

Cambridge University Press

0521467330 - Constructing Questions for Interviews and Questionnaires: Theory and Practice in Social Research

William Foddy

Table of Contents

More information

Contents

	Page
Tables	vii
Figures	viii
Preface	ix
Chapter 1 An initial statement of the problem	1
Chapter 2 A theoretical framework	12
Chapter 3 Defining topics properly	25
Chapter 4 Formulating intelligible requests for information	38
Chapter 5 Contextual influences on respondents' interpretations of questions	52
Chapter 6 The need to provide response frameworks	76
Chapter 7 The limitations of human memory	90
Chapter 8 Filters: establishing the relevance of questions to respondents	101
Chapter 9 Reducing question threat	112
Chapter 10 The open vs. closed questions debate	126

Cambridge University Press

0521467330 - Constructing Questions for Interviews and Questionnaires: Theory and Practice in Social Research

William Foddy

Table of Contents

More information

Chapter 11	Measuring attitudes	153
Chapter 12	Checks to ensure that questions work as intended	181
Chapter 13	Concluding comments	189
The tap paradigm		193
References		195
Index		214
Acknowledgements		228