CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-51556-6 - Adjunct Adverbials in English
Hilde Hasselgard
Index
More information

Index

General

academic writing 9, 234, 247, 255, 266, 280, 282–3 accent focal 294
  prosodic 128, 180
  tonic 129, 147
adjunct 19, 286
  act-related 27, 226, 299
  circumstantial 19, 20
  classification of 286, 287 classification scheme 11–12, 21, 218 conjunctive 19, 37, 206
  containing proposition 88
  criteria for 19–20, 34, 255, 297, 300
  definition 19, 297
  features of 20
  length 71, 123, 127–8, 153–4, 271–2 meanings of 4
  modal 20, 36
  proposition-related 229, 235 realisations of 37, 237, 270–1, 289
  speech-act-related 230, 236
  vs. disjunct 255, 298
  vs. predicative 14, 16–17
adverb 14, 271
  single 37, 101, 110
  vs. adverbial 14
adverb phrase 14, 37, 271
adverbial circumstance 19
  complementation 15, 47, 59 discourse function of 228, 266
  linking 19
  particle 17
  position 41, 290
  stance 19, 255
  textual function of 211
  usage across text types 292
  vs. modifier 18
adverbial clause 86, 136, 283
  placement of 86
  semantic types of 136
  thematisation of 88
adverbial sequence 70, 273, 293, 296 across text types 273
  homosemantic 201–2
  vs. single adjunct 272
agent 129
as 214

backgrounding 91, 105, 107, 266, 292
be copular 15
  intransitive 15–16, 118
because 140, 236
bleaching, semantic 133, 197, 210, 236, 298 boundary marker 94
British National Corpus 6

causality 138
  enabling 138, 139
  law-like 138
clarity principle 61, 73, 145, 176 classification of adverbials
  criteria for 24
  scheme 11–12
clause 40
  causal 90–1, 138–40
  concessive 141
  conditional 89–90, 140
  contingency 136
  finite 37, 87
  -ing participle 200
  initial 175
  manner 227
  non-finite 37, 271
  prepositional 37, 271
  purpose 237
  quasi-temporal 281
  relative 45
  spatial 200

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-51556-6 - Adjunct Adverbials in English
Hilde Hasselgard
Index
More information

clause (cont.)
subjectless 44
temporal 91, 136, 141–2, 213, 215
cleft clause 152
cleft construction 44
cleft focus position 44, 152, 290 clefted constituent 152
cluster 54, 70, 92, 101, 112, 121, 143, 293, 296–7
and text type 273, 274–5
heterosemantic 146
homosemantic 146
lexical 295
semantic pattern in 73, 92–3, 145–6, 150, 214, 227, 238 syntactic pattern in 144
three-adjunct 149–50, 296 coherence 73, 92–3
spatial 82
cohesion 61, 79, 88, 130, 173, 174, 199, 283, 291–2 cohesive chain 295
cohesive harmony 295
combination 54–5, 70, 101, 121, 169, 238, 293, 296 adverbial placement in 169
and text type 273–4
containing a cluster 170 of initial and end position 172–3 of initial and medial position 179 of medial and end position 177 of medial positions 180 of three positions 181
pattern of semantic types 172, 182–3 communicative dynamism (CD) 74, 129, 275 basic distribution of 176 complement 47, 220
complexity, syntactic 145, 273
condition 90
hypothetical 90, 140–1, 229
open 90, 229
conditional
subject-like 230
conjunct 19, 20, 301, 302 conjunction 213
subordinating 16, 37, 143
connector 140, 212, 236 contrast 77–8, 159–60
conversation 8, 255
co-ordination 143
core corpus 6, 7
text selection 9–10
cos 236
culmination adjunct 47–8, 118, 119, 124–5, 189 detachment 264, 293
discourse function 266, 275, 291, 292 discourse marker 211–12, 215, 236, 275 discourse organisation 267, 273, 280 disjunct 19, 20–1, 110, 235, 236, 301, 302 content 139
value judgment 27
Dutch 16

early immediate constituents 71, 86, 102, 104, 123 elaboration 140, 236, 245 end focus 60, 73, 103, 123, 128, 293 end position 41, 42, 55, 60, 115, 172, 183, 269, 290, 296 English-Norwegian Parallel Corpus (ENPC) 7 enhancement 140, 236, 245 experiential iconicity 83–4, 89, 130, 133, 134, 202, 215 extent 190

factor analysis (Biber) 195, 209, 223, 234, 263 fiction 9, 225, 262, 266 focus 108, 252
cleft 152
contrastive 60
divided 77, 176
prosodic 128–9
thematic 74, 293
focus-worthy 78, 175, 277
formality 259, 283
frame of interpretation 88, 176, 292
of reference 78
frequency
definite 205
indefinite 98, 205
non-specific 36
specific 36
frequency distribution of adjuncts across text types 259 of realisation types 38, 101, 122, 153 of semantic types 34, 67, 96, 110, 115–16, 153, 286 functional sentence perspective (FSP) 74

