

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-62129-8 - Mastering the Market: The State and the Grain Trade in Northern France, 1700-1860

Judith A. Miller

Index

More information

Index

- Aftalion, Florin, 140
- agricultural sector: crop successes and failures during eighteenth century, 41, 44–6, 58, 117; during Napoleonic regime, 203–4; post-Revolution performance, 203–4
- agronomes* (reformers), 46–7
- Amiens, 20, 273
- Anglès (Prefect of Police), 240, 245, 249–52
- Arrêt du conseil*: of 1754, 51, 60, 75n13; of 23 December 1770, 45, 111; of 13 September 1774 (and subsequent arrêt of 2 November 1774), 45, 72–3, 77; of 23 April 1789, 117
- assays: of grain, flour, and bread (1819–20), 262; by municipal authorities, 36; tarif revision based on, 96–7
- assemblies, provincial: creation of (1787), 118
- Aumale, 20, 32n12, 81, 88
- authorities, local: bread price control in urban areas, 93–5; controls during Revolution (1789), 125–8; in Flour War, 85–9; free trade definition of neutrality of, 78–9, 85–9; under government controls (1789), 117; incentives and force for grain sellers, 43, 51; role in promotion of free trade, 111–13; role in supervising grain trade, 22, 29, 31–2; shaping supply and demand (1757), 59; simulated grain sales strategy, 56–8; subsistence committees (1789), 123–5
- bakers: effect of bread price ceilings on (1853–5), 11; effect of tarif revisions on (1770s, 1780s), 96–7, 99, 101–6; government control of numbers of (1853–5), 288, 292; government methods to control number of (1807 to 1820s), 273–5; profits related to bread quality, 96–9; rules related to grain and flour storage and use, 275–8; supply requirement during Republic and Second Empire, 285–6; supply requirements during July Monarchy, 283–4
- bakers' guilds: price differential from non-guild bread, 35; reestablishment (1810), 272–3; reinstatement of (1778), 111
- baking trade See also bread prices; grain prices: government controls (1760s, 1770s), 94–5; government jurisdiction in Paris over, 273–4; liberalism during July Monarchy, 282–3; maintenance of flour supplies, 272; rationale for regulation of, 93–5; recommendation in Paris to reorganize, 278; regulation by police, 94–5; timing of bread price changes in reforms of, 280
- Begouën, J. F., 120, 123
- Benezech (Minister of the Interior), 166
- Bequel, 112
- Bergeron, Louis, 200n10, 202n17, 205n25, 207n33, 253n48
- Bertin, Henri-Léonard-Jean Baptiste, 65, 111
- Beugnot (Prefect of the Seine-Inférieure), 208
- Bidermann, 139n26, 202
- blatiers*, 29, 32n11, 40, 81, 86, 89, 148–9
- boisseau*, xv, 32
- Boissy d'Anglas, François-Antoine, 166
- Bolbec, 20, 130, 255–6
- bonus payments: to bakers under Napoleon's regime (1811), 215–16; to counter shortages (1789), 130, 137; for imported grain under Turgot's regime, 74; to merchants bringing grain from outside the province, 65; proposed to meet grain shortages (1792), 139

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-62129-8 - Mastering the Market: The State and the Grain Trade in Northern France, 1700-1860

