhughes, C. A., on group self-concept, 253
- Plaszow: commandant of, 138–9; Schindler at, 168; SS behavior at, 140
- Plato on malleability of children, 206
- Plaza del Mayo, Mothers of, 228–9
- pluralistic society, 235; adaptation to change in, 19; Barry Goldwater's support for, 271; cultural characteristics of, 51, 62–3; information flow and, 271–3; in United States, 242, 243, 271; war potential of, 256
- pogroms, Jewish behavior in, 158–9
- Pol Pot, 10–11; on Cambodian history, 196–7; fanaticism of, 76; ideology of, 17,

- Pol Pot (cont.)
 194–5, 199; opposition to, 194; role of, in genocide, 206–7; Yugoslavian visit by, 203
- Poland: anti-Semitism in, 154; extermination of Poles in, 9; invasion by, staged by Hitler, 65; Jews of, 154, 162; labor/extermination camps in, 9, see also concentration camps; Polish Home Army, 154; Solidarity movement in, 60; Warsaw ghetto, 139, 162
- police (see also SS), self-selection of, 69–70
- political conditions: in Argentina, 211–12; before Cambodian autogenocide, 189–91; in Holocaust origin, 32; violent, 14
- political groups in genocide definition, 8
- poor class: devaluation of, 56; disparate suffering of, 267
- positive reciprocity, 259–60
- positive socialization, 279–81
- posttraumatic stress disorder, 30, 47–8, 114
- Potash, Robert, on Argentine military, 214, 215, 218
- potentially antisocial personality, 68, 71–3
- power: aggression and, 40–1; of bystanders, 86–8; of human sacrifice, 149; inequality in, 262; leadership and, 270; national interest as, 257–8; as root of evil, 26; security needs and, 264; selection for, in group interaction, 262
- prejudice (see also stereotyping), reduction of, 274
- press: self-censorship of, 271–3; United States, on Holocaust, 156
- prisoners (see also concentration camps): group support among, 269
- privileged group: self-interest of, 263; self-protection of, 267
- Proctor, Robert, on racial purity, 121–2
- propaganda: added to existing anti-Semitism, 87; anti-Jewish, 103–4, 118, 120, 157; as justification for actions, 120; reinforcing effects of, 82–3; uses of, 272; value of, 238
- prosocial value orientation, 38, 57
- protest, see opposition to genocide; resistance
- Protestants as Nazi supporters, 46
- Prussian militaristic influences: on Argentine military, 219–20; on Holocaust, 106, 108–9; on SS training, 129
- psychic numbing in difficult life conditions, 45
- psychological needs (see also motives): coping methods and, 16–17; origin of, in difficult life conditions, 15–17; protection of, with aggression, 39
- racial purity ideal, 94–5, 97; euthanasia and, 121–2; in SS, 129
- Rank, Otto, on power and aggression, 40–1
- rationality in Germany, 113
- rationalization during threat, 163
- Reagan, President Ronald, Soviet–U.S. relations and, 257
- realist thinking, war proclivity and, 255–6
- reality: difficult life conditions' effects on, 15; group commitment and, 124; perceptions of, by fanatic, 76; uniform perception of, opposition stifled by, 65
- reality denial: by bystanders, 88; in Holocaust, 29, 162–3; by victims, 31, 162–3
- reality perception in group, 238
- reciprocity: negative, 250; positive, 259–60
- Red Khmer, see Khmer Rouge
- Reich, Wilhelm, on psychology of fascism, 114
- religious groups threatened by social change, 46–7
- religious wars, brutality in, 3
- rescuers of Jews, 119, 140, 154–5, 165–9
- resistance (see also opposition to genocide): in Belgium, 155; in Bulgaria, 154–5; by church leaders, 153; by Committee for the Defense of Jews, 155; in concentration camps, 162; dangers of, 152; in Denmark, 154; difficulty of, 149; in Holocaust, see Holocaust, resistance activity in; in Italy, 154; by Jews, 158, 162; limited, value of, 152; in occupied territories, 161–2; in Poland, 162; by rescuers of Jews, 119, 140, 154–5, 165–9
- resocialization: in Argentina, 219; definition of, 25; value changes in, 25
- responsibility: of bystanders, 239–40; diminished sense of, 18, 83–4; of government, 25; of individuals, 25; of leaders, 18, 270–1; scapegoating and, 17
- retaliation, aggression in, 39
- Rifat, Merlanzade, on Turkish genocide, 183
- Riza, Ahmed, and Turkish genocide, 178–9, 181
- Rogers, Carl: on human nature, 26; on self-actualization, 268–9
- Röhm, Ernst, SS killing of, 135
- romanticism in Germany, 113
- Rome, ancient: attitudes toward killing in, 24; Christian scapegoats in, 49
- Roosevelt administration on Jewish immigration, 156
- Rosenberg, Alfred: on Nazi ideology, 96, 97; on obedience, 109
- Rousseau, Jean-Jacques, on human nature, 26

