

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-64037-4 - Financial Sector Transformation: Lessons from Economies in Transition

Edited by Mario I. Blejer and Marko Škreb

Index

More information

Index

Page numbers printed in italic> type refer to tables or figures

- Abel, István, 97
- administration, cost ratios and banking in Croatia, 249, 252, 262. See also management
- adverse selection, and recurrent bank failures, 159
- agriculture, in China, 266, 268
- Albania: interest controls, 34; market orientation and monetary policy, 52; pyramid schemes, 161; use of monetary policy instruments, 33
- Alexander, William E., 28
- Allais, Maurice, 291
- Allied Irish Banks, 104
- annual liberalization index, 54n9
- Argentina, 305–6
- Armenia: cumulative liberalization index, 54; hyperinflation and insolvency of state, 156; use of monetary policy instruments, 34
- assets: banking crises and rapid growth of,
220; banking system in Slovenia, 345; enterprise performance and investments in existing, 174–5, 178–9, 187–90; and personnel costs as measure of bank efficiency, 249; size and structure of banking sector in Baltic states, 231–4; stabilization and banking in Croatia, 245–6
- Aurabank (Lithuania), 202, 203, 228n53
- Australia, 306
- Austria, 304
- Azerbaijan, 35, 54
- balance of payments, and monetary policy, 298
- Balino, Tomas J. T., 28
- Baltija Bank (Latvia), 199
- bank conciliatory procedure (Poland), 99– 100
- Bank of Estonia, 197–9, 211, 216–17, 228, 230
- Bank Gdanski (Poland), 107–8
- Bank Inicjatyw Gospodarczych S.A.
(Poland), 108
- Bank for International Settlements, 336
- Bank of Israel, 370
- Bank of Latvia, 199–201, 208, 211, 217, 224n46, 228
- Bank of Lithuania, 201–5, 212, 214, 217– 18
- Bank Przemyslowo-Handlowy (Poland),
106–7
- bank rehabilitation agency (Slovenia),
349–51, 354–6
- bankruptcy, and connected lending, 212
- banks and banking: competition and contestability, 113–18; direct instruments and monetary reform, 30–1; elements of reform, 195–6;
implementation of procedures for reform, 385; overview of issues for transition economies, 132–5; political economy and model of relationship with state factories, 137–43, 147;
political economy perspective on reform, 135–7, 144–7; privatization programs, 93–5, 101–13; regulatory structure and reform, 118–28; role of commercial in transition economies,
7–10; role of government in reform,
390–1. See also central banks;
financial sector; foreign banks; state-owned commercial banks
- Baltic states: crisis and reform in Estonia, 196–9, 205–25; crisis and reform in Latvia, 199–201, 205–25;
crisis and reform in Lithuania, 201–
25; development of system in Estonia,
Latvia, and Lithuania, 225–34

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-64037-4 - Financial Sector Transformation: Lessons from Economies in Transition

