

Index

- Abbott, A., 128
 Ablowitz, R., 97
 ABSS. See agent based social simulation
 ACL. See agent communication languages action communicative, 199, 204 mediated, 134
 action systems, 42
 action/event unit, 127 agency, 197
 interpretivism and, 207–209
 agent(s). See also agency; cognitive agents;
 collaborative agents; multi agent systems
 in artificial society, 149
 autonomous, 146, 147, 152, 154, 156, 165, 171
 collaborative, 176–182
 definition of, 147
 dependence/interference between,
 174–175
 environment interaction, 36 heterogeneous, 150, 164 homogenous (EBM), 150 inter-, communication, 188 interpretive, 166 isolated, 146
 language acquired by, 155–156
 MAS, 146, 147, 150, 152
 no perception of emergent collective entity by, 165–166
 population change for, 155–156 randomly behaving, 37 rational (actor), 150, 158, 159 reactive, 148–149, 161, 170–172
 social, 167, 169
 trade behavior, 163
 utilitarian rational (actor), 153, 166 voluntaristic, 166
 agent based social simulation (ABSS), 149 agent communication language (ACL), 148, 173–176
 BDI of, 173–174, 176
 cognitive emergence in, 174
 FIPA, 173, 174–176
 protocols, conversation and, 175–176 Agent Unified Modeling Language. See
 AUML AGIL (Adaptation, Goal attainment, Integration, and Latency), 13
 AI (artificial intelligence), 146 classic, 50 cognitive agents from, 171 symbolic, 55
 Alexander, J.C., 107, 193
 Durkheim's theory of social emergence
 critiqued by, 111–112
 Alexander, S., 36
 Alexander, S., 32, 41
 Alife. See artificial life
 Allen, P.M., 19
 Althusser, 194, 204–205
 analytic dualism, 54, 82–83, 120
 elisionism and, 125, 134, 137
 of social emergence and elisionism, 139–142
 analytic separability, 136–138 anthropology, 140, 218 linguistic, 117
 anti-realist, 49
 antireductionism, physicalist, 111
 Antona, M., 163
 Archer, M.S., 17, 49, 56, 91, 92, 98, 112, 163, 193
 analytical dualism and, 82–83
 emergence v. elisionism and, 125–126, 129–130, 137
 King's critique of critical realism of, 88
 morphogenetic dualism of, 82–84, 92–93
 structuration theory criticized by, 116, 139–140

262 Index

- Arrow, K., 44, 228
- artificial intelligence. See AI
- artificial life (Alife), 102
- reactive agents in, 148–149, 171
- artificial society, 2, 8, 76, 93
- without agency theory, 167
- agent based social simulation in, 149
- agents in, 148–149, 153, 166, 167, 168
- agents no perception of emergent
- collective entity in, 165–166
- communication learning in, 155
- EBM/MAS differences and techniques
- for, 149–150
- environmental change in, 152
- IPD-based, 154–155
- macrosimulation of, 156–157
- methodological individualism and, 156, 168, 187
- micro-macro link in, 163–165
- microsimulation, macro properties and, 160–161
- multi agent systems in, 145, 146–148, 150
- mutual relations of individual action, macrosocial structure and, 162–167
- network size, network topology and, 160, 161
- network theory, network topology and, 158–159, 162
- norms' emergence in, 152–157
- reductionism and, 187–188
- simulations of, 145
- social causation and, 157–158, 162, 168
- social change in, 156, 159
- social emergence in, 150–157
- social knowledge in, 167
- social structure emergence in, 151–152
- social structure, macrosimulation and, 156–157
- sociological theory and implications of, 167–169
- structural phenomena on individual
- influencing, 157–162
- structuration theory and, 161
- Sugarscape, 171
- theories, MAS and, 147–148
- trust and cooperation in, 159–160
- utilitarian agents in, 153, 166
- virtual experiments of, 145
- associationism, 35, 37
- atomism, 29, 102–103, 108
- of behaviorism, 37
- history/aspects of, 27–28
- interpretivism opposing, 193–195
- metaphysical, 109
- neurophysical, 101
- utilitarian, 120
- attractors, 16, 22
- strange, 18, 20
- AUML (Agent Unified Modeling Language), 175
- autonomous social causation, 70–72
- autopoiesis, 14–15, 16
- Axelrod, R., 76, 151
- Axtell, R.L., 11, 158–160, 161, 163
- Bales, R., 201, 202
- Barthes, 193
- Bateson, G., 12
- Bauman, Z., 133
- BDI. See belief-desire-intention (BDI) model
- Bechtel, W., 108
- behavioral agents, 171. See also reactive agents
- behavioral sociology, 74
- behaviorism, 28, 37, 48
- belief-desire-intention (BDI) model, 173–174, 176
- beliefs
- of cognitive agents, 172–174, 176
- of collaborative agents, 179–180
- mutual, 180
- Bénard convection cell, 17
- Berger, P.L., 200, 208
- Bergson, H., 32–33, 34, 127
- Bhaskar, R., 49, 83, 93, 113
- King's critique of critical realism of, 88
- transcendental realism of, 80–82
- bidirectional dialectic
- Emergence Paradigm, downward
- causation and, 216
- bifurcation sequence, 18, 20
- biological models, 20
- Blau, P., 78–80, 82, 98, 112, 160, 194
- exchange theory of, 78–79
- macrosociology, microsociology and, 79
- social causal power and, 79–80
- Boulding, K.E., 190
- Bourdieu, P., 61, 133, 163, 199, 212
- brain, 96, 105, 222
- Bratman, M.E., 178
- bridge law, 27, 67
- British emergentism, 31–33, 59
- Bronfenbrenner, 137
- Buckley, W., 14, 15, 17
- Burgess, E.W., 215
- butterfly effect, 16
- Byrne, D. 18

