	Culturally appropriate questioning strategies	70
	Pilot-testing the discussion guide	71
	Key terms	73
	Checklist in designing the discussion guide	74
4	Training the focus group team	75
	Introduction	75
	The importance of training	76
	Who to train	79
	Moderator	79
	Note-taker	80
	Transcriber	82

	Field staff	84
	Training manual	84
	Components of training	85
	Research objectives	86
	Focus group methodology	86
	Discussion guide	87
	Role-play sessions	87
	Research context and study population	90
	Equipment operation	90
	Training schedule	90
	Key terms	91
	Summary of key issues	91
5	Participant recruitment	93
	Introduction	93
	What is participant recruitment?	94
	Defining the participants	95
	Screening questionnaire	96
	Recruitment strategies	98
	Using a list	99
	Telephone recruitment	101
	Events or professional organisations	101
	Social gathering points	102
	Services	102
	‘Snowball’ recruitment	103
	Advertisements and notices	103
	Professional screening agencies	104
	Community recruitment	104
	Identify community ‘gatekeepers’	108
	Identify a group location	109
	Seek assistance with recruitment	110
	Recruitment of participants	112
	Conduct the group discussion	113
	Debrief gatekeeper(s)	113
	Key terms	114
	Summary of key issues	114
6	Group composition	115
	Introduction	115

	Stranger groups vs. acquaintance groups	116
	Pre-existing or acquaintance groups	117
	Groups of strangers	120
	Fieldwork challenges	122
	Homogenous group composition	124
	Moderator characteristics	128
	Fieldwork challenges	129
	Demographic characteristics	129
	Personal relationships	130
	Power relationships	132
	Key terms	133
	Checklist for group composition	134
7	Number of groups and group size	135
	Introduction	135
	Group size	136
	Managing group size during fieldwork	139
	Managing many participants	139
	Use a screening questionnaire	140
	Conduct simultaneous group discussions	141
	Prior selection of participants	141
	Use a 'door-guard'	142
	Conduct a 'dummy' discussion group	142
	Managing few participants	143
	Timing of the discussion groups	144
	Specific sub-groups	144
	Number of groups	145
	Segmentation of the study population	146
	Information saturation	149
	Key terms	150
	Summary of key issues	150
8	Focus group location	152
	Introduction	152
	Physical location	153
	Access	153
	Venue	155
	Outdoor locations	156
	Discouraging onlookers	158

	Internal environment	160
	Neutral location	160
	Seating arrangements	162
	Key terms	163
	Summary of key issues	164
9	Conducting the group discussion	165
	Introduction	165
	Roles of the focus group team	166
	Note-taker	166
	Assistant	168
	Moderator	168
	Process of group moderation	171
	Pre-discussion	172
	Introductory stage	173
	Central discussion stage	175

11	Data preparation and analysis	204
	Introduction	204
	Principles of data analysis	205
	Level of data analysis varies	206
	Analysis is an ongoing process	206
	Remain close to the data during analysis	207
	Analysis is circular, not linear	207
	Analysis is systematic and rigorous	207
	Analysis can be verified	208
	Process of data analysis	209
	Stage 1: Data preparation	210
	Transcribing the discussion	210
	Translating the transcripts	214
	Clean, label and anonymise data	218
	Stage 2: Identifying themes in the data	220
	What is a theme?	221
	Identifying themes	221
	Stage 3: Label data by themes	226
	Stage 4: Using the framework for analysis	227
	Descriptive analysis	228
	Theory development	230
	Synthesis of findings	232
	Key terms	233
	Summary of key issues	234
12	Reporting focus group research	235
	Introduction	235
	Reporting focus group research	236
	Identify the purpose and audience	236
	Identify the key messages	238
	Structure and format	238
	Using data extracts	240
	Reporting without extracts	243
	Listing or ranking issues	243
	Presenting process information	244
	Conceptual frameworks	244
	Typologies	245
	Descriptive case studies	245
