

Contents

List of illustrations page ix

Acknowledgments xi

Note on romanization xii

1 Introduction: what is the Great Wall of China? 1

PART I

FIRST CONSIDERATIONS 11

2 Early Chinese walls 13

3 Strategic origins of Chinese walls 30

PART II

THE MAKING OF THE GREAT WALL 53

4 Geography and strategy: the importance of the Ordos 61

5 Security without walls: early Ming strategy and its collapse 72

Ming security under the founding emperor 73

The Yung-lo emperor and withdrawal from the steppe margin 79

Economic causes of Ming military decline 81

Strategic reasons for the decline of Ming security 84

6 Toward a new strategy: the Ordos crisis and the first walls 91

7 Politics and military policy at the turn of the sixteenth century 108

8 The second debate over the Ordos 122

9 The heyday of wall-building 140

PART III
THE SIGNIFICANCES OF WALL-BUILDING 165

10 The Great Wall and foreign policy: the problem of compromise 171

11 The Wall acquires new meanings 194

Notes 228

Bibliography 256

Chinese and Japanese materials 256

Western materials 265

Glossary 279

Index 286