

Index

- actor network theory 179
- agarose gel
 PCR and 61–62
- alleles 27, 79, 80
 discrete 39
 linkage disequilibrium 141
 polymorphism in chimpanzees 66–67, 68
- ancestors, common bi-parental 127–128
 female 96, 104, 106–107, 127–128
 male 127–128
- Anderson (reference sequence) 16, 84, 89–96, 107, 152–153, 158–159
 Britishness 94–95, 97, 101
 control region 105, 106–107, 115
 differences and similarities and 90–92
 HeLa cells 97–98, 99, 100, 101–102, 110–113, 158–159
 naturalization 94–95, 106–107, 108
 placenta tissue samples 96–97, 98–100
 race and 97, 100, 101–102
 resequencing of 107, 109, 112, 159
 sequencing 95–96
 sex of tissues and 98–100
 use in laboratory 92–94
- Annas, George 2
- annealing temperature 81
- Apodaca, Ray 3
- archeology of the human genome 126–127
- automated laser fluorescent (ALF) sequencer 66, 78, 80, 113, 145
- Bankier, Allan 100, 101
- base-pairs 51
- Bertranpetit, Jaume 57
- blood type genetics 116
- Bodmer, Walter 57
- Bonne-Tamir, Batsheva 131
- Börner, Valentin 103
- Cambridge Reference Sequence see Anderson (reference sequence)
- Cann, Howard 168
- Cann, Rebecca 95
- Cavalli-Sforza, Luca 2, 6, 7, 8–9, 57
- CD metaphor 5
- cell lines, databank of 168–169
- chelex extraction 61
- chimpanzees
 genetic markers 63–64, 74
 other markers 69–71
 problems in laboratory 69–71, 72–73
 Y-chromosomal markers 66–67, 68–69
 genetic passports 63, 64, 68
 polymorphism in 66–67, 68
- chromosomes
 sex and 120
 see also Y-chromosome
- commercialization of science 3
- common ancestors see ancestors, common
- communication, Anderson (reference sequence) as means of 91
- comparison 150
- compatibility 150–151
- conserved genes 4
- contamination of samples 25, 26
- controversies 14, 19
- convenience sampling 52
- coordination 150
 comparison and 150
 compatibility and 150–151
- Crick, Francis 87

- criminal investigation, genetic evidence in 22
culture, sex and 120
- de Kniff, Peter 108–109, 124, 125
- deoxyribonucleic acid (DNA) 59, 87
CD metaphor 5
collection from isolated populations 2, 4, 11
copying 11
egalitarianism of 161–162
as evidence in court cases see forensic DNA evidence exchange of samples 125–126, 135
genetic mapping 17, 78, 167–168
genetic markers see genetic markers mitochondrial see mitochondrial DNA physical mapping 17
secondary structures 82
sequencing see sequencing of DNA
as technology 139–140
traffic in males 123–125
- disease, genetic markers 9–10
- diversity
genetic see genetic diversity
politics of 166–167
research on 169–170
- diversity consortia 3
- Diversity Project see Human Genome Diversity Project
- Drouin, Jacques 99
- DRPLA* genetic marker 70
- drugs, development of 3
- egalitarianism, DNA and 161–162
- electrophoresis, PCR and 61
- environmental organizations, criticisms of Human Genome Diversity Project 2
- ethnographic research in laboratories 114, 176
- European Union, Human Genome Diversity Project and 3
- Family names and population 34
- feminism 141, 184
on relevance and irrelevance of sex 121–123
- fingerprinting 32, 42–43, 52
DNA fingerprint 29, 31–33, 42–44, 54
genetic markers and 38–40
- Finland, study of “bottlenecks” in 131, 137–138, 139
- forensic DNA evidence 21
court case on differences between Turkish and Dutch males 22, 24, 27–30
- control population 33–35, 37, 44, 45
genetic markers and 37–40
objections to evidence 22, 29–30, 35–38, 41
probability analysis 28–30, 31–33, 35–36, 37, 42–45
revised DNA evidence 37–38, 44–45
use of forensic laboratory 27–29, 46
- DNA fingerprint 29, 31–33, 42–44, 54
genetic markers and 38–40
laboratories 22–27, 47, 174
contamination of samples 25, 26
study of 23–24, 46
use in Turkish case 27–29, 46
Netherlands law and 22–23, 31
- FRAXA* genetic marker 70
- Galton, Francis 43
- Geertz, Clifford 175–176
- gender
in science and technology studies (STS) 165
sex and 142
talking back to gender studies 161–162
- genealogy 160
genetic lineage compared with 128
- genetic diseases, isolated populations and 9–10
- genetic diversity 4, 149
evolution of 2
mapping of 2, 4, 7–11
politics of 4
reasons for studying isolated populations 9
studies of 6
- genetic lineage
archeology of the human genome 126–127
genealogy compared with 128
sex and 16, 125–126
technology of 127–130, 137–138
- genetic mapping 17, 78, 167–168
- genetic markers 16, 27, 56–77, 156–157
chimpanzees 63–64, 74
other markers 69–71
problems in laboratory 69–71, 72–73
Y-chromosomal markers 66–67, 68–69
- comparison of results 74
copying using PCR 60–61
court case involving Turkish and Dutch males 37–40
criteria for 74
laboratory safety issues 75 laboratory study 60
meaning of 56, 58, 59, 62–63, 76, 151–152

