

Index

- audience, demographics of in St Paul's area, 35–6
- audience collaboration in word-play and double entendre, 89–90
- Bishops' ban and burning of the satires (1599), 2, 8, 60, 122 n.40, 196–9
- Blackfriars theatre, Marston's work for, 1, 2, 5
- auspices of, 199, 205
- physical and audience characteristics of 36–41
- body and bodily functions, Marston's unpleasant depiction of, 7, 39, 54, 75, 147, 152, 154, 182–3
- Boose, Lynda, 119–20 n.23, 122 n.40, 196, 197, 199
- boy actors, ages of, 41
- unique qualities of, 4, 5, 6, 7, 18, 23, 68, 75, 77, 78–9, 121 n.8, 125, 126
- See also* gender
- Burton, Robert, 49–50, 66, 67
- Calvinism as an element in Marston, 19, 65–6
- Caputi, Anthony, 10 n.2, 12 n.22, 65, 74, 76, 79
- carnival, festivity, revelry; elements of, in Marston's plays, 3, 5, 6, 54, 61, 71, 73–4, 77, 223
- cast sizes, 23, 30–1, 32–3, 37, 76
- ensorship, in late-Elizabethan/early-Jacobean England, 5, 60–1, 22, n.40, 195–7, 199
- Chapman, George, 2, 32, 60, 206, 207
- chastity, female, as patriarchal theme in Marston's plays, 6, 74, 95–6, 120 n.27, 129, 132–6, 140, 152, 189–91
- challenged by Marston's female characters, 90–1, 92–3, 96–7, 137–8, 140–2
- see also* female sexuality, male anxiety
- Classical allusion in Marston, 23, 52, 65, 100, 112–13, 163–4, 182, 194–5, 197–8
- seen as used solely for local and theatrical effect 18–19, 22–3
- collaboration, co-authorship, and co-production, 2, 11 n.8, 41, 68–9, 90, 143 n.14, 156, 201, 206–8
- Colley, Scott, 19, 82
- confrontation, as Marston's style of writing, 1–2, 4–5, 157–9, 213–15, 204, 224
- cuckolds, see male anxiety
- dancing, in Marston's plays, 22, 33, 40, 46, 73, 77, 94, 153, 156, 191, 192, 225
- Daniel, Samuel, 64, 162, 169, 205
- deflation, see parody
- Dekker, Thomas, 12 n.20, 31, 83, 98 n.9, 171, 184, 212
- disguise, in Marston's plays, 7, 23, 39, 102, 127, 131, 140, 152, 153, 185, 195, 200, 204, 214, 215, 220
- Dollimore, Jonathan, 8, 14, 17, 123, 138, 142, 191, 216, 218
- economics of Marston's theatres, 36
- Eliot, T. S., 83, 145–6, 147, 157, 218
- Essex, Earl of, 60, 195, 196–7
- fantasy, in Marston and his drama, 6, 7, 43, 47–57, 109, 114, 115, 150, 152, 153, 157, 188
- farce, see parody
- female characters, strong, 6, 7, 90–3, 96–7, 133, 134–5, 137–9, 140–2, 165–8
- female sexuality, depicted in Marston's work, 90–5, 103, 137–8, 163–4, 181–2, 185–6
- as demonic, 136, 181–2, 186, 225
- seen as equivalent to prostitution, 86, 96, 142, 164, 173
- Finkelpearl, Philip J., 27 and 42 n.3, 71, 218–19

