Index

abortion rights, 205, 208, 210 adaptive-expectations model, 80 African Americans
partisanship of, 166, 186–7
age
events and, 183n12
partisan change and, 163–5, 177–9
partisanship and, 142–4, 174–6, 179–81
aggregate(s), 428, 429. See also electorate individuals vs., 1, 7, 211–19 mood movements and, 211–19 orderliness of, 6
policy preferences and, 211–19
political knowledge and, 429 politics of, 1
stability vs. dynamism of, 2
Air Traffic Controllers’ strike, 443
Alesina, Alberto, 243n4, 411n12, 420, 423, 445
Americans for Constitutional Action
(ACA), 294, 329n1
Americans for Democratic Action (ADA), 294, 295, 297, 329n1
American Voter, The (Campbell et al.), 2, 15, 115–17, 144, 145, 153, 177, 179, 238, 240, 250, 254 Andersen, Kristi, 177n9 anticipation. See also rational anticipation
politicians and, 289
approval. See presidential approval Arnold, R. Douglas, 289 attitudes toward government, 195–6, 206
Baum, Lawrence, 301
Bay of Pigs invasion, 49
Beck, Nathaniel, 303n14 behavior(s)
macro, 10
macro vs. micro, 11–12
political. See political behavior of politicians, 23, 243
voting, 3–5, 18–19
Brock, William, 114
Brody, Richard, 36, 49–50
Budge, Ian, 257
Bush, George, 49, 74, 122, 160, 439, 443 business expectations, 146, 247. See also expectations; relative expectations Caldeira, Gregory A., 301n13 campaigns
electoral success and, 238n1
presidential, 258
Campbell, Angus, et al., The American Voter, 2, 15, 115–17, 144, 145, 153, 154, 177, 179, 238, 240, 250, 254 candidate affect, 240, 250–3, 275, 438
Carmines, Edward G., 421n14
Carter, Jimmy
defeat of, 241
election of, 110, 122
mood and, 411
popularity of, 49, 60, 443
simulated reelection of, 405, 407–17 CBSNews/New York Times polls, 32, 136–9, 153–4, 155–60, 224 citizens, 12. See also individuals; public opinion; voters
choice, 19–20
choice of politician by, 23
competence and, 13
conception of president, 74–5
as consumers of government, 16–17
control and, 13–14
electorate vs., 428–9
evaluation by, 13–14, 15–16, 30
identification, 14–16
Index

citizens (cont.)
  ideology and, 439, 440
  policy agreement and, 14
  policy preferences of, 16–19, 372–3 rational expectations of, 82–5 rationality of, 77–8
  responses to surveys, 75
Civil Rights Act (1964), 443
Clinton, Bill
  approval of, 29–30
  Democratic Party and, 122, 160, 264
  first term of, 60
  Haiti invasion and, 50
  health-care plan, 60 n 20, 67, 371 coalition-of-minorities argument, 36 coalitions, political, 435–6 Cold War, 48
collective goods, 16–17
common variance, 199–200 Comparative Manifesto Project, 257 n 13 competence. See also presidential approval citizens and, 13
in presidents, 31, 439
competence system, macro politics, 437–44
Condorcet, Marquis de, 429
Congress
  Democratic success in elections, 277 ideology of legislation, 329
  rating scales, 294
  roll calls, 294–7
  vote, 278–82
Congressional Quarterly's Key Votes,
  329 n 1
Conover, Pamela Johnston, 83, 230 consensus, politicians and, 290–1 conservatism, 203, 205. See also Republican Party
  of congressional legislation, 330–1
  defined, 18
  of policy, public opinion and, 327
  self-identification and, 223
consumer sentiment, 43, 399–401 components of, 86–8, 146, 247
in congressional elections, 279
objective economy and, 89–93 scaling of, 122 n 7
control
  by policy actors, 13–14
  presidential approval and, 31, 62–5 conventional wisdom, 203–5 n 6 Converse, Philip E., 2, 142, 194 correlation, 197
crime and punishment issues, 205–6, 208
Cuban Missile Crisis, 54, 55f defense spending, 197
democratic Party, 113–14, 119–22, 160, 162. See also party identification
  in congressional elections, 277
  institutions controlled by, 338–9
  liberalism and, 257
  New Deal and. See New Deal
  partisanship and, 181–5
  party identification and, 276–7
  presidential elections and, 253–6
  presidents as Democrats, 65–6
  Watergate and, 114
Depression, Great, 144, 181, 185
Deutsch, Karl W., 327
Dickey-Fuller test, 39
disillusioned voter theory, 36 disposable income, 245, 409, 410f domestic policy mood, 203–10 domestic spending, 197, 228–30
Dominican Republic, invasion of, 49 Downs, Anthony, 241, 361. See also spatial theory (Downs)
DYMIMIC setup, 304
dynamic representation, 289, 314–16, 320–1, 325, 372–3
dynamics, 8–9, 127
  equilibrium and, 127–9
  mood-laws, 360–8
  in partisanship, 123–4, 127–31, 144–5
  short-term, 351–5
Easton, David, 327
economic expectations. See expectations Economic News, 95–6
economic performance, 132–41 election forecasting and, 242
  presidential approval and, 42–8, 58, 90
economics
  politics and, 2, 9, 444–7 rationality in, 435
  economic voting, 79–85, 247–8 economy, the expectations regarding. See expectations individual vs. aggregate perceptions, 433
    mood and, 348–9
    objective, 89–93, 433
    presidential approval and, 42–8
    presidential elections and, 244–9, 273–4
    rational expectations about, 76–7, 82–5. See also expectations educational levels
    mood movement and, 215, 219
    education spending, 197
Index