Judith A. Miller

Index

More information

INDEX

- Bordeaux, 52–3, 59, 273
 Bordier, 122
 Bouton, Cynthia, 3n2, 17n39, 41n34, 42n35, 46n49, 105n22, 293n1 bread price ceilings See also Maximums: in Paris (1853), 11; Rouen (1792), 144; of the Terror (Year II), 155–6 bread prices See also taxe du pain, or bread price controls: based on reliable price schedules, 262–3; based on tarif, 36, 96–7; for bread of differing quality, 36, 38; ceiling (1853–5), 11, 286–7; control in Old Regime over, 35–40; differences between guild and non-guild, 35; under dual system (système mixte), 241–4; as function of price of wheat, 94, 97–100; during July Monarchy, 282–4; Napoleon's response to grain shortages (1811–12), 215–35; price controls in Paris (1775), 104–5; price schedules following market, 279; proposal for new method, 259; rationing by raising price, 91; under reforms (1821), 263; relation to Reserve supply distribution, 266; during shortages (1853–6), 287–8; subsidized, 244–5, 268–9; tarif list of, 35–40; taxe du pain as, 14, 36; Turgot's order for bakers to set, 104–5; using tarif revisions to lower, 99–104 bread price setting: by government officials in nineteenth century, 12; during July Monarchy, 283; by local police, 14, 36, 94–5; by Subsistence Council (1811–12), 216–17 bread quality: differences in prices for different, 36, 38, 96; government role in regulation (1709), 9; loaf size in relation to, 96–9; price of pain de luxe (1853), 288; production and sale of low-quality, 269
 Brown, Howard, 137n19, 163n1, 172n31, 202n15
 Bruguère, Michel, 6n8
 Busche, 268
 Caen, 20, 26n1, 84, 95, 103, 106, 127, 129, 198, 228
 Cahier de Gerville, 135, 137
 Caisse de service de la boulangerie de Paris (1853–63), 12, 287–8, 291
 Caisse syndicale des boulangers de Paris (1817–30): bond auction of, 252, 261; changes in Reserve operation, 257; daily operation of Paris Reserve by, 237, 240, 245, 247, 249–50; decisions related to Reserve supplies, 260–1; dissolves Reserve and liquidates warehouses, 271; inspection of bakeries, 252; plans to distribute flour to bakers, 251–3; price setting by, 250, 270; pricing strategies, 267–8; ration cards distributed by (1828–9), 268–70; reforms (1821), 263; tax revenue for, 246
 Calonne, Charles-Alexandre de, 46, 110, 116
 cantons: under Constitution of Year III, 188; provisioning problems in, 188–93
 Cany, 153, 156–61, 168, 171, 178, 189 capitalism, 15, 17
 Casenave (representative-on-mission), 181–2, 185–7, 194
 Caudebec, 20, 29, 32, 153, 156–61
 Chabrol, 240, 246, 271
 Chaptal, 201, 203
 Charles X (king of France): opposition to, 266; provisioning policies of, 236
 Chaumette, 155
 Chaumont, 59, 79
 Cinq Négociants, 205–7
 Clericy, 86–7
 Clerment-Ferrand, 101–2
 Clugny, Jean-Etienne Bernard de, 103
 Cobb, Richard, 152n77, 165n5
 Cochon, 194
 Collin de Sussy, 212
commissaires, 34
 Commission of Sixteen, 171–2
 Committee of Agriculture and Commerce: replaces Subsistence Committee (1789), 123
 Committee of Agriculture and Trade: demands for controls by, 134–5; proposed reforms and controls (1792), 136
 Committee of Public Safety: with coup of 9 Thermidor, 163; decision related to bread prices in Paris, 139; view of libre circulation, 142 competition: among authorities to sell imported grain (1757), 63–5; among institutions supervising grain trade, 22–3, 34–5; among militias during Revolution, 120–2, 125–6; between cantons and departments under Constitution of Year III, 188–93; of Paris for supplies of grain, 19, 21–2; price wars under 1812 Maximum, 227–8; for supervision of grain trade (1789), 117–20
 Condorcet, M.J.A.N. Caritat, 80
 Constitution of Year III, 182, 188–9, 193
 Continental Blockade, 212
 Convention See National Convention
 corn laws (1819), France, 259

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-62129-8 - Mastering the Market: The State and the Grain Trade in Northern France, 1700-1860

Judith A. Miller

Index

More information

INDEX

- credit: Caisse (1853–61), 12, 287–8, 291–2; during Directory, 166; offered by Caisse de service de la boulangerie de Paris, 287–8, 291–2
- cultivateurs*, 29n6, 44n39, 81, 171, 175–6, 178, 184, 255
- Daguesseau, 57
- Dardel, Pierre, 22n49, 36n22, 66n54
- Darnétal, 149
- de Belleyme, 267–8
- Decazes, Elie, 262, 275–6, 279–80
- Declaration: of 23 May 1763, 46–6; of 17 June 1787, 110–111, 116
- de Courson, 51
- Decree of 22 June 1863, 295
- de Fontenay, Pierre-Nicolas, 120, 138, 144, 147
- de Fraconville, 87–8, 106, 111
- Delessart, Claude-Antoine V., 135, 137
- de Martainville, 123
- departments: under Constitution of Year III, 188–9, 191–2
- Des Ervolus, 112, 128n39
- Desmarests, Nicolas, 9–10, 12, 22, 50–2, 58
- d'Herbouville, 123, 126
- Dieppe, 20, 80, 113, 151, 153–61, 171, 189, 238, 256, 289
- Directory, the See also National Convention, Thermidorian: economic history of, 164–8; establishment of (1794), 163; failure of, 195; lectures on political economy under, 165; reestablishment of free market (1797), 183
- Doré, 84, 89–90, 97, 106
- Dorian, 78, 97
- dual system (système mixte): of bread pricing (1816), 241; organizing, 244–6; proposed reform of, 257–60; ration cards under, 245–6, 248
- Dubois, Louis Nicolas (Prefect of Police), 214, 230
- Duclair, 20, 32, 185, 189, 191, 256
- Duport (representative-on-mission), 168, 177–8, 180–1
- economic policy See also price ceilings; price setting; provisioning policy; subsistence policies; taxe du pain; trade policy.: mid-eighteenth-century debates and reforms, 47–9; of Napoleon, 200–201; pursued by Napoleon's public administrators, 202–3; reforms in finance and banking (1806), 210; related to libre circulation (1751, 1754), 60–1; of the Terror, 155–6
- Eden Treaty (1786), 116
- Edict of July 1764, 44
- Elbeuf, 20, 32, 79, 81, 132, 146, 222, 238, 256, 277
- elections: outcome of Estates General (1789), 119–21; of 1792, 146
- Estates General, 119–21
- Etrepagny, 127
- Eure-et-Loir, 223, 234, 283n71, 285
- Evreux, 20, 127, 161, 277, 285
- exports of grain: (1810), 212–13; under Bonaparte (1805–6); effect (1768), 44; law restricting (1792), 142; under Louis XVI, 110–11; as response to adequate grain supplies (1787), 116–17; in Year X, 205
- famine (1768), 44
- Fauville, 189
- Fécamp, 20, 148, 179, 193, 289
- Feray, 68–6, 73
- fermiers*, 40, 82
- Feydeau de Brou, Charles-Henri, 59, 61–5, 67, 108
- flour: distribution from Paris Reserve (1811), 215–24
- flour price ceilings: of the Terror (Year II), 155–6
- flour sales: from Paris Reserve (1811–12), 218–23; third-party (1811–12), 219–26
- Flour War, 45, 73, 75, 79, 88; continued sales during, 111; local officials in, 85–9; riots in Paris during (1775), 104–5
- food riots: 1791, 135–6; during shortages (1838–9), 282; throughout France (1789), 118
- Fox-Genovese, Elizabeth, 44n41, 45n46
- François de Neutchâteau, Nicolas Louis, 165–6
- free trade: acceptance during July Monarchy, 283; attempts to rely on (1816), 241–4; authorities use of narrow definition of, 85–9; effect on eighteenth-century markets, 81–5; factors in move toward, 263; failure in eighteenth century, 43–9; fears related to, 174; idea of master of the price in, 78–81; idea of neutrality in definition of, 78; ideas of Turgot and Smith, 72, 75–7, 165; influence of simulated sales on eighteenth century, 71; legislation (1763), 65; legislation of National Assembly (1789), 125–8; legislation (1760s), 26, 62; marketplace definition of, 91; policy during Restoration, 238; pre-Revolution attempts to dilute policies of, 104–7; redefinition by government authorities, 93; as result