Edited by Mario I. Blejer and Marko Škreb

Index

More information

394

INDEX

- banks and banking (cont.)
- crises and failures: experience of
    - financial reform, 387–8; Japan in 1996, 119, 148; lack of role models for transition economies, 147–8; recurrent failures, 159, 181; reform in Baltic states, 196–225; U.S. savings and loan crisis, 119, 147–8, 160n7
  - Croatia: competition and efficiency, 246–54; economy and stabilization, 239–46; macroeconomic determinants of interest rate spread, 254–61; macroeconomic reforms and structure of system, 237–9; rehabilitation program, 261–3
  - Slovenia: financial repression, 320–2; performance of in 1995–6, 343–5; rehabilitation program, 345–67; structure of system, 334–43
  - Bank Slaski (Poland), 103, 104–7
  - Bank of Slovenia, 335–6, 340, 343, 357, 361, 365–6
  - Bayerische Landesbank Girozentrale Bank (Hungary), 108–9
  - Begg, David, 98
  - Belarus, 36, 54
  - Belgium, 341
  - Berger, Allen M., 248
  - bimetallism, and international monetary system, 301
  - Blejer, Mario, 16
  - Bole, Velimir, 14, 312n7, 330n41
  - bonds: bank rehabilitation in Slovenia, 353; financing of government deficits, 284–5
  - Bonin, John, 11–12, 97, 132–3
  - Borowski, Marek, 106n11
  - Bremec, N., 334–5
  - Bretton Woods agreement, 301
  - Budapest Bank (Hungary), 110, 117
  - Buiter, Willem H., 12–13, 171, 182
  - Bulgaria: credit ceilings, 33; inflation and macroeconomic instability, 151n3; market orientation and monetary policy, 61; use of monetary policy instruments, 37
  - Bush, George, 301
  - business. See enterprises
  - Cagan, Phillip, 285, 291
  - Calvo, Guillermo, 47, 375
  - capital inflows: banking crises in Baltic states, 206–7, 220–1; banking system in Slovenia and foreign, 320–1, 322, 323–4, 342–3; experience of financial reform in transition economies, 389–90; financial reform in Israel, 374
  - capital markets: concepts of risk and policy credibility and development of, 4–5; exchange rates in China, 302–8; financial reform in Israel, 375–80; promotion of savings and development of, 5–6; rehabilitation and restructuring of commercial banks, 7–10. See also financial sector
  - capital requirements: banking system in Slovenia, 324, 336–7, 361, 363; size and structure of banking sector in Baltic states, 232–3. See also reserve requirements
  - cash flow, and bank rehabilitation in Slovenia, 360–1
  - central banks: independence and reform of, 123–4; macroeconomic stability, 3; restrictions on lending in Estonia, 26n3. See also banks and banking
  - centralization: as approach to bank rehabilitation, 346; decision making in socialist economies, 388
  - central plans, and monetary policy under socialism, 20–2
  - Ceska Pojistovna (Czech Republic), 112
  - Ceska Sportelna (Czech Republic), 111–13
  - Chile, 309
  - China: currency areas and financial markets, 302–8; government credit and inflationary finance, 280, 284–9; inflation and growth experience compared to Eurasia, 265–6; inflation, growth, and monetary policy, 270–6, 289–97; monetary deepening, 276–80; price stability and monetary policy, 297–302; shift of labor from agriculture to industry, 266–7; as transition country, 265
  - Citrin, Daniel, 60
  - Clinton, Bill, 301
  - closure, of banks, 128
  - command economy, and collapse in financial ratios during transition, 50
  - Commonwealth of Independent States, 206
  - competition, in banking: and contestability, 113–18; reform experience in transition economies, 388–9; structure of system in Croatia, 240–1, 246–54, 262
  - concentration, and structure of banking sector in Baltic states, 233

Index

395

- connected lending, and banking crises in
Baltic states, 212–13, 222
- consumer price index (CPI), 304–5
- contestability: bank reform, 134–5;
competition in banking, 115
- convertibility: China and financial liberalization, 275–6; exchange rates and insolvency of state, 156
- Coricelli, Fabrizio, 47, 132
- cream-skimming hypothesis, and bank reform in Croatia, 247–8, 250–1, 254
- credibility, of policy: bank reform and capital-market development, 4–5;
financial reform in Israel, 376–8
- credit ceiling: as direct instrument of monetary policy, 33; market for government paper, 57–60
- Crédit Suisse First Boston, 106
- Crises, in banking. See banks and banking
- Croatia: bank rehabilitation, 261–3;
competition and efficiency in banking sector, 246–54; macroeconomic determinants of interest rate spread in banking system, 254–61;
macroeconomic reforms and structure of banking system, 237–9; reserve requirements, 34; stabilization and banking market structure, 239–46;
use of monetary policy instruments,
38
- cumulative liberalization index (CLI), 54
- currency: Czech crises in 1997, 151;
exchange rates and currency boards,
304–6; financial markets in China, 302–8; government credit and domestic versus foreign, 284;
international reserves in China, 275.
See also devaluation; exchange rates
- Czech Republic: bank regulation, 122–3;
bank restructuring and privatization, 100, 102–3, 111–13; central bank and macroeconomic policy, 123–4; centralized-decentralized approach to bank rehabilitation, 346; competition in banking, 114, 115; credit ceilings, 33; currency crises in 1997, 151;
deposit insurance, 127; foreign banks,
117; foreign currency deposits, 50;
market orientation and monetary policy, 35; monetary policy and stabilization, 25; privatization of banks, 94n1; size of banking sector,
232; state-owned commercial banks,
95–6, 99; use of monetary policy
instruments, 39
- debt, enterprise performance and investment decisions, 173–4.
See also government; loans and lending
- decentralization, as approach to bank rehabilitation, 346, 347–8
- De Melo, Martha, 10–11, 54, 56, 63, 160
- Denizer, Cevdet, 10–11, 160
- deposit insurance: banking legislation in Slovenia, 336; banking system in
Baltic states, 234; bank privatization,
124–8; recurrent bank failures,
159
- devaluation, and financial reform in China, 272, 295, 299. See also currency
- directed credit: as direct instrument of monetary policy, 33; and inflation, 60, 61
- direct instruments, of monetary policy:
appropriate use of, 30–2; combination with indirect instruments, 28;
effectiveness and stance, 52–61;
market orientation and stabilization,
36–43; types of, 29; use of during transition, 32–6
- disinflation policy, and financial reform in Israel, 373
- Dittus, Peter, 97
- Domar, Evsey, 289
- domestic liquid liabilities, and monetary
policy, 50, 51, 52
- Dorsey, Thomas, 14
- double Bertrand market, 329, 331
- Dresdner Bank (Poland), 116
- economies in transition (EITs). See transition economies
- effective rate of taxation (ERT), 164–7
- Elliott, J. W., 312n7
- energy industry, and banking crises in
Baltic states, 214
- Enoch, Charles, 28
- enterprises: macroeconomic stability and decision making or performance of,
151–3, 162–82; model of financial performance across stylized countries, 182–90; political economy and model of relation between banks and state factories, 137–43. See also state-owned enterprises
- equity: domestic equity-for-debt swaps by banks in Russia, 143; enterprise performance and investment decisions, 173–4