Index

333

- Rushton, Philip, on aggression and altruism, 53n
- Russia (after revolution), see Soviet Union
- Russia (before revolution), Turkish conflicts with, 173, 174, 178
- SA (Sturmabteilung, stormtroopers): anti-Semitism of, 131n; SS purge of, 135, 163; youth group membership of, 115
- Sabato, Ernesto, on victim selection in Argentina, 220–1
- sacrifice in continuum of benevolence, 276–8
- Sadat, Anwar, peace efforts of, 257
- sadism, 139–40
- Saloth Sar, see Pol Pot
- scapegoating: in aggression displacement, 64; of Armenians, 176; as coping mechanism, 48–9; for ideological ideals, 50; ingroup–outgroup differentiation and, 61–2; psychological need satisfaction and, 17; for World War I loss, 92
- Schacht, Hjalmar, opposition by, 152
- Schindler, Oscar, as rescuer of Jews, 77, 81, 140, 141, 166–8
- Schmitt, Carl, as Nazi supporter, 107
- Schmookler, Andrew, on arming and threat, 264; on selection for power, 262
- schools, see education
- Schutzstaffel, see SS
- SD (Sicherheitsdienst), 135
- secular humanism, attack on, 61–2
- security, national, as ideology, 254–5
- security echelon, see SS
- security needs, importance of, 264–5
- Segev, Tom, on SS membership, 130
- self-acceptance, lack of, in perpetrators, 71–2
- self-actualization in relationship to others, 268–9
- self-awareness: and individual responsibility, 148; lack of, in perpetrators, 71–2; in nations, 253–4;
- self-censorship of press, 271–3
- self-concept, 234; of Argentine military, 214–17; burdensome, 266; deficient, combined with superiority feelings, 19; distortion of, 253–4; of Germans, 104–8; of groups, 18–19; of Khmer Rouge, 199–200; loss of, and aggression, 41; national, 49, 54–5; vs. “other-conception,” 251; of perpetrators, 70; realism in, 253–4; self-censorship and, 273; self-examination of, 254; societal, 251–2; threats to, 15–16, 35–6, 49; of United States, 252
- self-defense: aggression as, 39; in difficult life conditions, 15; psychological, 15, 39–40
- self-esteem: of Germans, 104–8; promotion of, with aggression, 39–40; scapegoating and, 17; threats to, 35–6, 38, 54–5
- self-interest: in group, 262–3; as root of evil, 26; as source of genocide, 85–6
- self-perception, see self-awareness; self-concept
- self-preservation vs. fanaticism, 28
- Semai tribe, Malaysia, as nonaggressive society, 53–4
- Sereny, Gita: on concentration camps, 46; on prisoner humiliation, 137
- Shiites, fanaticism of, 76
- Shoah* (film), 68
- Sicherheitsdienst, 135
- Sihanouk, Norodom, see Norodom Sihanouk, Prince
- slavery: abolition of, group action in, 261; in Cambodia, 196–7; in Athens, 57
- “sleepers” concept, 133–4
- Sobibor camp, inmate resistance in, 162
- social change: adaptability and, 14–15; in Argentina, 86; artists’ influence on, 282; avenues for, 281–3; conservatives’ reaction to, 46–7; continuum of benevolence and, 276–7; crosscutting relations and, 274–6; in El Salvador, 86; euphemisms in, 282; families in, 280; group connections in, 278–9; group effects on, 261–2; in Guatemala, 86; hostility and, 64; in Iran, 14; language role in, 282; leadership influence on, 282; learning by participation in, 275, 276–8; media influence on, 282; in monolithic society, 14–15; motivations arising from, 264; needs arising from, 264; opposition to, 86; in pluralistic society, 19; positive socialization and, 279–81; potential for, in U.S., 262; requirements for, 261; resocialization by, 25; role of ideas in, 282; schools’ role in, 280–1; social justice and, 263; superordinate goals and, 274–5; theories of, 262; writers’ influence on, 282
- social characteristics, effects of, 14
- social goal theory (see also personal goal theory) 28–33
- social identity (see also societal self-concept), 42
- social institutions, cultural characteristics of, 65–6
- social justice: enablement and, 267–8; and group violence, 266–7; positive socialization and, 280