efficiency
    of expectations formation, 102–3 in use of information, 85, 103–5 Eisenhower, Dwight, 112–13, 121, 240, 230, 351, 395, 443 election outcomes
campaigns and, 238n1
candidate affect and, 240, 275 with changed 1980 election, 411–13, 414f, 415f
    competence system and, 438
electoral cycle, 439
    macro-partisanship and, 434
    micro-macro mismatch, 241–2
    policy preferences and, 241, 256–72
    predicting, 420
    prosperity and, 275
    reward and punishment and, 240
elections, 237–8
    deviating, 113
    forecasting, 242–3
    meaning of, 241
    models of, 20, 21f
    outcomes of. See election outcomes research on, 19–20
    turnover, 288, 289, 292, 306
electoral cycle
    in mood-laws dynamic, 360–8 electoral intelligence, 3 electorate. See also aggregate citizens vs., 428–9
farsighted vs. myopic, 105–8
    at macro level, 5–8
    political information and, 82–3
    rationality of, 432–3
    voter vs., 1, 3
elites, 1, 3
    leadership theory, 36
    opinion, 214, 216
Engle, Robert F., 303n14
    equilibrium
        dynamics and, 127–9
        of macro-partisanship, 129–30, 179
        in partisanship, 127–9
    equilibrium macro-partisanship, 131, 268n20, 269, 271, 272n23, 282
    predictive power of, 139–41, 146–7 presidential vote and, 255
Erikson, Robert S., 2
    Error Correction Mechanism, 318n23
    evaluation(s)
        by citizens, 13–14, 30
        identification and, 15–16
        party disposition and, 126
    retrospective, 79–80
    events. See also issues age and, 183n12
        identification of, 51–7
        partisan change and, 160
        party disposition and, 126
        party identification and, 116–17, 118
        presidential approval and, 48–57, 63, 88–9
    expectations, 86, 100–2. See also adaptive-expectations model; business expectations; rational expectations;
        relative expectations
        presidential approval and, 85, 90–3, 106–7
        voters vs. electorate, 106–7
Fair, Ray C., 242, 243n3
    Fan, David P., 95
Feldman, Stanley, 83, 194, 230
    Fiorina, Morris P., 79, 82, 115, 117–18, 240
    Five-Year Expectations, 96
    Ford, Gerald, 51, 58n16, 110, 121 foreign policy, 196n2
    presidential approval and, 48–57
    Freeman, John R., 95
        funnel of causality, 238, 240
    Gallup polls, 32, 110, 120–1, 136, 138n20. See also surveys
    Gallup-Thorsen verbal intelligence test, 215 gender
    macro-partisanship and, 168, 171–6
    General Social Survey (GSS), 194, 211, 215. See also surveys
    generations
        partisanship and, 144, 155–63
    Gingrich, Newt, 29
    Goldwater, Barry, 250
government(s)
    as an abstraction, 205
    attitudes toward, 195–6, 206 citizens as consumers of, 16–17 competence, 13
    evaluation by citizens, 13–14 intervention by, 76, 77n1
    more vs. less, 17–18
    policy choices by, 193
    popularity of, 1
    spending, 229. See also domestic spending
    Granger exogeneity tests, 123n8
    Great Society, 349, 373, 374, 433
    Green, Donald Philip, 142, 144–5
    Green, Jay, 329, 330

