

Index

- Abell, Peter, 130
- access, to social capital: and inequalities of social capital in China, 108, 109*t*, 112*t*, 113*t*; and social capital theory, 63–73. See also bridges
- accessed social capital model, and status attainment, 82–3, 84*t*, 87–93
- accumulation rates, for human and social capital, 134–5, 136
- actions: hierarchical structures and individual, 178–80; and neo-capital theories, 17–18; and postulates of social capital theory, 75, 76;
primary forces accounting for in
social capital theory, 57–8;
sociology and theory of, 129–30;
and value of resources, 31–3. See also expressive action; instrumental action; interactions; motivation;
purposive actions
- actors: and knowledge of resources,
43–3n4; and value of resources,
31–2. See also actions
- Advisory Commission on Electronic Commerce, 229
- Africa, and information technology, 229
- age, and job experience and tenure in Chinese context, 115–16
- agents, and social structure, 33, 34
- America Online, 228
- Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, 199
- Ang, Soon, 86–7
- Angelusz, Robert, 91
- anthropology, and theories of exchange, 146
- ascribed position, 65
- ascribed resources, 55
- Associated Press, 225
- asymmetric exchanges, 50
- attained position, 65
- authority, and social structure, 33–4
- Barbieri, Paolo, 86, 89
- Baron, James N., 247
- Becker, Gary S., 9, 16
- Berkman, Sheir, 211n1
- Bernard, Jessie, 196
- Berners-Lee, Tim, 213
- Bian, Yanjie, 86–7
- Blau, Peter M., 73, 78, 145, 147,
170, 175–7
- Bloomberg, Michael R., 238
- Bourdieu, Pierre, 14, 15–17, 22–3, 24, 25, 52, 192n4
- Boxman, E. A. W., 89, 92, 97
- Brady, Henry E., 211n1
- Breiger, Ronald L., 169n2, 184
- bridges, between social networks, and access to social capital, 67, 70, 71,
72–3. See also access
- Brinkley, Alan, 211n1
- Brown University, 198
- Buddhism, and Falun Gong, 217,
218n3

- Burt, Ronald S., 22, 24, 53, 70, 71, 89–90, 179, 184, 247, 248
- cable companies, and Internet, 228
- Cai, Yuanpei, 201
- Campbell, Karen E., 89
- Canada, and studies of status attainment, 91–2
- capital: cultural capital theory of, 14–18; definition of, 3; institutions and flow of, 189–91; Marxian or classical theory of, 4–8, 17–18, 52; neo-capital theory of, 8–14, 17–18. See also economic capital; human capital; political capital; social capital
- capital deficit: definition of, 120–1; and gendered labor market, 100–1; gender and inequalities of social capital in China, 110–14, 123. See also return deficit
- Carnegie Foundation, 199
- causality, and models of social capital, 247
- Central Party School (China), 204
- Central Research Institute (China), 204
- children, and Internet use, 235, 236
- Children's Online Privacy Protection Act*, 236
- China: Communist Revolution and institutionalization, 200–6; education and human versus institutional capital, 192; ethnic Chinese communities in other countries and institutional field concept, 188; exchange relations and guanxi, 159, 160; and Falun Gong as case study of social movement, 217–26; gender and inequalities in social capital, 102–23; Great Cultural Revolution and institutional transformation, 194; and institutional capital, 190–1; and Internet users, 214, 230–1; and studies of status attainment, 87; and traditional system of inheritance, 133n8
- Chinese Communist Party (CCP), 105, 191, 200–6, 220–2, 224–5
- Chinese People's Anti-Japanese Resistance Military and Political University (Kangda), 204–5, 206
- choice, and neo-capital theories, 17–18. See also rational choice
- civic engagement, and social capital, 210–11
- civil rights movement, 196, 197
- class, socioeconomic: and cultural capital, 14–15, 18; and hierarchy of occupations, 169n2; and inequalities of social capital in China, 106; and power in social structure, 36–7; and social interaction, 69n5
- classic theory of capital: explanation of, 4–8; and human capital, 10–14, 17–18; and structural constraints or opportunities, 52
- coercion, and value of resources, 30
- Coleman, James S., 22, 23, 24, 25, 27–8, 52, 66, 140n9, 145, 147, 151, 179, 184
- collective goods, and social capital, 26
- collectivity, rational choice and public capital, 137–8. See also community
- Collins, Randall, 179
- Commerce Department (U.S.), 213, 229
- Communist Party. See Chinese Communist Party
- community: and social exchange, 163–4; and status of actors possessing valuable resources, 31. See also collectivity
- compliance, and collective obligations and rewards, 139
- computer hacking, 225
- computers. See cybernetworks
- Comte, Auguste, 146
- consumption, and Marxian view of capital, 5–6