- Estonia: bank crises and reform, 196–9, 205–25; development of banking system, 225–34; market orientation and monetary policy, 52; monetary policy and stabilization, 25–6; use of monetary policy instruments, 40
- Estonian Land Bank, 226
- Estonian Social Bank, 198, 211, 221nn40–1, 223n44, 226, 228n53, 231
- European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, 104, 107, 109, 230
- European Monetary System, 378
- European Union, and banking crisis in Latvia, 201
- Exchange Rate Mechanism (ERM), 378
- exchange rates: banking crises in Baltic states, 208–9, 221; convertibility restrictions and multiple, 156; currency areas and financial markets in China, 302–8; financial reform in Israel, 371–5; financial restructuring and interest rates in Slovenia, 323–4; inflation in China, 272, 273–6; interest rate spread in Croatian banking system, 255, 257–8; price stability and monetary policy in China, 297–302; purchasing power parity, 174; stabilization and banking system in Croatia, 243. See also currency
- exports: economic growth in China, 266; as percentage of GDP, 300. See also trade
- failures, of banks. See banks and banking
- Farahbaksh, Mitra, 31
- fast response group: classification of countries by type of monetary policy, 22, 24, 25, 33; interest controls, 34; market orientation, 43
- financial depth: effectiveness of monetary policy, 47–52; inflation control, 62–3; market for government paper, 57–60
- financial institutions, macroeconomic instability and solvency of, 156–62
- financial repression, and inefficiencies of banks in Slovenia, 320–2
- financial sector: ingredients for creation and growth of healthy, 385–6; interest rates in Slovenia and inefficiencies of, 319–27; overview of reform in transition economies, 1–16; reform of in Israel, 369–71; reform and modernization of in China, 268, 307; role of under socialism, 20–2. See also banks and banking; capital markets
- Finland, 234
- fiscal policy: banking crises in Baltic states, 208, 209, 221; stabilization and banking system in Croatia, 241–2; stabilization and interest rates in Slovenia, 318–9. See also government; monetary policy; policy
- Fischer, Stanley, 63
- flow problem, 159
- foreign banks: competition and contestability in banking, 115–18; ownership of banks in Baltic states, 234; ownership of banks in Slovenia, 342–3. See also banks and banking
- foreign direct investment (FDI): capital inflows and financial reform, 390; Slovenia and regulation, 337
- France: bonds and financing of deficits, 284; Crédit Lyonnais scandal, 148; market concentration of banking sector, 341; ownership of banks in Baltic states, 234
- Frenkel, Jacob A., 15–16
- GE Capital, 110
- Gelb, A., 160
- Georgia: cumulative liberalization index, 54; hyperinflation and insolvency of state, 156; use of monetary policy instruments, 41
- German Investment and Development Corporation, 109
- Germany: bonds and financing of deficits, 284; currency of and international monetary system, 302, 303; market concentration of banking sector, 342; percentage of population employed in banking, 342
- globalization, and future of transition economies, 6
- gold standard, 301
- Gosbank (USSR), 225, 227, 229
- government: banking crises in Baltic states and removal of deposits, 218; bank rehabilitation in Slovenia and public debt, 351–2; credibility of financial policy, 4–5, 376–8; credit and inflationary finance in China, 280, 284–9; role of in financial reform, 390–1. See also policy; regulation; state; taxation
- government paper, and indirect instruments of monetary policy, 35–6, 57–60. See also bonds
- Great Depression, 154n5