463
Index

Grenada, invasion of, 49, 50
Gulf War, 49, 122, 160, 439 gun ownership, 197
Haiti, invasion of, 50
health insurance, 371
Hibbs, Douglas A., 244–5
history vs. theory, 395–7, 419–20 Hofferbert, Richard I., 237 honeymoon, presidential, 36, 40–1
Hoover, Herbert, 223
House of Representatives elections, 278–82
policy activity, 295–7, 304–7
presidential policy and, 306–7
public opinion and, 304–7 identification, 14–16. See also party identification; self-identification of events, 51–7 ideology. See also policy proximity
citizens and, 439, 440
party disposition and, 126
politicians and, 439
presidential approval and, 68
public self-image and, 205
self-identification and, 222–30
voters and, 440
Independents, 72, 113. See also party identification Index of Coincident Indicators, 89n8
Index of Consumer Expectations, 94
Index of Consumer Sentiment (ICS). See consumer sentiment Index of Economic Performance. See economic performance
Index of Leading Economic Indicators, 245
Index of Net Candidate Advantage, 250–3, 274, 276 individuals
aggregate vs., 1, 7
aggregate vs., and mood movements, 211–19
macro politics and, 427
partisanship of, 124–32
inflation, 89n8, 94–5, 286–7n1, 348–9
modeling, 425–6
mood movement and, 232–5
in Reagan’s first term, 407
information
economic, 83–5
efficient use of, 78, 85, 103–5 “free,” 430
limited, and rationality, 83 political, and the electorate, 82–3 politicians’ use of, 290
information flow, 127, 371–2
Interuniversity Consortium for Political and Social Research, 211
Iran-Contra revelations, 51
Iran hostage crisis, 49, 74 issues, 430. See also events Democrats vs. Republicans, 276–7 macro-level positions on, 2–3 policy mood and, 205–6
policy preferences and, 19
social compassion, 208–10
Jefferson, Thomas, 318n22
Johnson, Lyndon
civil rights and, 443
Democratic Party and, 121
Dominican Republic invasion and, 49, 373
Great Society policy and, 67, 349
1964 win, 250
Vietnam War and, 49, 57, 58, 73–4, 121, 250
Kalman Filter analysis, 303, 318–19
Kaufmann, Karen M., 171n4
Kellstedt, Paul, 303n14
Kennedy, John F., 49, 54, 55f, 60, 121
Kennedy-Kassenbaum Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act, 371
Key, V.O., 117
Kingdon, John W., 290n4
Knight, Kathleen, 83
Korean War, 49
Kramer, Gerald H., 2, 372, 433
latent preference, 344, 355–60, 362 laws, 3. See also policy: innovations mood and, 336–8, 340–2, 346–50, 360–8
policy and, 329
leading economic indicators, 245 liberal-conservative dimension, Downs’ model, 256, 257, 263 liberalism, 203–5. See also Democratic Party
of congressional legislation, 329, 330–2, 334, 336
defined, 18
of government policy, 334, 336 history of, 223
of policy, public opinion and, 327
in presidential policy, 297, 299–300
self-identification and, 223
in the Supreme Court, 300–1, 302f of survey responses, 197–9, 202n4 limited information rationality, 4, 83 linear modeling, 384
Listhaug, Ola, 263n19