- genetic markers (cont.)
 mediated practices 72–73, 76
 mitochondrial DNA 70
 as object of study 59–60
 priorities 75
 problems in laboratory 69–71, 72–73
 round-table discussion on 57–58, 73–76
 selective neutrality 74–75
 standardization 73–76, 82
 good markers 56–57, 58, 65, 68–69, 73–76
 as technology 62–63, 68
 universal 56
 visualization 62–63, 66, 68, 151
 Y-chromosomal 64–66, 68, 75, 76, 81, 88
 chimpanzees 66–67, 68–69
- genetic passports, chimpanzees 63, 64, 68
- genetics
 forensic see forensic DNA evidence
 talking back to 154–155
- Gilbert, Walter 5
- haplotypes 80
- Haraway, Donna 12, 99, 166, 178
- Hayden, Corine 4
- HeLa cells, mitochondrial DNA (Anderson sequence) 97–98, 99, 100, 101–102, 110–113, 158–159
- Hirshauer, Stephan 121
- Human Genome Diversity Project
 context of 5, 6
 criticisms of 2–3, 12–14, 157–160, 173 culture and history in 6–7 databank of cell lines 168–169 development of 168–170
 elimination of category of “race” and 159
 Ethical Protocol 14
 funding 3, 7
 goals 6, 149
 mapping capacity 167–168
 origins 2, 6–7
 regional committees 7
 study of 14–16
 reasons for 172–174
 technologies and 4, 11
 value of 6
- Human Genome Organization (HUGO) 3
- Human Genome Project 5–6, 84, 157
 origins of Diversity Project and 7
Human Genome Variation in Europe
 (Barcelona Conference) 57, 65
- indigenous peoples 2
 collection of DNA from 2
 criticisms of Human Genome Diversity
 Project 2–3, 12–14
- inheritance
 mitochondrial DNA 87, 98, 102–105, 106, 127, 129–130, 139
 Y-chromosome 127, 130, 139
- isolated populations 2
 collection of DNA from 2, 4, 11
 criticisms of Human Genome Diversity
 Project 2–3, 12–14
 “death by reproduction” 4 formation of 13
 reasons for studying 9–10
- Jones, Howard 100
- Kaneda, Hideki 103
- Käser, Michael 89
- Keller, Evelyn Fox 122
- Kevles, Daniel 6, 173
- Kindmark, Andreas 124
- Krings, Matthias 85, 86, 94
- Kuhn, Thomas 171
- !Kung San people, mitochondrial DNA
 sequences 89
- Laan, Maris 121, 123, 124, 125
- laboratories 148–149, 174
 ethnographic research in 114
 exchange of samples 125–126, 135
 fieldwork in 174–177
 Netherlands forensic laboratory 22–27, 47, 174
 contamination of samples 25, 26
 study of 23–24, 46
 use in Turkish case 27–29, 46
 organization of work in 133 relevance and irrelevance of sex in laboratory practice 131–132
 samples losing “sex” in 121, 122
 sequencing DNA 85
 Population Group 88, 89
 use of Anderson (reference sequence) 92–94
 studies of 176, 177
 reasons for 172–174
 study of genetic markers 56–77
 problems 69–71, 72–73
 safety issues 75