- social standards as motivation, 37
- socialists in Germany, 114
- socialization: of children, and devaluation, 278; as orientation to authority, 198; positive, 279–81; value development in, 24–5
- societal characteristics (see also cultural characteristics): deep structure (historical) of, 20; effects of, 18–20
- societal self-concept, 251–2
- societal tilt, 118–19
- sociobiology and aggression, 52–3
- sociopolitical organizations and culture, 65–6
- Son Ngoc Thanh and Khmer Rouge ideology, 202–3
- Son Sann, 209
- Sonderkommando, duties of, 136
- South Africa, killings in, 238
- South America, Indian killings in, 85–6
- Soviet Union: aggression idealization in, 54; anti-Semitism in, 20; on Argentine killings, 230; devaluation of U.S. in, 278; dissidents in, as mentally ill, 259; Estonian Jews immigration to, 161; extermination of citizens of, in Holocaust, 9; Hitler's alliance with, 96; ideology of antagonism and, 251; as Khmer Rouge enemy, 202; national security ideology of, 255; peasant starvation in, 3; peer influence in, 51; prisoner mistreatment by, 97; prisoners of war from, rebellion of, 158; before revolution, 173, 174; Stalinist purges in, 20, 85; Ukrainian SS members from, 136–7; on U.N. genocide resolution, 8; United States relationship with, 242, 257; wars against, 49
- Sparta, moral orientation of, 57
- Special Troops (Einsatzgruppen), 9, 29, 135–6
- spirituality needs, 265
- SS: anti-Semitism of, 131, 136; authoritarianism and, 132–3; behavioral shifts of, 145–7; as breeders of master race, 97, 106; camouflage of victims' fate by, 160; capacity for mistreatment, 66; characteristics of, 131–4, 144–5; comradeship in, 130; concentration camps of, 135–7, 141–4, 149, see also concentration camps; creation of, 128–9; Death's Head Units of, 135; doctors in, see doctors in Holocaust; dormant violence in, 133–4; Einsatzgruppen of, 9, 29, 135–6; evolution of, 128–34; family background of, 132; family life of, 111; functions of, 128–34, 135–7; Gestapo operation by, 135; group identification rituals of, 60; Himmler as leader of, 128–9; “ideal,” 137–8; individual responsibility and, 148–9; Jewish property appropriated by, 129–30; kindness shown by, 140–1; lack of empathy in, 68–9; late joiners in, 141; learning by participation in, 134–7; mental health of, 91; military organization of, 78; moral equilibration in, 147; oath of, 129; in occupied territories, 153; opposition to Nazi policies by, 152; personal differences in, 138; prestige of, 129–30; psychology of, 91, 144–7; as protectors of Jews, 141; responsibility for actions shifted from, 84; role–person merging in, 137–41; sadism in, 140; selection of, 129–30; self-selection of, 134; sense of power in, 139–40; Sicherheitsdienst unit of, 135; “sleeper” concept and, 133–4; threats of Jewish emigration by, 155–6; training of, 78, 129, 134; Ukrainian guards in, 136–7; victim protection from, 81; Waffen SS division of, 97, 135
- Stalinism: in Khmer Rouge ideology, 202; killings under, 20, 85
- Stangl (Treblinka commandant), 132, 137
- Star of David on clothing, 118
- starvation: in Cambodian autogenocide, 11; in Holocaust camps, 9; international aid in, 4
- Staub, Ervin: on learning by doing, 80; on motivation and personal goal theory, 22–3, 36–8; on prosocial value orientation, 86–7
- Steiner, John, on SS member characteristics, 132–4
- stereotyping: in ethnocentrism, 59–60; of German Jews, 102
- sterilization of genetically inferior, 121
- stormtroopers, see SA
- stranger anxiety in infants, 59
- stress, see difficult life conditions
- Sturmabteilung, see SA
- Styron, William, fiction about Poland, 154
- subversives, Argentine military definition of, 224
- suicide missions, fanatic nature of, 76
- superordinate goals, 274–6, 279
- survival vs. death of others, 45–6
- Sweden, Danish Jews' refuge in, 152
- Tajfel, Henry, on group relations, 42n
- television, aggression idealization in, 54
- Teresa, Mother, 77
- terrorism: as cultural ideal, 54; as evil, 26
- Terrorism in Argentina publication, 216
- threat: in aggression instigation, 35–6; perception of, 264; self-esteem and, 55