- Greenfield investments, 171–3, 176–8, 184–7
- growth, in China: compared with Eurasian countries, 265–6; inflation and monetary policy, 270–6, 289–91
- Hansson, Ardo H., 13–14
- Harrod, Roy, 289
- Harvard Group, 111–13
- Hilbers, Paul, 28
- Hillman, Arye L., 12
- Hong Kong: exchange rates and currency, 304, 305–6; exports as percentage of GDP, 300; as financial center, 306, 307
- human capital, and physical capital, 163
- Hungarian Investment and Development Bank, 100
- Hungary: bank privatization, 103, 108–11; bank regulation, 121–2; central bank and macroeconomic policy, 123–4; centralized approach to bank rehabilitation, 346; competition in banking, 114–15; deposit insurance, 124–5, 126; effective rates of taxation and tax code, 165; foreign banks, 116–17; inflation and macroeconomic instability, 151; market for government paper, 35–6; nonperforming loans as percentage of total bank lending, 30; percentage of population employed in banking, 342; recapitalization of banks, 94n1, 95, 100, 101, 159–60; state-owned commercial banks, 95, 99; use of monetary policy instruments, 42
- hyperinflation: China in 1950s and 1960s, 270; insolvency of state, 156; market reforms and banking crises, 216; tax holidays, 168
- imports, and ratio of international reserves, 274. See also trade
- income: elasticities and inflation in China, 292; per capita and monetary deepening, 281–3
- indexation, of interest rates, 311, 315, 357
- India, 306
- indirect instruments, of monetary policy: appropriate use of, 30–2; combination with direct instruments, 28; effectiveness and stance, 52–61; market orientation and stabilization, 36–43; shift toward in transition economies, 383–5; types of, 29; use of during transitions, 32–6
- Indonesia, 274n11, 306
- inflation: China compared with Eurasian countries, 265–6; exchange rate policy in Israel, 371–3; government credit and finance in China, 280, 284–9; macroeconomic distortions, 167–70; macroeconomic instability, 2, 150–1, 153; monetary policy and growth in China, 270–6, 289–93; monetary policy stance and effectiveness, 60, 61, 62–3; taxation, 152–3, 155–6, 167. See also hyperinflation
- information, and model of relation between banks and state-owned factories, 137–8
- information technology (IT), and banking sector in Slovenia, 358, 365. See also technology
- initial public offering (IPO), 102
- interest rates: banking crisis in Estonia and negative, 209n26; macroeconomic determinants of aggregate spread in Croatian banking system, 254–61; monetary policy and controls, 34; solvency of financial institutions, 157, 158; stabilization and examples of high levels, 309–10; structure of banking system in Croatia, 249–50, 253, 254, 262. See also loans and lending
- Slovenia: dynamics of after start of stabilization, 310–5; financial intermediation and stabilization, 327–31; high levels of as side product of stabilization, 315–9; inefficiencies of financial sector, 319–27
- internal rate of return (IRR), 164–7
- Internationale Nederlanden Group, 105, 106, 107
- international financial institutions (IFIs), and bank rehabilitation in Slovenia, 346
- International Monetary Fund: enforcement of banking regulations in Baltic states, 211–12; ratio of international reserves to imports, 274
- Intertek Bank (Russia), 200, 211
- intervention policy, and exchange rate policy of Israel, 373–4
- Investicni a Postovni Banka (Czech Republic), 111–13

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-64037-4 - Financial Sector Transformation: Lessons from Economies in Transition

