

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-47213-5 - Genealogies of the Text: Literature, Psychoanalysis, and
Politics in Modern France

Jeffrey Mehlman

Table of Contents

More informationContents

	page	xi
Acknowledgments
1 Introduction		I
2 Craniometry and criticism: notes on a Valéryan criss-cross		11
3 Literature and hospitality: Klossowski's Hamann		33
4 Literature and collaboration: Benoist-Méchin's return to Proust		53
5 "Pierre Menard, author of Don Quixote " again		67
6 Iphigenia 38: deconstruction, history, and the case of L'Arrêt de mort		82
7 Writing and deference: the politics of literary adulation		97
8 Perspectives: on Paul de Man and Le Soir		113
9 Prosopopeia revisited		131
10 The paranoid style in French prose: Lacan with Léon Bloy		139
11 The Holocaust comedies of "Emile Ajar"		154
12 Pour Sainte-Beuve : Maurice Blanchot, 10 March 1942		174
13 Flowers of evil: Paul Morand, the Collaboration, and literary history		195

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-47213-5 - Genealogies of the Text: Literature, Psychoanalysis, and
Politics in Modern France
Jeffrey Mehlman
Table of Contents
More information

x

List of contents

Appendix

217

Notes

218

Index

256

Series list

260