- Carley, K.M., 164
 Castelfranchi, C., 152, 172, 174
 causal exclusion, 69–70, 72 causal fundamentalism, 69–70, 72
 causation. See also downward causation; higher level causation; mental causation; social causation Emergence Paradigm and, 213
 of macrosocial forces, 186 metapragmatics, improvisation and, 184–186
 semiautonomous, 86
 of social dynamics/social milieu, Durkheim, 69, 114, 115, 124 social facts having, independent of individual agency, 113–114, 124 chaos, 15
 chaotic system, 3 complexity and, 14–15
 edge of chaos, 14–15 chaos theory complex dynamical systems theory from, 25 emergence and, 22
 mathematical formalism's problem of, 25 nonlinearity of, 16
 nonreductionism and, 16
 open systems in, 17
 checkerboard simulation of neighborhood segregation, 131, 151, 159
 Chicago School, 202
 cinematographical illusion, 33 Clark, A., 52 closed systems, 17
 coercion, 113–114
 cognition, distributed, 133 cognitive agents, 148
 agent communication languages of, 173–176
 belief-desire-intention model and, 173–174, 176
 cognitive emergence of, 174 goals and internal beliefs of, 172–174, 176 immersion in, 172–173
 knowledge in, 173
 second order emergence in, 172–173 towards speech act theory, 172–176 cognitive science, 37–38, 47, 50. See also connectionism
 connectionism in, 51–52 developmental systems theory and, 51–52
 direct/indirect emergence in, 52 in psychology, emergence, 50–52
 situated robotics in, 50–51
 Cohen, I.J., 80, 87–88, 110
 Cohen, P.R., 177
 Cole, M., 134, 137
 Coleman, J.S., 24, 76, 93, 98, 151, 163, 171, 191, 195–196, 215, 227
 collaborative agents, 176–182, 188 beliefs of, 179–180
 disagreement resolution with, 180–181
 distributed artificial intelligence and, 176–182
 hierarchical plans, goals and, 177 improvisational modification with teamwork, 178, 180–181, 182–183, 186
 (joint) intentions of, 177–178
 intersubjectivity of, 177 mutually contingent behavior and, 181–182
 SharedPlan system of, 179–180
 STEAM system of, 180
 collaborative emergence, 176, 181, 211, 213 ephemeral emergents (Level C), 213 stable emergents (Level D), 214– 216 collective behavior, 215 collective dynamics, 215 collective effervescence, 118 collective phenomena, 40, 122 micro-macro link as, 6 collective representation, 48, 105, 106, 111–112, 118, 123
 collectivist emergentists, 64
 collectivist theories, of emergence, 78–87, 90 Acher's morphogenetic dualism in,
 82–84
 Bhaskar's transcendental realism in,
 80–82
 Blau, exchange theory, social causal power and, 78–80
 concept of, 78
 Kontopoulos, heterarchical emergence and, 85–86
 mechanisms in, 92–94
 Porpora, emergently material social relations and, 84
 realism and, 90–91
 social causation and, 92
 supervenience and, 86–87
 collectivists, 13
 Collier, A., 81

264 Index

- Collins, R., 49, 181, 202, 216
- commitment, 173–174
- communication, 116. See also languages; symbolic communication
- artificial society and learning in, 155
- causal power, metapragmatics, improvisation and, 184–186
- cognitive agent societies, speech act theory and, 172–176
- collaborative agent societies, improvisational dialogue, teamwork and, 176–182
- epiphenomenality of, 170, 182, 185
- hybrid theories and, 203
- inter-agent, 188
- metapragmatic, improvised dialogue and, 170, 182–187
- node-to-node, 195
- in reactive agent societies, 170–172
- SharedPlan system for, 179–180
- simple majority function with communication on success, 172
- communicative action, 199, 204
- community
- analytic separability, individual, group and, 136–138
- complex adaptive system model, 17
- complex adaptive systems theory, 23. See also complexity theory
- complex dynamical systems theory, 23, 76. See also complexity theory
- from chaos theory, 25
- complex systems, 1
- complexity, 19, 60
- autonomous laws of, 4
- biological models and, 20
- definition of, 3, 15
- Complexity*, 20
- complexity theory, irreducible systems, complexity interaction and, 97
- reducibility and, 108
- components, intrinsically determined, 96
- composite method, 58
- composition effects, 75
- compositional emergence, 86
- computational organization theory (COT), 163–165, 167, 168
- computing, ubiquitous, 146
- computational organization theory, 163–165
- Comte, A., 11, 30, 38–39, 82–84, 100, 104, 114, 115, 123
- conflict theory, 200
- connectionism, 46, 51–52, 102
- definitional task of, 60
- direct emergence in, 52
- higher level causation and, 58–59
- higher level emergent ontological issues and, 54–55
- higher level/lower level independence and, 56–57
- localization and, 96
- methodological issue in, 58–59
- consciousness, 33, 105, 119, 186, 208
- practical, 129, 161
- constraint, 113–114, 121–122, 131
- constructivism, 38
- Conte, R., 153, 155
- conversation, 175–176
- conversation analysis, 187, 199, 203, 208, 213–214
- Cooley, C.H., 127, 132, 143, 199, 202
- cooperation, 159–160
- of norm, 154–155
- CORMAS languages, 163, 164, 165
- COT. See computational organization theory
- Cours* (Comte), 38–39
- Creative evolution* (Bergson), 32–33
- creative resultants, 34
- critical discourse analysis, 205
- critical realism, 84
- King's critique of, 88
- The Crowd* (Le Bon), 39
- crystallization, 116, 117–118, 123, 220–221
- cultural system
- individual and, 138
- currents. See social currents
- cybernetics, 1, 12, 14, 20, 37, 198
- DAI. See distributed artificial intelligence
- Darley, V., 97
- Darwin, C., 1, 34
- Davidson, D., 71
- decomposability, 5, 95–96
- decomposable systems, 12–13
- definitional task, 59, 61
- deliberative agents. See cognitive agents
- demonstrable relevance, 203
- deontic logic, 152
- dependence, 174–175
- developmental systems theory, 51–52
- Dewey, J., 36–37, 52, 127
- diachronic reduction, 83–84, 85
- dialectic relations, 55
- direct emergence, 52
- discourse theory, 204–205, 206
- critical, analysis, 205
- displacement of scope error, 142
- dissipative structures, 17–19