Index

335

- torture, and torturers: in Argentine mass killings, 11, 220–5; enjoyment of, 225; history of, 26; learning of, 82; perpetrators of, 70, 226–7; psychology of, 244–5; purposes of, 244; of women, 222, 224, 226
- totalitarianism: in Cambodia, 197–8; Nietzsche's view on, 113; as predisposing factor in genocide, 19, 125–7
- tourism promoting group connections, 278
- Toynbee, Arnold, on Armenians, 179
- training (see also education): of Argentine military, 214–15; 219–20; of SS, 78, 129, 134; of torturers, 82
- transcendence, need for, 265
- Treaty of Versailles, 91–3, 116
- Treblinka: camp song of, 68; commandant of, 132, 137; death and survival attitudes in, 45–6; inmate resistance in, 162
- Trocme, Andre, as rescuer of Jews, 165
- Trumpener, Ulrich, on Turkish genocide, 186
- trust: within groups, 265–6; and positive reciprocity, 260
- Tuol Sleng, killings at, 193
- Turanism (and Pan-Turkism) ideology, 174, 181–2
- Turkey (see also Turkish genocide of Armenians): Bulgarian massacres by, and William Gladstone's reaction, 184–5
- Turkish genocide of Armenians: Armenian "provocation" in, 178–80; authoritarianism and, 176; bureaucracy absent in, 29; bystander role in, 184–7; casualties in, 7, 10; continuum of destruction in, 176–7; cultural precondition in, 175–6, 233; devaluation of minorities in, 175–6; difficult life conditions preceding, 44, 173–5; Fonaticism in, 76; Germany as bystander in, 185–7; government upheaval before, 76; historical conditions preceding, 173–5; ideology of Pan-Turkism and, 174, 181–2; killing methods in, 177, 184; kurds in, 10, 177, 182; motivation for, 23; Naim-Andonian documents about, 183–4; orders for, 183; origins of, 232–5; vs. other genocides, 6–7, 176–7; overview of, 10; perpetrators in, 78; readiness for, 85; resistance in, 178; self-destructive nature of, 184; Turkish killings by Armenians and, 179; Van uprising in, 179–80; war effects on, 47; Young Turks in, 174, 176, 177, 178, 181–2
- Ukraine: anti-Semitism in, 136; SS members from, 136–7
- United Nations, genocide resolution of, 7–8
- United States: aggressiveness in, 242; anti-Semitism in, 157; Argentina military training by, 214–15; in Argentine killings, 229–30; authoritarianism in, 242; bombing of Cambodia by, 190, 204–5; as bystander in Cambodian autogenocide, 208–9; cultural characteristics of, 241–2; devaluation of group in, 242; devaluation of Soviet Union in, 278; difficult life conditions in, 243; equality of opportunity values in, 55–6; genocide potential of, 241–3; ideology of antagonism and, 251; Indian killings in, 85; individualism in, 268–70; institutions for social welfare in, 267; Jewish immigration to, 156; as Khmer Rouge enemy, 202; lynching in, 44; national interest of, post-World War II, 258; national security ideology of, 254–5; peer influence in, 51; pluralism in, 242, 243; self-concept of, 252; social change potential in, 262; Soviet Union relations and, 257
- United States Marines, training of, 78
- "us"–"them" differentiation, 58–62, 244; ideology of antagonism and, 250–1
- Utopian thinking in Khmer Rouge ideology, 203
- values (see also morality and moral values): as motivation, 38; Nietzsche's views on, 112
- Van uprising (1915), 179–80
- Versailles, Treaty of, 91–3, 116
- Vichy France, resistance in, 165–6
- Vickery, Michael, on Cambodian autogenocide, 193–4, 200, 201, 202–3
- victimization, continuum of, 165
- victims (see also devaluation; Jews; scapegoating): broadening circle of, in euthanasia program, 121; bystanders becoming, 87; definition of, 61; derogatory labels for, 61; euphemistic language used by, 29, 156; excluded from moral domain, 57; guard behavior toward, 68–9; just-world hypothesis and, 17–18, 79–80; nonhuman status in headhunter cultures, 52; passivity of, 31–2, 160–5; psychology of, 162; role in Holocaust, 31–2; selection of (Argentina), 11, 61, 223–6; selection of (Cambodia), 8, 10–11, 61, 192–3, 196; selection of (Holocaust), 86
- Vienna, Hitler in, 98
- Vietnam: Cambodian invasion by, 191; Khmer Rouge hatred of, 195, 198–9, 201–2; Sihanouk indulgence of, 190
- Vietnam War: compartmentalization of functions in, 29; My Lai massacre in,

