

Contents

Preface	page ix
List of abbreviations	xi
Note on the reference system	xiv
Bibliographical note for the paperback edition	xix
Introduction	I
PART I
1 A life	7
2 Teaching and writings on logic	36
3 Abelard's theological project	54
Excursus 1 The letters of Abelard and Heloise	82
Conclusion: Abelard's logic and his theology	94
PART II
Introduction	99
4 Logic, philosophy and exegesis	101
5 Substance, differentiae and accidents	117
6 Forms and language	138
7 Perception and knowledge	162

viii	Contents
8	Universals	174
	Conclusion: Dicta , non-things and the limits of Abelard's ontology	202
PART III
	Introduction	213
9	Ethics, God's power and his wisdom	216
10	God's goodness: theodicy and the meaning of 'good'	233
11	Act, intention and consent	251
12	Contempt, law and conscience	265
13	Virtue, love and merit	282
	Excursus II Love, selflessness and Heloise	298
14	Ethics, society and practice	304
	Conclusion: Abelard's theological doctrines and his philosophical ethics	324
	General conclusion	332
	Appendix: Abelard as a 'critical thinker'	340
	Select bibliography	350
	Index	362