

CONTENTS

- List of illustrations* xi
List of tables xiv
Preface and acknowledgements xv
List of abbreviations xix
- 1 Introduction 1
 Five contrasts 1
 The Greek Dark Ages: an historical object 5
 The project 8
- 2 Theoretical perspectives 13
 Art history and style 13
 Mortuary practices and social form 23
 On the use of literary sources 34
 State formation and the rise of the polis 39
 Nature, narrative and convention in Geometric art 45
- 3 Athens and Attica: the historical background 54
 The Attic background 54
 The settlement of Dark Age Athens 61
 The physical anthropological data from the Athenian cemeteries and the question of kinship groupings 64
 Previous study of burials, style and society in Athens 67
 Characteristics of the Athenian pottery sequence 70
 Other contextual considerations 73
- 4 Methods and chronology 75
 Methods 75
 Coding 77
 Variables 77
 Other points of method 79
 Patrons, patronage and commissions: a note on terminology 80
 Chronology: general considerations 80
 The chronological scheme adopted 83

Contents

x

- 5 Athens: the analysis of the burials 87
General 87
The Submycenaean period 87
The Protogeometric period 97
The ninth century (Early Geometric to Middle Geometric I) 116
The early eighth century (Middle Geometric II to Late Geometric I) 137
The late eighth century (Late Geometric II) 162
- 6 The wider Dark Age world 181
Summary of the Athenian sequence 181
Other regions: Argos and Knossos 184
Greek society in the Dark Ages 191
- 7 Conclusions 195
Implications for the archaeological study of mortuary practices 195
Implications for the study of the history of early Greek art 195
Historical conclusions 197
- Appendix: grave index 199*
Bibliography 209
Index of sites and regions 221
General index 223