Edited by Mario I. Blejer and Marko Škreb

Index

More information

398

INDEX

- investments: Chinese growth recession of 1989–90, 294; macroeconomic stability and decision making or performance, 151–3, 162–82; model of financial performance across stylized countries, 182–90
- Israel: credit markets and economic transformation, 378–80; economic history of since stabilization, 368–9; exchange rate policies and financial reform, 371–5; implications of financial reform experience for other transition economies, 375–6; reform of financial sector, 369–71; stabilization and interest rates, 309–10, 330n12
- Italy: bonds and financing of deficits, 284; market concentration of banking sector, 342
- Japan: banking crisis of 1996, 119, 148; bonds and financing of deficits, 284; capital adequacy, 326n35; currency of and international monetary system, 302, 303, 306; exports as percentage of GDP, 300; monetary expansion in 1955–70, 293; proposed fund for financial problems of Asian countries, 307–8; ratio of reserves to imports, 274n11
- Kashyiq, Anil K., 248
- Kaufmann, D., 179
- Kawalec, Stefan, 106, 346
- Kazakistan, 43, 54
- Kletzer, Kenneth, 132
- Knight, Frank, 176
- Komercijalna Banka Nova Gorica (Slovenia), 350–6
- Komerční Banka (Czech Republic), 100, 111–13, 117
- Konsolidacni Banka (Czech Republic), 100
- Korea, 274n11, 306
- Kozeny, Viktor, 112
- Kraft, Evan, 14, 343
- Kredo Bank (Latvia), 213
- Kyrgyz Republic: market-oriented policy instruments, 54; monetary policy and stabilization, 25; nonperforming loans as percentage of financial sector portfolio, 31; use of monetary policy instruments, 44
- labor, and shift from agriculture to industry in China, 266–7
- Lago, Ricardo, 12–13, 171
- Lainbank (Latvia), 199, 212, 213, 214, 221n41
- Lankes, H. P., 173, 185
- Latviantrade (Latvia), 199, 212, 233
- Latvia: bank crisis and reform, 199–201, 205–25; development of banking system, 225–34; monetary policy and stabilization program, 26; use of monetary policy instruments, 45
- Latvian Credit Bank, 213
- Latvian Deposit Bank, 199–201
- Latvian Savings Bank, 227, 230
- law: banking in Slovenia, 335–7, 348–50; Soviet Union in 1989 and reform of banking system, 227–8. See also regulation
- liquidation, and banking crisis in Estonia, 224
- liquidity: bank rehabilitation in Slovenia, 362, 366; monetary deepening in China, 276–80; sterilization of excess and interest rate spread in Croatian banking system, 259–60. See also domestic liquid liabilities
- Lithuania: bank crisis and reform, 201–25; development of banking system, 225–34; monetary policy and stabilization, 26; use of monetary policy instruments, 46
- Lithuanian Joint-Stock Innovation Bank, 202–5
- Litimpeks Bank (Lithuania), 202, 203, 205, 213
- loans and lending: banking crises in Baltic states, 213, 220; bank rehabilitation in Slovenia and nonperforming, 354–5; central bank and restrictions on in Estonia, 26n3; economic policy and paternalistic model of, 138; nonperforming as percentage of financial sector portfolio, 30, 31; state-owned commercial banks, 96–7, 99; state-owned enterprises and nonperforming, 97–8; transaction costs of banking system, 145–6. See also banks and banking; interest rates
- Lombard facilities, 35
- Luxembourg, 300
- Macedonia: interest controls, 34; stabilization and structural reforms, 26n4; use of monetary policy instruments, 47
- McKinnon, Ronald, 47

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-64037-4 - Financial Sector Transformation: Lessons from Economies in Transition

Edited by Mario I. Blejer and Marko Škreb

Index

More informationIndex

399

- McLuhan, Marshall, 276
- macroeconomic distortions, enterprise decision making and investment performance, 167–70
- macroeconomic stability: Baltic banking crises and unexpected changes, 205–9; enterprise decision making and investment performance, 162–70, 179–82; enterprise performance and financing, 170–9; financial policy in transition economies, 2–3; overview of, 150–4; sources of, 154–62
- macrostructure, and performance of enterprises, 171
- Magyar Kulkereskedelmi Bank (Hungary), 108
- Malaysia, 274n11
- management, of banks: banking crises in Baltic states, 211, 212–14, 218, 222; bank rehabilitation in Slovenia, 365; cost of recapitalization, 98–9; occupational hazards in Russia, 146–7; personnel cost relative to assets as measure of efficiency, 248–9; process of bank rehabilitation, 8–9
- market concentration, and banking sector in Slovenia, 341–2
- market economy: banking crises in Baltic states and reform, 216; ingredients of financial reform, 385–6; political economy and reform of banking system, 135–7, 147
- market orientation: classification of countries by degree of, 35–6; direct and indirect instruments of monetary policy and stabilization, 36–43, 44–5, 52–61
- Market Orientation of Monetary Policy Instruments (MOMPI), 37
- Marrese, Michael, 97
- Mauritius, 305
- mergers, of banks: banking crises in Baltic states, 225; structure of banking in Baltic states, 232–3
- Mexico, 107
- microstructure, and enterprise performance, 170–1
- Mishkin, F. S., 312n7
- mixed/privatized banks, 246
- Moldova, 25, 48
- monetary deepening: financial liberalization in China, 276–80; financial reform in transition economies, 386–7
- monetary overhang: declines in financial ratios, 50; financial deepening and elimination of, 386; financial reform in Israel, 376n2
- monetary policy: banking crises in Baltic states, 207–8, 209, 221; central bank independence, 123; classification of countries into slow and fast response groups, 22–7; currency areas and financial markets in China, 302–8; effectiveness, stance, and direct instruments, 52–61; financial reform in China, 268–9; financial reform in Israel, 375–8; financial sector under socialism, 20–2; indicators of stance and effectiveness, 43, 46, 47–52; inflation control and financial depth, 62–3; inflation and growth in China, 270–6, 289–97; price stability in China, 297–302; stabilization and banking system in Croatia, 241–4; stabilization and interest rates in Slovenia, 316–7; use of instruments during transition period, 28–43, 383–5. See also fiscal policy; policy
- money targeting, 291
- Mongolia: cumulative liberalization index, 54; market orientation and monetary policy, 52; use of monetary policy instruments, 49
- monobank, 225
- moral hazard: banking crises in Baltic states, 218; recurrent bank failures, 159
- Mundell, Robert A., 15
- Narva Commercial Bank (Estonia), 198n6, 228n53, 230, 233
- National Bank of Croatia, 1n1, 240–4, 261
- National Bank of Hungary, 121–2
- National Bank of Poland, 122
- National Bank of Yugoslavia, 348
- net foreign assets (NFA), 208
- Netherlands, 304
- New Financial Agreement, between former Yugoslavia and foreign private creditors, 353
- New Zealand, 119
- nonexcludable goods or services, 150n2
- nonrival goods or services, 150n1
- Northern Estonian Bank, 198–9, 211, 223n45, 230n55
- Northern Estonian Joint-Stock Bank, 197–9, 217, 227, 231