Index

269

- control, and social capital theory, 20n1
- Cook, Karen S., 140n9, 177–8
- Cornell University, 197
- cost, of accumulation and use of social capital, 135
- critical mass, and hierarchical structures, 173–4
- cultural capital: and differentiation of social capital, 43n3; and institutions, 190, 192n4; and structural constraints or opportunities, 52; and theories of capital, 14–18
- culture: and context of kin ties in Chinese society, 110–11; and inequalities of social capital, 123
- cybernetworks: and Falun Gong, 222–5; and growth of social capital, 237–9; and research on social capital, 226–37; and social networks, 212–17
- David, Paul, 187
- Dayton, Paul, 80
- De Graaf, Nan Dirk, 85, 89, 97
- differential obligations and rewards, and collectivity, 137–8
- differential values, assignment of to resources, 30
- Digital Millennium Copyright Act*, 236
- DiMaggio, Paul J., 188
- Duke University, 198
- Dumin, Mary, 88, 90
- Duncan, Otis Dudley, 78
- Durkheim, Emile, 146, 148
- Eastern Europe, and collapse of communist states, 195
- e-commerce, 212–13, 215
- economic capital: and social capital, 22; and social exchange, 162–4
- economic exchange, and social exchange, 144, 155*t*
- education: and Communist Revolution in China, 201–6; gender and inequalities of social capital in China, 105; and human capital analysis, 13–14; and institutionalizing organizations, 192; and Internet use, 229, 230, 232*f*, 236–7. See also universities
- ego resources, 44
- Eli P. Lilly Foundation, 199
- e-mail, 214, 224
- Emerson, Richard M., 140n9, 175, 177–8
- Ensel, Walter M., 83, 85, 166
- equidistant structure, and resource differentials in hierarchies, 172
- Erickson, Bonnie H., 24, 91–2, 184
- esteem, and social recognition, 158
- Evans, Sara, 196
- exchange: and acquisition of personal resources, 42; definition of, 143. See also social exchange
- exchange value, 4–5
- Exxon Education Foundation, 199
- expressive action: and homophilous interactions, 49; and motives for maintenance of valued resources, 45–6; and social capital theory, 58, 59; and types of returns, 244–5
- Falun Dafa Research Society, 218, 219, 222–3
- Falun Gong, 191n2, 217–26
- family: Chinese definition of, 110–11; and primacy of primordial group, 133. See also kin ties; relationships
- feminist theory, and women's studies programs, 200n5
- Fernandez, Roberto M., 247–8
- First Hunan Provincial Normal School (China), 201
- Flap, Henk D., 21–2, 24, 85, 86, 87, 89, 91, 92, 97, 184
- Ford Foundation, 198–9
- formal job search channels, 93–4

270 Index

Framework for Global Electronic Commerce, A (U.S. government), 236

Gabelhouse, Gary, 237–8

gender: and inequalities of social capital, 95–6, 102–23; and Internet use, 214, 230–1; labor market and differential earnings, 100–1; occupations and hierarchical structures, 180–2; status of and assigned value of resources, 30; and status attainment, 85

General Social Survey data, 210

Georgetown Internet Privacy Policy Study, 235n11

Germany, and studies of status attainment, 86, 87, 91, 92, 97

globalization, and cybernetworks, 215–16, 238

government, and Internet, 228–9.

