

Contents

Preface	page ix
Acknowledgments	xv
1 Catholics and Protestants	I
2 Seventeenth-century England and its American colonies	28
3 Secularization, the Enlightenment, and the French Revolution	47
4 Formal and informal divorce in early modern society	64
5 The meaning and context of marriage breakdown	93
6 The nineteenth century: Liberalization and reaction	120
7 Divorce as a social issue, 1850–1914	164
8 The twentieth century and the rise of mass divorce	185
9 Explaining the rise of divorce, 1870s–1990s	224
Conclusion	252
Index	257