

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-52787-3 - Collective Preferences in Democratic Politics: Opinion Surveys and the Will of the People

Scott L. Althaus

Index

More information

Index

- ability. See cognitive ability
- Adams, John, 246
- aggregation. See also collective rationality hypothesis; convergence behavior; depletion
- depletion and convergence effects, 78–92, 147–58
- information pooling and, 12–13, 29–58, 119–22, 143
- social choice theory and, 6, 35, 265
- Alvarez, R. Michael, 204–6
- ambivalence. See response instability
- approval questions
- depletion and convergence in, 75–8, 80–3
- information effects in, 122–8, 133, 145, 218–23, 228–35
- Aristotle, 2, 32
- Arrow, Kenneth, 265
- Bachrach, Peter, 276
- Barber, Benjamin, 290
- Bartels, Larry, 102, 126, 323, 326
- Bentham, Jeremy, 6, 273, 290
- Berelson, Bernard, 302, 303
- Berinsky, Adam, 153
- Bishop, George, 99, 157, 274
- Black, Duncan, 34
- black-and-white model. See Converse, Philip
- Blumer, Herbert, 290, 292–6, 298–9, 309, 310
- Bogart, Leo, 97n1, 286, 291
- Bourdieu, Pierre, 8, 264, 288, 290, 292
- Brady, Henry, 250n4
- Brehm, John, 204–6
- Bryce, James, 290, 291, 301, 305
- Burke, Edmund, 97, 254, 258n11, 308, 310
- Bush, George H. W., 226, 255, 257
- Carter, Jimmy, 259
- Christiano, Thomas, 305
- classical test score theory. See measurement-error models
- Clinton, William, 4, 185, 210, 258
- cognitive ability
- depletion and, 77–8, 156–8
- information effects and, 201–2, 220, 234, 236, 238–9
- information processing and, 79–80
- knowledge and, 90–2, 215–17, 248–51
- survey design and, 272
- collective decisions, 31, 35, 142, 277, 304
- collective preferences and, 4–6, 256, 295, 300–1

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-52787-3 - Collective Preferences in Democratic Politics: Opinion Surveys and the Will of the People

Scott L. Althaus

Index

More information

364

Index

- collective preferences. See also aggregation; collective rationality hypothesis;
 dispersion effects; information
 effects; opinion surveys; public opinion; representation; social choice theory alternative types of, 20, 304–11
 collective decisions and, 4–5, 256, 295, 300–1
 major findings, 40–53, 117–38, 278–82
 quality criteria for, 9, 18, 21, 268–71, 281–9
 representation in, 9, 18, 21–5, 60, 64–92, 117–38, 243–76,
 281–311
- collective rationality hypothesis
 depletion-convergence model and,
 88–92
 distributional assumptions in,
 35–45, 66–88
 evidence for, 7, 14, 55–7, 143 historical development of,
 30–5
 representation and, 64–6
 tested with Monte Carlo
 simulation, 40–53
 tested with survey data, 80–3, 119–22
- Condorcet Jury Theorem, 7, 8, 12, 14, 55, 143
 history of, 32–5
- congressional approval questions. See
 approval questions
- Connolly, William, 98, 237
- convergence behavior, 78–92, 148–51, 160–7. See also
 depletion-convergence model;
 dispersion effects; information
 processing
- Converse, Philip, 11, 57, 284
 collective rationality and, 7, 22, 23, 30, 35–45, 54, 64–6
 Herbert Blumer and, 293–6
- Crossley, Archibald, 5
- Dahl, Robert, 98, 305–6
- delegate model of representation. See
 representation
- deliberation, 188–93, 197–201, 235–6, 249, 262–3
- deliberative polls, 99–101, 133n19, 139, 263, 266n13. See also Fishkin, James
- Delli Carpini, Michael, 18, 19, 57n23, 102, 105, 284, 314, 323, 324
- democratic theory. See also equality;
 interests; representation
 interests and equality in, 9
 opinion surveys and, 5–7, 243–76, 281–311
 roles of citizens in, 2, 250–1, 300–11
- depletion
 cognitive ability and, 77–8, 155–8
 information effects and, 151–8, 229–30, 234, 239–40
 knowledge and, 19–20, 66–78, 71n13, 247–51
 representation and, 73n17,
 247–51, 270, 271–5, 284–6, 288 varies by demographic group, 71–3 varies by question category, 74–8
- depletion-convergence model, 88–92, 147–58
- Dewey, John, 101, 308–9, 310
- diffusion. See social diffusion and concentration processes
- dispersion effects. See also
 convergence behavior
 defined, 85
 depletion-convergence model and,
 88–92
 equality and, 251–2, 268
 inevitability of, 89
 information effects and, 148–51, 158–9
 knowledge and, 78–92
 measurement of, 321–3, 328–9
- don't know (DK) responses. See
 depletion
- Downs, Anthony, 63, 248, 249

