

Index

- Abdul Hamid, Sultan, 88
 Abo, Treaty of (1743), 55
 absolute monarchy, 68–71
 Aehrenthal, Alois von, 287–88, 291–93
 Aksakov, Ivan, 224–25, 235, 243
Akt razgranicheniia (Demarcation Act) (1775), 113
 Alexander I, 9, 155, 156, 221; Solov'ev's interpretation of, 362–63
 Alexander II, 16–17, 245–46, 353; reforms of, 7, 219–20; and Russo-Turkish War of 1877–78, 237–40; and sale of Russian America, 200–201; and Treaty of Paris, 221–22
 Alexander III, 10, 248
 Alexis Mikhailovich, 7
 Alliance of Hanover, 27, 30–31, 40, 52
 “Alliance of the Three Black Eagles,” 32–33
 Alliance of Vienna, 30–31, 40, 52 alliance policy in Osterman report, 49–53
 American Civil War, 192, 211
 American-Russian Commercial Company (ARCC), 180
 Andrassy Plan, 231–33
 Anna Ivanovna, 27–28, 33, 43, 53–56
 Anna Petrovna, 46–49, 52
 Aristarchi, Nicholas, 142, 148–50
 Austria, 56–57, 59, 96–97, 107–8, 222–24; and Bosnian crisis, 286–98; Joseph II of, 82–87, 90, 98; Maria Theresa of, 56, 71, 83n22; and Osterman report, 29–35, 49–52, 55; see also Crimean War; Russo-Turkish War autocracy, crisis of (“constitutional experiment”), 268–72, 306–11
- Balkan Wars (1912–13), 299–302
 Balkans, 168–70, 228–29; relative calm in (1868–75), 226–29; Russian objectives regarding, 160–63, 220–21; Russian policies in, 222–24, 245–46; and Treaty of Berlin, 240–45; and war with Turkey, 233–40; see also Balkan Wars barrière de l'est as goal of French diplomacy, 55
 Belgrade, Peace of (1739), 34
 Benedetti, Vincent, 140, 142–43
 Benkendorf, A. K., 286
 Bering, Vitus, 41–42, 215
 Berlin, Treaty of (1878), 240–43, 295; public opinion on, 243–45
 Bernstorff, A. G., 45
 Bestuzhev-Riumin, A. P., 57, 106
 Bezborodko, A. A., and Greek Project, 82–83, 85–87, 93, 99–101
 “Bezobrazov clique,” 257–59
 Biron (Bühren), Ernst Johann, 55
 Bolsheviks and Russian foreign policy, 319–20
 Bonaparte, Louis Napoleon, see Napoleon III border disputes and annexation of Poland, 108–10, 113–15
 Bosnian crisis (1907–9), 286–98
boyar dumas (councils of a prince's retainers), 5
 Britain, 44–46, 63, 155, 254–55; as common enemy of United States and Russia, 176, 192; and entente with Russia, 133–34, 137–39, 283–85, 287; and Osterman report, 50–51, 53; and secret diplomacy with Nicholas I, 120, 124; see also Crimean War; historiography, British; Holy Places dispute
 Brunnov, Filipp Ivanovich, 9–10, 124, 139, 164–65, 167
 Bulgakov, Iakov, 88–91
- cameralism as leitmotiv in Russian domestic policy, 37–38