© Cambridge University Press
Index

Macdonald, Stuart Elaine, 263n19
MacKuen, Michael B., 2, 428n1
macroeconomic performance. See economic performance macropartisanship, 2, 15, 19. See also partisan change; partisanship as an integrated series, 149–51 Carter’s hypothetical reelection and, 411
congressional elections and, 280–1
defined, 112
dynamics in, 123–4, 129–30, 144–5
election outcomes and, 434
equilibrium of, 129–36, 179. See also equilibrium macropartisanship events and, 160
gender and, 168, 171–6
generations and, 155–63
macro politics and, 112–15, 147–9
mood and, 440–2, 444
mood movement and, 231, 261–3
over time, 119–24
perturbations and, 421
policy proximity and, 268–9, 273–4
presidential elections and, 253–6, 269, 271–2
race and, 165–8, 169f Reagan first term and, 411
scaling of, 122n7
the South and, 165–8, 169–70f voter conversion and, 162–3 macro politics, 1, 427–8
macropartisanship and, 112–15, 147–9
modeling as a system, 384, 388–98, 417, 419–26 survey data and, 433
macro public, 428–32
Manitoba Research Group, 257n13
marginal voters
policy making and, 369
Mayhew, David, 3, 329–31, 361, 370n30
McAvoy, Gregory E., 303n14
McCord, James, 109
McDonald, Michael D., 257
McGovern, George, 183n12, 250
McGuire, Kevin T., 301n13
median voters, 22n9, 263, 266
Michigan Index of Consumer Sentiment (MICS). See consumer sentiment Michigan series of expectations. See expectations micropolitics, 1, 427
Miller, Warren E., 166, 434
Mishler, William, 313
moderation, 223n17, 224, 258n14
mood, 193–4
Carter and, 411
changes in, 369
congressional elections and, 280–1
delay in response, 371–2
as difference between policy and opinion, 356n23 domestic policy, 203–10 economy and, 348–9
effect of policy on, 327–8, 342–51
as error correction, 355–60
ideological self-identification and, 224–30 laws and, 336–8, 340–2, 346–50, 360–8, 369–71
macropartisanship and, 440–2, 444
party control and, 301, 303, 339
policy activity and, 318–20, 346, 348
policy and, 339, 344–8
policy change and, 360–1
presidential approval and, 441, 443–4
in Reagan first term, 411
Supreme Court and, 312
mood movement, 205–19
aggregates and, 216–22
economic need and, 231
educational levels and, 215, 219
inflation and, 232–5
macropartisanship and, 231, 261–3
micro- vs. macro-level evidence, 434 opinion elite and, 214, 216 partisan performance and, 230–1 peripheral voters and, 214–15, 216 policy need and, 231
unemployment and, 232–5
variance of, 219–22
Mueller, John, 1, 30n1, 48
multiple difference equation formulation, 386–7 National Election Studies (NES), 136, 142, 143f, 215, 250, 259n16
net candidate advantage, 250–3, 274, 276
Neustadt, Richard, 30n1
New Deal, 113, 119, 155, 157, 177, 183, 185, 223
news stories
voters’ expectations and, 93
Newsweek, 62
Next Year’s Income Growth, 99n16
Nixon, Richard
candidate appeal and, 113
Democratic Party and, 121
loss of popularity of, 60 1972 win, 250
pardon of, 51, 58n16
popularity of, 109–10

465
Index

normal vote, 112–14
Norpoth, Helmut, 313

One-Year Income Growth, 97–8
Page, Benjamin L., 2–3, 201n3 Palmaquist, Bradley, 142, 144–5 partisan change. See also macropartisanship; partisanship
age and, 163–5, 174–6
events and, 160
generations and, 155–63
in 1920s and 1930s, 176–9 partisanship. See also macropartisanship
age and, 142–4, 179–81
birth date and, 177–9
dynamics in, 127–9
equilibrium in, 127–9
generational continuity of, 144 individual, 124–32
macro- vs. micro-level, 112, 433 micro models of, 115–19
as momentary support, 118 of new voters, 179–81
as permanent commitment, 115–17
social class and, 119
as standing choice, 117–18
transient, 127–32, 235
party control, 338–9, 360
mood and, 301, 303, 339
policy choices and, 372–4
party disposition, 124–7 citizen stimuli and, 127–8
identification and, 126
ideology and, 126
information flow and, 127
origins, 125–6
party identification, 15n6, 115–17. See also self-identification Democratic Party and, 276–7
ideological self-identification and, 222–3 macro- vs. micro-level analysis, 2
at micro level, 144–5
policy preferences and, 18
presidential approval and, 67–72
party performance, 132–36 party platforms, 258–62, 275 party positions, 258–62 party realignments. See realignments per capita income growth, 244–7 peripheral voters
mood movement and, 214–15, 216
Perot, Ross, 113
personal retrospections, 95, 146, 247
Petrocik, John R., 171n4
Phillips Curve, 232, 399n8