See also state

Government Paperwork Elimination Act, 236

graded groups, and hierarchical structure, 175

Granovetter, Mark, 53, 67, 68n4, 69, 71, 79–80, 110, 167, 184, 248

Great Cultural Revolution (China), 194

Greenwald, Peter, 80

Grief, Avner, 158

gross national product (GNP), and information technology, 229

Guangming Daily (newspaper), 220

Hannan, Michael T., 142

hate information, and Internet, 235

Hechter, Michael, 140n9, 148

Helena Rubenstein Foundation, 199

heterophilous interactions: and acquisition and maintenance of resources, 46–52; and social capital theory, 59

Heying, Charles H., 211n1

He, Zhuo-xiu, 220

hierarchies and hierarchical structure: and assumptions of social capital theory, 57, 76; implications of structure for individuals, 174; and individual action, 178–80; and macrostructure of resources, 34–6; and strength-of-position proposition, 165–6; and structural constraints versus social capital, 174–8; and structural parameters, 167–74; and weak ties, 166

Homans, George, 39, 67, 144–5, 147, 149, 159

homophilous interactions: and acquisition and maintenance of resources, 46–52; and assumptions of social capital theory, 57, 58, 59

homophily hypothesis and homophily principle: and access to social capital, 66, 165; and social networks, 39–40; and weak ties, 67n4, 68

household type, and Internet use, 234f

Howe, Florence, 198

Hsung, Ray-May, 86, 90–1

human capital: and choice behavior in capitalization, 18; definition of, 55–6; flow of in institutions, 190; and inequalities of social capital, 104–5, 116, 119, 122; and neo-capital theory, 8–14; and personal resources, 42–3; and purposive action, 52; and rational choice, 133–6; and social capital, 24, 25, 97–8. See also capital

Hungary, and studies of status attainment, 91

Hurlbert, Jeanne S., 85, 89, 166

Hwang, Yih-Jib, 86, 90–1

identification, and collective obligations and rewards, 139 ideology: Chinese Communist Party and education, 206; and Falun Gong, 226; social exchange and rationality as dominant, 160;

Index

271

- women's studies programs and feminist theory, 200n5
- income: and Internet use, 229, 230; and study of gender and inequalities of social capital in China, 115, 118–19, 120*t*. See also wages
- individual goods, and social capital, 26
- individuals. See actions; actors
- inequality, of social capital: and gender in China, 102–23; and Internet use, 231, 232; and status attainment, 95–6; and structural and positional variations, 246; and theoretical considerations, 99–102
- influence, and social capital theory, 20
- informal job search channels, 93–4
- information, social capital theory and flow of, 20. See also Internet
- inheritance: Chinese traditional system of, 133n8; of personal resources, 42. See also succession
- institutional analysis, 185
- institutional capital: flow of in institutions, 190–1; and inequalities of social capital, 104–5, 116–17, 119, 122, 123
- institutional field, 187–9, 194*f*, 207
- institutionalizing organizations, 192
- institutions: and Communist Revolution in China, 200–6; cybernetworks and creation of, 216, 236; definition of, 35n5; and flow of capital, 189–91; framework and outline of theory on networks and, 207–8; and infrastructure of society, 184–7, 208–9; and institutional field, 187–9; networks and transformation of, 194–6; and social exchange, 159–60; and social networks, 191–3; and women's studies programs in U.S. universities, 196–200
- instrumental action: and heterophilous interactions, 50, 51; and motives for seeking and gaining valued resources, 46; and social capital theory, 58, 59; and types of returns, 244, 245
- interactions: and homophily principle, 165; and postulates of social capital theory, 75; rational choice and principles of, 131–2; and social networks, 38–9. See also heterophilous interactions; homophilous interactions
- internal firm labor market, 193
- internalization, and collective obligations and rewards, 139
- International Data Corporation/World Times Information Society Index, 229
- Internet: and Falun Gong, 222–5; and growth of social capital, 237–9; and research on social capital, 226–37; and social networks, 212–17
- Internet Monitoring Bureau (China), 225
- Internet Tax Freedom Act*, 236
- investment: and human capital, 11–12; and Marxian theory of capital, 7
- involuntary social mobility, 167
- isomorphic utility function, 162
- Italy, and studies of status attainment, 86, 89
- Japan, World War II and kamikaze missions, 32
- Jiangxi school system (China), 203–4
- Jiang, Zemin, 221
- job prestige, and study of gender and inequalities of social capital in China, 117–18
- job searches: and selectivity bias, 83–5n3; status attainment and informal versus formal, 93–4; unplanned versus purposive action, 167n1. See also labor
- Johnson, Harry G., 8, 11

