

Contents

Acknowledgments	page xiii
Introduction	1
1 How Important Is Emotion in Everyday Interaction?	9
Emotion as Process	11
Components of the Emotion Process	14
Objects/Causes/Eliciting Events	14
Appraisal	19
Physiological Changes	26
Action Tendencies, Action, and Expression	29
Regulation	31
Emotional Experience	32
Putting the Process Back Together Again	34
Valuing Emotion in Conversation	36
2 How and Why Is Emotion Communicated?	39
Communication as Exchanging Messages	39
Communication as Weaving Meaning	41
Communicating Emotion and Communicating
Emotionally	43
Tools of the Trade: Cues to Emotion	43
Facial Cues	44
Vocal Cues	45
Physiological Cues	46
Gestures and Body Movements	46
Action Cues	47
Verbal Cues	47
No Cues at All	48
Varieties of Cues	48
	ix

Cambridge University Press

0521557410 - Communicating Emotion: Social, Moral, and Cultural Processes

Sally Planalp

Table of Contents

More informationx Contents

	Cue and Channel Combinations	49
	Expressions Change Over Time	51
	Expressiveness	52
	Varieties of Emotional Connection	54
	Emotional Recognition	55
	Emotional Accuracy	56
	Emotional Understanding	58
	Emotional Coincidence	61
	Emotional Contagion and Empathy	62
	Sympathy and Schadenfreude	66
	Responding to Each Other's Emotions	67
	Why Communicate Emotion with Others?	67
	Emotional Communication Competence	70
3	Is Emotional Communication Spontaneous or Strategic?	71
	Managing Emotional Expressions	72
	Strategies for Managing Emotions	75
	Acting and Reacting Emotionally	83
	Adapting Emotional Messages to Audiences	87
	The Wisdom of Emotion and Risks of Ignoring It	90
	The Demands of Emotion Management on the Job	93
	Managing the Emotional Climates of Organizations	96
	Managing Emotion by Creating Meaning	101
4	How Is Emotional Meaning Constructed Through Communication?	104
	Emotional Meaning Influences Physical Health	105
	Metaphors for Communicating Feelings: Venting, Catharsis, and Weaving Meaning	107
	How Communicating Emotion Helps Coping	111
	Communicating Emotions to Other People	116
	Dilemmas of Constructing Emotional Meaning with Others	118
	Communicating with Intimates	118
	Communicating with Counselors	126
	Communicating in Support Groups	130
	Weaving Meaning Together in Everyday Life	133
5	How Is Emotional Meaning Both Personal and Social?	134
	Individual and Interactional Perspectives	136
	Social Emotions and Sharing	137
	The Socialization of Emotion	139
	Emotional Communication as What Is Socialized	140

Contents	xi
Emotional Communication as a Way of Socializing
Emotions	142
Emotion Messages and Close Relationships	144
Emotional Communication and Social Roles	146
Enacting Social Structure Through Emotional Communication	146
Changing Social Roles Through Emotional Communication	149
Communicating Emotion to Manage Social Situations	151
Apologizing	151
Expressing Gratitude	153
Showing Embarrassment	155
Solidified Social Routines and Rituals	156
The Issue of Responsibility	158
6 How Do Emotion Messages Communicate Moral Meaning?	160
Emotion Messages Communicate Standards for Right and Wrong	162
Communicating Anger and Guilt at Injustice	163
Connecting with Others Through Sympathy, Love, and Caring	169
“Sinful” Emotions – Hate, Jealousy, and Envy	173
Communicating Shame for Social Failure	177
Cultivating and Judging Emotional Character	179
Cultivating Moral Character Through Emotions	181
Judging Character Via Feelings	183
Challenging and Defending Emotion-Based Morality	185
Arguing Control	185
Arguing the Facts	187
Arguing Values	189
Arguing Hypocrisy	190
Arguing Awareness and Voice	190
Pathos, Logos, and Ethos Revisited	191
Emotivism versus Moral Emotionality Today	192
7 How Is Emotional Communication Grounded in Common Human Experience and Diverse Cultures?	194
How Important Is Emotion in Everyday Interaction?	198
Cause/Object/Antecedents	199
Appraisals	200
Physiological Changes	202
Action Tendencies, Action, and Expression	203

Cambridge University Press

0521557410 - Communicating Emotion: Social, Moral, and Cultural Processes

Sally Planalp

Table of Contents

More information

xii Contents

Emotional Experience	203
Emotion Talk	204
Emotion in Everyday Interaction	206
How and Why Is Emotion Communicated?	207
How Is Emotion Communicated?	208
Expressiveness	210
Emotional Accuracy	212
Emotional Understanding	213
Emotional Coincidence	214
Emotional Contagion and Empathy	215
Evoking Shared Feelings	216
The Issue of Confidence	217
Are Emotional Messages Spontaneous or Strategic?	217
Philosophies and Strategies	219
What Is Real?	220
How Is Emotional Meaning Constructed Through Communication?	220
Dilemmas of Disclosure	221
How Is Emotional Meaning Both Personal and Social?	223
Emotion Socialization	224
Emotional Communication and Social Roles	226
Solidified Social Routines and Rituals	228
How Do Emotion Messages Communicate Moral Meaning?	230
Emotional Ideals	230
Judgments of Character	232
To What Extent Can We Share Emotional Meanings Across Culture and History?	234
Epilogue: What Is the Future of Emotional Meaning?	235
References	243
Author Index	277
Subject Index	286