- distributed artificial intelligence (DAI), 146, 176
- distributed model, 46
- DiTomaso, N., 193
- Division of Labor* (Durkheim), 104, 107, 120, 121–122
- downward causation, 121–122
- autonomous social causation in, 70–72
- causal fundamentalism and, 70–72
- Emergence Paradigm, bidirectional dialectic and, 216
- epiphenomenal effects and, 119
- Interaction Paradigm and, 218
- interpretivism and, 217
- nonreductive individualism and, 69, 73
- reflexive and diachronic, 83–84, 85
- Structure Paradigm and, 217, 219
- Driesch, 32
- dualism
- analytic, 54, 82–83, 120, 125, 134, 137, 139–142
 - mastery and, 137
 - metaphysical, 101–102, 103
 - morphogenetic, 82–84
 - rejecting of, 129
 - subjectivist, 61
- dualist ontology, 49, 58, 87, 91, 92
- Durkheim and, 118–120, 124
 - higher level emergent and, 53
- duality of structure, 87, 128
- Duranti, A., 214
- Durkheim, E., 5, 11, 28, 30, 38, 39, 48, 54, 58, 79, 87–88, 90, 91, 173, 207, 213
- foundational argument of, 40
 - social causation of, 69
 - society of mind of, 46
- Durkheim's theory, of social emergence
- Alexander's critique of, 111–112
 - bias against, 100–101
 - collective representation in, 105, 106, 111–112, 123
 - dynamic density in, 106–107
 - emergence in contemporary philosophy and, 100–101
 - Giddens' critique of, 108, 110, 113–114
 - integrating individual and social structure in, 120, 123–124
 - Lukes' critique of, 111
 - mental phenomena and, 108
 - microinteraction's emergence and, 116, 117–118
 - not connected to psychology, 100, 111–112, 120
 - Parsons' critique of, 108–110
 - resolving dilemma of, 93
 - social currents, crystallization and, 116, 117–118, 123, 220–221
 - social dynamics as emergence process in, 113–114
 - social facts having causal power independent of individual agency in, 69, 113–114, 119, 124
 - social milieu, social substratum and, 106–107, 114–116, 121–122, 123
 - social ontology and, 118–120, 124
 - social phenomena, psychological phenomena and, 105–106, 111–112
 - sui generis* concept of, 100–101, 111
 - dyadic phenomena, 174–175
 - dynamic density, 4, 5, 106–107, 121–122
 - dynamic systems approach, 52
- EBM. See equation based modeling
- economic imperialism, 189–190
- economic sociology, 225–226, 229
- economic systems, 220
- economics
- Emergence Paradigm, sociology and, 225–229
 - methodological individualism and, 24, 41–42, 228
 - social emergence central to, 189–190
 - symbolic communication and, 190
- educational systems, 220
- élan vital, 32–33
- Elementary Forms* (Durkheim), 104, 112, 114, 115, 116, 118, 119, 121
- elisionism
- analytic dualism of social emergence and, 139–142
 - foundational theoretical assumptions of, 124, 125–126
 - inseparability of, 125, 128–129, 130–131, 139–142
 - process ontology of, 125, 127–128, 129–130, 132–135, 143
 - sociocultural theory's tensions and, 126–127, 132–139
 - structuration theory (Giddens) representative of, 125–126, 127, 132
- Elster, J., 75, 77
- embeddedness, 160
- emblems, 218, 219
- emergence. See also social emergence
- concept of, 104
 - confusion of, 11
 - definition of, 2
 - of entities, 81
 - functionally localizable systems and, 13

266 Index

- emergence (cont.)
 novel aspect of, 4 pragmatic definition of, 60–61 properties of, 4–5 unpredictable aspect of, 4
- Emergence*, 22
- emergence, history of, 27
 of atomism, 27–28
 of British emergentism, 31–33
 of cognitive science, 37–38 of emergentism, 29–31
 in French sociology founding, 38–41
 of gestalt psychology, 33, 35 methodological individualism in economics, 41–42
 Parsons and, 41–42
 of pragmatism and symbolic interactionism, 35, 37
 of psychological emergence, 31–38 of sociological emergence, 38–44
 summary, 44–45
- Emergence of Organized Society (EOS) project, 151–152, 165
- Emergence Paradigm, 191–192, 203, 209, 210–223
 causal forces with, 213 circle of emergence of, 218, 219 downward causation, bidirectional dialectic and, 216
 emergents influence on individual in, 217–218
 emergents influence on interaction in, 218, 219
 ephemeral emergents (Level C) in, 210–212, 213, 214–215, 216–217
 individuals (Level A) of, 221–222 interaction (Level B) of, 217, 218, 219 Interaction Paradigm problems and, 210, 224, 230
 macrostructure, microlevel and, 221–222
 methodological individualism in, 212–213
 micro-macro link and, 210–212 towards a new social science, 43 psychology influenced by, 223 sociology relation to economics and, 225–229
 stable emergents (Level D) in, 210–212, 214–217
 structure (Level E) of, 218, 219
 Structure Paradigm problems and, 210, 224, 229
 subjectivism and interpretivism rejected by, 213
- emergent, 32
 coining of term, 74
- emergent evolution, 32
- emergent phenomena, 3, 42
- emergent properties, 30
- emergent systems, 102
- emergentism
 confusion in, 64–65
 higher level causation and, 57
 higher level/lower levels independence
 and, 56
 history/aspects of, 29–31
 materialism form of, 59, 61, 62
 nonreductionism and, 29–31
 reductionism and, 29–30
- emergently material social relations, 84
- entelechies, 32
- environmental change, 152
- EOS. See Emergence of Organized Society
 (EOS) project
- ephemeral emergents (Level C), 210–212, 213, 214–215, 216–217
- epiphenomenal, 70, 170, 182, 185, 199
- epiphenomenalism, 35
- epiphenomenalist materialism, 36
- Epstein, J.M., 11, 158
- equation based modeling (EBM), 145
 MAS differences and techniques of, 149–150
 social dynamics/system dynamics in, 150
- ethnomethodology, 142, 143, 187, 199, 200, 202
 Interaction Paradigm and, 200
- evolution, 1
- exact orientation, 43, 74
- exchange theory, 61, 74, 171
 three-step sequence of emergence in, 78–79
- exclusive separation, 135
- expectation states theory, 181
- experience, 36, 52
- explanatory emergence, 82
- finders keepers, 153
- FIPA, 173, 174–176
- first wave of social systems theory. See structural-functional theory
- fitness landscapes, 20
- Fodor, J.A., 67, 71, 75
- Foucault, M., 193, 199
- Foundation of Social Theory* (Coleman), 24
- foundational sociology, 11
- Frankfurt School, 193
- functionalism, critique of, 26

