

Contents

How to use this book	6	The magnificent three	58
		In the shadow of the Altai Scarp	60
EARTH'S MOON	9	Evening 6	62
What is there to see on the Moon?	10	The pair Aristoteles and Eudoxus	64
The movements of the Moon	14	From Ariadaeus Rille to Godin Plateau	66
		In the maze of southern craters	68
OBSERVATION EQUIPMENT AND SITES	18	Evening 7	70
The observer's equipment	20	The valley of marvels	72
Where, when and how to observe the Moon?	24	On the trail of Apollo 15	74
Photographing the Moon: equipment	28	Rilles galore	76
Tips for successful lunar photography	30	A pair of walled plains	78
Electronic images: camcorders, webcams and CCDs	32	An unforgettable trio	80
		A lunar battlefield	82
GUIDE TO THE MOON	34	Evening 8	84
Evenings 1 and 2	36	The black lake	86
		A forest of craterlets	88
Evening 3	38	The sword in the Moon	90
Mare Crisium and its surroundings	40	The dinosaur crater	92
Langrenus and Vendelinus	42	Evening 9	94
Petavius and the Palitzsch Valley	44	The magnificent Copernicus	96
Evening 4	46	A region of stark contrasts	98
On the eastern shore of Mare Frigoris	48	An intensely cratered area	100
Cauchy and its region	50	Evening 10	102
The old crater and the valley	52	The Bay of Rainbows	104
Evening 5	54	The lunar volcano range	106
In the tracks of Lunakhod 2	56	The Marsh of Epidemics	108

Evening 11	110
Islands in the storms	112
The lunar lighthouse	114
Mare Humorum	116
Evening 12	118
A field of domes	120
A trio of giants	122
The longest lunar rille	124
Three definitely not of a kind	126
Evening 13	128
Mare Orientale and the Cordillera Mountains	130
Evening 14	132
From Full Moon to New Moon	134
Further reading	136
Glossary	137
Latin and English names	138
Index	139