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-64037-4 - Financial Sector Transformation: Lessons from Economies in Transition

Edited by Mario I. Blejer and Marko Škreb

Index

More information

400

INDEX

- Nova Kreditna Banka Maribor (Slovenia), 348, 350–6
- Nova Ljubljanska Banka (Slovenia), 342, 348, 350–6, 358–67
- Olimpija Bank (Latvia), 200
- Olivera-Tanzi effect, 155
- operating costs, of banks in Slovenia, 344, 362
- Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD), 31
- Országos Takarékpénztár és Kereskedelmi Bank (Hungary), 109–11
- Paeglis, Imants, 211
- People's Bank of China, 295, 296
- Philippines, 306
- physical capital, and human capital, 163
- Pindyck, R. S., 168
- Pissarides, F., 174
- pocket banks, 146, 228
- Poland: bank conciliatory procedure and bank restructuring, 99–100, 101; bank privatization, 103–8; bank regulation, 122; central bank and macroeconomic policy, 123–4; competition in banking, 114, 115; decentralized approach to bank rehabilitation, 346, 348; deposit insurance, 125–6, 127; foreign banks, 116; foreign currency deposits, 50; inflation and macroeconomic instability, 151; monetary policy and stabilization, 25; recapitalization of banks with public funds, 94n1; reform of credit markets, 379; size of banking sector, 232; state-owned commercial banks, 96, 99; taxes and inflation, 155–6; use of monetary policy instruments, 50
- political economy: definition of, 134; model of relation between banks and state factories, 137–43; reform of banking system, 135–7; role of private banks, 144–7
- policy: banking crises, 221; central bank independence, 123–4; macroeconomic stability in transition economies, 2–3, 169–70; paternalistic model for bank lending, 138; short-run versus long-run in transition economies, 3–6. See also fiscal policy; government; monetary policy; state; taxation
- ponzi schemes. See pyramid schemes
- population: government policy and saving rate in China, 267; percentage of employed in banking in Germany, Hungary, and Slovenia, 342
- Portes, Richard, 47, 98
- price controls, and inflation in China, 270
- price stability: effectiveness of monetary policy, 47; monetary policy in China, 297–302; monetary policy under socialism, 21; overview of issues, 2–3
- privatization, of banks: banking crises in Baltic states, 223, 224, 229–31; stabilization in Croatia, 245–6; strategies for, 101–13; views of in transition economies, 93–5
- productivity, exchange rates and differential changes in, 305
- profits and profitability, of banks: competition and efficiency in Croatia, 246–54; interest rate spread in Croatia, 254–5; rehabilitation in Slovenia, 326, 339, 340, 343–5
- property rights, and political economy perspective on bank reform, 134–5
- purchasing power parity (PPP): exchange rate in China, 298–9; investments in existing assets, 174
- pyramid schemes: banking crises in Baltic states, 207, 221; solvency of financial institutions, 161–2
- Quandt, Janusz, 106, 107
- quasi-fiscal deficit, 160–1
- Reagan, Ronald, 301
- recapitalization, of banks: management and cost of, 98–9; public funds, 94n1; recurrent failures, 159
- recession, and China in 1980s, 271, 294
- rediscount facilities, 35
- refinance window: as indirect instrument of monetary policy, 34–5; and inflation, 60, 61
- reform, of financial sector: bank crisis in Estonia, 196–9, 205–25; bank crisis in Latvia, 199–201, 205–25; bank crisis in Lithuania, 201–25; elements of, 195–6, 385–6; exchange rate policies in Israel, 371–5; liberalization in Israel, 369–71; overview of issues, 1–16; political economy perspective on, 135–7; restructuring and interest rates in Slovenia, 322–7; structure of banking system in Croatia, 237–9