Canning, Stratford; see Stratford de Redcliffe, Lord capitalist development, worldwide, 251–55; see also commerce
 Carlowitz, Treaty of (1699), 24, 34
 Catherine I, 9, 13, 25–27, 51, 52
 Catherine II (the Great), 8, 31, 57, 59, 69;
 and annexation of Poland, 14, 105–8, 110–11, 115–16, and commerce, 64–67, 100–101, 112–15; Solov'ev's interpretation of, 362–63; see also Greek Project
 Catherine Ivanovna, 45
 Catherine the Great, see Catherine II
 Charles VI, 71
 Charles Frederick, Duke, 26, 46–49, 52
 Charles Leopold, Duke, 44, 45, 54
 Charykov, N. V., 291, 292, 295–97
 “Charykov démarche,” 300
 Cherniaev, M. G., 230, 232–37, 246
 Chernyshev, Z. G., 104–5, 108, 110, 113;
see also Chernyshev memorandum
 Chernyshev memorandum, 105, 106; and border disputes, 108–10; and fugitive serfs, 110–12; and Russian commerce, 112–13
 Chernyshevskii, N. G., 226
 Chirikov, A. I., 215
 Christian Holy Places; see Holy Places dispute
 Church of the Holy Sepulchre (Jerusalem), 119, 124–30; see also Holy Places dispute Church of the Nativity (Bethlehem), 119, 124–30; see also Holy Places dispute
 Civil War, American, 192, 211
 Cobenzl, Ludwig von, and Greek Project, 84, 85, 87, 93–95, 99 cold war, effect of, on study of Russian foreign policy, 1–2, 18, 445 colonial policy of Russian Empire, see expansionism, Russian commerce, 7–8, 13, 221; and Catherine II, 64–67, 100–101, 112–15; and Peter I, 44, 62–65, 70–72, 161–62 commercial versus dynastic considerations, 70–72
 “community of political nations,” Russia's admission to, 36–37; see also Concert of Europe; Westphalian system of relations
 Concert of Europe, 9–10, 16, 156–57, 169–70, 351–56; see also Westphalian system of relations
 Congress of Berlin, see Berlin, Treaty of Congress of Carlowitz, see Carlowitz, Treaty of Constantinople Conference, 237

 “constitutional experiment” (crisis of autocracy), 268–72, 306–11
 Continental Blockade, 66
 continuities in Russian history; see geocultural problems
 Council of Ministers, 17, 273–74, 300, 302, 307; and Bosnian crisis, 288–90, 292–95; establishment of, 275–77; role of, 277–78, 280–81
 Courland, 27–28, 42–44, 54–55, 59
 Crimean War, 9–10, 14–15, 352–53; events preceding, 122–24, 156–57, 163–65; overview of, and Menshikov mission, 119–22; and Montenegro, 119, 129, 130, 133, 138; and privateering, 187–90; Tarle's interpretation of, 380–81; and U.S. public opinion, 182–86; see also Holy Places dispute; Russo-American relations; Sevastopol', siege of cultural marginality, 344–45; and diplomatic style, 345–48; and imperial policies, 350–54; and royal titles, 348–49; and Soviet republic, 354–56
 Cuza, Alexander, 223
 Danilevskii, N. Ia., 236
 Danubian principalities, 121, 123–24, 161–63, 169, 223
 Demarcation Act (Akt razgranicheniia) (1775), 113 demographic changes, 60–62; see also commerce
 Denmark, 26–27, 46, 54, 57–58
 Diet of the Four Estates (Swedish Riksdag), 47–48 diplomacy: armed, 152–54; and cultural marginality, 345–48; of Nicholas I, 120, 124, 159–60, 169–70; secret, 82–84, 120, 124, 157, 367; ultimatum, 135, 146–52
Discourse Concerning the Just Causes of the War between Sweden and Russia (Shafirov), 36–37
 Djordjević, Vladen, 225
 Dubasov, F. V., 264–65
 Duma, 17, 274, 278; centrist factions in, 271, 288, 294–95, 297–98; fourth, 285, 299, 301–3; and Fundamental Laws, 275–76, 279; and Izvol'skii, 280–81, 290–91, 293–95; relations between, and government, 273, 283, 285, 307–10