- Vietnam War (cont.)
 44–5; opposition to, 87; posttraumatic stress disorder and, 30; psychosocial effects of, 47–8
- Viola, General Roberto E., 230
- violence (see also aggression): in Argentina, 211–12; in Cambodia, 200–1; climate for, institutions in, 66; as cultural characteristic, 52, 54–5; economic conditions and, 44; poor self-esteem and, 40; prevention of, 243–4; in SS, 131, 133–4; in Warsaw ghetto, 139
- volunteerism: education for, 277n; as group connection mechanism, 279; in United States, 269
- von Maltitz, Horst, on Nazi ideology, 96–7
- Waffen SS, 97, 135
- Wagner, Richard, operas of, 113
- Wallenberg, Raoul, 81, 140, 166–7, 168–9
- Wandervogel, 115
- Wannsee Conference, Final Solution creation in, 9
- war (see also World War I; World War II); belonging and, 252–4; better-world thinking and, 251; compartmentalization of functions in, 29; continuum of antagonism in, 250; cultural preconditions of, 250–7; effects of, 14; vs. genocide, 4; glorification of, 255; ideology of antagonism and, 250–1; India–Pakistan, 49, 250; ingroup protection in, 60; just-war thinking and, 255–6; leadership power in, 256–7; massacres in, 3, 44–5; minimalism as deterrent for, 258–9; monolithic society and, 256; motivations for, 249–50; national goals and, 251–2; national interest definition and, 257–8; national security and, 254–5; nationalism and, 252–4; Nietzsche's views on, 112; nuclear, misconceptions about, 255; origins of, 249–60; pluralistic society and, 256; vs. positive reciprocity, 259–60; preparation for, 254, 256; psychosocial effects of, 30, 44, 47–8, 113–14; self-concept and, 251–4; world views contributing to, 255–6
- War Refugee Board, 156; Wallenberg work with, 168
- Warsaw ghetto, 139, 162
- Wegner, Armin T., on Armenian genocide, 184
- Weimar Republic: collapse of, Holocaust origin and, 32; hate for, 92–3; weakness of, 114
- Wiesel, Eli, on death and survival, 45–6
- Weltanschauung*, see world view
- White, Ralph, on macho pride and war, 250
- Whiting, Beatrice and John, on cultural differences in altruism, 51–2
- Wilson, E. O., on sociobiology and aggression, 35, 52–3
- women: torture of, 222, 224, 226; in Turkish genocide, 10;
- world view: and aggression potential, 55; of Argentine military, 215; in Germany, 93, 108; importance of, 264; of Khmer Rouge, 194–5; of perpetrators, 70; war glorification and, 255–6
- World War I: Armenian violence against Turks in, 179; effects of, 47–8, 91–3; German excuses in, 106–7; psychosocial consequences of, 30, 44; Turkish genocide in, see Turkish genocide
- World War II: Argentine military world view after, 215; Holocaust beginning in, 47; loss of, intensified killing of Jews during, 85, 149–50; United States national interest after, 258
- writers and social change, 282
- Wyman, David, on abandonment of Jews during World War II, 156
- Young Turks: Armenian cooperation sought by, 178–9; as genocide organizers, 182; German alliance of, 174; ideology of, 181–2; killings under, 177; on obedience, 176; origins of, 174
- youth, German, 30, 113–15
- youth groups: in Cambodia, 205–6; in Germany, 114–15
- Yugoslavia, Pol Pot visit to, 203