policy with changed 1980 outcome, 417, 418f consequences, 286
defined, 285
delay in response, 369–71
effect of mood on, 327–8, 336–42 impact of public opinion on, 368–9 innovations, 328, 331. See also laws
laws and, 329
liberalism of government, 334, 336 meanings of, 285–7
mood and, 339, 344–8
over presidential terms, 349–51
policy activity vs., 370
presidential approval and, 443
voters and, 284
policy activity, 286, 328. See also policy making with changed 1980 outcome, 413, 416–17 in the House of Representatives, 295–7, 304–7
mood and, 318–20, 346, 348
policy vs., 370
presidential, 310
public opinion and, 286
in the Senate, 297, 298f, 307–8 policy activity history, 353–4 policy agreement
citizens and, 14
presidential approval and, 31
policy changes, 285, 325–6
decisions and, 293
mood and, 360–1
public opinion and, 293–4, 314–16, 317f, 320–1, 434–5 policy choices, 22–3
by citizens, 193
effect on individuals vs. aggregate, 67
by governments, 193
moderation vs. extremism, 66–7
party control and, 372–4
policy preferences and, 373
presidential approval and, 63–74
shifts in, 67
policy issues. See issues policy making. See also policy activity
decisions and, 293
left vs. right directions, 293
macro vs. micro aspects, 436–7 marginal voter and, 369 measures of, 293–303
policy mood. See mood policy preferences, 193 attitudes toward government and, 206
citizens and, 16–19
dimensions of, 203–10
Index

election outcomes and, 241, 256–72
individual vs. aggregate, 211–19 micro vs. macro, 194–202
party disposition and, 126
party positions and, 256–72
of politicians, 22–3, 287–8, 291–3
of public, 372–3
re-election and, 288
policy proximity. See also ideology
macropartisanship and, 268–9, 273–4
presidential elections and, 263–8, 276–7
policy system, in macro politics, 437–44 political archeology, 176–9 political behavior, 10–11
macro vs. micro, 432–5
study of, 1
political business cycles (PBCs), 248–9 political parties, 23. See Democratic Party; Republic Party; and headings beginning with the word “party” politicians, 20, 22–3 anticipation and, 289
behavior of, 23, 243
choice of, by citizens, 23 consensus and, 290–1
electorate vs. individual voter and, 432 expediency of, 287–8, 291–3 government institutions vs., 435–6 ideal points of, 287–8, 292
ideology and, 439
policy preferences of, 22–3, 287–8 “policy” system and, 438–9
public opinion and, 290–1
as rational actors, 289
as well informed, 290
politics
cross-sectional analysis, 8n2 economics and, 2, 9, 444–7 macro vs. micro analysis, 432–5 time-series analysis, 8n2 polls. See Gallup polls; surveys Popkin, Samuel L., 4, 83
presidential approval, 1, 250, 251–3
in Carter’s hypothetical re-election, 409–11
competence and, 31, 41–61, 439
in congressional elections, 279, 281–2
control and, 62–5
decline in, 37–9
economic expectations and, 85, 90–3, 106–7, 145–6 economic performance and, 42–8, 58
equilibrium in, 40–1
events and, 48–57, 58, 63, 88–9 expected, 53–5
foreign policy and, 48–57
ideology and, 68
information use and, 103–5
mood and, 441, 443–4
over time, 35–41
party identification and, 67–72
policy and, 443
policy choices and, 65–74
policy response and, 31 rational expectations and, 82–5 for Reagan, 409–11
scaling of, 122n7
time-series analysis, 32–5, 88–9
presidential elections approval rating and, 250–3 candidates’ vote appeal and, 250–3, 275 the economy and, 244–9, 273–4
macropartisanship and, 253–6, 269, 271–2
net candidate advantage and, 250–3
policy proximity and, 263–8, 276–7
Republican Party and, 276–7 presidential party
in congressional elections, 278–82
midterm loss for, 277, 278, 282
policy and, 309–10
Supreme Court and, 312
presidential policy
House of Representatives and, 306–7 liberalism in, 297, 299–300 party and, 309–11
public opinion and, 309–11
presidents
citizens’ conception of, 74–5 competence in, 31, 439
control in, 13–14, 31
Democrat, 65–6
popularity and, 66–7
Republican, 65–6
prosperity. See also economy, the
election outcomes and, 275
expectations about, 96–7, 99–102
ideology and, 440
public. See citizens; macro public public opinion, 3
delay in response, 370
impact on policy, 368–9
institutional response to, 316, 317–20
policy activity and, 286, 304–7, 336–7
policy changes and, 293–4, 314–16, 317f, 320–1, 326, 434–5
politicians and, 290–1
presidential policy and, 309–11
rational anticipation and, 316
the Senate and, 307–9
Supreme Court and, 311–14
pure-retrospections model, 80