272 Index

- joint accessed/mobilized social capital model, of status attainment, 84t, 92–3
- Kangda. See Chinese People's Anti-Japanese Resistance Military and Political University
- Kelman, H. C., 139
- kin ties, and inequalities of social capital in China, 110–12, 119, 121t, 122. See also family; relationships
- labor: gendered market and differential earnings, 100–1; and human capital theory, 11. See also job searches; occupations
- Lai, Gina Wan-Foon, 92–3
- Landefeld, Steven, 212
- language, and Internet use, 231–2
- lateral positions, 35–6
- Laumann, Edward O., 69
- least-effort interactions, 49
- Lerner, Gerda, 196
- levels: hierarchical structures and differentials in, 168–70, 177; use of term, 167
- Levi-Strauss, Claude, 146
- Li, Dazhao, 201
- Liang, Shuming, 202n7
- life satisfaction, and expressive action, 244–5
- Li, Hongzhi, 217, 218, 219, 221, 223, 224, 225, 226
- Lin, Nan, 21, 24, 60n3, 80, 83, 84, 88, 90, 92–3, 115, 133n8, 166, 247, 248
- location effect: and structure of hierarchies, 174; use of term, 168
- location-by-position proposition, and access to social capital, 71–3, 76
- Lo, Gan, 220
- Long March (China), 204
- Luhmann, Niklas, 148
- Lu, Yiyuan, 203
- macrotheory, and sociology, 128–9
- Malinowski, Bronslaw, 146
- Mao, Zedong, 194, 201–6
- Marsden, Peter V., 85, 89, 166, 184
- Marxism: and classic theory of capital, 4–8, 10–14; and cultural capital theory, 15–17
- maximization of gain, and theory of rational choice, 130–1, 141–2
- McWee, Bob, 225
- media, and social recognition, 152
- mental health, and expressive action, 244–5
- Merton, Robert K., 32
- Microsoft, 228
- microtheory, and sociology, 128–9
- Miller, Michael J., 214
- minimization of loss, and theory of rational choice, 130–1, 141–2
- Misztal, Barbara A., 147–8, 149
- mobility: and hierarchical structures, 180–3; and solidarity in social systems, 140–1. See also social mobility
- mobilized social capital model, of status attainment, 82–7, 92–3
- models and modeling, of social capital theory, 76f, 83f, 243–7
- Modern Language Association (MLA), 197–8
- Moerbeek, Hester, 85
- motivation: labor and human capital, 12; and purposive actions, 45–6
- mutual recognition, 131–2
- name generator methodology, and studies of status attainment, 84t, 87–8, 89–90
- Nationalist Party (KMT), 203–4, 205–6
- National Women's Studies Association (NWSA), 198
- negative recognition, and social exchange, 161
- Negroponte, Nicholas, 214
- neo-capital theory: description of, 8–14, 17–18; and social capital theory, 19