German 16, 37, 164
gradability 16
grammaticalisation 210, 212, 236, 300, 302

hedging 256, 276, 278, 299, 300 here 84, 199
homosemantic 49
hypotaxis vs. parataxis 237

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-51556-6 - Adjunct Adverbials in English
Hilde Hasselgard
Index
More information

ice-breaker 76
imperative 253–4
inclusiveness relation 49, 201–2, 215 infinitive, split 110–12
  in speech vs. writing 111
information crucial 77, 78
  given 73–4, 75, 128, 291
  new 77, 128, 291
  new information and theme 164 information distribution 175 information management 277, 283, 292, 301 information packaging 271 information principle 147 information structure 61, 78, 90, 103, 176, 275, 291, 293 and discourse function 165 of it-clefts 155–6 initial-end position 43, 96 initial position 41, 42, 55, 172, 183, 266, 268, 290, 296
  vs. medial position 44, 85
International Corpus of English (ICE-GB) 6, 12, 111 identification tag 12
  parsing 15
  tagging 17–18, 92
inversion 49
  conditions for 196
  locative 195–6
  of object and adjunct 98, 179, 180 of subject and verb 67, 195 involvement 263, 264
it-cleft 152, 290
  given information in 157 information pattern 157–8 informative presupposition 156, 157, 167 new information in 157
  rhetorical properties of 167 stressed focus 155
  textual function of 159
  thematising function of 164–5

juncture 76
just 253–4

letters 9, 234, 262
linear modification 49–50
London-Lund Corpus (LLC) 6, 13, 128

markedness 67, 74, 105
  prosodic 113
meaning and syntactic position 230 central 287
  circumstantial 302, 303
  conjunctive 297
  interpersonal 213, 236, 299, 303
  metaphorical extension 197, 210, 297 peripheral 287
  textual 303
medial position 41, 42, 96, 183, 268–9, 290, 292, 294, 296
  M1 42, 96
  M2 42, 96
  M3 42, 96
metafunction 211
  experiential 20, 52, 199, 216, 302
  interpersonal 17, 21, 301, 302
  textual 20, 36, 52, 301, 302
metalinguistic comment 235 metaphor 300
  spatial 16–17, 24, 28
metaphoricity
  continuum of 17
method of development 268
modality 36, 213, 277
modifier 18
mood 36
motivation
  indirect 85, 134
multi-word verb 17, 21, 126

narrative 76, 278–9
natural order 90, 133, 138
news 9, 225
nominalisation 84, 89
Norwegian 16, 37, 163–4
not-position 36, 43, 105–6, 178
  adverb 106, 112
noun phrase 37
now 211–12

object 190
  clausal 98–9
  extraposed 99
  oblique 125
obligatory adverbial 46, 63, 117, 124
only 250, 252–3
optional adverbial 46
Oslo Multilingual Corpus (OMC) 7

paragraph structure 76
parenthetical insertion 108, 113, 177, 294 participant 242
  vs. circumstantial 240
particle, adverbial 17
partition 103, 104, 108, 113, 275, 277 passive 242, 264
  long 129
pause-filler 212–13, 275, 276–7
phrasal verb 17

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-51556-6 - Adjunct Adverbials in English
Hilde Hasselgard
Index
More information

placement of adverbials 290
and realisation type 57–9
and semantic type 290
default 63, 134, 290
factors for 62, 72
initial 62
prediction of 183
polarity 36, 277
positional preference 57, 137, 250
pragmatic criteria 302
predicate 60, 119
centrality to 151
predicational adjunct 50, 69, 290
preposition 16, 37
spatial 187
prepositional phrase 37
prepositional verb 17
prescriptive rule 111
presentative 60, 75–6, 84, 199, 281, 293 process 29
process type 190
and types of adjunct 190, 206–7, 220–2, 231, 232, 242, 246, 248, 286 existential 191
frequency distribution of 192, 207, 223, 232 material 190–1, 206, 286 mental 245, 287
relational 206, 231, 246, 286
verbal 245, 287
processing 267
projection 245
prominence
prosodic 108
thematic 163
tonic 129
prototype 287
proximity principle 144

qualitative description 7 quantitative description 7

realisation types 296
position 71
reference grammars 11, 15, 21, 218, 302 rheme 128
marked 104, 113, 178, 180, 266, 277, 294
N-rheme 128, 131, 132, 172, 176, 269