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-62129-8 - Mastering the Market: The State and the Grain Trade in Northern France, 1700-1860

Judith A. Miller

Index

More information

INDEX

- free trade (cont.)
of state's intervention, 300; role of authorities in promotion of, 111–13; theories in eighteenth century related to, 52–3; Turgot's policies of, 45–6; working definition in eighteenth century, 77–92, 107
- free-trade decrees (1763, 1774): government authorities using taxes and tarifs to lessen, 95–104; reform related to, 43–4, 49, 93; reversal (1770) and reinstatement (1774), 44–6
- free-trade policy See also libre circulation: decree of 29 August (1789), 125–8, 133; effect under Turgot, 81–92; Napoleon's rejection of, 200; under Necker (1787–88), 117–19; reestablished under Directory (Year V), 183; under Restoration government, 241–6
- Frochet (Prefect of the Seine Department), 214, 253
- Gaillefontaine, 87
- gard champêtre*, 194–5
- Girardin (Prefect of the Seine-Inférieure), 227, 231–3, 238, 273, 275
- Gisors, 20, 76, 86, 127
- Gournay, 20, 84, 86, 156–61, 189, 191, 193
- Gournay, Jean-Claude M. V. de, 60
- government See also public administration: control of food supply during Restoration, 280–2; control of grain trade during Old Regime, 40–3; imports and sales of grain (1757), 61–3, 67–8; problems of grain distribution in eighteenth century, 25; provisioning policies in eighteenth century, 26; regulation of eighteenth- and nineteenth-century baking trade, 12–15; reorganization of grain trade in nineteenth century, 11–12; requisitioning of grain for redistribution (1794–5), 174–83; role in grain shortages (1709, 1853), 8–11; sales of grain and flour (1801–2), 209; simulated grain sales (1763), 65–71; simulated sales of grain (1700s), 56–8, 63–6; underselling of grain (1750s), 56
- grain: Crown support for free circulation of, 50–1; eighteenth-century problems of distribution, 25; government distribution and sale of imported (1757), 61–3; imports during Napoleonic regime (1801–2), 205–7; libre circulation, 10; post-coup hoarding (1794), 170; riots related to demand for (1795), 179–83
- grain censuses: of Napoleon (1811–12), 225, 228–9; during 1709 shortages, 9; during shortages (1791–2), 136; of the Terror (Year II), 155–62; of Thermidorian Convention (1794), 170
- grain distribution: effect of breakdown of (Year IV), 193–5; of national Subsistence Commission (1793), 157–62; from Paris Reserve (1811), 215–24; under reorganized public administration, 188–93; requisitions and shipments of Thermidorian Convention (1794), 171, 174–86
- grain market: black market in response to Law of 4 Thermidor Year III, 186–7; effect of simulated grain sales (1768, 1772), 67–70; export-related legislation (1787), 110–11, 116; under free trade legislation, 81–5; illegal sales in Upper Normandy, 32; incentives to bring grain to (1757), 65; neutrality of authorities in, 78–9, 85–9; regulation in Upper Normandy, 29, 31–2; Turgot's incentives for, 73–4; Turgot's policies to shape, 73–4; use of simulated sales to influence, 56–8, 63–5
- grain merchants' guild: local authorities with purview of, 34–5; purchasing and guild privileges in Rouen, 32–4; role in eighteenth-century grain trade, 32–4
- grain prices See also grain sales, simulated; master of the price; Maximums; price ceilings; price schedule or tarif; price setting; regulation: ceilings of first grain Maximum, 151–4; influence of government's simulated sales on, 56–8, 70–1; legislation permitting rise in, 173; related to bad harvests (1787–8), 117; related to destruction of crops, 109; relation to harvests in eighteenth century, 46; relation to price of bread, 94, 96–100; response to rising (1768), 67; using grain to shape, 65
- grain reserves: government sales from (1811), 218–20; shift from government to private ownership, 275–8
- grain sales: from government reserves (1811), 218–20; Napoleon's decrees related to, 226–30, 240–1; off-market and resale, 40–1, 44; purchases by government Subsistence Council (1811), 213; restrictions on (1812), 199
- grain sales, simulated: by authorities (1772), 69–70; changes in precision during eighteenth century, 70–1; discontinued during Turgot's tenure, 73; under free-market policies (1700s), 108–10; under