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-52787-3 - Collective Preferences in Democratic Politics: Opinion Surveys and the Will of the People

Scott L. Althaus

Index

More informationIndex

365

- dual-process models. See information processing
- easy versus hard questions, 77–8, 83, 123–5, 305–6. See also cognitive ability
- elaboration-likelihood model, 90
- elections. See collective decisions
- ends versus means questions, 124, 305–6
- enlightened preferences, 97–8, 102, 269, 272. See also interests, political
- defined in relation to populations, 261
- fully informed opinion and, 105, 138–42, 237–8
- Jürgen Habermas and, 309–10
- environmental factors, 182–93, 196–240
- equality index, 68–77, 152–5
- correlations with overall DK/NO rates, 74n18
- factors underlying variance in, 74n19
- sensitive to number of grouping categories, 73n16
- unrelated to dispersion effects, 83
- equality, political. See also depletion; representation
- among individuals is no guarantee among groups, 88, 251–2
- democratic theory and, 9
- depletion and, 66–78, 247–51, 271–5
- dispersion effects and, 60, 78–88, 268
- Erikson, Robert, 41, 56n20, 65n5
- errors, in individual opinions. See measurement-error models
- Feld, Scott, 34
- Feldman, Stanley, 65
- filter questions, 152, 153, 157, 288, 321
- in ANES surveys, 154n6
- using to estimate fully informed opinion, 99–102, 271–5, 284–6
- Fishkin, James, 99, 101, 139, 246n2, 256. See also deliberative polls
- Fraser, Nancy, 290
- fully informed opinion
- defined as normative standard, 261
- defined in relation to simulation method, 104–5
- enlightened preferences and, 138–42, 237–8, 271
- estimating, 99–108, 158–9, 268, 323–8, 329–30
- interests and, 104, 268–71, 276
- predicting trends from, 228–35
- Gallup, George, 5, 256, 283, 301, 305, 306
- Gilens, Martin, 172–4
- Gingrich, Newt, 210
- Ginsberg, Benjamin, 8, 32, 264, 296n8
- Glasser, Theodore, 8
- Gorbachev, Michail, 211
- Gore, Albert, 258
- Gosnell, Harold, 5
- governance issues, 75. See also policy questions
- Granger causality test, 228–30, 236, 238, 239, 330
- Greenberg, Stanley, 258
- Grofman, Bernard, 34
- group activity. See public opinion
- Habermas, Jürgen, 262–3, 270n14, 290, 309–11
- Hamilton, Alexander, 31–2, 313
- Hansen, John Mark, 68, 70
- Hegel, Georg W. F., 290
- Held, David, 273
- Helms, Jesse, 247
- heuristic shortcuts, 13–14, 79–80, 90, 91, 143, 167–72, 189–93
- heuristic-systematic model, 79–80, 90. See also information processing
- Hume, David, 290

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-52787-3 - Collective Preferences in Democratic Politics: Opinion Surveys and the Will of the People