- Dvina River (Western Dvina), 106–7, 110, 112–15
dvorianstvo (nobility), 7–10, 68
 dynastic versus commercial considerations, 70–72
- Eastern Question, 33–35, 122, 225, 234, 244; Solov'ev's interpretation of, 363; see also Crimean War; Greek Project; Russo-Turkish War
- economic backwardness, 322–29
 economic development, see commerce
 Elizabeth Petrovna, 56–57
 England, see Britain
 entente: Russo-British, 133–34, 137–39, 283–85, 287; Russo-French, 222–24
Epistle to the Serbs from Moscow (Khomiakov), 224 etatist opinion, 8
 expansionism, 17, 251–55, 263; Russian, 18, 105, 106, 160–63, 197–99, 315–22; and oriental despotism, 318–20; and Russian messianism, 320–21; U.S., 178–79, 199–200; and “urge to the sea,” 8, 316–18; see also geocultural problems
- Feis-Suleiman (Turkish foreign minister), 88–91
 Fessenden, William, and sale of Russian America, 207–10
firman and Holy Places dispute, 119, 125–28, 131, 144
 First Northern War (1655–60), 23
 France, 8–9, 52–53, 222–24; and Greek Project, 92–98; Napoleon III of, 124–25, 132, 140–41, 164, 169; and Osterman report, 49–52, 55; and Peter's Testament, 77–80; and Russo-Japanese confrontation, 253–54, 256; see also Crimean War; French revolution; historiography, French; Holy Places dispute
- Franco-Austrian alliance, 58–59
 Franco-Russian accord and Balkan policies, 222–24
 Frederick William, Duke, 27–28, 43
 French Revolution, 8–9, 94, 98
 Fundamental Laws, 272, 275–76, 279–80, 285, 297, 309
- Garašanin, Ilija, 221, 224
 Gartvig, N. V., 301
General'noe sostoianie del i interesov Vserossiiskikh so vsemi sosednimi i drugimi inostrannymi Gosudarstvami (Osterman), 39–41, 55; analysis of, 49–53
general'nye interesy contrasted with partikuljarnye interesy, 70–72 geocultural problems, 18, 322, 356–59; see also cultural marginality; economic backwardness; multicultural society; permeable frontiers “German” (“European”) party, 16, 188–89, 351–52
 Germany, 304–5, 309; efforts to improve relations with, 295–96; and Russo-British entente, 282–85; and Russo-Japanese confrontation, 253–54, 256; see also historiography, German
- Gorchakov, A. M., 200–24, 238, 240–46; differences between, and Ignat'ev, 219, 227–29 gosudarstvenno-iuridicheskaja shkola (etatist-juridical school of Russian historiography), 5–6, 361–71 gosudarstvennoe delo, 271, 307 gosudarstvennoe (etatist) opinion, 8 gosudarstvennost', 271–72, 307, 308
gosudarstvennye krest'iane (state peasants), 69
Gosudarstvennyi sovet (State Council) and Greek Project, 94–96, 100
 Grand Tour of Peter I, 23–25
 Great Britain, see Britain
 Great Northern Alliance, 31
 Great Northern War (1700–21), 12–13, 24–25, 31–32, 36, 67
 Great Reforms of Alexander II, 7, 219–20
 Greek Project, 155; Bezborodko's plan for, 82–83, 85–87, 93, 99–101; evidence regarding, 84–87, 91–92; French reaction to, 92–98; and Gosudarstvennyi sovet (State Council), 94–96, 100; opposition of Russian gentry to, 98–102; and Peter's Testament compared, 13, 75, 81, 101; and threat of war, 87–91
- Grey, Edward, 286–87
 Guchkov, A. L., 294–95, 301
- Hanoverian Alliance, 27, 30–31, 40, 52
 Herzegovina, official Russian policy toward, 229–31
 historiography, 1–3, 5–6, 18, 268–72, 360–61, 442–43; British, 411–16, 445; French, 405–11, 445; German, 18, 398–405; Imperial Russian, 361–70,

445; Soviet Russian, 370–98; U.S., 416–27, 432–37, 445
 Hoetzsch, Otto, 399–400, 405
 Holstein-Gottorp, 46, 55–56, 70–71
 Holstein question, 26–27
 Holy League, 12, 23–24
 Holy Places dispute, 14–15, 123–30, 136–37, 163–65; and firman, 119, 125–28, 131, 144; Menshikov's attempt to settle, 141–46; and sened, 136, 142–46, 149–52; Stratford's manipulation of, 143–50, 152, 166–68; see also Crimean War
 Hungarian revolution, see Danubian principalities hypertrophic model of statecraft, 5–6
 Ignat'ev, N. P., 212, 219, 225, 237, 245–46; Panslavism of, 227–29; and Russo-Turkish War of 1877–78, 238, 240–42 internal customs barriers, abolishment of, 62–63; see also commerce investiture, right of, 5
 “Iron Tsar,” see Nicholas I
 Ivan III, 6, 8
 Ivan IV, 6
 Izvol'skii, A. P., 264–65; and Bosnian crisis, 286–95; and Duma, 280–81, 290–91, 293–95; and Russo-British entente, 283–85, 287
 Japan: enmity of, toward Russia, 253–54, 256–57, 259; and expansionism, 252–53, 263; see also Russo-Japanese War
 Jelavich, Barbara, 432–35
 Joseph II and Greek Project, 82–87, 90, 98
 Kamchatka affair and U.S. public opinion, 184
 Karadjordjević, Alexander, 223–24
kazennye krest'iane (treasury peasants), 69
 Kennan, George, 426, 437–42
 Kerner, Robert J., 419, 427–31, 434–35
 Khalfin, N. A., 390–92
 Khomiakov, A. S., 224
 Khrapovitskii, Alexander, 85–86
 Kheptovich estates and fugitive serfs, 114–15
 Kiselev, P. D., 135, 165
 Kokovtsev, V. N., 273, 276, 306, 309; as council chairman, 298–305; dispute between, and Izvol'skii, 289–90, 293; and Russo-British entente, 284–85
 Korff, Sergius, 367