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-62129-8 - Mastering the Market: The State and the Grain Trade in Northern France, 1700-1860

Judith A. Miller

Index

More information

INDEX

- free-trade legislation (1763), 65–71; of government, 56–8; of government's imported supplies (1757), 63–5; prohibited during free-trade reforms, 93; in Rouen (1768), 67–70; Turgot's policy to prohibit, 93
- grain shortages: during Directory, 164; government response to (1757), 58–65; inventories opened to alleviate (1852–5), 12; during Napoleonic regime, 203, 205–12; Napoleon's use of Paris Reserve as response to (1811–12), 215–35; during Old Regime, 56–66; related to poor harvest (1709, 1852–5), 7–8, 25; response to (1791–2), 135–6; during Restoration (1826–9), 264–71; during Revolutionary period, 116, 135, 164; role of Subsistence Council in crisis over (1811–12), 215–35; of Year X, 205, 272
- grain supplies: incentives and funding of local authorities to procure, 53–6; organization by government officials of (1700s), 53–6; Paris in competition for, 19; related to grain exports (1808, 1810), 212–13; scarcity (1709, 1826–9), 8–9, 264, 266–71; shortages during eighteenth century, 41; storage by government authorities, 53–6
- grain trade: control and oversight by municipal authorities in eighteenth century, 22, 29, 31–2, 76–7; effect of free-trade legislation on, 43–9; government intervention to provide free trade, 300; laissez-faire policies (1763–4), 48–9; liberalization (1863), 295–7; policies during Restoration, 236–8; reorganization in nineteenth century, 11
- Grandin, 168
- Grantham, George, 7–8n10, 16–17n37, 204n20
- Guimberteau, 171
- Habermas, Jürgen, 4n5
- Harcourt, Duc d', 63, 67, 89, 112, 121–2
- harvests: deficits (1757), 58; failures during eighteenth century, 41, 44–5, 164; failures during nineteenth-century, 213, 241, 266, 281, 286; good crops during eighteenth century, 46; grain prices related to bad eighteenth century, 46, 117; mixed results of (1780s), 117; shortages related to (1709, 1852–5), 7–8, 25
- Hellot, 275
- Hérault, René, 54–5
- Herbert, Claude-Jacques, 30
- Hirsch, Jean-Pierre, 272, 297
- Hoffman, Philip T., 7n10, 16n37
- Honfleur, 20, 61–2, 63
- Hufton, Olwen, 3n2, 13n26
- Hunt, Lynn, 4n5
- Idéologues*, 200–201
- imports of flour: by Paris Reserve (1811–12), 219–20
- imports of grain: under Bonaparte regime, 205–9, 217–20, 234–5; bonuses paid under Turgot regime for, 74; during the Directory, 166–7; under the Directory (Year III), 182; distribution of (1793), 152–3; duties during Restoration, 259; government sponsored (1757), 61–4, 67–8; limitations related to war with Britain (1793), 143; to meet shortages (1740–5, 1751), 55–6; oversight by Subsistence Council (1811), 214; as part of government's simulated sales policy (1700s), 57–8, 109–10; price setting and competition for, 61–5; reliance by Rouen on, 22; in response to shortages (1709), 8; under Restoration (1816), 240; at Rouen and Paris (1789), 124, 126–7; during shortages (1757), 61–3; simulated sales of government supplies of (1757), 63–5; during Thermidorian Convention (1794), 171
- industrial sector: recession (Year X), 205; recession (1811–12), 212
- institutions: created by Revolution, 133; supervising grain trade, 22–6
- inventories: government orders to drain (1852–5), 12
- Joannin, 70
- Jones, P. M., 5n6, 118n8
- Jourdain, 122
- journaliers*, 29
- July Monarchy: acceptance of free trade during, 283; baking trade liberalism during, 282–3, 291; collapse of, 284
- Kaplan, Steven L., 15, 28n3, 32n12, 43n38, 44n41, 44n42, 45n44, 53n12, 54n13, 55n15, 55n19, 57n22, 58n28, 66n55, 104–5n21, 110
- laboureurs*, 29, 32, 40, 81–2, 84, 88, 89, 255
- La Roche-Guyon, 20, 89, 112
- La Rochelle, 39, 101–3, 223, 285
- Laval, 103
- Laverdy, 66–7, 78, 103
- Law, John, 54

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-62129-8 - Mastering the Market: The State and the Grain Trade in Northern France, 1700-1860