Scott L. Althaus

Index

More information

366

Index

- index of equality. See equality index
- influence, the power of group unanimity, 85, 88–9
- informal representatives, 261, 262
- information asymmetries. See knowledge
- information costs, 14–15, 63, 247–51
- information effects. See also collective rationality hypothesis; convergence behavior; depletion; representation aggregation and, 88–92 ambivalence and, 204–6, 222, 224, 230, 236–7 average size in off years, 220 average size in on years, 122 averaged within individuals, 134–8, 179–81 caused by changes in motivation, 202–4, 220–6, 234, 236, 238–9 caused by differences in attitude structures, 167–72, 189–93 caused by information processing, 78–92, 167–72, 201–6, 217–39 caused by levels of cognitive ability, 201–2, 220, 234, 236, 238–9 caused by news coverage, 182–93 caused by question wording and order effects, 160–72 caused by relative salience of political issues, 178–82 caused by social distribution of policy-specific knowledge, 172–8 defined, 20 demographic distribution of, 134–8 election year differences, 220–6 estimating, 99–108, 158–9, 268, 323–8, 329–30 evolution over time, 184–93, 217–39 general patterns, 117–38 heuristic shortcuts and, 167–72, 189–93 identifying without using simulations, 240, 283–6 ideological biases caused by, 128–33 impact on ordering of collective preferences, 126–8 in approval questions, 122–8, 133, 145, 218–23, 228–35 in attitudes about abortion rights, 108–10, 223–5 in attitudes about economic policy, 111–13 in attitudes about gay rights, 184–93 in attitudes about gender equality, 226–7 in attitudes about prayer in public schools, 225–6 in attitudes about reducing the federal budget deficit, 114–16 in easy versus hard questions, 123–5, 305–6 in policy questions, 108–17, 122–8, 133, 145, 218–26, 228–35 in preferences for more or less government, 116 in value questions, 122–8, 132–3, 145, 218–23, 226–35 major findings, 278–82 measuring size of, 106–8, 324–6 predicting trends from, 228–35 psychological influences, 78–92, 201–6 response instability and, 204–6, 222, 224, 230, 236–7 social influences, 182–93, 197–201 structural components of, 147–58 survey administration and, 164, 167 topical distribution of, 122–8 uncertainty and, 204–6, 222, 224, 230, 236–7 information pooling, 42. See also aggregation; collective rationality hypothesis through marginal percentages, 47–9, 117–38

- through measures of central tendency, 41n8, 49–51
- through modal preferences, 51–3, 148, 150–1
- information processing, 37, 90–2, 306. See also cognitive ability; convergence behavior; motivation
  - as cause of changes in knowledge over time, 215–17
  - as cause of information effects, 78–92, 160–72, 201–6, 217–39
- interest in politics, 179–81, 207–17. See also motivation
- interests, political, 17, 97–8. See also enlightened preferences; representation
  - fully informed opinion and, 138–42, 237–8, 268–71
  - representation and, 9, 20, 65n6, 244–5, 253–71, 295–6, 298–9
  - social construction of, 101, 102, 272
- intermittent attention hypothesis, 204, 236
- interviewer rating, as measure of political knowledge, 212–17, 314–18
- issue publics, 19, 284
- issue salience, 178–82
- item nonresponse. See depletion
- Jacobs, Lawrence, 3, 256, 271
- Johnson, Lyndon, 62n4, 256
- Keeter, Scott, 18, 19, 57n23, 102, 105, 284, 314, 323, 324
- Key, V. O., 256–7, 277, 307
- knowledge gap hypothesis, 187, 199–201, 202, 236
- knowledge, political
  - aggregation effects and, 89–92
  - cognitive ability and, 90–2, 215–17, 248–51
  - convergence behavior and, 78–92, 148–51, 160–7
  - defined, 12n5, 19
  - demographic characteristics and, 14–17, 62–3, 87
  - depletion and, 19–20, 66–78, 71n13, 151–8, 247–51
  - higher levels in pre- than post-election surveys, 215–17
  - higher levels in presidential election years, 213–17
  - ideal of the informed citizen, 302–4
  - information costs and, 14–15, 63, 247–51
  - information processing and, 78–92, 100–1, 148–51, 160–72
  - interests and, 20, 97–8
  - issue salience and, 178–82
  - low levels of, 3, 10–12
  - measurement of, 212–17, 283–6, 314–18
  - measuring over time, 208, 316–18
  - methodological problems in
    - determining levels of, 45–6, 105n6, 140–1, 146, 174, 211, 217n22
  - motivation and, 215–17
  - news coverage and, 182–93
  - opinion quality and, 12–14, 19, 60–4
  - over time changes in levels of, 197–201, 207–17
  - policy-specific information, 19, 172–8, 284, 286
  - politically functional information, 197–201
  - reasons for variation in, 15, 62–3
  - representation and, 17–22
  - social context as filter of and influence on, 101, 184
  - social diffusion of, 188–93, 197–201, 235–6
  - specialized versus general, 19, 284, 286
  - uneven social distribution of, 3, 14–17, 62–3
- Krosnick, Jon, 162–7
- Ladha, Krishna, 34
- Lazarsfeld, Paul, 192, 302, 303

