

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-66146-1 - Representations of the Self from the Renaissance to Romanticism

Edited by Patrick Coleman, Jayne Lewis, and Jill Kowalik

Table of Contents

More informationContents

	List of illustrations	vii
	List of contributors	ix
	Acknowledgments	xi
	Introduction: life-writing and the legitimation of the modern self	i
	Patrick Coleman
1	Revising Descartes: on subject and community	16
	Timothy J. Reiss
2	The “man of learning” defended: seventeenth-century biographies of scholars and an early modern ideal of excellence	39
	Peter N. Miller
3	Life-writing in seventeenth-century England	63
	Debora Shuger
4	Representations of intimacy in the life-writing of Anne Clifford and Anne Dormer	79
	Mary O’Connor
5	Gender, genre, and theatricality in the autobiography of Charlotte Charke	97
	Robert Folkenflik
6	Petrarch/Sade: writing the life	117
	Julie Candler Hayes
7	A comic life: Diderot and le récit de vie	135
	Stephen Werner

Cambridge University Press

978-0-521-66146-1 - Representations of the Self from the Renaissance to Romanticism

Edited by Patrick Coleman, Jayne Lewis, and Jill Kowalik

Table of Contents

More information

vi	Contents
8	Letters, diary, and autobiography in eighteenth-century France Benoît Melançon	151
9	Portrait of the object of love in Rousseau's Confessions Felicity Baker	171
10	Fichte's road to Kant Anthony J. La Vopa	200
11	Mary Robinson and the scripts of female sexuality Anne K. Mellor	230
12	After Sir Joshua Richard Wendorf	260
	Index	280