Judith A. Miller

Index

More information

INDEX

- Law: of 29 August 1789, 125–7, 133; of 19–22 July 1791, 138; of 25 September–6 October 1791, 136; of 9 September 1792, 141–2; of 8–10 December 1792, 142–3; of 16–17 Prairial Year III, 182; of 4 Thermidor Year III, 186
- Law of 7 Vendémiaire Year IV: failure of, 185–7; problems posed by, 188–93; requisitioning of grain under, 183–5
- Law of 21 Prairial Year V, 183, 195
- Le Chevallier, 61, 63, 67, 78
- Le Couteux de Canteleu, Jean-Barthélemy, 120
- Le Couteux (widow), 253–6, 293n2
- LeFebvre, George, 3n4, 175n43, 200n9, 212n46, 212–13n50
- legislation: of 19 Brumaire Year III, 173; corn laws (1819), 259; of 8–10 December (1792), 142; eighteenth-century frame work for grain and baking trades, 28–9, 31–2, 34; exports of grain under Louis XVI, 110–11; Maximum of May 1793, 151–4; free trade (1763), 65; free trade (1789), 125; of 4 Nivôse Year III, 175; 3 Pluviôse Year III, 176–7; 4 Pluviôse Year IV, 194; 16–17 Prairial Year II, 182; 21 Prairial Year V, 195; related to bakers' supplies, 275–8; restricting exports of grain or interfering with grain shipments (1792), 142; of 9 September (1792), 141–2; of 25 September–6 October (1791), 136; 4 Thermidor Year III, 186–7; Two-Thirds Decree (Year III), 182; 7 Vendémiaire Year IV, 183–6, 188–9, 193
- LeGoff, T. J. A., 204n20, 205n22
- Le Havre, 20, 32, 61–2, 145, 136n9, 147n59, 148, 222, 256, 277
- Le Houlme, 148–9
- Lemarchand, Guy, 3n1, 21–2n48, 44n41, 45–6n49, 94n3, 118n6, 120n13, 121, 146n55, 161n120, 169n15, 179n65
- Lenoir, 105
- Leporquier, 78, 84
- Le Quinio, Marie-Joseph, 134–5, 137, 141–2, 292
- Les Andelys, 20, 32, 63, 79, 87, 110, 127, 161
- libre circulation*: effect of reimposed policy of (1788), 117–19; of free trade law (1789), 125–8; in idea of free trade, 108; reiteration of policy of (1789–92), 141–43; upheld with abolition of the Maximum (1794), 173–4
- libre circulation* of grain: defined, 10; under free-trade legislation (1789), 125; limitations of, 51; meaning of, 10, 50;
- Napoleon's decree upholds (1812), 226–30; between provinces, 45; support of Crown for, 50–1
- Lindet, Robert, 157
- Lisieux, 20
- Louis XIV (king of France), 9–10
- Louis XV (king of France): orders related to grain exports, 44–5
- Louis XVI (king of France): appointment of Turgot, 45; grain censuses allowed by, 117; law related to grain exports, 110–11, 116
- Louis XVIII (king of France): provisioning policies of, 236; riots during regime of, 236
- Louviers, 88, 127
- Lyons-la-Forêt, 20, 81
- Machault, 50, 52, 55–6
- Maret, 212, 213, 214, 218, 222–3
- markets See also grain market: definitions of free trade in, 77–92; effect of free trade in eighteenth-century, 81–5; free market under Directory (1797), 183; Turgot's policies related to, 72–4
- Marseilles, 103, 273
- Martignac, Jean-Baptiste, Comte de, 266
- master of the price: definitions related to free trade, 78–81, 85–6; seller or owner as, 85–9; sellers' right to be, 86
- Maussion, 118–19, 121
- Maximums: effect of and resistance to (1812), 226–34, 240–1; of May 1793, 150–4, 173; of September 1793, 155–62, 164, 173–4; 1812 price ceilings, 226–30; of 19 Brumaire Year III, 173–4
- Maynon d'Innav, 66
- Méchin, 225
- mercantilism, 15
- merchant houses: moving grain and flour from ports to cities, 253–5; sales under dual pricing system, 242–3
- Meuvret, Jean, 35n19, 41n33
- Meyssonnier, Simone, 52n9, 60n38, 140n30
- militias: actions and rivalry among (1789), 120–2, 125–6; milice bourgeoise, 42–3; response to grain scarcity (1789), 126–7
- Miromesnil, Armand-Thomas Hue de, 67–9, 78, 82, 108
- Montesquieu, Charles de Secondat, 1
- Montvilliers, 20, 153, 157–60, 168, 171, 178, 255
- Montmorency, 86–7
- Moras, 56
- Moreau de Séchelles, 56, 60
- Moriceau, Jean-Marc, 7n10, 16n37, 59n32

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-62129-8 - Mastering the Market: The State and the Grain Trade in Northern France, 1700-1860