- Laboratory for Evolution and Human Genetics (Lab P)
- Lacks, Henrietta 100, 101
see HeLa cells
- Lane, Helen 98, 100
see HeLa cells
- languages, linguistic criteria for identification of populations 8–9, 155
- Latour, Bruno 32, 43, 109, 171–172, 177
- legal uses of genetics see forensic DNA evidence
- Lewontin, Richard 32
- lineage
 technology of 127–130, 137–138
 texts and 177–179
 see also genetic lineage
- Lock, Margaret 159, 168
- mapping, genetic 17, 78, 167–168
- matching likelihood number 28–30, 31–33, 37, 42–44
- matter 142
- methodologies 170
- migration theory of human origin 6, 7, 9, 17
- mitochondrial DNA 80, 87–88, 129, 137
 archeology of the human genome and 126–127
 control region 92–93, 104–105, 115
 genetic markers 70
 inheritance 87, 98, 102–105, 106, 127, 129–130, 139
 location 87, 129, 137
 as molecular clock 93, 104, 139
 mutations 93–94, 104, 138, 139
 sequencing of 84, 85, 87
 Anderson sequence see Anderson (reference sequence)
 naturalization 94–95
 placenta tissue samples 96–97, 98–100
 size 87, 137
 study of “bottlenecks” and 131
- Mol, Annemarie 121, 122, 178
- molecular clock 160
 mitochondrial DNA as 93, 104, 139
 Y-chromosome as 139
- mtDNA see mitochondrial DNA
- Mullis, Kary 60
- multiple origin theory 18
- mutations, mitochondrial DNA 93–94, 104
- nations, population and 40–41, 54, 150
- naturalization
 politics of nature and technology 148–154
 reference sequences 84–113
 Anderson sequence 94–95, 106–107, 108
 technology 84
- Neanderthal people, sequencing DNA of 85, 86, 87
 as possible reference sequence 89, 91
- Netherlands
 court case involving Turkish and Dutch males 22, 24, 27–30
 control population 33–35, 37, 44, 45
 genetic markers and 37–40
 objections to evidence 22, 29–30, 35–38, 41
 probability analysis 28–30, 31–33, 35–36, 37, 42–45
 revised DNA evidence 37–38, 44–45
 use of forensic laboratory 27–29
 forensic DNA evidence law 22–23, 31 forensic laboratories 22–27, 47, 174
 contamination of samples 25, 26
 study of 23–24, 46
 use in Turkish case 27–29, 46
 migration to 52
- networks, technology as 151
- objects, research and 20
- Pääbo, Svante 57, 88, 89–90, 91, 92, 94, 103, 105, 126
- participant observation 176, see also ethnography
- patents, human genes and 3
- paternity testing 39
- PCR see polymerase chain reaction
- performance 20, 143
- placenta tissue samples, Anderson sequence and 96–97, 98–100
- politics
 of diversity 166–167
 genetic diversity and 4
 politics of nature and technology 148–154
 talking forward to 167–168
- polymerase chain reaction (PCR) 18, 26, 50, 60–61, 70–71, 95, 145, 156–157
- polymorphism
 in chimpanzees 66–67, 68
 single nucleotide polymorphisms (SNP) databank 169