Kornilov, V. A., 132, 139, 142
 Krabbe, N. K., and sale of Russian America, 200–201
 Krivoshein, A. V., 298, 302–6
 Kuchuk-Kainardzhi, Treaty of (1774), 119, 121, 130, 144, 146–47, 168; attempts to strengthen, 136–39, 145, 153–54; Russian interpretation of, 127–29
 Kuropatkin, A. N., 282
 labor force in eighteenth-century Russia, 66–70
 Lacour, E. de, 143–45, 147–50
 Lambert, Ia. O., 197–98
 landowners and fugitive serfs, 110–12
 landownership in eighteenth-century Russia, 68–69
 Langer, William L., 419–22
 Leszczynski, Stanislaus, 29, 32–33, 71n129
 “Liman von Sanders” affair, 303–5
 London Convention (1841), 123, 160–61, 163
 Löwenwolde Treaty (1733), 33
 Maria Theresa, 56, 71, 83n22 maritime policy and Russo-American relations during Crimean War, 186–90 Martens, Fedor Fedorovich, 365–66; students of, 367–70 masses, see narod
 Mecklenburg, 25–26, 44–46, 54
 Mehemet Ali, 131, 140, 147, 149
 Menshikov, A. S., 139–46; selected for mission, 134–35; and ultimatum diplomacy, 146–52; see also Menshikov mission
 Menshikov, Alexander, 27–28, 57
 Menshikov mission, 119–22, 131–34, 156; failure of, 165–68; instructions for, 135–41 military conscription and fugitive serfs, 111
 Moldavia, see Danubian principalities money rent (obrok), 64, 68–69
 Montenegro, 223; and Crimean War, 119, 129, 130, 133, 138; and Serbia, 225, 228–33
 Moscow Benevolent Committee, 224–25
 Moscow Slav Congress, 224–25
 Mosely, Philip E., 421–24
 multicultural society, 338–44
 Muscovy, 5–6, 8
 myths of Russian expansionism, 18, 315–22