- Garfinkel, H., 127
 Gell-Mann, M., 16
 General Problem Solver, 20
 General Systems Theory (GST), 1
 biological models and, 20
 complexity and, 14–15
 cybernetics in, 14
 dynamical systems of, 15–16
 emergence and, 22
 higher levels independence of, 22
 nonreductionism and, 17
General Systems Theory (von Bertalanffy), 14, 19
 Gergen, K., 61
 gestalt psychology, 33, 35
 gestaltism, 28, 41
 Giddens, A., 33, 49, 61, 77, 82, 142, 161, 163, 181, 186, 197, 212, 216
 Durkheim's theory of social emergence critiqued by, 108, 110, 113–114
 elisionism, structuration theory and, 125–126, 127, 132, 133, 137, 138 interpretivism of, 208–209 practical consciousness of, 129, 161
 socioculturalism, elisionism and, 127, 143
 structuration theory of, 54, 80, 87–88, 90, 139
 Gilbert, N., 172
 Gindoff, P., 204
 Goodwin, C., 214
 Granovetter, M., 194, 209, 216
 Grosz, B.J., 178, 179
 group(s), 202
 analytic separability, individual, community and, 136–138 dynamics, 35
 equilibrium, 74
 individual, social structure and, 5–7, 120, 123–124 secondary, 123
 small, 203
 GST. See General Systems Theory guards, 175

 Habermas, J., 163, 199, 204
 habitus, 199
 Harré, R., 88
 Hart, J., 160
 Hatano, G., 134
 Hayek, F.A. von, 7, 43–44, 55, 189, 195
 Henry, P., 204–205
 heterarchical emergence, 85–86
 heterarchical systems, 14
 heteropathic causation, 31

 hierarchical emergence, 86
 hierarchical systems, 12, 14, 152 higher level causation, 34, 40, 41
 connectionism and, 58–59
 downward causation of, 69
 socioculturalism and, 57, 59
 higher levels, 2, 42, 43, 212. See also lower levels connectionism, socioculturalism, unresolved issues and, 52–53 connectivism, ontological issues and, 54–55 holism, lower level independence and, 55–57, 59 independence of, 22 non-reducibility of, 22
 ontological issue of, 53–55 socioculturalism, ontological issues and, 53–54
 supervenience of, 29 history, 115, 123, 173. See also emergence, history of of sociology, 191–192
 of third wave of systems theory, 21 Hobbes, 195
 holism, 43, 74, 122
 emergentism and, 56
 higher level/lower level independence and, 55–57, 59
 history/aspects of, 28–29
 non-reductionism/reductionism and, 28–29
 rejection of, 59, 60
 Homans, G.C., 17, 64, 74–75, 79, 98, 194
 homo duplex, 108, 110
homo economicus, 226
 Horgan, T., 70, 71
 Hutchins, E., 133, 141
 hybrid theories
 communication and, 203 with Interaction Paradigm, 200, 203–205
 rejection of, 194, 196
 with Structure Paradigm, 193, 194, 196–197
 hypostatization, 119–120

 identity theory, 37
 ideological formations, 205 imitators, 158
 immergence, 172–173
 imperial overstretch, 76, 151–152
 improvisation
 causal power, metapragmatics and, 184–186

268 Index

- improvisation (cont.)
 collaborative agent, teamwork and, 178, 180–181, 182–183, 186 metapragmatics and dialogue of, 182–187 unintended effects of action in, 184 Improvised Dialogues (Sawyer), 229 inclusive separation, 135, 139–142
 indirect emergence, 52
 individual, 44, 109, 110, 111–112 analytic separability, group and, 136–138 artificial society, mutual relations of macrosocial structure and action of, 162–167 cultural system and, 138 Emergence Paradigm and Level A of, 221–222
 emergents influence on, 217–218 group, social structure and, 5–7, 120, 123–124 ontology of, and methodological individualism, 195
 social causation and, 223
 social facts causal powers independent of, 113–114 structuration theory and theory of, 131–132 “Individual and Collective Representations” (Durkheim), 40, 104, 105 individual representations, 109 individualist reductionism, 7 individualist theories, of emergence, 73–78, 90 bias of, 101
 complex dynamical systems theory, artificial society and, 76
 mechanisms in, 92–94
 methodological individualism and, 73–76
 philosophical accounts of emergence v., 76–78 rational choice theory of, 75–76
 realism and, 90–91
 social causation in, 92–93
 inseparability
 analytic separability, individual, group and, 136–138, 139–142
 of elisionism, 125, 128–129, 130–131 individual–social dualism transcended with, 131–132 macrosociology issues with, 142–143
 power and, 142
 socioculturalism and, 126–127, 135–142
 intentional agents. See cognitive agents intentions, 33, 173–174. See also belief–desire–intention model intending to, intending that, 179–180 joint, 177–178
 Interaction Paradigm, 191–192, 196, 197–207, 214, 215
 downward causation and, 218
 Emergence Paradigm and problems of, 210, 224, 230
 emergents influence on interaction in, 219
 ethnomethodology and, 200
 hybrid theories with, 200, 203–205 individual and social in, 198–199
 interactional reductionism of, 200, 201–203 no mechanism between individual and interaction with, 206
 no mechanism between social structure and interaction with, 205–206
 no social emergence theory with, 206–207, 212 problems of, 201, 205–207, 210, 224
 socioculturalists and, 201 symbolic interactionism of, 199 interaction ritual chain, 181 interactive determinism, 212 interdisciplinary study, 7, 11, 14 interference, 174–175
 internalization, 135, 137 Internet, 146
 interpenetration, 13, 139–140 interplay, 139
 interpretivism, 142, 143 agency and, 207–209
 contemporary, 209, 210–223
 downward causation and, 217
 Emergence Paradigm rejected by, 213 reductionism opposed by, 209
 rejection of, 225
 social causation and, 208, 209
 intersubstitutability, 95 intrinsically determined component, 12
 introspectionism, 28, 48
 IPD. See iterated prisoner’s dilemma irreducible systems, 4, 44, 119, 129, 228 characteristics of, 94–97 complexity of interaction in, 97
 localization of, 96–97