- Florio, John, see Montaigne
- Foakes, R. A., 18, 26 n.17, 49, 78, 222
- Foucault, Michel, 107, 117 n.2, 126 and 143 n.10
- freedom of speech, as topic in Marston, 6, 9, 90, 92–3, 97, 107, 141–2, 200–1, 208–9, 214–16
- Freud, Sigmund, 105, 147, 149, 150, 151
- Gair, W. Reavley, 4, 58 n.5, 81 n.20, 82
- Geckle, George, 19
- gender, indeterminacy of, in Marston's plays, 6, 7, 103, 125–9, 214–15
- Hall, Joseph, 1, 64, 118 n.7, 198
- Henslowe, Philip, 31, 159
- homo-social/sexual configurations in Marston's plays, 36, 124–5, 127–9, 134, 135–6, 139, 216
- Howard, Jean, 6 and 12 n.27, 173–4
- Hunter, G. K., 18, 39, 78, 155, 158, 209, 222
- hysteria, Marston's, as evidenced by his plays, 147–57
- impotence, see male anxiety
- imprisonment of Marston and other writers, 2, 31, 60, 206–7, 208
- James I, King, 2, 102 and 117 n.5, 107, 183, 192, 205, 206–7, 219, 220
- Jonson, Ben, 17, 31, 62, 77, 98 n.9, 101, 103, 108, 169, 195, 199, 200, 202, 209, 212 and his antagonism to Marston in the 'War of the Theatres', 1, 4, 10–11 n.4, 12 n.20, 35, 45 and Poetaster, as conclusive blow in 'War', 37, 82, 147–9, 157, 198 physically beating Marston, 10–11 n.4, 17 as collaborator with Marston in Eastward Ho, 2, 17, 60, 206–8
- King's Men, and the Globe theatre, 39, 41, 156, 201, 202, 212
- 'Kinsayder', Marston's nickname, 1, 4, 16, 68, 72, 151, 194, 197
- Levin, Richard, 26 n.17
- Littlewood, Joan, 83, 213, 216
- male anxieties, depicted in Marston, 7, 53, 56, 108–10, 131–3, 134, 151, 171–3, 174–7, 181
- Manningham, John, 28
- Marston, John, relationship with father, 27, 174
- his Italian mother, 148
- and the Middle Temple, 5, 16, 27–31, 108, 159, 219
- financial debts, 31
- rudeness, 2 and 11 n.7, 16
- and deliberate market appeal, 3, 4–5, 6, 14, 20, 25, 27, 31, 34, 36, 40, 54–7, 67–71, 75–9, 82, 85, 90, 97, 100, 204, 208–9 seen as a form of self-prostitution, 172, 175, 176–7
- and the 'War of the Theatres', see Jonson, Ben
- and self-allusion in his plays, 4, 33
- and abandonment of stage and theatre, 2, 3, 159, 203
- works of: Poems
- The Metamorphosis of Pigmalion's Image*, 1, 60, 112–14, 194, 196, 197, 198
- Certain Satyres*, 1, 49, 64, 111, 163, 168, 183, 194
- The Scourge of Villanie*, 1–2, 3, 14, 46–7, 60, 62–4, 65, 67–8, 71, 103, 108, 114, 159, 183, 194, 195, 196, 197, 201, 209
- Histrionmastix*, 1, 27–31, 69
- Jack Drum's Entertainment*, 1, 4, 6, 7, 35, 49, 68–77, 78, 79, 115, 133–4, 135, 181
- Antonio and Mellida*, 1, 20, 21–2, 23, 32–5, 39, 49, 68–9, 77–9, 126–7, 131, 199, 208, 218, 222, 225, 227–8
- Antonio's Revenge*, 1, 14–25, 34, 35, 40, 129–31, 184, 218, 222, 225
- What You Will*, 1, 4, 6–7, 32, 35–6, 45–57, 115, 128–9, 131–3, 181, 199–200
- The Malcontent*, 1, 3, 7, 8, 9, 38, 39, 41, 49, 145–59, 181–92, 195, 200–4, 208–9, 212, 214, 215–16, 222–3, 225
- The Dutch Courtesan*, 1, 6–7, 8, 38, 41, 83, 84–90, 92–7, 107, 115–16, 125, 139–42, 165, 171–7, 181, 206, 207, 212, 216–17, 227
- Parasitaster, or The Fawn*, 1, 6–7, 9, 38, 39, 40, 100, 102–10, 114–16, 164, 165, 182, 192–3 n.6, 195, 203–5, 207, 208–9, 214–15, 219–21, 225
- The Wonder of Women, or the Tragedy of Sophonisba*, 1, 2, 6, 7, 9, 37–8, 40–1, 45, 115, 134–6, 172, 182, 213, 218, 225–7
- The Insatiate Countess*, 2, 6, 7, 90–2, 93–4, 95–6, 98, 136–9, 142, 208, 225
- Eastward Ho*, 2, 17, 37, 60, 195, 206–9
- masturbation, see self
- Middleton, Thomas, 83, 103, 108, 109, 110, 212
- misogyny, in Marston's characters, 7, 56, 71, 74, 96, 106, 108–10, 114–15, 129–40, 151–4, 186

- Montaigne, Michel de, influence of on
Marston, 97–8 n.4, 101, 164–8, 170–7,
212, 216
- Morley, Thomas, 47, 49
- music, its prominence in Marston's plays, 5,
6, 17, 24, 30, 33, 35, 38, 40, 45–8, 51, 73,
76, 88, 156, 215
- Parnassus* plays, 16, 159
- parody, sense of, in Marston's work, 5, 15, 19, 20, 22, 24, 26 n.17, 64, 74, 94, 184
see also, theatrical extremes
- patriarchal survival, as pursued by Marston's
characters, 102, 105, 106–9, 124, 131, 132,
136, 139–40, 182, 184–92
- Paul's boys, Marston's involvement with, 1, 4,
31–7
- Peck, Linda Levy, 102, 105, 205, 219
- prostitution, see female sexuality
- puns (especially sexual), frequency of in
Marston, 1, 6, 21, 46, 57, 82–97, 103, 127,
129, 184–92, 207
- quotations from other authors' plays in
Marston, 20, 22, 23, 24, 51, 125
- recreation, as principle of Marston's work,
61, 64, 66–70, 75, 78–9
- Revels, Children of, see Blackfriars
- revenge and evenge conventions, in Marston,
5, 15, 18–25, 40, 72, 84, 108, 115, 129,
173, 218, 221, 225
- Royal Shakespeare Company, 212–13, 223, 228
- Scott, Michael, 144 n.17
- Schoenbaum, Samuel, 17, 146–7, 157, 217–18,
222
- self-abuse and sexual solipsism, in Marston's
characters, 87–8, 103, 106, 109, 112–15
- Shakespeare, William, 28, 40, 57, 60, 62,
74–5, 103, 105, 108, 110, 212, 222
- Sidney, Sir Philip, 19, 48, 64–5
- theatre, Marston's ambivalence towards, 5, 8,
158–9, 173, 177
- theatrical extremism, Marston's, 19, 20–5, 34,
51, 55–7, 74–9, 154–6
- translation, see Montaigne
- transvestism and costume, as motif in
Marston, 126–9, 214–15
- venereal disease, see male anxiety
- voyeurism, see self
- Whigham, Frank, 102, 103, 105, 112, 213–14,
219, 220–1
- Wharton, T. F., 8, 22, 26 n.17, 49, 121–2 n.34,
145, 159, 214, 222