

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-59048-8 - Ideology and Inscription "Cultural Studies" after Benjamin,
de Man, and Bakhtin

Tom Cohen

Table of Contents

More information

Contents

Acknowledgements	x
Introduction Webwork, or "That spot is bewitched"	1
PART I Ciphers – or, counter-genealogies for a critical "present"
1 Reflections on post "post-mortem de Man"	31
2 The ideology of dialogue: the de Man/Bakhtin connection	56
3 Mnemotechnics: time of the séance, or the mimetic blind of "cultural studies"	98
PART II Expropriating "cinema" – or, Hitchcock's mimetic war
4 Beyond "the Gaze": Hitchcock, Žižek, and the ideological sublime	143
5 Sabotaging the ocularist state	169
PART III Tourings – or, the monadic switchboard
6 Echotourism: Nietzschean cyborgs, anthropophagy, and the rhetoric of science in cultural studies	203
7 Altered states: stoned in Marseilles, or the addiction to reference	221
8 Contretemps: notes on contemporary "travel"	238
Select bibliography	253
Index	257