- Napoleon III, 124–25, 132, 140–41, 164, 169
- narod* (masses), 8, 10, 11, 18, 272
- “national” (“Russian”) party, 188–89, 351–52
- Nepokoichitskii, A. A., 139, 142
- Nessel’rode, K. V., 9–10, 177, 197–98; and attempted entente with England, 133–34, 137–39; and Holy Places dispute, 123, 127–28, 145–46, 164
- Nicholas I, 9–10, 124–30, 153–56, 221; and Concert of Europe, 156–57; death of, 170; diplomacy of, 120, 124, 159–60, 169–70; and Menshikov mission, 119–22, 134–39; Pokrovskii’s interpretation of, 374–76; Solov’ev’s interpretation of, 362–64; and “vigorous démarche,” 131–34; see also Crimean War; Holy Places dispute
- Nicholas II, 278–79, 281, 285
- Nicholas Pavlovich, see Nicholas I
- nobility (dvorianstvo), 7–10, 68
- Nol’dé, B. E., 367, 369–70
- “Northern System,” 58–59, 106
- Northern War, First, 23
- Nystadt, Treaty of (1721), 25, 36–39, 44
- Obrenović, Mihailo, 223–24
- Obrenović, Miloš, 223–24
- obrok* (money rent), 64, 68–69
- obshchestvo*, 272, 280, 288
- Omulski, Ignatii, and fugitive serfs, 114–15
- Orlov, A. F., 123, 135, 165, 190
- Orlov brothers, 106
- Osterman, A. I., 12, 28–31, 53–56, 82; report of, 39–41; 49–53, 55, 70
- Ottoman Empire: and Italo-Turkish War 299–301; partition of, 124, 130, 154–57, 159–60; see also Crimean War; Greek Project; Holy Places dispute; Kuchuk-Kainardzhi, Treaty of; Russo-Turkish War
- Ozerov, Alexander, 127, 131–32, 138–39
- pacification and reform, 264, 273–74, 301–11
- Palitsyn, F. F., 283–85
- Panin, Nikita, 105; and “Northern System,” 58–59, 106
- Panin, Peter, and fugitive serfs, 111
- Panslavism, 227–29; and Russian-expansionism myths, 320–21
- Panslavs, 10, 224–26, 234–38; goals of, 219–20, 246
- Paris, Treaty of (1856), 10, 16, 190–91, 221–22, 225
- Paris Peace Congress, see Paris, Treaty of
- Parker, William, 163
- partikuliarnye interesy* contrasted with general’nye interesy, 70–72
- Passarowitz, Peace of (1718), 34
- Paul I, 60–61
- permeable frontiers, 329–30, 338; and deportations, 334–35; and population flow, 330–34; and wars, 335–37
- Perpetual Peace, Treaty of (1686), 23, 32, 108–10
- Peter I (the Great), 8, 9, 11–13, 37; and commerce, 44, 62–65, 70–72, 161–62; Grand Tour of, 23–25; legacy of, 28–31; and Polizeistaat, 7; “system” of, 56–57, 70–71; Tarle’s interpretation of, 381–82; see also Peter’s Testament
- Peter II, 53, 68
- Peter III, 57
- Peter the Great, see Peter I
- Peter’s Testament, 2, 78–81; and Greek Project compared, 13, 75, 81, 101; origins of, 75–76; plausibility of, 81–82; points of, listed, 76–77
- Petrine doctrine, 28–31
- Pokrovskii, Mikhail: criticisms of, 370–73; views of, 373–77
- Poland, 24, 27–29, 31–33; annexation of, 14, 105–8, 110–11, 113–16; Eternal Peace with (1686), 23, 32, 108–10; see also Chernyshev memorandum
- Polish Succession, War of the, 12, 31, 33, 55
- Polizeistaat* as statecraft of Peter I, 7
- Poltava, battle of, 12, 24–25, 42
- Portsmouth, Treaty of, 262–64
- Potemkin, G. A., 83, 88–91, 94, 99–101
- Pragmatic Sanction, 71
- “price revolution,” 63–64
- privateering and Russo-American relations, 187–90
- Putiatin, E. V., 123
- Rech Pospolita, see Poland
- Reitern, M. Kh., and sale of Russian America, 200–201
- Reshid, Grand Vizier, 127–28, 148–52, 161, 168
- revolution of 1905, 17–18, 262, 266–67
- Rifaat Pasha, 140–42, 144, 148, 152
- Ristić, Jovan, 230–31
- Romanov, Boris, 377–79
- Rose, Hugh, 140
- Rostopchin, Fedor, 60–61