- Lewis, Bud, 258
- Lippmann, Walter, 6, 32, 54, 248–50, 303–4
- Locke, John, 273, 290
- Lord, Frederic, 38n5, 41–2
- Luskin, Robert, 3
- MacKuen, Michael, 41, 56n20, 65n5
- Madison, James, 273, 290
- Mansbridge, Jane, 97–8, 262, 267, 303n12
- Marx, Karl, 97
- McPhee, William, 302, 303
- measurement-error models
- assume errors are random, 37–9
  - assume errors cancel out, 39–40
  - assume hypothetical continua of response options, 42–4
  - axiomatic, 41–2
  - collective rationality hypothesis and, 36–7, 55, 64–6, 143
  - knowledge levels and error variance, 65, 78–88, 148–51
- Merton, Robert, 192
- Mill, John Stuart, 6, 262, 273, 274n16, 303n12
- Miller, Nicholas, 34–5
- Montesquieu, Charles-Louis, 273
- motivation
- information effects and, 202–4, 220–6, 234, 236, 238–9
  - knowledge levels and, 215–17
- mushiness index, 285
- Neijens, Peter, 300–1, 305
- Neuman, W. Russell, 57n23, 299
- news coverage, 5, 182–93, 207, 249, 310–11
- Nicaraguan Contras, 168
- Nixon, Richard, 255, 259
- no opinion (NO) responses. See depletion
- nonresponse, item. See depletion
- nonresponse, sample, 18, 246–51
- Novick, Melvin, 38n5, 41–2
- Oldendick, Robert, 99, 157, 274
- on-line processing, 119, 143, 198, 278
- and political knowledge, 13, 14
- opinion surveys. See also collective preferences; public opinion
- as information about the people, 7–9, 245, 266–70, 276, 283
  - as voice of the people, 4–10, 245, 260–6, 268–70, 276, 283
  - collective decisions and, 4–5, 300–1
  - defined, 4n1
  - deliberation and, 262–3
  - descriptive uses, 254–6, 302
  - equality and, 4, 66–78, 246, 247–51, 271–5
  - in system of public opinion indicators, 295–311
  - popular sovereignty and, 5–6, 289–313
  - prescriptive uses, 256–60, 302
  - problems with, 3
  - produce both information and voice, 267–8
  - recognizing quality in, 268–71, 281–9
  - representation and, 1–4, 17–22, 243–76, 281–313
  - social choice theory and, 265
  - subsidize costs of expressing opinions, 253–4
  - topical agenda of, 18n11, 263–4
- Owen, Guillermo, 34
- Page, Benjamin, 2, 7, 8, 23, 30–45, 47n14, 55, 56, 64–6, 88, 263n12, 267, 323
- Pateman, Carole, 290, 303
- Perot, Ross, 258
- Persian Gulf Crisis, 1990–1, 75, 255, 263n12
- Pitkin, Hanna, 244, 245, 247
- Plato, 2, 32, 199, 243, 248
- policy approval questions. See approval questions

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-52787-3 - Collective Preferences in Democratic Politics: Opinion Surveys and the Will of the People