- near decomposability of, 95–96
 non-aggregativity of, 95–96 wild disjunction, supervenience and, 94 iterated prisoner's dilemma (IPD), 154–155, 167
- James, W., 30, 35, 40, 202
Journal of Artificial Societies and Social Simulation, 145
- Kaplan, F., 155–156, 157
 Kauffman, S.A., 3, 14–15, 16
 Keat, R., 49
 Kim, J., 69–70, 71, 72, 83
 King, A., 193
 critique of critical realism by, 88
 Köhler, W., 33, 34–35
 Kontopoulos, K.
 heterarchical emergence of, 85–86
 KQML, 173
 Kraus, S., 77
- Lang, G.E., 215
 Lang, K., 215
 language(s). See also multi-agent
 simulation languages acquiring, 155–156
 agent communication, 173–176
 CORMAS, 163, 164, 165 multi-level simulation, 163–165 SDML, 163 sophisticated, 4
 language shift, 3
 Latané, B., 151, 157–158, 162
 lattice network, 159
 Lave, J., 133–134, 136, 137
 Lawler, E., 204, 216
 Lawrence, J.A., 135
 Layder, D., 128–131, 212
 Le Bon, G., 39
 learning, 125, 133, 135, 137 artificial society, communication and, 155
 situated, 136
 Levesque, H.J., 177
 Levi-Strauss, 193
 Lévy-Bruhl, L., 48
 Lewes, G.H., 30, 32, 39, 64, 73, 79
 Lewin, Kurt, 35
 lifelines, 175
 Lilienfeld, 34
 linguistic anthropology, 117 Living Systems (Miller), 14–15 localizability functional, 13
 localization, 4, 96–97
Logic (Mill), 31, 39 logical positivism, 73
 lower levels, 2, 212
 law reduced to, 67
 Luckmann, T., 200
 Luhman, N., 14–15
 Lukes, S., 116
 Durkheim's theory of social emergence
 critiqued by, 111
- MABS. See multi agent based simulation macro phenomena, 153, 158
 macro properties
 microsimulation and, 160–161
 of network, 159–160
 macrosimulation, 148, 149, 156–157, 160–161, 162–167
 macrosocial laws, 71, 200
 macrosocial properties causation of, 186
 equilibrium of, 157–158
 micro-to-macro process in, 6, 168–169
 macrosocial structure
 artificial society, mutual relations of individual action and, 162–167
 macrosociology, 8, 210
 inseparability issues in, 142–143
 microsociology v., 79
 macrostructure, 221–222
 Macy, M.W., 159–160
 Markovskiy, B., 167, 204, 216
 Marx, K., 75, 77, 84–85, 113, 114, 115, 120, 127, 133, 193, 205, 208
 MAS. See multi agent systems mastery, 137
 materialism, 30, 31, 33, 35, 49, 53–54, 58, 61 emergentism as form of, 59, 62
 epiphenomenalist, 36
 nonreductive, 37, 65–66, 102–103
 synchronic emergent powers, 80–81
 materialized social fact, 117, 221
 Maturana, H., 14–15, 16, 20
 Matusov, E., 137
 Mayhew, B.H., 17, 101, 161, 193, 194, 196
 McClelland, J.L., 51
 McCulloch, W., 12
 McLaughlin, B.P., 71
 Mead, G.H., 33, 36–37, 127, 128, 143, 199, 202
 mechanical causation, 31 mechanism, 1–2, 92–94
 mediated action, 134

270 Index

- mediated means, 134
Mellars, P.A., 152
Menger, C., 1–2, 43, 74 mental causation, 69–70, 92 mental phenomena, 108 Merton, R.K., 229
metaphysical atomism, 109
metapragmatics, 170, 180–181 improvised dialogue and, 182–187 methodological collectivism, 63 methodological individualism, 4, 7, 8, 10, 17
 artificial society and, 156, 168, 187
 coining of, 42
 concept of, 78
 critique of critical realism by, 89–90
 definition of, 6, 30
 economics and, 24, 41–42, 228
 emergence history, economics and, 41–42
 in Emergence Paradigm, 212–213 individual-to-social emergence in, 73–76
 interpretivism opposing, 209
 micro-to-macro processes in, 64
 network theory and, 195
 ontological individualism and, 77–78 rational choice theory of, 49
 rejection of, 194
 social causation of, 157–158
 socioculturalism and, 6–7, 55–56, 126, 133, 140
 structuration theory and, 128–130, 131–132
 of Structure Paradigm, 192, 195
 supervenience compatible with, 66 methodological relationism, 204 microeconomics, 17, 184, 225–229
microgenesis, 140
microinteraction, 116, 117–118, 196
microlevel, 221–222
micro-macro link, 53–54, 56–57, 93, 204
 artificial society and, 163–165
 collective phenomena, individuals and, 63 as collective phenomena, 6
 definition of, 6
 Emergence Paradigm and, 210–212
micro-macro relations
 in artificial society, 156, 163–165, 168–169
 for COT, 163–165, 168 designer imposed artificial society, 165 in MAS, 150
microsimulation, 147, 149
 macro properties and, 160–161
 microsocial properties, 68
 microsociology, 8, 181–182, 210
 macrosociology v., 79
 microstructures, 216 micro-to-macro, 6
 in methodological individualism, 64
 social causation, 157
Mies, 7
Mill, J.S., 31, 39, 43, 73, 74, 195
Miller, J., 14–15, 20, 22
MIMOSE, 164
mind, 37, 140
 philosophy of, 60
 society of, 46
Morgan, C.L., 32, 33, 41, 53
morphogenetic dualism, 82–84, 92–93, 193
morphogenetic processes, 17 multi agent based simulation (MABS), 149 multi agent systems (MAS), 11, 23, 76, 102, 161 ACL, 173
 agents and, 146, 147, 150, 152
 in artificial societies, 145, 146–148, 150 autonomous agents in, 146, 147 cognitive agents in, 148 COT, 164
 definition of, 2, 25
 developers of artificial societies, theories and, 147–148 distributed artificial intelligence in, 146 EBM differences and techniques of, 149–150 microsimulation, macrosimulation and, 147 network analysis for, 162
 norm's spontaneous emergence and, 154, 165–166 object-oriented programming in, 146
 reactive agents in, 148–149
 social dynamics/micro-macro relations in, 150
 in third wave of systems theory, 25
 trust and cooperation in, 159–160
multi-agent simulation languages, 41 multi-level simulation languages, 163 for computational organization theory, 163–165 multiple opinion clusters, 151 multiple realizability, 60, 67–69, 71, 80 philosophical accounts, individualists and, 77
 realism and, 91