467

© Cambridge University Press

www.cambridge.org
Index

Rabinowitz, George, 263n19
race
  macropartisanship and, 165–8, 169f rally points, 48
random walk, 131n13
  See also anticipation
  public opinion and, 316
  Supreme Court and, 313–14
rational expectations, in economics, 76–7, 82–5
rational-expectations theory, 76–7, 80, 420, 423
rationality
  in economics, 435
  of electorate, 432–3
  limited information, 4
  in political choices, 16–17
  politicians and, 289
Reagan, Ronald, 122
  appeal of, 241
  gendered response to, 171 Grenada invasion and, 49, 50
inflation and, 407
Iran-Contra revelations and, 51
liberalism and, 351
macropartisanship during “era,” 155–60, 162
“mood” during first term, 411
1984 election, 112
popularity of, 443
Republican Party and, 114
“revolution,” 67, 264, 349, 373, 374, 435
support for, 60
unemployment and, 407
realignments, 119, 155, 157, 176–9, 444n10
reelection, 20, 22
  and House of Representatives, 305–6 hypothetical, of Carter, 405, 407–17
  policy preferences and, 288
  of politicians, 287–8
  the Senate and, 307
relative expectations, 86–7, 96, 97–9, 99n16. See also business expectations; expectations
  efficient formation of, 102–3 origin of, 93–6
Republican Party, 119, 122–3, 185. See also party identification conservatism and, 257
  gender gap and, 171n4
  party position, 264
  policy choices, 22, 65–6
  presidential elections and, 276–7
  presidents as Republicans, 65–6 “revolution,” 29, 179
  Watergate and, 109–12, 114
  retrospections, 91–2
  Riker, William H., 295n9
Roosevelt, Franklin, 32, 49, 223
Roper Center for Public Opinion Research, 201n3, 211
Rosenthal, Howard, 243n4, 420, 423, 445
running tally, 115, 117–18
Scammon, Richard M., 206
Segal, Jeffrey A., 300n11, 313 self-identification, 116–17. See also party identification
  ideology and, 222–30
  self-interest, 16–17, 80n4 Senate, the
  elections, 278–82, 307
  policy activity, 307–8
  public opinion and, 307–9
  reelection and, 307
Shapiro, Robert Y., 2–3, 201n3
Sheehan, Reginald S., 313
shirking, 22n9
simulations
  historical structural, 396–7 performance of, 397–8
  statistical, 387–8, 420–1
  stochastic, 396, 421
  stochastic parameter, 396
  structural, 395
  time-series analysis and, 420–1
Smith, Charles E., Jr., 301n13
social class
  partisanship and, 119
  social goods, 17
Solicitor General data, 300 South, the macropartisanship and, 165–8, 169– 70f
Spaeth Supreme Court data base, 300
spatial theory (Downs), 238–9, 256, 261, 263n19
specific variance, 199–200
spending, government. See government(s): spending
Stevenson, Adlai, 250
Stimson, James A., 2, 3, 36, 219n13, 303n14, 421n14, 434
Stokes, Donald E., 240, 434
Supreme Court
  composition of, 313–14
  ideal point and, 311
  liberalism in, 300–1, 302f

468
Index

politicians and, 311
presidential interaction with, 300 presidential party and, 312
public opinion and, 311–14
rational anticipation and, 313–14
Survey of Consumer Finance, 86 surveys, 5. See also Gallup polls; General Social Survey (GSS) citizens’ responses to, 75
macropolitics and, 433–5
questions in, 194
Suzuki, Motoshi, 248–50n8
time-series analysis, 1–2
presidential approval, 32–5, 88–9
statistical simulation and, 420–1 Tims, Albert R., 95
transient macropartisanship, 271–2 transient partisanship, 127–32, 255
Truman, Harry, 32, 49
Tufte, Edward R., 250
unemployment, 286–7n1, 348–9 changes in, 89n8, 94–5, 385–6, 399–401, 402f, 403f
modeling, 423–4
mood movement and, 232–5
in Reagan’s first term, 407
University of Michigan Survey Research Center, 86 Vietnam War, 49, 57, 58, 73–4, 109, 208, 306 vote, normal, 112–14
voters. See also citizens as bankers, 145–6
behavior of, 3–5, 18–19
conversion of, 162–3
economic, 79–85, 247–8
electorate vs., 1, 3
ideology and, 4–5, 440
knowledge of, 4, 7
marginal. See marginal voters
at micro level, 3–5
myopic, 80
new, 181–5
peripheral. See peripheral voters policy, 429n3
policy needs of, 231
political beliefs, 4–5
public policy and, 284
replacement and conversion over time, 154–60
Washington, George, 318n22
Watergate, 60, 109–12, 114
Watson, Mark W., 303n14
Wattenburg, Ben J., 206
Wlezien, Christopher, 3, 327–8, 437
Wofford, Harrison, 371
Zaller, John, 18, 194