

CONTENTS

	page
Lists of tables, graph and maps	ix
Acknowledgements	xi
Introduction	I
1 Horse breeding and rearing areas and the improvement of the native stock	21
Native ponies	24
Larger draught and saddle horses	31
Improvements in the breeding of English horses	38
The export of English horses	46
Summary	50
2 Horse fairs, markets and private dealing	52
Speed of sale and the exchange of stock	52
The source material: toll books	55
Markets and fairs	60
Private dealing	70
Summary	76
3 Horse dealers	77
Background	77
Conduct of business	80
Status and social class	87
Attitudes towards horse dealers	99
Summary	103
4 Horse stealing	105
The source material	106
Horse stealing: practice and prevention	108
Scale of operations	119
The social background of horse stealers	125
Conditions on the northern border	135
Summary	139

Conclusion	140
Appendixes	147
1 Stable expenses of Lord Paget of Beaudesert	147
2 The accounts of Sir Richard Newdigate	149
3 Extracts from the probate wills of the Rock family of the Stourbridge area	154
4 A leading horse dealer: Humphrey Hanbury of Bedworth, Warwicks.	155
5 Warwick Castle estate: accounts for the year ending Michaelmas 1656	158
6 Thomas Witty of Surfleet, Lincs., horsecourser	159
7 Thomas Dekker, Lanthorne and Candle-light or the Bellmans Second Nights Walke (1608)	160
8 Abuses in horse dealing: the case of Edward Hall	162
9 Activities of the Harrison Gang in the 1670s	163
Glossary	170
Bibliography	172
Index	191