- supervenience supplemented with wildly disjunctive, 68
- wild disjunction in, 67–69
- Murphy, A., 36
- mutual constitution, 118–120, 136
- mutually contingent behavior
- collaborative agents and, 181–182
- naming game, 155
- natural kind terms, 67
- nearly decomposable systems, 13
- neighborhood segregation, 131, 151
- neo-functionalism, 193
- neo-organicism, 19–21
- network
- analysis, 156, 162
 - macro properties of, 159–160
 - size of, 160, 161, 163
 - social dynamics and typology and size, 161
- network exchange theory, 61
- network theory, 61, 158–159, 216
- methodological individualism and, 195
 - reductionism in, 194–195
 - structural determinism and, 194, 196
- network topology, 158–159
- social dynamics, size and, 161, 163
- neuroscience, 58, 62, 75, 102, 108, 223
- New Economic Sociologist, 190
- New England Complex Systems Institute, 22
- non-aggregativity, 95–96
- nondecomposable systems, 13
- nonlinearity, 22
- of chaos theory, 15–16, 18
- nonreductionism, 22, 33, 34–35, 37, 48, 54, 55, 56, 59
- definitional task of, 59
 - emergentism of, 29–31
 - GST and, 17
 - holism and, 28–29
 - psychology, 62
 - second wave and, 16
 - structuralist, 79
- nonreductive individualism, 86, 98, 119
- autonomous social causation in, 70–72
 - downward causation and, 69, 73
 - emergently material social relations and, 84
 - multiple realizability, wild disjunction and, 67–69
 - social causal power and, 80
 - social causation and, 92
 - sociology, emergence in and, 65–73
 - supervenience in, 66, 90
- nonreductive materialism, 37, 65–66, 102–103
- nonreductive mentalism, 37
- norms
- of cooperation, 154–155
 - definition of, 152
 - designer imposing, 154
 - emergence of, in artificial society, 152–157
 - in lattice network, 159
 - shared, 153
 - spontaneous emergence of, 154
- novel, 4
- Nowak, A., 151, 157–158, 162
- Nunes, J.H.T., 177
- objectivism, 61
- object-oriented programming (OOP), 146
- ontological emergence, 83
- ontological individualism, 49, 80, 82, 91
- methodological individualism and, 77–78
 - in nonreductive individualism, 66
- ontology. See also dualist ontology
- connectionism, higher level emergent and issues of, 54–55
 - of individual, and methodological individualism, 195
 - individual and structure, autonomy with hybrid theories, 196–197
 - monistic, 58
 - process, 125, 126, 127–128, 129–130, 132–135, 143
 - social, 118–120, 124
 - society primary in, for structural determinism, 193–194
 - socioculturalism, higher level emergent and issues of, 53–54
- OOP. See object-oriented programming
- open systems, 17
- opportunistic planning, 50
- order, problem of, 152–153, 156
- organicism, 1, 19–21, 29, 33, 41, 47, 104
- Ossowski, S., 174
- parallelism, 175
- Park, R.E., 215
- Parsons, T., 1, 10, 16, 22, 33, 58, 74, 101, 123, 193, 230
- Durkheim's theory of social emergence critiqued by, 108–110
 - emergence history and, 41–42
 - problem of order of, 152–153, 156
 - structural functionalism of, 12–14, 42
 - voluntarism of, 115

Cambridge University Press

0521606373 - Social Emergence: Societies as Complex Systems

R. Keith Sawyer

Index

More information

272 Index

- participation antithesis, 137
- Pêcheux, M., 204–205, 206
- Peirce, 202
- performatives, 173
- philosophical accounts of emergence
 - individualist theories of emergence v., 76–78
- philosophy, contemporary, 100–101
- philosophy of mind, 101, 124
- philosophy of science, 2, 4, 33, 35, 65
- The Philosophy of the Present* (Mead), 36
- physicalism, 28
- physicalist antireductionism, 111
- physics of biology, 15
- Piaget, J., 37–38, 46
- political systems, 220
- Popper, K., 7, 77
- Porpora, D., 113, 193
 - emergently material social relations of, 84
- positivism, 39
 - rejection of, 203
- power
 - inseparability and, 142
 - social causal, 79–80
- pragmatism, 35, 37
- preservative irrealism, 70
- Prigogine, I., 17–19, 86
- prisoner's dilemma problem, 154–155, 159–160, 161
- problem of order, 152–153, 156
- process ontology, 125, 126, 127–128, 129–130, 132–135, 143
 - situated practice and, 134–135
- protocols, 175–176
- psychology, 140
 - developmental, 132
 - Emergence Paradigm influence on, 223
 - implicit reductionism in, 62
- psychology, emergence in, 31–38, 46–47
 - of British emergentism, 31–33
 - cognitive science, 37–38
 - connectionism and, 51–52
 - connectionism, higher level emergent and, 52–53, 54–55, 58–59
 - contemporary cognitive science in, 50–52
 - definitional task of, 59, 61
 - gestalt psychology, 33, 35
 - higher level causation and, 48, 57
 - higher level emergent, ontological issues and, 53–55
 - holism, higher level/lower level independence and, 55–57, 59
 - pragmatism and symbolic interactionism, 35, 37
 - socioculturalism, higher level emergent and, 52–54, 55–57, 59
 - unresolved issues with, 52–53
- Pullberg, S., 208
- Pynadath, D.V., 180
- quantum mechanics, 59, 73
- Radar-Soar, 165
- radical mechanism, 32
- radical sociology, 202
- rational (actor) agent, 150, 158, 159
- rational choice theory, 49, 63, 74, 75–76, 93, 171, 195–196, 226–227, 228
- Ray, T., 160
- reactive agents
 - from artificial life, 148–149, 171
 - communication in, 170–172
- realism. See also critical realism; social realism
 - anti, 90
 - higher-level, 91
 - supervenience and, 90, 91
 - transcendental, 80–82
- realists, sociological, 17, 49, 54, 57–58, 59, 82, 87
 - causation in, 91–92
 - rejection of, 63
- recurrent social practices, 128
- reductionism, 4, 16, 34–35, 39, 42, 54, 57, 59. See also methodological individualism
 - artificial society and, 187–188
 - of atomism, 27–28
 - emergentism and, 29–30
 - holism and, 28–29
 - interactional, 49, 200, 201–203
 - interpretivism opposing, 209
 - in network theory, 194–195
 - psychology's implicit, 62
 - reductionist physicalism, 67–68
- reification, 80
- religious idea, 118
- renewable resources, 163
- Renouvier, 40, 104, 112
- repetitive patterns of behavior, 216
- resultants, 32, 34
- Richardson, R.C., 108
- Ridgeway, C., 204, 216
- Ritzer, G., 194–195, 204, 207
- robust causal compatibilism, 70
- Rogoff, B., 47, 62, 134, 136–139, 140, 141
- roles, 175