Index

273

- neo-Darwinian theory, and social exchanges, 155
- Netherlands, and studies of status attainment, 85–6, 89, 97
- network analysis, 184–5
- networks and networking: and access to social capital, 65, 73n6; and formulation of reputation, 152n6; framework and outline of theory on institutions and, 207–8; and infrastructure of society, 184–7, 208–9; and institutional transformation, 194–6; and macrostructure of resources, 38–40; and postulates of social capital theory, 75; structural constraints on, 74–5; and women's studies, 199, 200. See also cybernetworks; social networks
- Nielsen survey, 237
- nominal groups, and hierarchical structures, 175
- occupations, and hierarchical structures, 169n2, 180–2. See also job searches; labor
- Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD), 236
- organization-network institutional isomorphism, 189, 207
- organizations: and Falun Gong, 226; and institutional fields, 188–9
- organization-society institutional isomorphism, 188, 207
- Otellini, Paul, 212
- Overseas Coordinating Office (FDRS), 222–3
- ownership, of personal resources, 42–3
- Parsons, Talcott, 148
- parties, and power in social structure, 36–7
- Peasant Movement Institution (China), 203
- Peng, Pai, 203
- personal computers (PCs), 212. See also Internet
- personal resources: as human capital, 42–3; and status attainment, 78
- persuasion, and value of resources, 30
- petition, and value of resources, 30
- physical capital, and neo-capital theory, 9
- physical health, and expressive action, 244–5
- Pizzorno, Alessandro, 157
- Podolny, Joel M., 247
- Poland, and studies of status attainment, 97
- policy, and mobility and solidarity in hierarchical social structures, 180–3. See also state
- political capital, and study of inequalities of social capital in China, 106, 107t, 108, 109, 111–12, 116, 119, 122
- political participation, and social capital, 210–11
- pornography, and Internet, 234–5
- Portes, Alejandro, 24, 248
- positional effect: and inequality of social capital, 246; and resource differentials in hierarchical structures, 172; and size differentials in hierarchical structures, 171–2; and structure of hierarchies, 174; use of term, 168. See also positions; social position
- positional resources, 44–5
- position generator methodology: and studies of inequalities in social capital in China, 106, 122, 124t; and studies of status attainment, 84t, 89, 90–2, 95
- position of origin, 65
- positions, use of term, 167. See also positional effect; social position
- Powell, Walter W., 188
- power: dimensions of in social structure, 36–7; and social exchange, 150n4; use of term, 37n7

274 Index

- predictions, formation of for heterophilous interactions, 47–51
 prestige: hypothesis and principle of,
 48, 69; and reputation, 37n6, 158
 prevailing institutions, 186 primary rewards, and exchange, 149 primordial group: size of and accumulation of social capital, 136;
 and transfer of resources, 132–3 privacy, and Internet, 234–5 production, and Marxian view of capital, 4–6
 profit, and rational choice, 131–2 propagation of indebtedness, and
 social exchange, 152
 property rights: and Internet, 235;
 and status of individuals in community, 31
 protest movement, and Falun Gong
 in China, 219–22
 public capital, rational choice and collectivity, 137–8
 purposive actions: and human capital, 52; motives for, 45–6, 48;
 and job searches, 167n1; and social capital theory, 59–73
 Putnam, Robert D., 22, 23, 24n2, 52, 210, 237, 248
 pyramids, and hierarchical structures, 36, 57

 race: and inequalities of social capital, 95–6; and Internet use, 231f; occupations and hierarchical structures, 180–2
 Radcliffe-Brown, A. R., 146 rational choice: collectivity and public capital, 137–8; and emergence of structure, 136–7; minimization of loss and maximization of gain, 130–1, 141–2; recognition and profit, 131–2; resources and primacy of primordial group,
 132–3; and social contracts,
 139–40; and social systems, 140–1;
 and sociological theorizing, 129–30

 reciprocity, and exchange, 145n3 recognition: multiplicity and complexity of social relations and rules of, 137; and rational choice,
 131–2; and social exchange, 156,
 158, 161–2
 recruitment, and relationship between status attainment and social
 capital, 96
 regions, and Internet use, 230, 233f regulation, of Internet, 235–6 reinforcements, and social capital theory, 20
 relationships, and social exchange,
 146–7, 149–57, 159–60, 164.
 See also family; kin ties; social relations reputation: definition of, 244; and
 social exchange, 152–4, 156, 157–
 8, 161–2, 163–4; use of term, 37n6,
 150n5
 Requena, Felix, 86
 resources: definition of, 29, 55;
 extensity of in structural hierarchy, 62, 63; and formation of predictions, 47–51; heterogeneity of in structural hierarchy, 62–3; hierarchical structures and differentials in, 169f, 172–4, 177, 178, 180, 181; homophilous and
 heterophilous interactions, 46–7;
 macrostructure of, 33–8;
 microstructure of, 41–5; and
 motives for purposive actions, 45–6; and rational choice, 132–3; social allocation of, 29–33; and social structures, 53–4; and status attainment, 80–98; structural constraints and opportunities in capitalization of, 51–2; as structural foundation for social
 capital, 40
 return, to social capital: expressive and instrumental actions and, 244–
 5; and social-capital proposition,
 60–3; and study of gender and