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-64037-4 - Financial Sector Transformation: Lessons from Economies in Transition

Edited by Mario I. Blejer and Marko Škreb

Index

More informationIndex

401

- regionalism: monetary in Southeast Asia, 308; structure of banking sector in Slovenia, 341
- regulation, of banking sector: banking crisis in Baltic states, 210–12, 216–17, 221; enterprise performance and decision making, 163, 164; privatization of banks, 118–28; and socialism, 144. See also law
- rehabilitation, of banks: approach to in Slovenia, 345–58; banking crises in Baltic states, 224; interest rates and Croatian banking system, 260–1; interest rates in Slovenia, 324–7; Nova Ljubljanska Banka in Slovenia, 358–67; role of commercial banks in transition economies, 7–10; stabilization in Croatia, 244, 261–3; war in Croatia, 240
- remuneration, and interest rate spread in Croatian banking system, 260–1, 262–3
- Repanšek, B., 341, 342
- reserve requirements: Bank of Israel, 369, 370; bank restructuring in Slovenia, 330; exchange rate in China, 273–6; as indirect instrument of monetary policy, 34, 384; international structure of assets in China, 295. See also capital requirements
- restructuring, of banks: banking crises in Baltic states, 224; interest rates in Slovenia, 322–7; plan for in Slovenia, 352, 357–8; privatization in Czech Republic, 100, 102–3, 111–13; rehabilitation of commercial banks, 7–10; state-owned commercial banks, 95–101
- returns on investment (ROI), 188
- Revalia Commercial Bank (Estonia), 198n6, 228n53
- Rey, Hélène, 12–13, 171
- Riga Stock Exchange (Latvia), 230
- risk: banking crises in Baltic and minimization of, 220–3; concept of and banking reform and capital-market development, 4; transaction costs and high interest rates in banking system, 145; and uncertainty, 176
- Roldos, Jorge, 132
- Romania: interest controls, 34; nonperforming loans as percentage of total bank lending, 30; use of monetary policy instruments, 51
- ruble zone, and mechanisms for credit allocation, 27
- Russia: banks and domestic equity-for-debt swaps, 143; effective rates of taxation and tax code, 165, 166; financing of other ruble zone members as percentage of GDP, 27; hyperinflation and insolvency of state, 156; inflation and macroeconomic instability, 155; market-oriented policy instruments, 54; occupational hazards in banking, 146–7; ownership of banks in Baltic states, 234; pocket banks, 146; size of banking sector, 232; stabilization and banking crises in Baltic states, 207; use of monetary policy instruments, 52
- Sahay, R., 63
- Salzmann, Richard, 112
- savings: promotion of and financial reform, 5–6; and supply of capital in China, 267
- Scalise, Joseph M., 248
- Schumpeter, J., 7
- Sekundes Bank (Lithuania), 202
- Sensenbrenner, Gabriel, 31
- sequestration, and solvency of state, 156
- Shaw, Edward S., 47
- Shteinbuka, Inna, 211
- Sikora, Slawomir, 104
- Simoneti, M., 346
- Simons, Henry, 182
- Singapore, 274n11, 306
- Singer, J., 174
- Slovak Republic, 53
- Slovenia: bank rehabilitation, 345–67; dynamics of interest rates after start of stabilization, 310–15; financial intermediation and high interest rates, 327–31; high interest rates as side product of stabilization, 315–19; inefficiency of financial sector and high interest rates, 319–27; interest controls, 34; status of banking sector in 1980s and 1990s, 337–9; structure of banking sector, 334–7, 339–43; use of monetary policy instruments, 54
- slow response group: classification of countries by type of monetary policy, 26–7, 59; cumulative liberalization index, 55; market orientation of policy instruments, 43, 54

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-64037-4 - Financial Sector Transformation: Lessons from Economies in Transition