scope 48, 60, 103, 110, 113–14, 119, 297, 301
in clefts 155
object-related 188
predicational 48, 124
predicational vs. sentential 99, 120
propositional 52
sentential 48, 51, 68
speech-act-related 53, 139
subject-related 188
semantic blend 31–3
semantic criteria 20, 302
sentence balance 176
sentential adverbial 50, 51, 290 test of 51
sequence of adverbials 54, 121, 227, 238 continuous 54
discontinuous 54
setting 117, 174
shift 280, 294
similarity chain 81
spatial expression 16
specification 117, 129, 132 speech vs. writing 166, 252, 259, 272, 283 sports commentaries 8, 130, 244, 261, 274–5, 281 subject
non-agentive 282
subjunct 21, 23, 34–5, 297
subject-orientation 26
temporal 23, 35, 36
summative 159–60, 162
SVO language 195
Swedish 16, 163
syntactic criteria 20, 302
systemic-functional grammar (SFG) 12, 73, 128, 211

text segmenting 294
text-strategic chain 294, 297 text-strategic continuity 132–3 text strategy 62, 73, 78, 83, 94, 199, 267, 293
contingency 293
spatial 81, 279, 293
temporal 262, 278, 292, 293
text structuring 294, 298 text type 259
and adverbial position 265 and adverbial usage 285
and realisation type 289
definition 8
description 8–9, 10
distribution of adjuncts across 193, 207, 223, 232, 243, 247 selection 8
textual function 142
texture 295
thematic development 132, 268 thematic structure 60, 61, 132, 163 thematicity 78
thematisation 69, 72, 73, 163, 175
device 153, 156
restrictions on 75

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-51556-6 - Adjunct Adverbials in English
Hilde Hasselgard
Index
More information

theme 73, 110, 292
  constant 132
  marked 73
  predicated 155, 156
  special theme construction 156
  topical 295
then 35, 80, 173–4, 211–12
there 84
  existential 84, 199, 203
time interval 204
time span 204
tone unit 128
topic
  -launching 159, 160
  -linking 159, 161
  persistence 80, 131
topicalisation 60
topic-worthy 78, 175
transition (in text) 161 transition (FSP) 103, 106
transitivity 70, 71, 100, 121

usuality 16, 205, 209, 213, 299

valency 15
valency adverbial 46
variable expression 126 variation stylistic 267
verb
  dynamic 229
  motion 125
  of existence/appearance 195 posture 119, 125
  stative 222, 229
verb-second constraint 195

weight
  prosodic 104, 179
  syntactic 126, 179, 238, 296
weight principle 59–60, 71, 72, 93, 126–7, 145, 147, 215 wh-cleft 156
word order 47, 59
word order principle 150–1, 183 clause-internal 59, 72, 123, 295
  grammatical 124
  textual 59, 73, 123, 296

Types of adjunct in the classification used in this book comparison/alternative adjunct 30 contingency adjunct 27, 53, 89, 228, 260, 266 cause 27, 130, 230, 235 cause vs. reason 27

  concession 27, 236–7
  condition 27, 229–30, 235
  purpose 27, 130, 133, 229
  purpose vs. cause 28, 228–30 purpose vs. time 229
  result 27, 231
  result vs. purpose 28

degree adjunct 29, 100, 103, 229, 249, 278, 300–1 amplifier 29
  dimension 29, 249
  downtoner 29
  intensifier 29, 250–1, 301
  vs. frequency 33, 249

focus adjunct 30, 100, 250–1, 300–1 manner adjunct 26, 218–19, 260, 262 accompaniment 26, 219, 228 attire 26, 220

  instrument 26
  manner/quality 26, 218, 262
  means 26, 219, 262
  method 26, 219, 262
  method vs. purpose 227
  role/capacity 26, 220
  similarity 219–20
  vs. degree 33
  vs. space 32

participant adjunct 29, 115, 129–30, 240–2, 261, 263
  agent 29, 240, 242
  behalf 30, 241
  beneficiary 30, 242
  product 30
  source 30, 243

respect adjunct 24–5, 28, 79, 198, 244–5, 261 domain 28, 244
  matter 28, 244, 245
  regard 28, 245

situation adjunct 30, 198 space adjunct 24, 187–8, 260, 261 cluster of 202–3
  direction 24, 188–9, 193 distance 24, 189–90
  goal 188
  path 188
  position 24, 188

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org

CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge University Press
978-0-521-51556-6 - Adjunct Adverbials in English
Hilde Hasselgard
Index
More information

space adjunct (cont.)
source 188
vs. time 190, 205, 217

time adjunct 25, 187, 203–6, 260 duration 25, 204–5
frequency 25, 205, 209, 278
goal 205
position 25, 174, 204
relationship 25, 80, 173, 205–6, 209
source 205
span 205
vs. contingency 32, 210
vs. manner 32
vs. space 31, 197

viewpoint adjunct 30, 79, 248, 255–6

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org