Index

275

- inequalities of social capital in China, 114–19
- return deficit, and inequalities in social capital, 100, 101, 102, 121, 122, 123. See also capital deficit
- Revlon Foundation, 199
- robustness, social systems and principle of, 142
- Rockefeller Foundation, 199
- Rossi, Alice, 196
- Ruan, Xiaoxian, 203
- rules: of recognition and complexity of social relations, 137; and social structure, 33–4
- rural areas, and Internet use, 230, 233*f*
- Russell, Bertrand, 202
- Russell Sage Foundation, 199
- Russia: and collapse of communism, 195; exchange relations and blat, 159
- Russian Revolution of 1917, 195, 201
- San Diego State University, 197
- satellite firms, and Internet, 228
- Schlozman, Kay Lehman, 211*n*1
- Schultz, Theodore W., 9, 11, 12, 16
- Scott, Anne Firor, 196
- selectivity bias, and job searches, 83–5*n*3
- self-reporting, of social capital, 44*n*4
- Self-Study University (China), 202, 205
- sentiment-interaction hypothesis, 39
- Sewell, William H., Jr., 29*n*1, 31
- Shandong Rural Reconstruction Institute, 202*n*7
- Sheperd, George, 203*n*7
- shopping, and Internet, 212–13
- Simmel, Georg, 148
- Singapore, and studies of status attainment, 87
- size differentials, and hierarchical structures, 169*f*, 170–2, 173–4, 177, 178, 180
- Skocpol, Theda, 211*n*1
- Smith, Adam, 8
- social allocation, of resources, 29–33
- social approval and social attraction, 157
- social behavior, definition of, 144*n*1
- social capital, theory of: and assumptions, 56–9, 77; central theme of, 3; and civic engagement, 210–11; and clarification of issues, 25–8; cybernetworks and research on, 226–37; definition of, 19, 29, 190; description of, 55–6; embedded resources in networks and measurement of, 211–12; explanations for operation of, 19–20; Internet and cybernetworks, 212–17, 226–39; macro- and microimplications of, 247–9; models and modeling of, 76*f*, 83*f*, 243–7; perspectives on and conceptualizations of, 21–5; and purposive actions, 59–73; and structural contingency of action effects, 73–5; summary of major points in, 75–7. See also access, to social capital; hierarchies and hierarchical structure; inequality, of social capital; institutions; rational choice; resources; reputation; return, to social capital; social exchange; status attainment
- social-capital proposition, 60–3
- social change, and hypotheses for institutional transformation, 207, 208
- social contracts, and rational choice, 139–40
- social credentials, 20
- social exchange: and economic exchange, 144; and institutionalization of rationalities, 159–60; and reputation, 157–8, 161–2; social and economic

276 Index

- social exchange: (cont.)
 elements of, 143–9, 162–4; and social recognition, 161–2; and transactional and relational rationalities, 149–57, 159–60, 162, 164. See also exchange
- social integration, and institutional transformation, 207–8
- social mobility: definition of, 167; and hierarchical structures, 170, 173, 174–8
- social movements: Falun Gong in China as case study of, 217–26; and institutional transformation, 195, 208–9; and Internet, 237; and Tiananmen Square incident (1989), 206n9
- social networks: and concept of social capital, 26–7; and institutions, 191–3; and macrostructure of resources, 38–40; and rational choice, 133–6; and status attainment, 79–80. See also networks and networking
- social position, and macrostructure of resources, 33–8. See also positional effect; positions
- social processes, components of, 186
- social recognition, and social exchange, 152
- social relations: and human capital theory, 14; multiplicity and complexity of and rules of recognition and legitimation, 137. See also relationships
- social reproduction, and cultural capital, 15
- social resources, as social capital, 43–5
- social structure: and assumptions of social capital theory, 56; definition of, 33; and human capital theory, 10; and individual use of resources, 53–4; and macrostructure of resources, 33–4; resources and transactions in complex, 36–8; and social capital, 27–8
- social systems: and institutional fields, 188; institutions and networks as basic components of, 184–7, 208–9; and principle of robustness, 142; and rational choice, 140–1
- sociology: and individual perspective, 178–9; and structural perspective, 175; and theories of exchange, 146; and theory of rational choice, 128–30
- solidarity: and hierarchical structures, 180–3; and mobility in social systems, 140–1; and social exchange, 153–4
- Somerson, Paul, 214
- Spain: and studies of status attainment, 86
- Sprengers, Maarten, 89
- Stanford University, 198
- state, and institutional fields, 188. See also government; policy
- status attainment: definition of, 78; formative studies and theoretical foundations of, 79–81; and relationship between social capital and human capital, 97–8; social resources and theory of social capital, 81–98; and study of inequalities of social capital in China, 114–19
- status groups, and power in social structure, 36–7
- strength-of-location proposition, and access to social capital, 69–71, 76, 165–6
- strength-of-networking proposition: and access to social capital, 73–4, 167; and status attainment, 94–5
- strength-of-position proposition, and access to social capital, 64–5, 76, 165–6, 167
- strength-of-strong-tie proposition: and access to social capital, 65–7, 76; and status attainment, 94–5
- strength-of-weak-ties proposition: and access to social capital, 67–9,