- The rules of sociological method* (Durkheim), 40, 81, 101, 104, 107, 110, 111–112, 113–114, 115, 122
- Rumelhart, D.E., 51
- Santa Fe Institute, 8, 14, 19, 21, 24, 41, 102
- Schäffle, 34
- Schegloff, E.A., 203
- Schelling, T.C., 131, 145, 151
- Schmaus, W., 106
- Schumpeter, 42
- Scientism and the Study of Society* (Hayek), 43–44
- SDML languages, 163
- second order emergence, 172–173
- second wave of social systems theory, 14, 19. See also chaos theory; General Systems Theory
- aspects of, 23
- biological models of, 20
- complexity, 15
- dissipative structures of, 17–19
- dynamical systems of, 15–16
- higher levels independence of, 22
- inadequacy of, 26
- nonlinearity of, 16
- nonreductionism and, 16
- open systems in, 17
- self organizing, 16, 19
- self-distribution, dynamical, 34
- self-interest, 227
- separation, inclusive and exclusive, 135, 139–142
- Serrano, J.M., 174
- SharedPlans, 78–87, 179–180
- Shweder, R.A., 133
- Sidner, C., 179
- Simmel, G., 29, 199, 216
- simple majority function, 155, 171
- with communication on success, 172
- situated practice, 134–135, 140, 141
- situated robotics, 50–51
- indirect emergence in, 52
- situated social practice, 216
- situated symbolic interaction, 226–227, 228
- Skvoretz, J., 159–160
- Smith, A., 195
- Social Behavior* (Homans), 64, 75
- social causation, 59, 69, 70, 81–82
- artificial society and, 157–158, 162, 168
- autonomous, 70–72
- collective emergentists and, 92
- Durkheim's, 69
- individual and, 223
- interpretivism and, 208, 209
- methodological individualism, 157–158
- nonreductive individualism and, 80, 92
- power, 79–80
- realist emergentists perspective on, 91–92
- with Structure Paradigm, 197, 212
- supervenience and, 91–92
- social change, in artificial society, 156, 159
- social constraint, 71
- social currents, 116, 117–118, 123, 220–221
- social dynamics, 113–114
- of artificial society, 150
- network topology, size and, 161
- social emergence
- as central phenomenon of social sciences, 189–190
- Interaction Paradigm and no theory of, 201, 206–207, 212
- mutual relations of individual action, macrosocial structure, artificial society and, 162–167
- norms, artificial society and, 152–157
- social structure, artificial society and, 151–152
- sociological theory, implications of artificial society and, 167–169
- structural phenomena on individual, artificial society and, 157–162
- Structure Paradigm and no theory of, 197–198
- social facts, 105, 107, 109, 112
- causal powers independent of individual agency, 113–114
- materialized, 117
- social impact, 151
- social knowledge, 167
- social mechanism, 196
- social milieu, 106–107, 114–116, 121–122, 123
- social ontology, 118–120, 124
- social order, 115, 116
- social phenomena, 43, 63, 89, 105–106
- social realism, 11, 17, 43–44, 85
- analytical dualism and, 83–84
- rejection of, 89–90, 200
- structuration theory and, 130
- social reality, 109
- social sciences
- social emergence as central phenomenon of, 189–190