- Russian America, sale of, 197–99, 214–15; negotiations for, 201–5; prior research on, 193–97; reasons for, 210–11; “special conference” on, 200–201; U.S. public opinion about, 205–7; and U.S. Senate, 207–10
- Russian-American Company (RAK), 180, 197–99, 210
- “Russian” (“national”) party, 188–89, 351–52
- Russo-American relations, 15–16, 178–79, 181–82, 184–86, 191–92; alliance rumored in, 211–13; common fundamental principles of, 176–77; conflict and cooperation in, 179–80, 199–200, 213–14; and maritime policy during Crimean War, 186–90; and Paris Peace Congress, 190–91; positive tradition of, 175–76; see also Russian America, sale of
- Russo-British relations, see Britain
- Russo-Chinese relations, 254–56
- Russo-Danish relations, see Denmark
- Russo-French entente, 223–24
- Russo-Japanese War, 247, 289–90; and Germany, 253–54, 256; Japan’s plans for, 256–57, 259; outcome of, 261–62; Russia’s preparation for, 259–61; significance of, for Russia, 265–66; treaty ending, 262–64
- Russo-Turkish armistice, see Berlin, Treaty of
- Russo-Turkish War: of 1736–39, 12, 34–35, 55, 155; of 1787, 86–91, 98; of 1877–78, 17, 155, 237–42, 288, 352–53; see also Crimean War; Greek Project
- San Stefano, Treaty of (1878), 240–42; see also Berlin, Treaty of
- Sazonov, S. D., 296–99, 306; and Balkan Wars, 300–302; and “Liman von Sanders” affair, 303–5
- Schiemann, Theodor, 398–99, 405
- Schleswig-Holstein question, 46–49, 54, 56–57
- Ségur, Louis-Philippe de, 87, 91–94, 96
- Senate, U.S., and sale of Russian America, 207–10
- sened* and Holy Places dispute, 136, 142–46, 149–52
- Serbia, 221, 232–37; and Montenegro, 225, 228–33; Russian attempts to promote, as Balkan base, 225–29; and Russo-French entente, 223–24; and Russo-Turkish War, 238–40
- Serbo-Montenegrin alliance, 233
- Serbo-Turkish War, 233–37
- serfdom and U.S. slavery, 177–78
- serfs, fugitive, 110–12, 114–16
- Sevastopol’, siege of, 122, 183–84, 190
- Seven Years’ War, 31, 57–59
- Seward, W. G., and sale of Russian America, 201–5
- Seymour, Hamilton, and Nicholas I, 120, 133–34, 154, 160
- Seymour, Thomas, 183
- Shafirov, Peter, 36–37
- Shuvalov, P. A., 242–44
- Sievers, Jakob, 109, 115
- Sinope, battle of, 121–22
- Slav Committees, 230, 235–38
- slavery, U.S., and serfdom, 177–78
- Smutnoe vremia* (Time of Troubles, 1598–1613), 6, 23
- socioeconomics in eighteenth-century Russia, 66–70
- Soissons, Congress of, 52
- Solov’ev, Sergei, 361–64
- Sound Dues, Danish, 26, 46
- South Slavs, Russian public support for rebellion of, 229–32
- Spain and Russo-American relations, 178–79
- “special conference” on sale of Russian America, 200–201
- State Council (Gosudarstvennyi soviet) and Greek Project, 94–96, 100
- State Duma, see Duma
- Stekl’ (Stoeckl), E. A., 175–76; and sale of Russian America, 200–206
- Stolypin, P. A., 272, 276, 309–11; approach of, to governance, 279–81; authority of, increases, 278–79, 285, 295–98; and Bosnian crisis, 286–95; pacification and reform policy of, 264, 273–74; and Russo-British entente, 284–85
- Stratford (Canning) de Redcliffe, Lord, 138, 143–50, 152, 166–70
- Sukhomlinov, V. A., 298, 302–3, 310
- Sumner, B. H., 413, 415–16
- Sumner, Charles, and sale of Russian America, 207–10
- Sweden, 12, 24–26, 31, 46–48, 55–56
- “system of Peter the Great,” 56–57, 70–71
- Tarle, Evgenii, 379–82
- Taube, M. A., 367–68
- Teschen, Treaty of (1779), 59

Cambridge University Press

052144229X - Imperial Russian Foreign Policy - Edited by Hugh Ragsdale

Index

More information

- Index* 457
- Testament of Peter I, see Peter's Testament
- Three Emperors' League, 227, 230–32, 234–35
- Time of Troubles (Smutoe vremia, 1598–1613), 6, 23
- Titov, Vladimir, 127, 138–39
- town councils, 5
- trade, see commerce
- Trans-Siberian Railroad, 17, 252–53, 256, 261
- treasury peasants, 69
- Triple Alliance (1756), efforts to renew, 94, 96–98
- Turkey: and war with Balkans, 233–40; see also Berlin, Treaty of; Ottoman Empire; Russo-Turkish War
- Turkish declaration, see Russo-Turkish War
- Turkish Straits, 123, 212; Russian objectives regarding, 160–61, 220–21
- Ulrich, Charles Peter (Peter III), 57
- United States: expansionist character of, 178–79, 199–200; public opinion in, during Crimean War, 182–86; see also historiography, U.S.; Russian America, sale of; Russo-American relations
- U.S. Senate and sale of Russian America, 207–10
- Unkiar Skelessi, Treaty of (1833), 123
- Vienna, Alliance of, 30–31, 40, 52
- Vorontsov, A. R., 94, 95, 100
- Vorontsov-Dashkov, I. I., 282
- Wallachia, see Danubian principalities
- Warmia, Bishopric of, 107–8
- Welles, Gideon, 202
- Western Dvina, 106–7, 110, 112–15
- “western zemstvo crisis,” 297–98
- Westphalia, Peace of (1648), 12, 22–23
- Westphalian system of relations, 12, 22–24, 31, 33, 37–38; see also Concert of Europe
- Witte, S. Iu., 248–50, 252, 257, 304–5; and peace talks with Japan, 262–64; quoted, 275; Romanov's interpretation of, 377–78
- Yusuf Pasha, Grand Vizier, 88–91