Index

277

- 71, 73, 76, 166; and status attainment, 80n2, 94–5. See also weak ties
- structural advantage, and access to social capital, 64, 75
- structural contingency proposition: and networking effects, 74–5; and social capital theory, 76
- structural holes, and access to social capital, 70–1, 72f
- structure. See hierarchies and hierarchical structure; social structure
- success, of action associated with social capital, 61, 75. See also return, to social capital
- succession, primordial group and rules of, 133. See also inheritance
- suppression, of Falun Gong in China, 219–22
- surplus value, and Marxian theory of capital, 4–8
- symbolic rewards, and collectivity, 138
- symbolic utility, and social resources, 44
- symbolic violence, 14–15
- Taiwan: education and human capital versus institutional capital, 192; and studies of status attainment, 86, 97
- Taoism, and Falun Gong, 217, 218n3
- Tao, Xingzhi, 202n7
- Tardos, Robert, 91
- Tazelaar, Fritz, 89
- telephone companies, and Internet, 228
- television, and civic engagement, 210, 237–8
- Tend, Zitang, 203
- Tiananmen Square incident (1989), 206n9, 255–6
- Tobias, Sheila, 197
- transactional rationality, and social exchange, 150–1, 154–5, 156, 159–60, 162, 164
- trust: and recognition, 131n6; and social exchange, 147–9
- Ultee, Wout, 96
- universities: and Internet systems, 228; and women's studies as example of institutional transformation, 196–200. See also education
- University of Arizona, 198
- University of California (Berkeley), 198
- urban areas, and Internet use, 230, 233f
- values, assignment of to resources, 30
- Vaughn, John C., 83, 85, 166
- Verba, Sidney, 211n1
- village: and Internet, 236, 237, 239; use of term, 227n9. See also globalization
- Volker, Beate, 87, 91
- voluntary social mobility, 167
- wages, and human capital analysis, 13–14. See also income
- weak ties: ceiling effect for, 166; and homophily principle, 67n4, 68. See also strength-of-weak-ties proposition
- wealth, and social exchange, 150, 160, 163–4
- Weber, Max, 37n7, 61, 144, 145n3
- Wegener, Bernd, 86
- Wellesley College, 198
- Wellman, Barry, 184
- Whampoa Military Academy (China), 203, 204
- Willer, David, 42n1
- Williamson, Oliver E., 149
- women. See gender; women's studies
- women's liberation movement, 196, 197
- women's studies, and institutional transformation in U.S., 196–200
- Wood, Richard L., 211n1
- World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO), 236

Cambridge University Press

0521474310 - Social Capital: A Theory of Social Structure and Action - Nan Lin

Index

More information278 *Index*World Trade Organization (WTO), 236World Wide Web, 212–17. See also
Internet

Wright, Erik Olin, 91

Xu, Teli, 204

Yan'an University (Yanda), 205, 206

Ye, Xiaolan, 115

Yen, James, 202–3n7

Yi, Peiji, 201

Zhou, Yang, 204

Zhu, Rongji, 220