Judith A. Miller

Index

More information

INDEX

- Municipal Council, Paris: authority over budgets of Reserve and Caisse, 266–7; bread price ceiling (1853), 286–7; concerns related to bread prices (1828–9), 266–7; reforms (1821), 263; role in bread price setting, 264; role in organizing dual system, 244–6, 261–4, 272; during shortages of 1828–9, 266–7, 271; during shortages of 1853–5, 286–7; role in reorganization of the Caisse, 261
- mutual agreement: in marketplace, 91; price set by, 87–9
- Nantes, 59
- Napoleon Bonaparte: agricultural sector under, 203–4; bread-related policies under regime of (1811), 215–16, 215–35; economic policies of, 200–203; economic views of, 200–201; grain censuses of, 225, 228–9; grain-related policies of, 215–35, 240–1; price wars during regime of, 227–30
- National Assembly: Committee on Agriculture and Trade, 138–42; free trade law (1789), 125–8; free trade legislation (1789), 125; measures to ensure free trade, 135–6
- National Convention: abolition of Maximum (of September 1793–December 1794), 173–4; adjustment of price controls (1794) and requisitioning, 172–3; Agriculture Committee, 151; challenge to policies of, 146–7; controls on bread prices, 143; creation of Revolutionary Army, 155–6; decree related to grain exports, 142–3; economy of the Terror, 155–62; Maximum of May 1793, 150–4; Jacobin actions, 150–1; post-coup controls (1794), 169–70; provisioning system, 171–2; purge of Jacobins by, 168; reforming government after coup of 9 Thermidor, 163; regulation of provisioning activities, 157; requisitioning of grain (1794–5), 174–9; Maximums of September 1793, 155–8, 162
- National Convention, Thermidorian See also Directory, the: Constitution of Year III (1795), 188–9, 192–3; economic policy of, 164–8; libre circulation policy, 183–5; regulations related to requisitions (1795), 176–7; repeal of Maximum (1794), 169–74
- Necker, Jacques: controls ordered by (1789), 117, 126; polices as Controller-General (1787–88), 116–18; reinstatement of guilds, 111; suspension of exports (1777), 46
- négociants*, 34
- Neufchâtel, 20, 80, 175–6, 189, 195
- neutrality: during Flour War, 85–9; of government administrator in the market, 77–8
- Oise, 229, 231
- Old Regime: application of regulations of, 40–3; control of bread prices under, 35–40; demise of, 133; demonized (1793), 149; grain procurement for storage during, 53–6
- Orléans, 68
- Orne, 198
- Orry, Philibert, 55
- Ouvrard, Gabriel-Julien, 167, 202, 207–8, 210
- Paré, Jules-Francois, 147n61
- Paris, 20; Flour War in, 104–7; Subsistence Administration, 155
- Paris Commune: bread price ceilings and subsidies to bakers, 139, 143; militance of (1792), 135
- Paris Reserve: the Caisse changes operations of, 257–8; cereal surcharges as revenue for, 260; conditions for distribution from (1828–9); dissolution of, 271–2; flour sales (1828), 266–70; under government control (1810), 213; government grain and flour supplies in (1801–2, 1809), 209, 211; levels of warehouse supplies, 258; maintenance of stocks and restocking (1815–16), 238–40; oversight during Restoration of, 237; plan to increase grain on hand in, 218; reform in storage and distribution of supplies (1821–30), 263–5; reorganization of (1807), 210; Subsistence Council grain distribution sales from, 218–19; third-party sales from, 219–26; warehouse network, 211–12, 217
- parlements: control of bread prices by, 104; controls on barley by Parlement of Paris (1709), 10; duties related to grain trade, 34; incentives and funding for grain procurement, 53–6; as local authority over grain merchants' guild, 34; Parlement of Rouen as enemy of Louis XVI, 111; response to eighteenth-century tarif revisions, 101; review of tarif, 39–40; role in supervising grain trade, 22
- Pasquier, Etienne-Davis, 213–14, 216, 218, 227

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-62129-8 - Mastering the Market: The State and the Grain Trade in Northern France, 1700-1860