274 Index

- social structure, 138
 artificial society, macrosimulation and, 156–157 duality of, 128
 no mechanism between interaction and, with Interaction Paradigm, 205–206 social, Structure Paradigm, individual and, 192–193 social substratum, 106–107, 115
 social system, 208
The Social System (Parsons), 12, 22, 42 social systems, 26
 not physically visible, 26 subjectivity of individual in, 26 social variables, 44, 228 sociality, 36
 society, 109, 120
 as complex, 1 macro variables of, 2
 materialized, 117, 221
 not just sum of individuals, 103
 as ontological phenomenon, 193–194
 supervenience of, to individuals, 81–82 society of mind, 46
 sociocultural psychology. See socioculturalism socioculturalism, 223
 analytic dualism and, 54 collective representation of, 48
 ecological/social influence approach of, 126 event/situated action level of analysis of, 47 focus of, 46–47
 higher level causation and, 57, 59
 higher level emergent issues and, 52–54 higher level emergent ontological issues in, 53–54
 holism, higher level/lower level independence and, 55–57, 59
 inseparability, macrosociology issues and, 142–143 inseparability of individual and social in, 126–127, 135–142
 Interaction Paradigm and, 201
 methodological individualism and, 6–7, 55–56, 126, 133, 139
 methodological issue in, 59
 micro-macro link in, 53–54, 56–57
 process ontology of, 126, 132–135, 143
 situated practice of, 134–135, 140, 141
 structuration theory and, 54
 sociological inflows, 19 Sociological Studies, 38
 sociology autonomy of, 69
 as basic science of social emergence, 189–190, 191 Emergence Paradigm, economics and, 225–229 failure of, 225
 history of, 191–192
 microeconomics and, 225–229
 non-focus on social emergence, 190 situated symbolic interaction studied by, 226–227, 228
 symbolic communication and, 8
Sociology and modern systems theory (Buckley), 14, 15 sociology, emergence in (social) causation in, 91–92
 collectivist theories of, 78–87, 90
 confusion in, 64–65
 downward causation and, 69, 73
 in French sociology founding, 38–41
 individualist theories of, 73–78, 90
 irreducible systems in, 4, 94–97
 King's critique of critical realism of, 88
 mechanism in, 92–94
 relation to methodological individualism in economics, 41–42
 multiple realizability, wild disjunction and, 67–69
 nonreductive individualism and, 65–73
 Parsons and, 41–42
 realism in, 90–91
 social phenomena, micro-macro link and, 63–64 structurationist critiques of, 87–88
 unresolved issues for, 90–97
 Souter, R.W., 190
 Spaulding, E., 32
 Spencer, H., 102–103, 108, 110, 111–112, 114, 115, 120
 Sperry, R.W., 37 stable emergents
 Level D, 210–212, 214–217
 Level E, 219–221
 Standard American Sociology, 193
 state space, 18
 STEAM system, 180
 Steels, L., 155–156, 157
 strategy update function, 155, 171 strong emergence, 72
 structural determinism communication lacking in, 195
 network theory and, 194, 196
 society primary in, 193–194
 of Structure Paradigm, 192, 193–195

- structural functionalism, 1, 12–14, 42, 193
 AGIL in, 13
 artificial society, social change and, 156
 aspects of, 23
 cybernetics and, 12
 decomposable structures in, 12–13
 functional localizability in, 13 hierarchical structures in, 12, 14
 inadequacy of, 26
 structural phenomena, 157–162
 structuration theory, 49, 54, 80, 110, 142, 186, 208 Archer's criticism of, 116, 139–140
 artificial society and, 161
 contextual influences of, 130–131 critique of sociological emergence by, 87–88
 elisionism and, 125–126, 127, 132
 failings/criticisms of, 88, 116, 139–140, 143
 methodological individualism and, 128–130, 131–132
 process ontology in, 127–128, 129–130 social realism and, 130
The Structure of Social Action (Parsons), 12, 41 Structure Paradigm, 191–192, 198, 214, 215
 downward causation and, 217, 219
 Emergence Paradigm and problems of, 210, 224
 emergents influence on interaction in, 219
 hybrid theories within, 193, 194, 196–197 individual, social and, 192–193
 methodological individualism in, 192, 195
 problems with, 197–198, 199, 210, 224, 229
 social causation with, 197, 212
 structural determinism of, 192, 193–195 structural sociologists, 194
 Stryker, S., 204
 subjectivism, 61, 123, 124, 125–126, 197
 Emergence Paradigm and rejected by, 213
 Sugarscape, 171
sui generis, 104–105, 111
Suicide (Durkheim), 40, 101, 104, 115, 116 supervenience, 31, 56, 71. See also
 ontological individualism
 as anti-realism, 90 collectivist theories of emergence and, 86–87
 downward causation and, 69–70
 of higher levels, 29
 irreducible systems and, 94
 methodological individualism compatible with, 66
 in nonreductive individualism, 66, 90
 part-whole concept of, 83
 realism and, 91
 social causation and, 91–92
 of societies to individuals, 81–82
 synchronic emergent powers materialism and, 81 wildly disjunctive multiple realizability supplementing, 68 supervenient causation, 70 supranational entities, 151 swarm intelligence, 5, 41
 Swedberg, R., 229 symbol-generating agent, 94 symbolic communication, 117–118, 199
 economics and, 190
 sociology and, 8
 in third wave of systems theory, 25
 symbolic interactionism, 36, 199 Symons, J., 84–85
 synchronic emergent powers materialism, 80–81
 system dynamics multi-level simulation languages in, 163 System of Positive Philosophy (Comte), 39
 Tambe, M., 179
 Tannen, D., 214
 Tarde, G. de, 29, 38, 39, 74, 113, 118, 119
 Taylor, C., 61, 209
 teamwork
 disagreement resolution with, 180–181
 improvisation with, 178, 180–181, 182–183, 186 temporality, 84, 89, 92, 93 tertiary artifacts, 138 theater groups, 182–186
 theoretical convergence, 230
 thermodynamics laws, 17, 28, 73, 86 third wave of systems theory, 8. See also complexity theory
 aspects of, 23
 communication in, 25

276 Index

- third wave of systems theory (cont.) computer technology development for, 2, 21
 emergence, complexity and, 21–26
 macro variables of, 2
 multi agent systems in, 25
 value of, 26
 Titchener, E.B., 28, 34
 token identity thesis, 66
 transcendental realism, 80–82
 transportation, 221–222
 trust, 159–160
- unit act, 42
 University of Michigan Center for the Study of Complex Systems, 8 Urry, J., 49
 utility equation, 190
- Valsiner, J., 135, 138, 139, 140
 Varela, C.R., 88
 Varela, F., 14–15, 16, 20
 vitalism, 29, 32–33, 53
 voluntarism, 80, 109, 112, 115, 121, 166
- von Bertalanffy, L., 14, 17, 19
 Vygotsky, L., 47–49, 126, 135, 137, 143, 201, 202
- Walker, A., 172
 Watkins, J.W.N., 43–44, 195
 Watson, J.B., 28
 Weber, M., 26, 74, 123
 Wenger, E., 133–134, 136, 137
 Wertheimer, 35, 37
 Wertsch, J.V., 62, 134, 137, 138
 Wheeler, W.M., 40, 41
 Whitehead, A.N., 33, 36, 127
 Wiener, N., 1, 12
 wild disjunction, 67–69, 71, 80, 90, 97
 irreducible systems and, 94
 philosophical accounts, individualists
 and, 77
 realism and, 91
 Wiley, N., 198, 207
 Wimsatt, W.C., 95–96
 Winch, P., 200
 Wooldridge, M., 172
 Wundt, W., 28, 30, 34