- populations 128, 164–165 differences and population 41–42 similarities and population 40–41, 45–46 court case involving Turkish and Dutch males 22, 24, 27–30
 control population 33–35, 37, 44, 45
 genetic markers and 37–40
 objections to evidence 22, 29–30, 35–38, 41
 probability analysis 28–30, 31–33, 35–36, 37, 42–45
 revised DNA evidence 37–38, 44–45
 use of forensic laboratory 27–29, 46
 linguistic criteria for identification of 8–9, 155 meanings of “population” 7, 16, 21, 149–151, 155–156
 migration from Africa 6, 7, 9, 17
 multiple origin theory 18
 natural 149–151
 origin of 2
 practice of 160
 sampling issues 8, 10–11, 33–35, 52
 sex and genetic lineage 16, 125–126
 standardization 155–157
 technologies of 21–49
 Y-chromosome studies 132–135
see also mitochondrial DNA primers 61, 70, 145
 probability analysis in forensic DNA evidence 28–30, 31–33, 35–36, 37, 42–45
- Rabinow, Paul 32, 43
- race 53–54
 Anderson sequence and 97, 100, 101–102
 elimination of category of “race” 159, 164–165
 population and 40
 problems with 165–166
 racism 19, 157–160, 164–165 science and 13–14
 talking back to anti-racist studies 161–162
- RAFI see Rural Advancement Foundation International
- random mating assumption 39
- reference sequences
 mitochondrial DNA (Anderson sequence)
 16, 84, 89–96, 107, 152–153, 158–159
 Britishness 94–95, 97, 101
 control region 105, 106–107, 115
 differences and similarities and 90–92
- HeLa cells 97–98, 99, 100, 101–102, 110–113, 158–159
 naturalization 94–95, 106–107, 108
 placenta tissue samples 96–97, 98–100
 race and 97, 100, 101–102
 resequencing of 107, 109, 112, 159
 sequencing 95–96
 sex of tissues and 98–100
 naturalization 84–113
 Anderson sequence 94–95, 106–107, 108
 Neanderthal DNA as possible reference
 sequence 89, 91
- Rural Advancement Foundation International (RAFI) 3, 12, 13
- Sajantila, Antti 126
- Salem, Abdel-Halim 131, 132, 133–134
- samples
 contamination of 25, 26
 exchange of 125–126, 135
 losing “sex” 121, 122
 organization of 133
 placenta tissue samples 96–97, 98–100
 sex bias in 135–136
 traffic in males 123–125
- sampling issues 8, 10–11, 33–35, 52
- SCA1 genetic marker 70
- science and technology studies (STS) 179
 feminism and 184
 gender in 165
 talking back to 148–154
- semiotics 183
- sequencing of DNA ambiguities in 91–92
 mitochondrial DNA 84, 85, 87
 Anderson sequence see Anderson (reference sequence)
 placenta tissue samples 96–97, 98–100
 Neanderthal people 85, 86, 87
 as possible reference sequence 89, 91
see also Human Genome Diversity Project;
 Human Genome Project
- sex 120–141
 bias in samples 135–136
 chromosomes and 120
 discursive and heterogeneous nature of 162–164
 gender and 142
 genealogy and technology of the sexes 127–130
 genetic lineage and 16, 125–126

- mitochondrial DNA (Anderson sequence)
and 98–100
- relevance and irrelevance of 121–123, 131–132, 135, 153–154
- samples losing sex 121, 122
- technologies of 127–130, 132–135
- traffic in males 123–125
- Y-chromosomal genetic markers 64–66, 68, 75, 76, 81
- chimpanzees 66–67, 68–69
- Sinai region, study of “bottlenecks” in 131, 137–138, 140
- single nucleotide polymorphisms databank 169
- standardization 16, 154–161
- genetic markers 73–76, 82
- good markers 56–57, 58, 65, 68–69, 73–76
- population 155–157
- Star, Susan Leigh 158, 175
- Stoneking, Mark 95–96, 98
- Strathern, Marilyn 167
- STS see science and technology studies
- Sykes, Brian 57
- symbolic interactionism 183
- technology 114
- appearance of autonomy 152–153
- DNA as 139–140
- genetic markers as 62–63, 68
- Human Genome Diversity Project and 4, 11
- legal system use of see forensic DNA evidence
- of lineage 127–130, 137–138
- mediation of 152–154
- naturalization of 84
- politics of nature and technology 148–154
- of population 21–49
- of sex 127–130, 132–135
- texts, lineages and 177–179
- theory 176–177
- Third World Network 12
- traffic in males 123–125
- Turnbull, Doug 109
- United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) 173
- Bioethics Committee 3
- USA
- Committee on DNA Forensic Science 25
- Department of Energy 3
- forensic DNA evidence in 31
- Human Genome Diversity Project and 3
- National Congress of American Indians 3
- National Institute of Environmental Health 169
- National Institute of Health 169
- National Research Council 3
- Science Foundation 3
- Verran, Helen 158
- von Haeseler, Arndt 126
- Watson, James 87
- Wilson, Allan 6, 7, 8, 95
- Woolgar, Steve 171, 172
- World Council of Indigenous Peoples 13
- Y-chromosome 79, 129
- as genetic marker 64–66, 68, 75, 76, 81, 88
- chimpanzees 66–67, 68–69
- inheritance of 127, 130, 139
- as molecular clock 139
- population studies 132–135
- study of “bottlenecks” and 131–132,
137–138
- Zalabata, Leonora 3
- Zitchler, Hans 102