Judith A. Miller

Index

More information

INDEX

- Paterelle, 106, 108
 Paulée, 202
 Perier, Jacques Constantin, 202
 Persson, Karl Gunnar, 48n57
 Physiocrats: argument for lifting grain controls, 48; influence of, 107; specific proposals, 49
 Pinkney, David H., 16n35, 297n18
 Plainpel, Louis, 61, 62, 99, 101
 Planter (merchant), 89–91, 128–9
 police: bread price setting by, 35–6, 104; duties in regulation of grain trade, 34–5; as local authority over grain merchants' guild, 34; rationale for baking trade regulation, 39; regulation of baking trade by, 94–5; schemes to limit bread price increases, 95–6
 Pont-Audemer, 20, 294
 Pontoise, 20, 170n23
 Prefect of Police, Paris: jurisdiction over baking trades, 273–4; role in bread price setting, 270; rules limiting number of bakers, 275
 Prémord, 61–2, 91
 Price, Roger, 16n34
 price ceilings: on cereals (1812), 199; of Maximum of May 1793, 150–4; of 1812 Maximum, 226–30; rejection of idea for grain of (1709), 9–10; of Maximum of September 1793, 155–8, 162; of the Terror (Year II), 155–62 prices: practices to maintain high, 91; price wars under Napoleon's decrees (1812), 227–30; set by mutual agreement, 85–9 price schedule or tarif: from assay (1775), 96–7; Caen bread tarif, 37f; drafting and recalculating of, 36, 39–40; drafting of more accurate, 262–3; effect of revisions in (1770s, 1780s), 96–7, 99, 101–4; to limit bread price increases, 279; national scope of eighteenth-century revisions, 99–104; of Old Regime, 279; police role in drafting, 36; reforms (1819), 279; in setting and changing of bread prices, 36–40; suspension in Rouen (1775), 96 price setting: for bread, 35–6; for bread and grain during Napoleonic regime, 205–8; bread prices (taxe du pain), 36, 38–9, 94–5; buyers' judgment of fair price, 42; under dual system, 242–6; free trade protections against, 80, 91–2; for imported grain (1757), 61–3; during July Monarchy, 283; under market definition of free trade, 91; maximum prices for grain (1812), 226–30, 240–1; proposals for reform of mechanism for, 259; taxation populaire, 42; for third-party sales from Paris Reserve, 219–26 provisioning policy See also subsistence policies: with end of Old Regime (1789), 119–22; with 1789 free trade law, 125–8; for government-sponsored imports (1757), 61–4; initiatives (1789–92), 137–9; of Napoleonic regime, 202–3; network breakdown, 193–5; at opening of the Revolution, 116; of parlements under controls (1789), 117–18; during regimes of Restoration monarchs, 236–8; role of taxe du pain in local, 38–9; of the Terror, 155–62 public administration See also authorities, local; bread price ceilings; regulation: administrators monitoring of grain trade, 41; authority of intendants to supervise grain guilds, 34; bakery stabilization policy, 274–8; bread price setting in nineteenth century, 12; competition among Vernon officials (1789), 128; curbs on official marketplace policies, 93; departments' evaluation of 1812 Maximum, 230–3; institutions of the Restoration, 237–8; intendants' review of tarif, 39–40; intendants' role in supervising grain trade, 22; monitoring of flour sales across Europe, 286; municipal jurisdiction over baking trade in Paris, 273; during Napoleon's regime, 202–3; Paris Municipal Council during shortages (1826–9), 266–71; Paris Prefect of Police during shortages (1826–9), Paris Reserve during shortages (1826–9), 264–71; Paris Reserve under the Restoration, 238–41; redefinition of free trade, 93; regulation of bread prices, 280–2; reorganization under Constitution of Year III, 188; role of Caisse syndicale des boulangers in Paris Reserve distribution (1817), 246–53, 257–64; role of Caisse syndicale des boulangers during shortages (1826–9), 264–71; role of departments during 1812 Maximum, 226–30; role of national Subsistence Commission during Restoration, 237–49; role of national Subsistence Council (1811–12), 213–36; role of national Subsistence Council under 1812 Maximum, 226–31; role of Paris Municipal Council in provisioning policies, 245–6, 261–64; role of Paris Prefect of Police in bread price ceilings, 259; role of Paris Reserve during Napoleon's regime, 209–35; subsistence

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-62129-8 - Mastering the Market: The State and the Grain Trade in Northern France, 1700-1860

Judith A. Miller

Index

More information

INDEX

- bureaucracy under Napoleon, 204–5;
tools of nineteenth-century, 292 public works projects: of Turgot, 74; in nineteenth-century, 237, 239
- Quesnay, François, 48
- Ramel-Nogaret, Dominique-Vincent, 166 ration cards, 205, 245–6, 248, 268–70
Réal, 214, 216–18, 223, 230
regulations: of bakers and bakers' supplies (1820s), 274–8; of bakers' guild in Rouen, 35; of bread prices, 280–4; of first grain Maximum (1793), 151–4;
grain market in Upper Normandy, 29, 31–2; in monitoring of grain trade, 41;
post-1848, 285–6; during Restoration,
237–8; theories of eighteenth century,
52–3
Reign of Terror See Terror, the republicanism, 131–3 requisitioning of grain: competition among cantons, 188–93; effect of (1812),
226–30, 240–1; effect on cantons,
188–93; Law of 9 September 1792, 141;
Law of 7 Vendémiaire Year IV, 183–5; National Convention extensions of (1794–5), 172–3, 176, 179, 183; for the Seine-Inférieure (1793–96), 156–61,
169–71, 174–9, 185–93
Restoration, the: Caisse syndicale des boulangers de Paris, 237; decision related to Paris Reserve, 238–41; end of (1830), 264; free trade policy under, 238;
government role in control of food supply, 280–2; provisioning during,
236–8, 271; Subsistence Committee,
237
Revolutionary Army, Paris, 155–6, 161–2
riots See also food riots: of Flour War, 79, 104–7; perceived cause of, 95–6; related to grain and bread (1795), 179–83;
related to grain shortages (1816–17),
247–8; related to lack of food (1795),
179–83; repression of, 292–5
Robespierre, Maximilien, 163, 168
Rocheport, 39, 101–3
Roland de la Platière, Jean-Marie, 134–9, 147
Rose, R. B., 125n27
Rouen, 20, 55–6, 62, 66–7, 73, 74, 117; baking guild in, 35; bread prices in (1775–85), 95–9; competition for grain supplies, 19, 21–2; as entrepôt, 19, 21;
grain market, 33f; response to grain scarcity (1793), 156; riots in (1789), 121–2; riots in Year IV, 180–1; scarcity of grain in (1792), 143–7; simulated sales and imports in (1768), 67–70; statutes related to bread controls, 35; Subsistence
Bureau (1789), 123–4; Subsistence
Committee (1789), 126, 129–32; view of, 30f
Royer, 61–2, 67
Rudé, Georges, 3n2, 41–2n34, 45–6n49, 105n22
- Saint-Lô, 20, 88, 110
Saint-Romain, 255
St. Saëns, 20, 256
St. Valéry-en-Caux, 20, 153
Sartine, 69–70
Sautereau, 171
Savary, 81, 214
Say, J. B., 201
Second Empire: bakers' supply requirements
during, 285–6
Seine department, 226, 278, 284, 287–8
Seine-et-Oise, 198, 223
Seine-et-Marne, 225, 228, 231, 235n135
Seven Years' War, 47
shortages See grain shortages
Smith, Adam, 165
Somme, 175–6, 198, 204, 256
Sonenscher, Michael, 3n2
state, the: development of Napoleonic, 200–201; response to grain shortage during Napoleonic regime, 203–4; role in economic development, 18 subsidies See also bonus payments: for bakers (1816), 242–5; Caisse (1853–61), 12, 287–8, 291; as incentive to bring supplies to market (1757), 65; municipal sales of grain (1792), 138–9; Napoleonic regime, 205; provided by Caisse de service de la boulangerie de Paris, 287–8
Subsistence Administration: in 1793, 155 subsistence bureau: Napoleonic regime,
204–5
Subsistence Bureau, Rouen (1789), 123–5,
129
Subsistence Commission (Restoration):
efforts to control number of bakers,
288–90; establishment during Restoration
(1816), 237–9; grain distribution decisions, 250; king's charges related to Paris Reserve (1815), 238–9; proposed reforms for dual system, 257–60; reforms (1821), 263; role in dual system of price setting, 242–4; role in organization dual system, 244–6; subsidies for bakers
(1816), 242–5
Subsistence Commission, national (1793–4), 157, 160–2

