
•

CONTENTS

•

Translator's note	page xi
Author's preface	xiii
List of abbreviations	xvi
1 Western Christendom and its environment in the tenth and eleventh centuries
The internal and external security of western Christendom	1
On the nature and significance of Christian mission in Europe in the tenth and eleventh centuries	6
2 The church and its manifestations on earth
The universality of the church	22
Parish and diocese, church provinces and synods	26
The significance of kingdoms and principalities for the formation of particular churches	37
The pope: ideal and reality	65
3 The material existence of the churches and the clergy
	75
4 Religious life and thought
The sense of closeness between this world and the next	91
Monasticism: a life determined by the next world and its influence on this one	101
Christian 'estates'	122

Cambridge University Press

0521437113 - The Church in Western Europe from the Tenth to the Early Twelfth Century - Gerd Tellenbach

Table of Contents

More information

x	Contents
5	The beginnings of the revolution in church history	135
	The prehistory	135
	The popes and the emancipation of the Roman church following the synods of Sutri and Rome (1046)	141
	'Church reform'	157
6	Gregory VII (1073–1085)	185
	The growth of papal activity from Leo IX to Alexander II	185
	Gregory VII and the bishops	205
	Gregory VII and the rulers outside the empire	218
	Gregory VII and Henry IV	222
7	Continuing conflicts between established principles	253
	The schism and its consequences	253
	The investiture contest	264
	The struggle against property in churches and monasteries	286
8	Pope, church, and Christendom	304
	The papal primacy in spiritual matters	304
	The means and instruments of power at the papacy's disposal	322
	Ecclesia and Christianitas	334
	Epilogue	348
	Select bibliography	354
	Index	379