Edited by Mario I. Blejer and Marko Škreb

Index

More information

402

INDEX

- socialism: centralization of decision making, 388; monetary policy, 20–2; political economy and reform of banking systems, 135–7; regulation of banking systems, 144; risk and financial policy, 4
- Solimano, A., 168
- Sonje, Velimir, 14
- Soros, George, 109, 299
- Spain, 284, 341
- stabilization: banking crises in Baltic, 206, 219–20; Croatian economy and banking market structure, 239–46; economic history of Israel, 368–9; examples of high interest rates, 309–10; solvency of financial institutions, 157
- Slovenia and interest rates: dynamics after start of, 310–15; and financial intermediation, 327–31; and inefficiencies of financial sector, 319–27; as side product of, 315–19
- stance, of monetary policy: direct instrument use, 52–61; indicators of, 43, 46, 47; inflation control and financial depth, 62–3
- state, macroeconomic instability and solvency of, 154–6. See also government; policy
- State Commercial Bank of Lithuania, 227
- State-owned commercial banks (SOCBs): banking crises in Baltic states, 212, 230–1; bank privatization in Czech Republic, 111–13; bank privatization in Hungary, 108–11; bank privatization in Poland, 103–8; restructuring of banking sector, 95–101; stabilization in Croatia and, 244–5. See also banks and banking
- State-owned enterprises (SOEs): bank restructuring and nonperforming loans, 97–8; economic reform in China and, 268–9, 296; solvency of in China, 267–8. See also enterprises
- sterilization: excess liquidity and interest rate spread in Croatian banking system, 259–60; exchange rate policy in Israel, 372
- Stiblar, Franjo, 14–15
- stock problem, 159
- strategic foreign financial investor (SFFI), and privatization of banks, 95, 101–2, 110–11, 116
- structural transformation, and solvency of financial institutions, 157
- sustainability, and model of relation between banks and state factories, 143
- Svejnar, J., 174
- Switzerland, 284
- Szambelanczyk, Jan, 125n20
- Szekely, Istvan, 132
- tablita system, 299
- Tajikistan, 55, 54
- Tartu Commercial Bank (Estonia), 197–9, 218, 228–9
- taxation: enterprise performance, 163–7; inflation and macroeconomic instability, 152–3, 155–6, 168; as percentage of GDP in Slovenia, 319
- technology, and financial deepening, 386–7. See also information technology
- Tertak, Elemer, 125n19
- Thailand, 274n11, 306
- Thorne, Alfred, 30, 132
- time inconsistency problem, 377
- Tombak, Triinu, 13–14
- trade, and liberalization of credit and capital markets in Israel, 376. See also exports; imports
- transition economies: banking crises in Estonia, Latvia, and Lithuania, 195–234; banking crises and reform experience, 387–8; bank rehabilitation in Slovenia, 334–67; capital inflows and reform experience, 389–90; competition in financial sector, 388–9; financial market reform in China, 265–308; ingredients of financial reform, 385–6; investment in enterprises during financial transition period, 150–90; liberalization and financial reform in Israel, 368–80; monetary deepening, 386–7; monetary policy and indirect instruments, 383–5; monetary policy and structure of banking in Croatia, 237–63; overview of issues for reform, 1–16; political economy perspective on banking, 132–48; privatization and market-oriented banking, 93–129; review of monetary policy in twenty-six countries, 19–63; role of government in financial reform, 390–1; stabilization and interest rates in Slovenia, 309–31
- trust, and state-owned banks, 145
- Turkmenistan, 56, 156

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-64037-4 - Financial Sector Transformation: Lessons from Economies in Transition

Edited by Mario I. Blejer and Marko Škreb

Index

More informationIndex

403

- two-tier system, of banking in Baltic states, 225–7
- Udell, Gregory, 132
- Ukraine: cumulative liberalization index and stabilization, 54; effective rates of taxation and tax code, 165; hyperinflation and tax holidays, 168; ownership of banks in Baltic states, 234; use of monetary policy instruments, 57
- uncertainty, and risk, 176
- Unibank. See Universal Bank of Latvia
- Union Baltic Bank (Estonia), 197–9, 226, 231, 233
- United Kingdom: bonds and financing of deficits, 284; market concentration of banking sector, 342
- United States: bonds and financing of deficit, 284; currency of and international monetary system, 302, 303, 306; deposit insurance, 126; expansion and price stability in 1980s and 1990s, 301; exports as percentage of GDP, 300; savings and loan crisis, 119, 147–8, 160n7; uncertainty and investment, 168
- unit root tests, 263
- Universal Bank of Latvia (Unibank), 223, 226–7, 230, 233
- Ursprung, Heinrich W., 12
- Uzbekistan: cumulative liberalization index, 54; hyperinflation and insolvency of state, 156; use of monetary policy instruments, 58
- Vakaru Bank (Lithuania), 202, 203, 205, 212–13
- Vegh, Carlos, 63
- velocity, and inflation, 285–9
- Venables, T., 173, 185
- Venezuela, 388
- Vneshekonombank (Russia), 197, 217, 226, 227
- Vseobecna Uverova Banka (Czech Republic), 111
- Wachtel, Paul, 11–12, 132
- war: in former Yugoslavia, 240; inflation and financing of, 280
- Warsaw Stock Exchange, 104, 105, 106, 108
- Wielkopolski Bank Kredytowy (Poland), 103–4
- World Bank, 352
- World Trade Organization (WTO), 378
- Yang, Wenkai, 269n8