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-62129-8 - Mastering the Market: The State and the Grain Trade in Northern France, 1700-1860

Judith A. Miller

Index

More information

INDEX

- Subsistence Committee: appointed by National Assembly (1789), 123, 129–32
 Subsistence Committee, Rouen: response to free-trade legislation (1789), 126–7 subsistence committees: during Restoration, 236–7 Subsistence Council (1811), 213–20 subsistence policies: during crisis (1811–12), 212; Napoleon's regime, 204–12 surcharges: on cereals, 260; plan to collect, 261
 Sutherland, D.M.G., 201n14, 204n20, 205n22

 Taboureau, 240
tarif See price schedule or tarif taxation populaire, 42
taxe du pain, or bread price controls, 14; demands to increase (1811), 213; efforts to revive, 278–9; resetting, 38–9; during Turgot's regime, 105–6
 Terray, Abbé Joseph-Marie, 70, 111
 Terror, the: controlled economy of, 140, 155–62; economic policies of, 155–6; end with coup of 9 Thermidor, 163; retreat from, 163
 Thompson, E. P., 3n2, 13n26
 Thiroux de Crosne, Louis, 67, 68–70, 76, 78, 79–80, 82, 84, 86, 90, 108–10
 Thouret, 120
 Thuret, Jacques-Guillaume, 253, 255–6
 Tilly, Charles, 15n33
 Tilly, Louise, 13n26, 41–2n34
tolérance: for short-weight loaves, 41
 Tours, 103, 132
 trade policy: decree of National Convention related to grain exports, 142–3; exports of grain (1808, 1810), 212–13; grain export legislation (1787), 110–11, 116; grain exports (1805–6), 210; grain exports (1810), 212–13; grain import duties (1819), 259; grain import duties of Restoration, 259; grain imports under Bonaparte, 205–9, 217–20; import duties lifted (1816), 240; imports and sales of grain (1757), 61–3, 67–8; orders of Louis XV related to grain exports, 44–5; protectionism of Directory, 166
 Tricornot, 88
 Troyes, 273
 Trudaine de Montigny, 68–9
 Turgot, Anne R. J.: as controller general, 45; Directory attention to ideas of, 165; dismissal of (1776), 111; free-trade policies of, 45–6, 72, 107; permission to bakers to raise bread prices (1775), 104–5; policies to shape grain market, 73–4, 84–5; prohibition of simulated sales, 93; ties to Physiocrats, 48
 Two-Thirds Decree, 182

 unemployment: Paris (1811–12), 215

 Vanlerberghe, Joseph Ignace, 202, 207–12, 217, 233, 239
 Vergennes, Charles Gravier, Comte de, 104
 Vernon, 20, 89, 91, 127, 128–9, 143
 Versailles, 276, 283n70
 Villèle, Jean-Baptiste, 237, 266

 Watin, 219, 242, 253
Wealth of Nations, The (Smith), 165
 Weulersse, Georges, 43n38, 44n43, 45n46, 47n55, 48n57, 56, 60n33
 Woloch, Isser, 6n8, 188n100, 193n105

 Yvetot, 20, 29, 86, 168, 171, 180, 189, 191–2, 255