Scott L. Althaus

Index

More informationIndex

369

- policy questions, 306–8
 depletion and convergence in,
 75–8, 80–3
 information effects in, 108–17,
 122–32, 133, 145, 218–26, 228–35
 political equality. See equality, political political interests. See interests, political
 political knowledge. See knowledge,
 political
 Pollock, Friedrich, 289
 polls. See opinion surveys popular sovereignty, 5–6, 291–2, 311–13
 opinion surveys and, 289–311
 presidential approval questions. See
 approval questions
 Presser, Stanley, 157, 163n13
 Price, Vincent, 297, 300–1, 305 public opinion. See also collective preferences; opinion surveys alternative indicators of, 4, 5, 289–311
 as system of social indicators, 295–311
 popular sovereignty and, 5–6, 289–313
 pull, the power of group size, 85, 88–9 question categories. See also approval questions; policy questions;
 value questions
 defined, 75
 spending questions treated as policy preferences, 75n20
 Rawls, John, 307–8
 Reagan, Ronald, 114, 210, 257, 258, 259, 264
 representation ratio, 68–77. See also
 equality index
 representation, political. See also democratic theory; equality;
 interests
 conflicting imperatives of descriptive and interest
 representation, 273, 295–6, 298–9
 criteria for evaluating in collective preferences, 268–71
 delegate model, 245, 254, 260–6, 276 descriptive representation, 244, 245–53, 295–6, 298–9
 interest representation, 9, 244–5, 253–71, 295–6, 298–9
 knowledge and, 17–22
 major findings, 278–82
 multiple meanings of
 representation, 246–7
 opinion surveys and, 1–4, 17–22, 243–76, 281–311
 prospective representation, 267
 trustee model, 245, 254, 258, 266–7, 276
 response instability, 20, 222, 230, 280, 285
 ambivalence and uncertainty as sources of, 204–6, 224, 236–7
 Riker, William, 265
 Rogers, Lindsay, 290, 292
 Roper, Elmo, 5
 Rosenstone, Steven, 17n8, 68,
 70
 Rousseau, Jean-Jacques, 32–3, 34n4,
 97, 290
 Salmon, Charles, 8
 sampling error, 18, 246–51
 Sartori, Giovanni, 302
 satisficing, 162–7, 239
 Schattschneider, E. E., 299
 Schlozman, Kay, 250n4
 Schudson, Michael, 304
 Schuman, Howard, 157, 163n13
 Schumpeter, Joseph, 201–2, 248–50,
 289, 303–4
 Shapiro, Ian, 309
 Shapiro, Robert, 2, 3, 7, 8, 23, 30–45,
 47n14, 55, 56, 64–6, 88, 256,
 263n12, 267, 323

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-52787-3 - Collective Preferences in Democratic Politics: Opinion Surveys and the Will of the People

Scott L. Althaus

Index

More information

370

Index

- simulation methods. See also collective rationality hypothesis; fully informed opinion compared to deliberative polling results, 133n19 limitations of, 138–42
 methodological details for Chapter 2, 46–7, 319–21 methodological details for Chapters 4–6, 102–8, 323–8, 329–30
- Singer, Eleanor, 293
- social choice theory, 6, 7, 35, 265
- social diffusion and concentration processes, 188–93, 196–240.
See also knowledge gap hypothesis
- sophistication. See knowledge
- Stimson, James, 41, 56n20, 65n5, 257. See also easy versus hard questions
- surveys. See opinion surveys
- Tarde, Gabriel, 290
- Thomas, Clarence, 262
- Tocqueville, Alexis, 291
- true score, as component of individual attitudes. See measurement-error models
- trustee model of representation. See representation
- Tuchfarber, Alfred, 99, 157, 274
- uncertainty. See response instability
- utilitarianism, 6, 97, 289
- value questions, 306–8
 depletion and convergence in, 75–8, 80–3
 information effects in, 122–8, 132–3, 145, 218–23, 226–35
- Vanderbilt television news abstracts, 184n35
- Verba, Sidney, 2, 245–6, 250n4, 251
- Vietnam War, 62n4, 203n4, 257
- Wolfinger, Raymond, 17n8
- Yankelovich, Daniel, 270, 285, 309n14
- Yeltsin, Boris, 210